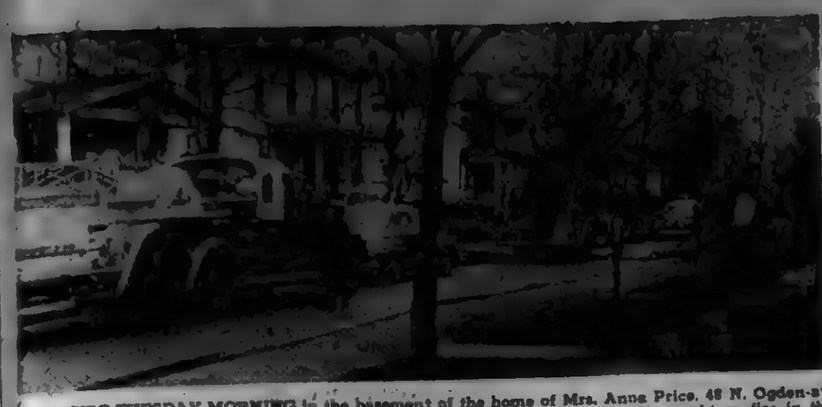
Chicken Lays 'King-Sized' Egg

A king-size chicken egg laid by a 10-month-old pullet owned by Murl Dodge, London Rt 3, is attracting attention around West Jefferson.



The egg weighs approximately three ounces and measures 6½ by 8 inches, Mr. Dodge reported. He has it on display at his service station five miles west of West Jefferson.

The hen which produced the egg is a Leghorn and is one of 75 hens which turned up in a shipment of what was supposed to be 200 young cockerells, Mr. Dodge said.

REMA CLUB TO MEET.

Reema Club Light O'Day 4472 OES will meet Tuesday, Feb. 28, at 1 p. m. at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, 480 E. Broad-st. This will be their annual Washington Birthday party, and each member may bring one or more guests. President Mrs. Edna Goddor, 357 S. Harris-av, will preside.

A FIRE TUESDAY MORNING in the basement of the home of Mrs. Anna Price, 48 N. Ogden-av, caused the fire department to send four pieces of equipment. A box of trash caught on fire in the bastment. No damage was reported. Firemen responded to the call minutes after Mrs. Dorothy Borncim, 50 N. Ogden-av, a neighbor, called the fire department.

We all buy from the first step to the point at which we buy them. They found we pay:

70 different taxes on a quart of milk (the taxes just about represent the value of the cream on a bottle of milk).

151 different taxes on a loaf of bread.

100 different taxes on a woman's cotton dress.

116 different taxes on a man's suit of clothes.

154 taxes on a cake of soap.

201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline.

The association says:

"Hidden taxes force your landlord to add $10 to every $80 that he charges you for rent.

"Your nickel pays a great many hidden taxes every time you use the telephone. Each telephone represents an average of nearly $7 in yearly hidden taxes.

"One-third of what you pay for food, clothing, electricity, gas, rent, fuel and all down the entire list of every-day needs, represents taxes."

The association wants you to remember that hidden taxes start with raw materials—like copper ore—and all those taxes are added on as the raw material is shipped, processed, shipped again, retailed. This is what tax experts call "pyramiding" of taxes.

The association also cites the 206 taxes which "ride" your new automobile.

Auto manufacturers figure you pay from $355 to $446 in taxes, most of them hidden, when you buy a car that costs from $1600 to $2000.

One tax study was done on a woman's hat bought in a New England store. It carries 65 separate taxes with the federal government, 48 state taxes, and 41 local taxes from the time the ribbon, made in New Jersey, traveled to New England and got into a buyer's hands.

Charles A. Lindbergh, flier and aeronautic engineer, was a member of Keystone Lodge No. 243, St. Louis, Mo.

THREE FIVE MEMBERS of the Westgate Electric Co. staff have recently become members of the Kelvinator Five Star Salesman Club, a club made up of appliance sales persons who have completed a training course in product knowledge and customer service.

Trimmer Family Runs New Sunoco Service Station

A demonstration of the pioneer American spirit of business enterprise is seen in the recent opening of an improved type service station at 3079 W. Broad-st by the Trimmer family.

The Trimmers, residing at 98 N. Westmoor-av for the past 17 years, are well-known for their West Side interests and acttivities.

Associated will be "Jack" Trimmer, a graduate of West High, and now an OSU agriculture student. The enterprise will be operated by Robert Trimmer, West High student, familiarly known as "Spank" who will be [redacted]. Another brother, Donald, manager of the West High Basketball team, is allied with the new company. Another West Higher, James, is also active. In addition to the Trimmers, other Hilloppers are being engaged.

A complete service will be rendered at the corner of Westgate and Broad, with a complete line of accessories available at all operating hours.

Legerdemain Test Tubes For Chemistry Students

By Myron T. Seifert

Sleight - of - hand performances, both in the entertainment world and in the chemistry laboratory at West High School, are easily carried out when R. T. Stone, chemistry instructor, waves his magic wand.

To Mr. Stone, magic is the key to wholesome enjoyment and and thinking. He never fails to interest boys and girls of all ages. Most of his life, magic has loomed large to Mr. Stone. His interest stems from a yen in his early boyhood to emulate a magician he had seen at a chautauqua show.

A native of Derwent, O., in Guernsey County, Mr. Stone completed his high school education at Buffalo, O., and his collegiate career at Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio.

Ideas for his magic come principally from first-hand information rather than books or magazines. The general public can find little published about magic secrets held by magicians, which makes it difficult for a beginner to gain access to information.

After attending the annual Magic-Fest in Columbus years ago, sponsored by the Ohio Brotherhood of Magicians, Stone had his first real impetus to put on shows, a job which he has been doing ever since.

Following his appointment to the teaching staff at West High School in 1942, he immediately became identified with the Columbus Magic Club. His work is in constant demand. He has appeared at school festivals, Easter and Christmas parties, father-son banquets and on many other programs.

Away from West High School and his numerous show dates, Mr. Stone resides with his wife at 189 W. Webster-rd.

West High Band Members Given Letters, Pins

By Myron T. Seifert

West High musicians were honored at the school assembly held Thursday, when president of the Band Parents' Club Mrs. Earl F. Cline, 2948 Crescent-dr, presented letters to students who merited four semesters of service in instrumental groups.

Recipients of band letters were Paul Thompson, Charles Hensel, Winston Hawley, and in orchestra, Jim Hall.

Both orchestra and band letters were awarded to Tom Heyl, versatile musician at the Hilltop school.

Band pins for three consecutive years of service were awarded to January graduates including Dave Camp, Bill McCrady, John McCary and Bob Large.

Assembly Honors Lincoln, Edison, Washington Here

By Myron T. Seifert

West High School observed the birthdays of Lincoln, Washington and Edison, in appropriate ceremonies held at the Hilltop School, Tuesday morning.

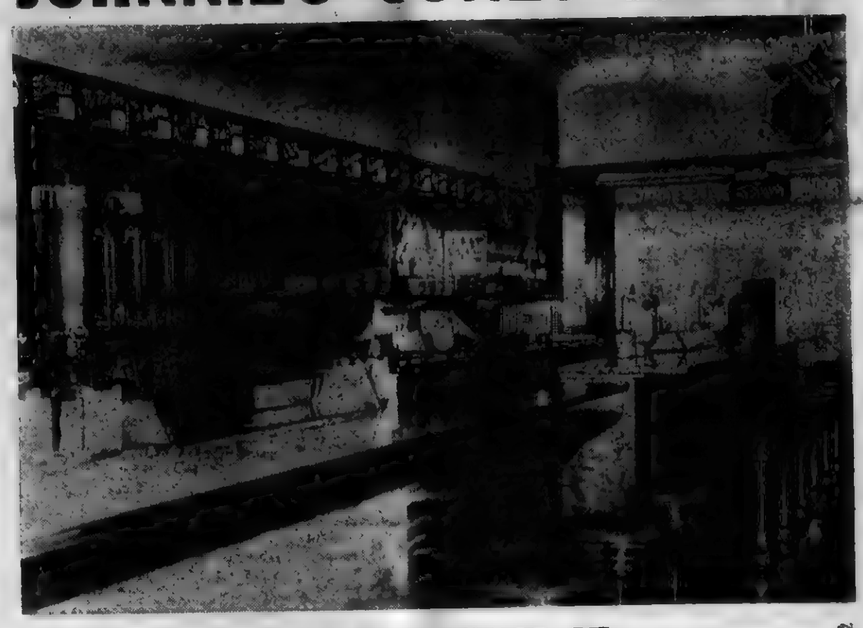
Newell Yaple, popular senior at West High, prepared the prologue to the unique series of timely episodes.

Don Shaver gave an informal talk on Edison, and Gay Wade the eulogy on the great inventor.

Lincoln was eulogized by Gail Hinton, who tied in the life of the Great Emancipator with the Gettysburg address. John Whalen gave an interesting discourse on the Civil War president.

Gerald Witherspoon spoke, in glowing terms, of the atttributes of the Father of our Country and Carol Valden eulogized him.

Interspersing the services were violin ensembles, and a piano solo by Dick Briggs.



The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edith White, gave two appropriate numbers, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "One World."

Concluding the program Roy Martin prepared patriotic epilogue.

What Other Editors Say

All Men Are Created Equal

From The Central Outlook

No one can definitely say what makes Presidents, except that whatever it is, it can be possessed not only by the well born and wealthy but also by the common man. This can be shown clearly by comparing two of America's greatest Presidents, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington.

George Washington, an aristocrat with lofty ideals, rose to the Presidency on his record of good character and outstanding leadership ability even though he could have used his wealth to help achieve it. On the other hand, Abraham Lincoln, a shy country lad with no wealth at all and very little experience in leadership, reached the same goal.

Backed by the experience he attained while leading the Colonial Army during the Revolutionary War, Washington guided the newly formed government with the hand of a father.

Even during the trying times the 1860's brought, this nation showed the world what freedom and opportunity really meant by handing over the reins to a commoner" whose patient love of mankind and country guided his people safely through the most critical stage of their history.

Thus we see that it was neither money nor knowledge alone that made these two men so loved by the people. Their tolerant, protective love of mankind was the quality that most influenced the people's hearts. The fact that the American people still admire George Washington and Abraham Lincoln shows that the United States will remain a true democracy if it maintains a government in which the rich and poor are given equal chances to succeed.

The First Singing Commercial — Perhaps

Perhaps the First "Singing Commercial"—50 Years Ago

"Music soothes the savage breast." So says an old adage, but do some of these "singing commercials"? One current commercial might be called a "yelling commercial"! (Do you know it?) Anyway, if the music psychology is correct, they ought to obtain many more thousands to use their product—that is, if the "word message" is terse enough and positively honest.

I do not smoke cigarettes, but there is only one brand that "gets me" by its fine and seemingly true statement of facts—"Old Gold cures but one thing . . ." The others think most people are dumb-bells. They may be right.

The pure spoken commercial of Pure Oil Co. is changed every night and I never miss that commercial or Lowell Thomas (Ivory Soap) for it leads me to great doings in the USA and the world, via famous commentators. The Buckeye Potato Chips' singing (three or four girls in "close harmony") is a stunner and better on television.

One that ought to be deleted, a certain beer commercial, even though they have a clever tune.

Did you ever hear of anyone murdering someone because they smoked a box of cigars after a cigar commercial? But 0.3 or more alcohol fed into the minds of adolescents (both sexes) later on, in a brawl . . . usually intoxicated . . . leads to losing control of tempers and then . . . murder! So, let someone rush these beer commercials off the airways. But I was told the government likes these big taxes from alcoholic drinks. so . . . ?

Smith Bros. have, I think, one of the swellest ads in music, their "Wild cherry, wild cherry, wild cherry" fading into the mike. Gee! I could go to sleep with that "Stop the Music" Wild Cherry tune . . . dee-lightful.

Now I come to my discovery (?) of today. In a drug store the other day I saw on the shelf the self same product that was sold when I was a youth . . . dear old Castoria. Well, seeing those (of course) new packaged bottles, and the name flashed me back 50 years to my "Ole Brooklyn Boys' High School", the only one in the city of 1,000,000. This school had a wonderful man (no women teachers in a boys' high) teacher called "Prof. Edwards" . . . no masters' degrees then, but you were called "Professor." He certainly was popular, young, fine looking, black hair, natty dresser, and to me, then, seemed to change his necktie every day . . . gorgeous ones too, and had a keen knowledge of boys.

He also made a "dead" language, Latin, come to life.

Well, he had a truly famous boys high school glee club of over 40 voices, and how they could sing and harmonize . . . no jazz then . . . the real McCoy, but let me tell you of the encore that seemed always to "bring down the house." These lads (my age then) were dressed in black tuxies and the Prof. in evening clothes. What a grand sight (I was a guest whistling soloist for 16 concerts with that aggregation, dressed like them, too). Well, here is the singing commercial (Catsoria) encore. I quote the verse, because there was a ritzy private high school, the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute—keen competitors in sports, etc. Here are the words of one verse:

"There was a chap whose name was Chollia (snob)
Who was a student at the Pollia (the institute)
He got run over by a trolly car,
And now the pieces of him number fifty. Ah.
Chorus—
Castoria . . . Castoria . . . It makes the world run on fastoria
We recommend to all Castoria, we recommend to all Castoria!!

P.S. (I wonder if they had a sponsor!)

There 'tis. Too bad I cannot remember the melody for you . . . it was grand harmony and always brought another encore . . . so you see, I think I heard the first singing commercial in the USA about 1900.

Our Glee Clubs of today are eclipsed too much, I think, by dance bands and student bands with their marvelous equipments . . . but splendid (unmixed) glee clubs and a dynamic all dressed in tuxes (rented) would be the grandiose effect, it seems to me. (I once heard and saw [redacted] bankers, called the N. Y. Bankers Glee Club in Carnegie hall . . . all in tuxes. What a sight!)

That Brooklyn High School glee club today would receive $100 each time they sang. They received $40 then, singing in almost all the larger churches, clubs, etc.

Cannot we organize a boys' high school glee club even as girls have today in co-educational schools? THINK THIS OVER.

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

FANNY LAID her hand on Marvell's arm. "Excited?" she asked. "They look so charming, the ushers in their white dresses."

"That girl," said Marvell, "just going down the aisle, is coming on to supper with us afterwards. She's parentless, temporarily."

She was child size, under five feet, with all the self-possession of an imported ch..a doll.

Fanny wrinkled her nose. "Poor Charles, to miss two pretty girls this evening."

"He's probably met twenty by now," said Marvell, not giving a thought to Charles who was on his way, student class, across the Atlantic.

"This man that's coming," Marvell went on in a low voice, "may be late. His car is on its last legs and he couldn't leave with me. You'll like him, I think."

The lights blinked uncertainly. There was a ripple of agitation among the audience. Then the orchestra began a fidgety waltz. "Kit asked him to even out the party—a male for Nancy."

"Oh?" Fanny tapped her fingers on the program. "Surely between them, they must know one Harvard boy."

"They are a little above that," he said. "I think she said Nancy the proposition that he was a fascinating older man."

It will be such fun for them to have an after-theatre supper," said Fanny, "with nothing but 'fascinating older men.'" She gave an amused glance at Ben's shining bald head.

Marvell turned back to the program. What a choice for these kids, he thought. The sets alone; from the drawing room to the moorland, must have taxed their ingenuity. Kit had been tremendously pleased with the wind machine they had rented. If the choice of plays was not hers, and the selection was made by a democratic majority, certainly hers was the highest enthusiasm and the leading part. He could hear her up in her room now, observing to her image in the mirror, "Portrait of a governess, disconnected, poor and plain."

The program fell in his lap—his thoughts wandered at random. He could not get it out of his head that the empty seat beside him was his. That just before the curtain went up he would watch himself slip in, with a half-cocky, half-apologetic expression, and that Proctor, sitting where Ben sat now, all the more formal and faultless in evening clothes, would look coldly at him, meaning by that glance to say "I see you managed to spare us the evening, unfortunately." He flinched even now at his unfriendliness and made an involuntary gesture of reaching for his wife's hand. His movement attracted Fanny who bent her head and whispered, "I feel just as smug and proud as the rest of the audience!"

He did not hear her nor take his eyes off the small stage, the stage that was barely large enough for Kit's winged heels, for her clear voice that carried so well, for her talent that had grown enough to need the equal talents of other players to create a finished performance bigger than herself. Beyond that curtain lay her success or failure, not of this night only, but the whole time to come, so living a thing that he accepted it unhesitatingly. It was only in looking back that he was shaken. It was frightening to think how near to a ghost he had almost become. Had he been slipping in beside Proctor this evening, that girl on the stage who was joined almost physically to the beating of his heart under his ribs, would have been a stranger to him, allowed sight of him this one evening by her devoted uncle. Mercifully, for he could hardly bear this involuntary fantasy much longer, the lights faded and the curtain rose upon the cold and studied elegance of Mr. Rochester's drawing room.

It was a difficult play at best with awkward gaps of time and no gentle "I" of Charlotte Brönte's to cover up the incredibility of the plot. But in one thing, the choice had wisdom, Marvell noted. The appeal of the story was the same at the players'. They could carry the awkwardness of emotion and conform out of their limited experience to the unworldly imagination of the author's. The spirit of the play and players matched.

At the end of the first act, the audience blinked and stretched in nervous relief. A few men edged out to smoke. Furse had not yet come. Ben and Fanny were enthusiastic about Kit, although Ben thought Rochester kept his chin too much in his stock. "She has real spirit," he whispered hoarsely to Marvell.

"Too much, perhaps. I think she's building up too fast for the end. It is a burden, of course, carrying a long part like that!"

Fanny laughed. "Don't be so impartial. Relax and just admire as you're bursting to do!"

When Furse finally arrived, just after the beginning of the second act, Marvell barely nodded to him. Why should he have accepted Kit's invitation? It was a busy time of year for him to take a night off, he thought unreasonably, and his car was too wobbly to have attempted the trip.

In the last intermission, Furse stood up, awkwardly bunching up his light coat, to be introduced to Fanny and Ben. He apologized to Marvell. "The car gave trouble when I got near Belmont." There was a greasy smear on his wrist, just below his stiff cuff, to corroborate this fact. "I'll have to clean up later," he grinned at Marvell. But Marvell was curt and indifferent. Tonight he wanted perfection, not the intrusion of petty difficulties, least of all Furse's.

The progress of the play was uneven, at times perversely stationary, then moving forward in a single well-turned phrase or action. There was one point—Jane's wandering on the moor before finding the refuge of St. John—when Marvell was terrified lest the whole thing die on its feet. But at last, like a ship skimming into harbor, the sails slack, all hands watchful but relieved, they finished the course. The audience cheered loudly. The cast took its calls gratefully and Marvell's party burned their hands with clapping.

In the bustle of disbanding ranks, Marvell was confused and strangely tired. Furse said hopefully, "My car goes now, at any rate; whom may I take over to the hotel?"

Before he could speak, Marvell felt a light touch on his arm. It was Nancy, her small heart-shaped face enameled with sophisticated makeup. "Mr. Coomes, will you and your guests wait in the lobby for just a few minutes? Kit won't be long; I am going to help her change." With fleetness she acknowledged the introductions but not without a cool survey of Marvell about whom she had heard a good deal. She had a natural curiosity about fathers. She had already had three, and her mother's recent marriage in Paris had just added a fourth.

The lobby where they waited was bare of photographs and announcements of coming attractions. A few cigarette stubs and crumpled programs brought them a little nearer to the reality of the professional theatre world. Fanny skillfully maneuvered Furse and Ben into some kind of conversation. Marvell stood apart, smoking. Once he had imagined Kit waiting for him in hotel lobbies and railway stations. Now it was he who would wait for her in front of drafty box offices, at dingy stage doors. She had come through, he thought triumphantly. Nothing could deflect her now. When he saw her walk in, her white dress heightening the color in her face, he could not take a step forward to welcome her, for the sudden shyness that overwhelmed him. Behind her, on tiptoe, Nancy bobbed up and down like a cork on the swell of Kit's excitement.

Langston filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio, in cause No. 178860 against them as defendants, alleging that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession of said real estate described as follows:
Situated in the County of Franklin, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Franklin: Being in Survey No. 1279, Virginia Military Land, and being also a part of a certain tract of 45.87 acres conveyed by Charles E. Tom, etal., to Emmet R. Tom, etal., by deed shown of record in Deed Book 284, page 420, Franklin County Records, and being more particularly described as follows:
Beginning at an iron pin in the North line of the P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way which point is South 88 degrees, 30 minutes, West a distance of 483.0 feet from an iron pin in the West line of Hague Avenue, and in the North line of said P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way; said point being also the southwest corner of a tract heretofore conveyed by said Emmet R. Tom, etal., to the Hilltop Supply Company by deed as recorded in D. R. 758, page 198, Recorder's Office, Franklin County, Ohio; thence from said point of beginning north 81 degrees, 55 minutes, East a distance of 114.90 feet to an iron pin; thence North 88 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 406.30 feet to a point in the center line of Hague Avenue (passing an iron pin at 385.00 feet); thence North 23 degrees, 29 minutes (West along the center line of Hague Avenue a distance of 167.64 feet to a point; thence South 67 degrees, 30 minutes West a distance of 725.08 feet (passing an iron pin at 20.00 feet) to an iron pin on the East line of 20.989 acre tract; thence along the East line of said 20.989 acre tract, South 23 degrees, 29 minutes, East a distance of 10.00 feet to an iron pin; being also the southeast corner of said 20.989 acre tract, and on the North right of way line of aforementioned railroad; thence North 88 degrees, 30 minutes, East along the North right of way line a distance of 266.20 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.335 acres, subject to all legal highways; that defendants may claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right; that said claims constitute a cloud on plaintiff's title; and that, therefore, plaintiff prays that the defendants be compelled to set forth the nature of their claim; that said claim be declared to be null and void; that the defendants be forever enjoined from asserting any claim against the premises; that the Court determine that plaintiff is the true and lawful owner of said premises and that plaintiff's title be quieted against the claims of any and all defendants, and for such other relief as is proper.
Said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 1st day of April, 1950, or judgment may be rendered as prayed for therein.

Two Charter Members Of Troop 250 Still In Troop

On June 30, 1947, the first charter was granted to Boy Scout Troop 250 of St. Aloysius School.

The scoutmaster at that time was H. C. Davis and the assistant scoutmaster was James McCourt. With only seven boys the meetings were held in the St. Aloysius School annex.

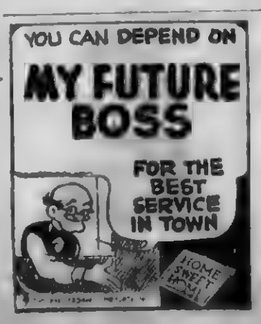
The seven charter members were William Hetterscheidt, John Cross, Carl Wolf, Jack McAndrews, Richard Snow, Gene Sapp and Kenny Martindale. Jack McAndrews and Kenny Martindale are still with the troop. Both are Explorer Scouts, Star rank, working toward life awards. Both are senior patrol leaders and were den chiefs for Pack 250 for 18 months. Jack attends St. Charles High School and Kenny attends Aquinas.

In 1948 James Jaquay became scoutmaster and several months later Eugene Jaquay replaced him. Jaquay remained as scoutmaster until Oct. 1, 1949.

K. L. Martindale is the present scoutmaster with Ted Roberts and Jack Dalfinger as assistant scoutmasters. The committeemen are Eugene Jaquay, chairman, Tony DeMastry, treasurer and Robert Maxwell.

The present membership is 41 boys of which 35 of these are active members. Nineteen of these scouts were graduated from Cub Pack 250. Troop 250 has four sets of brothers and within the next year expects to have seven sets by cub graduation.

In 1948 Troop 250 received three Camp-O-Ree ribbons and three in 1949; one ribbon in 1949 for participating in the scout circus, and one Milligan ribbon awarded in 1948 and a blue ribbon was won for its display at the Ohio State Fair.



Troop 250 has four patrols. The patrol leaders are Jack McAndrews, Kenny Martindale, Patrick Martindale, Teddy Roberts, and Robert Patterson. Six Explorer scouts are in the troop. Troop 250 and Cub Pack 250 have HERB RUMFIELD was flying a kite Saturday, the first time in 15 years. And just like a kid, he was sending papers up the string to the kite. He was having lots of fun sitting in his car so nobody'd see him. Good ole HERB We won't tell anybody.

The CHARLEY CRITES are crazy about their television set. They bought one of those Transvisions and they think there is nothing like it.

RAY VEIT, you lucky man! You won that $1000 at the Neil House party that St. Aloysius Church had. Notice: Income tax collectors. I knew we High Ridgers were lucky people—but $1000. Whew!

The JOE ROBINES returned Saturday from a week's stay near Altoona, Pa. While they were gone, SUE forgot about her potted plants and they—being thirsty—wilted on her.

I'll bet I could hypnotize ART SCOTT very easily. Anyone want to try him out? I used mental telepathy on him and it worked "slick as a whistle" and he doesn't even know it. Remember that windy day we had last week? Well, it blew a couple of shingles off his roof (of his house, of course).

Well, about 2 p. m. one afternoon he got out of his car—and to myself I said, "Scott, did you know your shingles are off your roof? Look up—higher—higher."

By this time he had walked up his sidewalk; and just as he reached his house — oops! he swung on his heels, retraced his steps—back down the sidewalk, and up he looked at his roof.

Now he doesn't know I saw him; he didn't hear me say anything, and if you ask him he'll no doubt remember the incident. Right, Art? My message must have been transmitted on a mental sound wave. We High Ridgers are live wires, I'll tell the world!

It's handy now that we can mail our packages and buy postage stamps right here at our own P. O. contract station. ED JACOBS did quite well for himself. He was on the ball sending off the first package from there.

FREDERICK G. drives that new CHEVVY around like he owns the thing. Right, folks! Those panes of glass surrounded by sheets of steel (I should say blocks of gold) belong to ERFURT himself. He is so contented with it, he purrs just like the motor that's in it.

MRS. K. C. BEAVERS' open meeting was a success. Maybe it was because the husbands were invited. Anyway they all enjoyed the party, especially the speaker, DR. BERNARD HIGHBY.

Cub Pack 250 Began With 24 Members In April, 1948

April 15, 1948, the St. Aloysius Cub Pack 250 held its first pack meeting in St. Aloysius school annex. On that evening 24 boys received their membership cards. Cubmaster W. S. Ferguson, Chairman Jack Andrews, Assistant Cubmaster L. E. Noble, treasurer K. L. Martindale and five den mothers, Mrs. Gladys McAndrews, Mrs. Gladys McAndrews, Mrs. Marie Kenny, Mrs. W. S. Ferguson, Mrs. Ted Roberts and Mrs. K. L. Martindale received membership cards.

During the year of 1948, many boys were graduated and many new boys were accepted into the pack. The Milligan ribbon was awarded 250 for doubling their membership the first year. The sixth den was then organized with den mother, Mrs. Fred Courtade.

Monthly projects, den projects, entertainments, parties and outings were planned throughout 1948.

April 15, 1949, brought same changes. Robert Hartle became the cubmaster. McAndrews remained as chairman until October, then Ed Grogan took over the chairmanship. James Shea became cub executive, and Mrs. Nell Wolfe replaced Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Robert Lee replaced Mrs. Courtade, and Mrs. K. L. Martindale was elected public relations chairman. On Jan. 1, 1950, Mrs. Marie Grogan replaced Mrs. McAndrews.

Some of the highlights of Pack 250 were the Hallowe'en party and wiener roast in October 1948 at the home of the cubmaster. The Christmas parties in the school annex in 1948 and 1949, the minstrel show and variety show in 1948 and 1949, the first annual outing July 17, 1949, and last, but not least, the winning of the blue ribbon at the Ohio State Fair, September, 1949.

Twenty-seven cubs were taken into the pack besides the 24 charter members in 1948. In September, 1949, when the age requirement was reduced from nine to eight years, 30 new cubs came into the pack and 17 were graduated. From April, 1948, until now 35 cubs have been graduated, 19 of these are scouts in troop 250. The peak of cub pack 250's membership was 52. The present membership is 32.

New Church Is Dedicated On Hilltop

A new Hilltop Church was dedicated Sunday, the Midland Avenue Baptist Church. The church was presented to the community and Ohio Baptist officials by Earl Knapp, building contractor from Grove City, who purchased the land and built the church.

Principal speaker at the ceremonies, held in the one-story, concrete block church at 1007 Midland-av, was Dr. Roy B. Deer of New York City, secretary of the special services department of the North Baptist Convention.

E. S. McCune, president of the Columbus Baptist City Union, accepted the church in behalf of the Ohio Baptist Convention.

The completely equipped and unencumbered edifice, which seats approximately 150, is the direct result of Knapp's interest in the children of the newly developed community, many of whom, prior to the church's construction, had no opportunity to attend Sunday school services.

Knapp, the congregation's leader since last Easter, when first services were held, will continue as pastor for the time being.

Others participating in the services included: Simeon E. Dolle, vice president of the Columbus Baptist City Union; the Rev. L. S. Snell, of the North Baptist Church; the Rev. A. L. Rother, Hillcrest Baptist Church; Dr. W. J. Schlatter, Linden Baptist Church, and the Rev. Raymond L. Bailey, of First Baptist Church.

Church Is Planted in Pagan City — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 15:36-18:22; I Corinthians 3:9-6:20; II Corinthians 6:11-7:1.

After staying at Antioch for some days, Paul and Barnabas decided to visit the cities where they had made converts. Barnabas wanted to take John Mark with them; Paul did not, so they separated, Barnabas taking John and Paul, Coming to Troas in their travels, Paul had a vision in the night of a man who begged him to "Come over into Macedonia and help us," so Paul and his companions, thinking this was word from God, went to Philippi, chief Macedonian city. At Philippi, Paul and his companions made many converts, but envious Jews took them before the magistrates and they were beaten and imprisoned. An earthquake liberated them, however, their jailer was baptised, and after comforting their brethren, they departed. From Philippi Paul went to Thessalonica where he and Silas were taken before a magistrate who released them; then to Athens, where Paul preached the gospel on Mars Hill; and thence to Corinth, a pagan city.

MEMORY VERSE—Acts 16:9-10.

WEST HIGH STUDENTS HAVE FORMED A NEW CLUB, the High Born Againers Club. The group meets every Monday and Friday mornings from 6 to 6:30 a. m. Its program consists of hymn singing, prayers and Bible lessons. "The purpose of the club," according to its president, Jerry Witherspoon, 16, "is to achieve a high standard of Christian living among students, and to bring about a revival of Godliness in Columbus and the world." About 30 students attend the morning prayer meetings. Mrs. L. S. Will, 611 S. Warren-av, president of the West High PTA, is the group's adviser. Jerry, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Witherspoon, 2888 Wicklow-rd, plans to enter the ministry.

The secretary of the HBA Club is Kathryn Davis and the pianist is Shirley Osborn. Members of the group who have given talks on the club's purpose recently are Walter Smith, Dick Pendell, Nora Arnold, Don Shaver and Beverly Ford.

Many Hilltop churches are cooperating in the program of the club.

Federal Conciliator To Give Second 'Hilltopix' Lecture

H J. Montoney, the commissioner serving under the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, will be the speaker at the second of the "Hilltopix" program series at the Westgate Methodist Church on Tuesday night, Feb. 28, at 8 o'clock.

Montoney will discuss the role of the Federal Conciliator in Labor and Management problems and also present practical considerations in a preventative program. As a churchman, he will deal specifically with the role of the church in these tension situations. His presentation will be followed by a period of open questions and discussion.

This adult education project was planned and is being sponsored by the board of education of the Westgate Methodist Church and is presented as a civic and community service.

The last Tuesday of March will bring the Columbus Maennerchor in concert and the final Tuesday of April brings the last in this current series with Dr. Paul E. Zimpher of Capital University bringing a lecture on the subject, "God and Science".

Westgate Church Sermons Announced For Lenten Season

Rev. Norman L. Schreiber, pastor of the Westgate Methodist Church, announces a special series of sermons during Lent.

The general topic will be "Hands". On Mar. 5 Rev. Schreiber's sermon theme will be "Warmed Hands"; on Mar. 12, "Praying Hands"; on Mar. 19, "Washed Hands"; and on Mar. 26, "Pierced Hands".

On Palm Sunday there will be a special service for the reception into membership of a youth class and the sermon topic will be "His Kingdom Is Forever".

"What Will I Do With The Cremated Remains?"

This Question Is Often Asked.

You should treat a cremated remains with the same reverential respect shown any other body and it should either be buried, or placed in a niche in a columbarium. Never scattered. You have no right to scatter human's remains on any one's property except your own. Do you want others scattering their cremated bodies on your property? We furnish single niches from $25 up and undersized graves for cremated remains from $5 up. "Buy where you get the best for less."

On The Record

"Fair Comment" Covers A Multitude Of Sins

No one in the newspaper office has more chance to abuse his subjects than the critic. Actors, entertainers, authors and musicians are practically at the mercy of the critics as far as protection by law goes.

Among the defenses in a libel case is "fair comment" and just about any comment the critic makes would seem to be fair in the eyes of the law.

The classic example of how scathing "fair comment" can be is the case of the three Cherry Sisters, a song and dance act. After referring to them as an old jade, a frisky filly, and a capering monstrosity, a newspaper review continued,

"Their long skinny arms, equipped with talons at the extremities, swung mechanically, and anon waved frantically at the suffering audience. The mouths of their rancid features opened like caverns, and sounds like the wailings of damned souls issued therefrom. They pranced around the stage with a motion that suggested a cross between the danse du ventre and fox trot—strange creatures with painted faces and hideous mien. Effie is spavined, Addie is stringhalt, and Jessie, the only one who showed her stockings, has legs with calves as classic in their outlines as the curves of a broom handle."

The Cherry Sisters sued the paper for libel and did not get a cent.

P. S. The application blank for tryouts for the Hilltop Minstrel Show appears on page 6 of today's Record.

Busy Linem Eighty-one per cent of the families in the territory served by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. now have telephones, according to the annual report to the stockholders just issued.

The growth of the company since the end of the war shows a rapid increase in the potential value of the phone as it becomes possible to reach more and more people through your home phone.

Since the war there are 30 per cent more telephones in the Ohio Bell territory. The increase in rural phones in that time has been 97 per cent.

Other figures from the report show:

There were 76 telephones for every 100 establishments in rural areas at the close of 1949, compared with about 50 at the end of 1946.

Gross additions to plant since the war amount to 90 per cent of the entire plant when the war started.

Unfilled applications for service have been reduced from a post-war high of 100,000 to about 4,000 at the end of 1949.

Long distance calls went through on an average of 96 seconds last year.

Local calls increased 3.7 per cent over 1948 and reached a total of 2,797,427,311, an average of 5.2 calls per day for each telephone in service.

Employees of the company set aside nearly $10,000,000 through payroll allotments for U. S. Savings Bonds, life insurance, A. T. & T. stock and for credit unions and savings deposits in banks. The total amounted to 17 cents for every dollar earned.

Wage payments in 1949 totaled $58,107,153, an increase of $1,772,569 over 1948.

'Roundtowner' Acts On Record Want Ad

The good word has spread 'way down to ol' Roundtown—otherwise known as Circleville. What's the good word? Why, about the gen-u-ine bargains to be found in the Classified columns of the Rcord each issue.

Most Hilltoppers have already learned through happy experience that it pays to shop the Want Ads regularly. The news spreads fast and far, and folks from all points of the compass are taking advantage of the real values listed in Classified.

A man from Circleville recently noticed one of our ads, placed by the Haines Appliance Center of Grove City, offering a used refrigerator for sale. Not only did the "Roundtowner" buy the refrigerator, but a new gas range as well.

You can buy or sell just about anything through the Record. There's no better time than the present to take advantage of the fast, efficient service offered by Record Classified. All you need to do is dial RA. 1125. We'll bill you later.

100-Year-Old Briggsdale Woman Dies

MRS. JOSEPH BRIGGS

Mrs. Louisiana Ransburgh Briggs, 100, 1575 Harrisburg-pk, Briggsdale, died Sunday in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Her death came as a result of a heart attack following a fall in her home early this month, when she broke her hip. An operation was required in order to set the bone. Mrs. Briggs appeared to be recovering from the operation when she suffered a heart attack last Sunday.

Mrs. Briggs was born in New Madrid, Mo., in 1849. On last Dec. 10 she celebrated her 100th birthday.

Attended Ohio College

In 1864 her father sent Mrs. Briggs to Delaware to attend the Ohio Wesleyan Female College, now the Ohio Wesleyan University, to escape the dangers of the Civil War. She was once asked by the college president to restrain her "southern views".

Despite her sentiments toward the South, Mrs. Briggs married Capt. Joseph Briggs of the Union Army in 1867. In 1881 her late husband built the family home in Briggsdale, the home she continued to occupy until her death.

Decorated Graves

When she was younger, Mrs. Briggs used to visit the Camp Chase Cemetery to decorate the graves of Confederate soldiers.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lewis W. Morehead, Mrs. Arthur P. DeVennish and Mrs. Merritt B. Cheney of the Briggsdale address; two sons, W. Irving and Claude N. Briggs, both of Columbus; 17 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren, and 11 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning. Burial was in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Edward L. Phalor Taken By Death

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 Wednesday morning in the Glenwood Methodist Church for Edward L. Phalor, 74, who died Monday at his home, 125 N. Powell-av, following a long illness. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas and Rev. Charles T. Turley will officiate.

He was a member of the Glenwood Methodist Church and Lincoln Camp No 3, Woodmen of the World. He retired in 1934. Mr. Phalor is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Gray Phalor; a daughter, Miss Mildred Phalor, librarian of the Hilltop Branch Library of the Columbus Public Library; and three sisters, Mrs. Anna Krumm, 837 Elizabeth-av, Mrs. James W. Hale, 821 Elizabeth-av, and Mrs. Alice A. Thompson of Montclair, N. J.

Burial will be in Union Cemetery by the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Rome Firemen At Blaze In 4 Minutes

Volunteer members of the Rome Fire Department set some sort of a record Monday morning arriving at a fire just four minutes after it was reported.

The fire, which started in a motor used in pumping water from a ditch at Broad-st and Mix-rd, was quickly extinguished.

ON ALL 'A' LIST

Two Hilltop students are reported on the all "A" list of the college of arts and sciences at Ohio State University for the autumn quarter. They are Wilson K. Baker, 584 S. Wayne-av, and McLean W. Elliott, 408 S. Chase-av.

Sudden Death Leaves Family Of 8 Destitute

A man died Thursday night leaving his wife and seven children without any means of subsistence. Immediately a member of the Hilltop Church of Christ, upon learning of the tragedy, went into action, and with the help of other members of the church, aid was given the family.

The man who died was Virgil T. Haines, 41, of 161 S. Richardson-av. He was a mechanic at the All-Service Garage, and had worked the day he died. He was a veteran of World War II.

Because his insurance had lapsed a few months, he has left his widow, Geraldine; three step-daughters; two sons and two step-sons, penniless. The family was trying to buy their home.

When Ivan K. Reed, 894 S. Hague-av, a member of the Hilltop Church of Christ, heard of the family's plight, he called on members of the church last Sunday to help the family. The church's first contribution was $25 in food, clothing, fuel and cash.

The family is in dire need of food and fuel.

You can help this family by contributing what ever you can afford. Bring your contributions for this family to the Hilltop Record office, 2466 W. Broad-st, today.

Principal Meets With Hilliards Frosh At O.S.U.

M. D. Hartsook represented Hilliards High School as 32 Ohio high school principals met in the first principal-freshman conference on the Ohio State University campus Feb. 21.

Scheduled interviews between high school representatives and their former students occupied the major portion of the day, with discussions being held in meeting rooms in the university's new School of Music Building, Hughes Hall.

As a follow-up on the conference, letters are being sent by the university to all high school officials attending asking their reactions to the idea and inviting suggestions for improvements in the university's program for freshmen students.

University officials addressing the visitors included Dr. Bland L. Stradley, vice president in charge of student affairs, and Dr. Roland B. Thompson, registrar and conference chairman. The conference will be repeated annually, Dr. Stradley said.

Doren-Av Man Disgusted -- Gets All the Breaks

Harry C. Featherolf, 31, of 1961 Doren-av, was feeling pretty disgusted with things in general Monday.

And, he was especially disgusted with the broken leg situation as applied to himself.

Featherolf broke his right leg last Nov. 2 in a motorcycle accident while en route to work at Commercial Freight, Inc., where he is a truck driver.

His physician was to release him to return to work Tuesday but, Sunday—you guessed it—he fell and broke his right leg again when he slipped on a throw rug. Firemen took him to Grant Hospital.

Mrs. Floyd Kemper Dies In Chicago

Mrs. O. H. Kemper, 139 N. Hague-av, was called to Chicago last week to attend the funeral of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Floyd Kemper, who died Friday.

Mrs. Kemper is the former Florence Von Ammon of Chicago and the wife of Floyd Kemper, graduate of West High School and Ohio State University. She is also survived by a two-year-old daughter.

Burial was Monday afternoon in Chicago.

CONVALESCING AT HOME

Ben Davis, 2994 Crescent-dr, president and general manager of the Richer Dairy Products Co. at 1068 W. Broad-st, is now resting at home after an operation Jan. 18. Mr. Davis was released from White Cross Hospital Feb. 1 and is not expected to return to his office before the latter part of March.

Raise Money To Treat Arthritis Victim

At a livestock auction at the farm of Harold Cunningham, $57 was raised Saturday to pay for treatments for arthritis victim Dolores Freeman. Enough money has been collected to insure the girl treatments with the rare drug, cortisone. (Columbus Citizen Photo).

Name Hartley Chairman Of 'Y' Board

C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd, publisher of The Hilltop Record, was re-elected chairman of the Hilltop YMCA Board when the group met last Thursday evening.

Jerry Spears, Ed Ferguson, and H. G. Deems were elected vice chairmen of the group and Deems was named treasurer of the building fund.

Other members of the new board include Ira Claggett, Don Rice, Ralph Jacobs, Paul Leighninger, Dr. Howard Whitehead, Mose M. Williams, Raymond Anderson and Curtis Roberts.

Averille Thorn was renamed executive secretary of the Hilltop Y by the board.

Various committees will be appointed within a few days and plans will get under way soon for the annual membership drive to be held this spring.

ILL AT HOME

Ed Witherspoon, proprietor of the Better Home Center, is confined to his home with the flu.

A collection was taken Saturday at a livestock auction at the farm of Harold Cunningham, 4744 Fisher-rd, to help buy a rare drug for a victim of arthritis.

Hospital employees and a women's group of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Rome started the fund to get cortisone for the treatment of 18-year-old Delores Freeman. Nearly all of the needed $360 has been collected.

Rev. Arthur Rismiller of the church has announced that contributions have been coming in from all parts of the city and county to give the young victim a new hope in life.

Doctors said Friday that cortisone is available only on a research basis. However Delores' case is so advanced that additional medical information might be obtained from using the drug to treat her. The drug is still in the experimental stage and is available only in small quantities.

Delores is one of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Freeman. Her hospitalization is being borne by the county. Her father suffered a broken leg last year and has no income but that from workmen's compensation and help from the women of St. Paul's Church provided the family.

The drug costs $20 a single dose. The fund's surplus will be used to care for the girl's other needs, including a wheelchair.

Sue Glass, Lawrence Hoover Tops In Scholarship Test

PRINCIPAL IRVIN F. YOUNG congratulates Sue Glass and Lawrence Hoover on their high grades in the recent scholarship test.

By Myron T. Seifert

Top-notch scholars, judging by results of senior scholarship tests conducted by the state department of education recently, are Sue Glass, 172 Guernsey-av, and Lawrence Hoover, 3195 Clime-rd, who were among the 10 first winners in the Columbus area.

Both students are 17 years old and are honor students at West High.

Sue, by virtue of maintaining an all "A" record at West High School, is first in her class of prospective graduates. She has missed only three and one-half days of school at West High.

Books are not everything in Sue's life, since she has a diversity of extracurricular interests.

She is a versatile dancer and has appeared in many shows. Her appearance in the Mar. 16 and 17 West High Band Variety Show will be her fifth billing. She has played in many independent players' productions throughout the city from time to time.

She intends to enroll in Miami University, Oxford, following her graduation from West High, and prepare for a career in the field of merchandising.

"Larry" Hoover has commuted six miles daily in order to complete his high school education.

Next fall he will matriculate at Ohio State University, in the college of engineering.

Scholastically Larry is also high. He ranks eighth in his class and his attendance record has been excellent. He has a 3.66 average.

Local Auto Tag Sale Starts Wed.

Erm Groves has been named deputy registrar to sell 1950 auto license tags in this area. The new tags will go on sale Wednesday and will continue to be sold during the entire month. Licenses this year are yellow with black letters.

The sale, sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, will be held at Robinson's Electric Shop, 2403 W. Broad-st, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily. Ladies of the Kiwanikwe will sell the plates during the day and Kiwanis members will take over the sale in the evening.

Harold Cramer has been named chairman in charge of the sale.

Other registrars in this area are Martin Hennick, 1022 W. Broad-st; Kathryn Wasson, 1593 Harrisburg-pk; Leo Myers, 5348 W. Broad-st, and Frances Connor, Hilliards.

Hilliards Farmers Hear Swine Betterment Talk

Herbert M. Barnes, agricultural extension specialist, was the speaker from OSU who spoke on the Ohio Swine Improvement Program at the weekly meeting of the Hilliards adult farmers last Wednesday.

Mr. Barnes had two objectives in mind, namely: 1. certified breeding for prolificacy and nursing ability feeding and gaining ability, mestier carcass qualities; 2. superior commercial hogs for economical production, greater carcass value, higher market value.

In this program they are not trying to change type, but are trying to give it uniformity. What is wanted is a high producing type of hog with less fat and which will have a high market value. The swine improvement program is trying to produce an animal which will have most desirable cuts of meat.

The next regular meeting of the adult farmers is Wednesday, when the balancing of the farm enterprise in relation to foods, livestock and machinery will be discussed.

These meetings are under the direction of A. E. Ritchie, vo-ag teacher at Hilliards High School.

Starling Jazz Combo Wows Radio Audience

Four Starling Junior High School students, known as the "Jazz Combo", took first place in the Hi-Jinx show on station WCOL last Saturday. The group played the Hucklebuck with such finesse that they have been invited back for a return engagement this week.

Members of the combo are Bob Kesselring, drums; Gary Gilkerson, clarinet; Roger Horch, trumpet, and Carl Sally, saxaphone.

Record To Sponsor Washington Tour

Hilliards Pupils Study TB In Health Class

The gift of the copies of "An Autobiography by Edward Livingston Trudeau" to Hilliards High School from the Columbus Tuberculosis Society has resulted in a comprehensive study of tuberculosis by seniors taking a course in health education.

According to Kathryn Mock, teacher of health education at Hilliard, the study of TB began following the recent free chest X-ray survey conducted by the Society at Hilliards High. After the survey, students were taken on a three-hour tour of Benjamin Franklin Hospital, rated as one of the top 70 tuberculosis hospitals in the country. As the project's conclusion, the autobiography will be required reading for all students taking the health education course. It will later be placed in the school library for general use.

The Columbus Tuberculosis society has expressed a willingness to work with other county schools on lining up a course on tuberculosis, which still remains the world's greatest killer among communicable diseases. The society will also work with county schools on assembling latest available reference materials for their libraries.

West Students To Appear On Video Program

By Myron T. Seifert

West High talent will be featured on television station WLWC, channel 4, at 4:30 next Monday.

Some of the acts on the video show will also be seen and heard at the West High Band Variety Show, March 16 and 17.

West High billings on the 15-minute telecast, emceed by Jim Lee, will include a ballet dance by Carol Christie, a tap dance quartet of Delores Morvia, Sonya Alberry, Barbara Bell and Sue Keller; and a violin solo by Jack Galloway.

Roland Sunker is student manager and producer of the telecast show.

Through a community service project being planned by the Hilltop Record, Hilltoppers will be given a chance to spend a week-end in the nation's capital during the cherry blossom season, returning to Columbus the following Monday in time to report for work.

If a sufficient number of residents of the community wish to make the trip, the Record will sponsor a guided tour leaving Columbus at 5:40 p. m., Friday, Apr. 14, and returning here early Monday, Apr. 17.

The trip will include conducted sight-seeing tours of the public buildings, including the Capitol Building, the Congressional Library and the White House.

Tourists will visit Mt. Vernon, home and burial place of George Washington, and will go through historic Georgetown, Va. On Sunday morning the tourists will visit cathedrals and shrines in the capital, ending the tour at the Union Depot, where tourists will board the streamliner "the Jeffersonian" for the return trip to Columbus.

The cost of the tour will be $39.90. This will include railway fare, sightseeing reservations and hotel reservations. Each person will select his own food and place to eat. This will mean that the actual cost of the trip will be about $50. It was deemed advisable to let each person buy his own food, rather than increasing the cost of the tour to $50 and taking the chance of serving food that all of the tourists might not like.

If interested in making the tour, the Record urges you to fill in the blank on page 3 and send it to the Record office at once. Take advantage of this trouble-free, low-cost way of visiting your nation's capital in all of its spring-time beauty.

West Teachers To Meet At OSU

West High pedagogues will forget school books and homework Tuesday evening, Mar. 7, when they assemble at Pomerene Hall on Ohio State University Campus for a dinner and program.

The occasion is held annually among West High teachers.

John Thompson, English teacher, is chairman of the committee in charge of the event. Assisting him are Cyrus Sedgewick, Pauline Sparrow, Mrs. A. Kittel, Orrie Lehman and Mrs. Davis.

Red Cross Drive Volunteers First Report To Be March 6

Red Cross fund solicitation workers will head for the Southern Hotel Mar. 6 for the first report in the drive. The goal for the county this year is $316,500.

Division leaders in the drive will be honored at the first luncheon meeting. "The Buzz Saws", a male quartet, will provide the entertainment at the meeting.

Volunteer workers in the drive, in addition to the vice chairmen and colonels listed in last week's paper, for the West Side, Hilltop and Valleyview are:

Harold C. Kay, 91 Schultz-av; Beatrice Tomlinson, 221 Avondale-av; Mrs. Donald B. Allis, 841 W. Mound-st; Mrs. Arthur Arledge, Jr., 117 Hayden-av; Mrs. Leo Barnhill, 872 Campbell-av; Mrs. Richard E. Looking Ahead with
JEAN WORREL

Everyone knows that the difference between future security and insecurity depends not on what is earned but on what is saved.

Think what you will do when old age deprives you of the means of earning your own livelihood. Think what your family will do if by your untimely death they are left to carry on alone, without your income to feed, clothe, shelter and educate them.

Ordinarily it is difficult to save money but now, in keeping with the times, a new and easy way of saving has been arranged. Just as the Government has made it easier to pay our income tax at regular intervals from the salary cheque, so independence for old age and protection for wife and children can now be conveniently provided by small salary deductions.

What could be more sound than, with the co-operation of your employer, saving a small part of your salary to assure an income for yourself or your family when your paydays are over. The programme is permanent and uninterrupted because the deposits are automatic. The savings dollar properly becomes the first item in the budget rather than the last. The plan to which I refer, the Sun Life Salary Savings Plan, is so flexible that a programme of saving can be adapted to fit the needs of each wage-earner, single or married, man or woman, according to individual problems and ability to save. Such policies are the property of the assured and in the event of entering the service of another employer it is a simple matter to continue the savings arrangement intact.

Let me tell you more about this savings plan and show you how easily it can be adapted to meet your own requirements. Just call or write

West Drops Final Tilt To East 64-46

By Dave Miller

West's Cowboys finished their regular 1949-50 basketball campaign last Friday night at East, dropping a 64 to 46 verdict to the Tigers of E. Broad-st, who were crowned as co-champions along with South in the '49-50 City League scramble.

The Cowboy loss set the Hilltoppers' City League record for the past season at seven wins and five defeats as compared to last year's exactly reversed record. However, the overall record of the locals finished at the same as last season, 10 wins and the same number of setbacks.

What hurt West in City League recognition was that North game Feb. 7, a geme which the Cowboys lost, 60-59. If the Cowboys could have bagged that one, they would have ended up in a possible three-way tie for the championship, or at least an undisputed runerup spot in the final standings, which North holds with its win mark. The Cowboys ended up in a third spot, deadlocked with Central. Both had 7-5 marks. Aquinas (2-10) and Linden (0-12) bring up the rear.

One of the main objections raised in several Cowboy games is the fact that West has failed to call a timeout when their opponents were getting "hot".

In the East encounter, things were fairly close all the first half, but fate caught up with the Cowpokes and the East quintet started to click on everything it shot. East jumped to a 4-0 lead in the opening period on tip-in by Bill Truss and Rolland Davis. Bill Thrush and Phil Young, the West scoring twins this season, came through with a long set apiece to quickly knot the count.

Things continued at this pace until midway of the period. Bill Thrush again knoted the score up, 11-all, with another long set shot. Bernie Granger sank a hook shot and Harris a bunny to provide the Bengals with a 15-11 margin. Jerry Johnson sank a set shot to cut the lead in half, but Truss sank a free toss for the Tigers to provide the East Siders with a 16-13 first stanza lead.

Romie Watkins of the Tigers started off the second period proceedings with a duo of gratis tosses to increase the ultimate winners' margin to five, but then Paul Ellingsworth and Harris of the Tigers matched jump shots under the bucket, and then Phil Young of West sank a beautiful tip-in to cut East's lead to 20-17.

Harris, Granger and Watkins of the winners all hit for four straight buckets to "up" the Orange and Black's lead to 28-18 before Jerry Johnson and Paul Ellingsworth combined for six straight points (five by Johnson) and West had quickly again narrowed East's seemingly big lead down to 28-24. However, Granger of the Tigers sank two straight long shots as the first half ended in the ultimate winner's possession, 32-24.

The Cowboys' great guard, Bill Thrush, practically conceded his individual scoring leadership to teammate Phil Young by setting up plays rather than being on the scoring end himself. Bill had 198 points going into the East fray, with Young one point behind. Bill took three long shots in the first quarter, hitting all of them, but from there on Thrush couldn't have been more outstanding. He wasn't getting points, but he could have if he had tried. Not once in the game did he shoot his favorite shot, a right-handed drive-in-lay-up. After making three out of seven shots in the first half, Bill attempted only five shots in the second half, and on numerous occasions had an easy shot, but showed his greatness by passing in to another teammate who had an easier shot. Young, who also played another great game, won the City League individual scoring championship with 211 points by bagging 17 points in the East fray, 13 of the markers coming in the final half.

After the Cowboys' dismal third period, in which they were outscored 18-5 by the Bengals, they turned around and managed to outscore (by one point) East in the last quarter, 17-16, with Young bagging nine of the markers.

East's one-two punch again was the main reason for the KO of the Cowboys. Rollie Harris, Romie Watkins and Bernard Granger together combined for 51 of the East total. The trio had 23, 14 and 14 points respectively. Harris, who was held to a mere nine points in the first round encounter of the two teams, really cut loose, and he personally, along with some great pass-work by Watkins, led the Tigers to their onslaught of the Cowboys in that miserable third canto.

In the Central District Class "A" drawings in downtown Columbus Saturday morning, West picked South. The Cowboys may have knocked them off a week ago, 83-73, but those South Siders are going to be even tougher in the tournament. Also, you must remember that South was the team that knocked West out of the district in the 1948 classic. The two schools will engage in battle Thursday night in the Fairgrounds Coliseum at 9 o'clock.

Juniors Beat Crestview For 8-2 Season

By Dave Miller

West Junior High's powerpacked basketball quintet ran rough-shod in the fourth quarter last Friday afternoon as they downed Crestview, 43-27, on the latter's court.

The Crestview fray concluded the local juniors' season with a won-eight, lost-two mark, one of the most remarkable seasons ever witnessed by the Powell-av school for many a year.

Coach Red Lehman's Broncos started out their 1949-50 campaign with two consecutive wins over Everett and Indianola and then they came to a team that was unbeatable as far as the City Junior High League goes, Barrett. The junior high team, which had one of the best offenses in the loop, was pitted against one of the best defensive units in the loop. Barrett won a real heartbreaker from the locals, 28-27, on a last second free throw, and from there onward that Barrett fray has spelled the difference in the fact that the local junior high team couldn't have taken or tied for the championship.

West Junior lost its second game of the season, 33-28, to Champion, right after the mid-season graduation, but still the juniors could have dropped that one, even though they did lose to Champion, if they could have won that Barrett fray they could have tied for the championship. As fate had it, though, West finished third with an 8-2 mark while Barrett was undefeated in 10 frays, and Champion was runnerup with 9-1.

In the Crestview fray, the game was a rather close affair up until the final quarter when the Broncos cut loose with a terrific offensive punch that outscored the Bob Burgett North Siders, 17-4, in the period. The 17-point output by the locals was their second highest six-minute period thus far this year, with their 19-point second period against Franklin being tops.

Bob Thornton, towering six-foot, three-inch center of the Broncos, ended up as high point man for the locals with 124 points. Jerry Trabue, mid-year graduate, 66, and Guard Bill Haire with 63.

Dick Hutchison, recently elected captain of the team, was the hero of the day at Crestview with his 12 markers, half of the points coming in the final period, while Bob Thornton was runnerup with 11 markers. Jack Henry topped Crestview with 17.

Here is the individual scoring of the Broncos for the season:

Hilliards Wins Thriller From Holy Family 50-46

Holy Family put up a terrific battle against Hilliards Friday night on the latter's court, but had to take the short end of a 50-46 decision to the home forces.

Holy Family came from behind in the third period, to take the lead, but the spirited Hilliards boys came right back to regain the upper hand for the rest of the way.

Holy Family won the prelim, 34-30.

Cowboy Reserves Lose Final Game To East 38-27

By Dave Miller

West High's reserve squad ended its 1949-50 Reserve League season last Friday with an even-steven mark of six wins and six losses by dropping a 38-27 decision to East's reserve squad at East.

The junior Cowboys were definitely "off" and along with a terrible first period they were pretty much out of the running all the way. The East seconds were an entirely different team than the one that dropped a 42-40 verdict to West's reserve squad at West in the two quintets' meeting in the first round (a double-overtime affair).

The local reserves, unpredictable as they come, a team that can lose twice to last place Central, and then turn around and lose to the league champs only 34-33, were held to a mere six points in the first quarter, while East's quintet unloaded with an 18-point barrage right off the bat.

The Bengals, paced by big Forward George Cochran, hopped to an 8-1 lead over the Cowboys early in the game before West could retaliate with goals by Russ Friend and Bill South to cut the ultimate winners' advantage to three points.

Again Cochran, Fred Andrews and Dick James came back with nine quick points, and sandwiched around Friend's second straight push shot, they held a commanding 18-6 first period margin, and after that they were never very seriously threatened.

The Broncos managed to outscore their opponents in the second period, 12-7, and thanks to some timely shooting by Dick Wray, Morris Dobbs, Jim Hall and Friend they trailed only 25-18 at the halftime.

However, in the second half the free throws spelled the difference for the Fred Heischman-coached quintet as the Broncos, who had missed only two gratis throws in the first half, made only three out of 11 attempts in the second. It was just one of those games in which the locals couldn't seem to hit anything, and East, with their two six-foot, five-inch pivotmen, Freddie Andrews and George Cochran, just couldn't be stopped.

West hit on 10 of 46 shots while the winners made good on 16 out of 47 attempts.

High point man of the game was East's Fred Andrews with 16 markers while teammate Cochran was runnerup with 12. Russ Friend with eight and Jim Hall with seven topped West.

The box score:

West	6	18	32	38
East	18	25	32	38

Clayton Jones Heads 'Scrambled Names'

Girls' Interclass Hoop Tourney To Open At West

By Myron T. Seifert

The annual West High girls' inter-class basketball tournament will be held at West High School gymnasium, Friday evening, Mar. 10, at 7 o'clock, Miss Helen McCormick, girls' physical education director, said today.

Preliminary try-outs and eliminations were held among 160 girls on Feb. 14 and 21.

Each team consists of sevep forwards, seven guards and a manager.

Cheerleaders and rooting sections for each class have been set up and everything points to a spirited contest among the girls at West High School.

Last year the sophomores won the tourney but this year anything can happen, Miss McCormick avers.

Complete roster of the class teams, released this week at the school, embraces the following:

Looking Ahead
with
JEAN WORREL

Everyone knows that the difference between future security and insecurity depends not on what is earned but on what is saved.

Think what you will do when old age deprives you of the means of earning your own livelihood. Think what your family will do if by your untimely death they are left to carry on alone, without your income to feed, clothe, shelter and educate them.

Ordinarily it is difficult to save money but now, in keeping with the times, a new and easy way of saving has been arranged. Just as the Government has made it easier to pay our income tax at regular intervals from the salary cheque, so independence for old age and protection for wife and children can now be conveniently provided by small salary deductions.

What could be more sound than, with the co-operation of your employer, saving a small part of your salary to assure an income for yourself or your family when your paydays are over. The programme is permanent and uninterrupted because the deposits are automatic. The savings dollar properly becomes the first item in the budget rather than the last. The plan to which I refer, the Sun Life Salary Savings Plan, is so flexible that a programme of saving can be adapted to fit the needs of each wage-earner, single or married, man or woman, according to individual problems and ability to save. Such policies are the property of the assured and in the event of entering the service of another employer it is a simple matter to continue the savings arrangement intact.

Let me tell you more about this savings plan and show you how easily it can be adapted to meet your own requirements. Just call or write

West Drops Final Tilt To East 64-46

By Dave Miller

West's Cowboys finished their regular 1949-50 basketball campaign last Friday night at East, dropping a 64 to 46 verdict to the Tigers of E. Broad-st, who were crowned as co-champions along with South in the '49-50 City League scramble.

The Cowboy loss set the Hilltoppers' City League record for the past season at seven wins and five defeats as compared to last year's exactly reversed record. However, the overall record of the locals finished at the same as last season, 10 wins and the same number of setbacks.

What hurt West in City League recognition was that North game on Feb. 7, a geme which the Cowboys lost, 60-59. If the Cowboys could have bagged that one, they would have ended up in a possible three-way tie for the championship, or at least an undisputed runnerup spot in the final standings, which North holds with its 8-4 mark. The Cowboys ended up with third spot, deadlocked with Central. Both had 7-5 marks. Aquinas (2-10) and Linden (0-12) bring up the rear.

One of the main objections raised in several Cowboy games is the fact that West has failed to call a timeout when their opponents were getting "hot".

In the East encounter, things were fairly close all the first half, until fate caught up with the Cowpokes and the East quintet started to click on everything they hit. East jumped to a 4-0 lead in the opening period on tip-in's by Bill Truss and Rolland Harris. Bill Thrush and Phil Young, the West scoring twins all season, came through with a long set apiece to quickly knot the count.

Things continued at this pace until midway of the period. Bill Thrush again knoted the score up, 11-all, with another long set shot. Bernie Granger sank a hook shot and Harris a bunny to provide the Bengals with a 15-11 margin. Jerry Johnson sank a set shot to cut the lead in half, but Truss sank a free toss for the Tigers to provide the East Siders with a 16-13 first stanza lead.

Romie Watkins of the Tigers started off the second period proceedings with a duo of gratis tosses to increase the ultimate winners' margin to five, but then Paul Ellingsworth and Harris of the Tigers matched jump shots under the bucket, and then Phil Young of West sank a beautiful tip-in to cut East's lead to 20-17.

Harris, Granger and Watkins of the winners all hit for four straight buckets to "up" the Orange and Black's lead to 28-18 before Jerry Johnson and Paul Ellingsworth combined for six straight points (five by Johnson) and West had quickly again narrowed East's seemingly big lead down to 28-24. However, Granger of the Tigers sank two straight long shots as the first half ended in the ultimate winner's possession, 32-24.

The Cowboys' great guard, Bill Thrush, practically conceded his individual scoring leadership to teammate Phil Young by setting up plays rather than being on the scoring end himself. Bill had 196 points going into the East fray, with Young one point behind. Bill took three long shots in the first quarter, hitting all of them, but from there on Thrush couldn't have been more outstanding. He wasn't getting points, but he could have if he had tried. Not once in the game did he shoot his favorite shot, a right-handed drive-in-lay-up. After making three out of seven shots in the first half, Bill attempted only five shots in the second half, and on numerous occasions had an easy shot, but showed his greatness by passing in to another teammate who had an easier shot. Young, who also played another great game, won the City League individual scoring championship with 211 points by bagging 17 points in the East fray, 13 of the markers coming in the final half.

After the Cowboys' dismal third period, in which they were outscored 18-8 by the Bengals, they turned around and managed to outscore (by one point) East in the last quarter, 17-16, with Young bagging nine of the markers.

East's one-two punch again was the main reason for the KO of the Cowboys. Rollie Harris, Romie Watkins and Bernard Granger together combined for 51 of the East total. The trio had 23, 14 and 14 points respectively. Harris, who was held to a mere nine points in the first round encounter of the two teams, really cut loose, and he personally, along with some great pass-work by Watkins, led the Tigers to their onslaught of the Cowboys in that miserable third canto.

In the Central District Class "A" drawings in downtown Columbus Saturday morning, West picked South. The Cowboys may have knocked them off a week ago, 83-73, but those South Siders are going to be even tougher in the tournament. Also, you must remember that South was the team that knocked West out of the district in the 1948 classic. The two schools will engage in battle Thursday night in the Fairgrounds Coliseum at 9 o'clock.

Juniors Beat Crestview For 8-2 Season

By Dave Miller

West Junior High's power-packed basketball quintet ran rough-shod in the fourth quarter last Friday afternoon as they downed Crestview, 43-27, on the latter's court.

The Crestview fray concluded the local juniors' season with a won-eight, lost-two mark, one of the most remarkable seasons ever witnessed by the Powell-av school for many a year.

Coach Red Lehman's Broncos started out their 1949-50 campaign with two consecutive wins over Everett and Indianola and then they came to a team that was unbeatable as far as the City Junior High League goes, Barrett. The junior high team, which had one of the best offenses in the loop, was pitted against one of the best defensive units in the loop. Barrett won a real heart-breaker from the locals, 28-27, on a last second free throw, and from there onward that Barrett fray has spelled the difference in the fact that the local junior high team couldn't have taken or tied for the championship.

West Junior lost its second game of the season, 33-26, to Champion, right after the mid-season graduation, but still the juniors could have dropped that one, even though they did lose to Champion, if they could have won that Barrett fray they could have tied for the championship. As fate had it, though, West finished third with an 8-2 mark while Barrett was undefeated in 10 frays, and Champion was runnerup with 9-1.

In the Crestview fray, the game was a rather close affair up until the final quarter when the Broncos cut loose with a terrific offensive punch that outscored the Bob Burgett North Siders, 17-4, in the period. The 17-point output by the locals was their second highest six-minute period thus far this year, with their 19-point second period against Franklin being tops.

Bob Thornton, towering six-foot, three-inch center of the Broncos, ended up as high point man for the locals with 134 points. Jerry Trabue, mid-year graduate, 66, and Guard Bill Haire with 63.

Dick Hutchison, recently elected captain of the team, was the hero of the day at Crestview with his 12 markers, half of the points coming in the final period, while Bob Thornton was runnerup with 11 markers. Jack Henry topped Crestview with 17.

Here is the individual scoring of the Broncos for the season:

Hilliards Wins Thriller From Holy Family 50-46

Holy Family put up a terrific battle against Hilliards Friday night on the latter's court, but had to take the short end of a 50-46 decision to the home forces.

Holy Family came from behind in the third period, to take the lead, but the spirited Hilliards boys came right back to regain the upper hand for the rest of the way.

Holy Family won the prelim, 34-30.

Cowboy Reserves Lose Final Game To East 38-27

By Dave Miller

West High's reserve squad ended its 1949-50 Reserve League season last Friday with an even-steven mark of six wins and six losses by dropping a 38-27 decision to East's reserve squad at East.

The junior Cowboys were definitely "off" and along with a terrible first period they were pretty much out of the running all the way. The East seconds were an entirely different team than the one that dropped a 42-40 verdict to West's reserve squad at West in the two quintets' meeting in the first round (a double-overtime affair).

The local reserves, unpredictable as they come, a team that can lose twice to last place Central, and then turn around and lose to the league champs only 34-33, were held to a mere six points in the first quarter, while East's quintet unloaded with an 18-point barrage right off the bat.

The Bengals, paced by big Forward George Cochran, hopped to an 8-1 lead over the Cowboys early in the game before West could retaliate with goals by Russ Friend and Bill South to cut the ultimate winners' advantage to three points.

Again Cochran, Fred Andrews and Dick James came back with nine quick points, and sandwiched around Friend's second straight push shot, they held a commanding 18-6 first period margin, and after that they were never very seriously threatened.

The Broncos managed to outscore their opponents in the second period, 12-7, and thanks to some timely shooting by Dick Wray, Morris Dobbs, Jim Hall and Friend they trailed only 25-18 at the halftime.

However, in the second half the free throws spelled the difference for the Fred Heischman-coached quintet as the Broncos, who had missed only two gratis throws in the first half, made only three out of 11 attempts in the second. It was just one of those games in which the locals couldn't seem to hit anything, and East, with their two six-foot, five-inch pivotmen, Freddie Andrews and George Cochran, just couldn't be stopped.

West hit on 10 of 46 shots while the winners made good on 16 out of 47 attempts.

High point man of the game was East's Fred Andrews with 16 markers while teammate Cochran was runnerup with 12. Russ Friend with eight and Jim Hall with seven topped West.

The box score:

West	6	18	32	38
East	18	25	32	38

GIRL SCOUT
News Notes - - Activities

By "Pat" Martindale

February is international friendship month in the Girl Scouts.

The international program like everything in Girl Scouting is a year round-the-calendar program. February is, however, set aside for special emphasis where ever there are Girl Guides and Girl Scouts. Feb. 22 is the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, and in this country we observe George Washington's birthday, too, on that date. Since 1926 this day has been set aside as thinking day, when Girl Guides and Girl Scouts all over the world think of each other and what scouting means

What, you ask, does "Girl Scout" mean? Let's put it this way—

G is for good the Girl Scouts do
I is for international friendship, too,
R is for reverent, a Girl Scout should be,
L is for loyalty shown for her country,
S means she's a sister to all Girl Scouts
C is for character she is not without,
O is for others she's sure to think of,
U is for united by, sisterly love,
T is for the ten laws by which she abides.

So Girl Scouts you see, are citizens—patriotic, worthy and wise.

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale started Feb. 6 in Columbus and Franklin County. Each troop selling cookies benefits from the sale as well as the local council. The profits received by the council are used as camp funds for day camps and the established Girl Scout Camp Ken Jockety.

The cookie captains for the district eight neighborhoods are: John Burroughs, Mrs. R. D. Thorne and Mrs. Howard McVay; St. Aloysius, Mrs Sylvester Reinhard; Wilson School, Mrs. L. Hale Cline; West Broad, Mrs. Earl Abram; St. Mary Magdalene, Mrs. Anthony Froehlich; West High School, Mrs. C. O. McNamee; and for Grove City, Mrs. Harold Mueller.

The St. Aloysius Neighborhood Girl Scout meeting was held Jan. 16 in the school annex. H. C. Booth, district chairman, was guest speaker. It was announced that Mrs. Thelma Lynch has replaced Mrs. Gladys McAndrews as leader of Brownie troop 250. Her assistants are Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Jaquay. The next St. Aloysius Girl Scout neighborhood meeting will be held March 20, at 1:30 p. m. in the annex.

St. Aloysius Girl Scout troop 13 entertained their mothers with a valentine dinner cooked by the girls at the school annex Feb. 14, at 6 p. m. Valentine name places and corsages were made by the girls. The tables were beautifully set and decorated with red and white candles. The meal consisted of tomato juice and potato chips with cheese. The main course was Spanish meat balls, baked potatoes, green beans, salad, celery and pickles, then dessert and coffee were served (milk for the girls) followed with after-dinner mints.

Mrs. E. L. Martindale, neighborhood chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Kenny, PTA president, were also guests at the dinner. The leader is Mrs. Patrick Martin and her assistant is Mrs. Robert Morgan. The girls will receive their cooking badges and their sewing badges for making aprons worn at the dinner. The girls are: Beth Morgan, Janet Doner, Marbaret Bonn, Judith Poly, Mary Ann Lynch, Virginia Scales, Patricia Yonk and Marjorie Holman.

Girl Scout troop 251 recently held elections for patrols. Patrol No. 1 was named "The Busy Bee Patrol" and Patty O'Brien was elected leader with assistant Carol Kirwin; treasurer, Judy Rowe, and Scribe, Judy Sapp.

Patrol No. 2 was named "The Good Deeders Patrol." Rosalind Borowitz was elected leader with assistant Justine Goetz; treasurer, Sandra Rumich and scribe, Mary E. McNellie. Other girls in the troop are Barbara Jean Jones, Carol Clagett, Mary Rose Hetterscheidt, Ann Shea and Sue Ann Bauer. The leaders are K. L. Martindale and Mrs. Ray Sapp. The new committee for troop 251 is: Mrs. Thomas O'Brein, the chairman, Mrs. John Goetz, Mrs. Joe Borowitz and Mrs. Carl Clagett. The 13 girls in troop 251 who flew up from Brownies in December have passed their tenderfoot rank and are starting to work on their second class rank.

The first West Broad neighborhood meeting of the Girl Scout leaders was held Wednesday, Feb. 1, at the school with the district director, Miss Joan Smith and the district chairman, Mrs. H. C. Booth, present. The meeting was opened by singing of girl scout songs, followed by election of committee chairman. The new committees are:

Program committee, Mrs. Warren Weeks; publicity committee, Mrs. Robert Howison, Jr.; by-law and nominating committee, Mrs. John Higgins, chairman, Mrs. W. L. Treherne, Mrs. Howard Smith, and Mrs. Louis Smith; organization committee, Mrs. E. A. Smith; day camp committee, Mrs. Arthur Rismiller and Mrs. Earl Abram.

Representative at leaders association meeting, Mrs. John Snavely.

Brownie Troop 29 of West Broad, composed of sixteen girls made Valentine kits to be given to Children's Hospital. The leaders of this troop are: Mrs. Snavely, Mrs. Amrine and Mrs. Treherne; the troop committee Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Boyd.

On of the newly organized Brownie troops at West Broad is troop 297, which recently had an investiture. The following girls were invested: Janet Birle, Carol Brobst, Diane Compton, Roberta Flugge, Ronda Graham, Sue Howison, Judy Littleton, Karen Rishiller, Hulda Simonson, Louanne Smith, Louise Stoll, Sondra Watts, Carolyn Weeks and Anna Woodword. They have been making utility kits for the board of health and are now filling friendship bags for overseas.

They are now making aprons and bags for the board of health.

Troop 294, West Broad Street School, held its investiture service on Jan. 17, with Mrs. Booth taking charge of the ceremony. The following girls were invested: Marjorie Ann Abram, Donna Contizano, Judith L. Custer, Donna Gould, Barbara Jean Hanne, Julia Ellen Higgins, Dotty Lou Houck, Betty Hughes, Gayle R. Landau, Becky Sue Lowe, Pat Massie, Sallie Moore, Susan Moore, Linda Ruth Myers, Jill Ogden, Lynn Raymer, Sharon Rohr, Arlene Louise Smith, Linda Jane Zuck and Sally Worch.

Linda Zack and Becky Lowe served as color guard and Linda Myers as flag bearer. After the ceremony a very nice tea was served by the troop assisted by troop committee.

Brownie Troop 157 sang a song with motions over WTUN Kiddie Carnival, Jan. 15, the first Brownie troop to be on WTUN television. Brownies were each introduced. Several parents were at the broadcast. Those who participated were: Carol Ann Look, Diane Neeley, Karen Slarkey, Juanita Ebright, Pearl Sue Athey, Patty Henischman, Sharon Williams, Sandra Walz, Sandra Badgley, Jody Whilsell, Judy Sellars, Betty Carson. Leaders, Mrs. Look and Mrs. Starky.

Brownie troop 157 recently held a party at Mrs. James Ebright's. They sang songs and refreshments were served. A good time was had by all.

Brownie troop 157 just completed making tray favors for Lincoln Park Day Nursery.

Carol Ann Look (Brownie) is recovering at home from chicken pox virus, affecting the central nervous system. Carol will be confined to her home for about three months.

John Burroughs Brownie troop 152 celebrated its birthday with a troop party Jan. 30.

Beverly Neibler received her wings and was accepted into G. S. troop 112.

Susie Dyre, Janet Wolford, Patty Carson, Wilma K. Richardson were invested in the brownie troop 142. Parents of the girls attended, 28 were present. Refreshments were served. Mrs. H. C. Booth, district chairman presided at the investiture and after the party showed colored slides of last summer day camping. The leaders are Mrs. Geo. Neibler, Mrs. Lawrence Wolford and Mrs. Melvin Craig.

Brownie troop 200 of Wilson School made 97 folded newspaper bags with fillers, plus 100 extra fillers for the Public Health Nurses assistants. There were delivered Feb. 4. The girls working on this project were: Jane Akison, Dawn Akison, Evelyn Clark, Linda Sue Daeumler, Carolyn Erwin, Theresa Boggs, Carol Carpenter, Ann Echardt, Sandra Fisher, Sharon McConahay, Sondra Parker, Ruth Robinson, Edna Mae Roby, Bonnadean Sigler, Anna Lou Thompson, Diane Vincent, Carole J. Wells, Carolyn Wesney, Janice Wichterman, Nancy Schneider, Sharon McIntre, Sharon McConahay and the leaders are Mrs. John McConahay. Co-leaders, Mrs. Fred Echardt and Mrs. Virginia Vincent.

On Jan. 26 Brownie troop 208 was invested into the Girl Scouts at St. Mary Magdalene School auditorium. Ties and pins were blessed by Rev. Kenneth Wise. The hostesses for the reception that followed were leaders and girl scouts of troop 203.

AND A LONG WAY FROM SHORE

Odd Fact

The first known operation ever attempted on a crocodile was performed recently in the Cincinnati, Ohio, zoo, when a veterinarian removed six soft drink bottles and 30 stones of different sizes from the reptile's stomach.

CHAPTER FORTY-FOUR

"DID WE keep you waiting?" Kit asked, bending to kiss Fanny over the barrier of the long pasteboard box she carried.

His eyes on the box, Marvell came to Kit's side and whispered under cover of the party's enthusiasm, "What's this?"

She lifted the cover, revealing the close pressed roses, dark as dried blood, beaded with silver drops of moisture. Their warm perfume filled the air. "Andrew sent them."

"Why not a horse-shoe wreath with a motto?" Marvell was conscious of the rebuke in her frown as she turned to Furse who looked foolishly pleased with himself.

"I never had anything so lovely," she said to Furse. "They made me feel like a real star."

Before Furse could speak, Marvell answered for him. "They should have been showered upon you from the footlights. You are in the magnificent tradition, Kit." Furse can't afford such nonsense, he thought, but he admired, in spite of himself, a gesture so like his own.

When in the next breath, Kit asked, "Was it awful, that scene on the moor when the wind machine gave out?" Marvell replied instantly, "It was so still you could have heard a pin drop, but when you spoke, Kit, you were the wind!" She laughed affectionately with the others, at his extravagance and he knew she had forgiven him.

When they reached the hotel lobby, the subdued golden lights, the anonymity of mauve carpets stripped them of all their individuality. Ben, without his glasses, had a blurred impression that the party had grown enormously. They filed after Marvell to the checkroom and Nancy and Kit, giddy in the sweet, warm air, walked over to the wide French doors of the supper room where the band could be heard more plainly.

"That's my favorite song they're playing. Honestly," Nancy told Furse who had joined them. She was never still a moment, her silver slippers tiptoeing up and down in impatience. The head waiter spoke to Marvell.

"The birthday party?" he murmured, seeing the white fluffy dresses and the florists' box.

"Theatre party for Miss Coomes," said Marvell grandly. They were led to a round table near the dance floor. The stark glitter of the hotel service was relieved by a centerpiece of flowers and corsages waiting primly for the ladies.

"Now this box," Marvell handed it over to the headwaiter, "Miss Coomes wishes to keep fresh—the memory as well as the tribute—will you put these flowers in a cool place?"

"Uncle Ben," called Kit. "There are place cards. See, you sit next to me."

He moved rather grumpily to her side and drew back her chair. He disliked public entertaining of any sort. It was an affront to one's own home and a loss of the good conversation that aided the digestion of good meals. But once he had settled himself between the two girls and clamped his eyeglasses on his nose, he forgot his personal discomfort in the pleasure he took in seeing women in evening dress. He liked their bare, white arms, their colored silks and the added prettiness they always seemed to derive from music and laughter and a male audience.

There was nothing Marvell liked better than being host. He had carefully considered the various sizes and shapes of his guests in planning the evening, even down to a good soup for Ben whom he knew would depend on something to settle him comfortably. "Are we all set?" he murmured to Fanny who was on his right.

"Perfect. Will they play us a waltz? Later?"

"I've ordered that, and there is a special punch." He saw Furse holding out his hand to Nancy. They would dance well together. He saw Kit look up at Furse as he led Nancy off and Furse's smile in return made Marvell uneasy. They all got up to dance then and when they came back to their table at the end of the number, Fanny was laughing and breathless.

"Did you see your father and me?" asked Fanny. "I never knew he was so expert a dancer! When I realized that we were going to keep that arm's length pose for the whole dance, my heart sank. But it was wonderful—just like swinging."

"My style is free but my own," Marvell conceded.

"You were conspicuous at first," said Ben, "but quite effective. Just where is the rhythm in these foxtrots and scandals?"

Fanny and Kit exchanged sympathetic glances. Ben, who had met the challenge of the foxtrot by walking Kit backwards round and round the floor, was much more interested in the soup. "A good bisque, this," he said appreciatively.

Furse took a sip of punch and raised an inquiring eye at Marvell.

"I know," said Marvell, "it tastes like dried apricots in low-grade lead paint. It's our gesture to prohibition."

"You must blame our generation," said Ben, "for relaxing its vigilance to such an extent that we have no champagne tonight to toast a really fine performance, Kit."

"Thank you, Uncle Ben. I wanted you to like me tonight. I wanted you to enjoy the theatre as never before!"

"My dear, I used to be most devoted to the stage and its performers. Who was that extraordinary person, Marvell, who came a great many times to Boston, to the old Tremont theatre?"

"Maude Adams," said Furse.

"The man that shot Loncoln," murmured Nancy.

"No, no! Minnie Maddern Fiske! That was it. She had such a natural elegance. That's gone nowadays. I suppose it's the fault of modern plays, they're so emotionless, so understated."

"Well, Ben," Marvell said eagerly, "just come to see Kit in revivals when she plays Boston—Juliet, Maggie Shand . . ."

"You are going on the stage?" Ben asked Kit incredulously.

"Yes," Marvell answered for her, "I thought you'd guess that by tonight." He sounded disappointed.

"I didn't realize it was to be—a vocation. There is no such tradition in the family."

What an old coot he is, thought Nancy, leaning back to catch Kit's eye, but Kit showed her no sign of recognition. She seemed curiously withdrawn.

"You've always thought me a bad actor," Marvell joked, "that's a starter. And women are natural actresses anyway. They are given perfect equipment for it—intuition, curiosity, a desire to please." He did not catch Ben's reply. He was thinking how he always turned Ben's reservations into a lever for his own enthusiasms. Well, nothing could mar his triumph tonight. He looked around him with satisfaction. The principals had been at that earlier party which had been the beginning of this night. Nancy, unknowingly, filled the role of Nedda, and Furse, he grinned at this, substituted for the Stanewski twins—minor characters, not concerned with the deeper issues. The hum of voices rose and fell throughout the room, accented by the closer modulations of his own group. How like a dream it is, thought Marvell. If I should clap my hands, they'd all disappear, except Kit. She was silent as if she, too, were the dreamer. Too silent, he observed with some dismay.

"You tell them, Kit," he broke in upon their laughter, their desultory talk too sharply, "you tell them how hard you've worked for this, how sure you are of your choice."

There was a clean-cut silence and he felt little thrusts of uneasiness in their startled glances. Now what the hell don't they approve of, he asked himself.

Then Kit spoke quickly, "I will do what I have to. It is fated—because it is good." She gave a little smile and looked at Ben. "What kind of philosophy is it, to believe in fate only when it is good and right?"

"The philosophy of innocence," Marvell answered instantly. "And what is better? Not innocence per se, without experience and wisdom, but a freshness of spirit, a trust that to give in hope is to receive in kind. Innocence is vulnerable, then, according to the world, but 'I have overcome the world' is its inherent promise." He saw Kit's eyes shining at him across the table.

"Who is the more innocent, I wonder?" smiled Ben, looking from father to daughter.

"Are you too sophisticated to dance with me after hearing that?" Marvell asked Nancy.

"Oh, I'd love to!" Nancy thought the party all rather ancient but she was having a good time because it was a "family" evening, something she was not familiar with, and, a born flirt, she enjoyed enchanting every male that came her way. She had succeeded easily with Ben. She was concentrating now on Marvell. What Kit saw in Mr. d'Arcy-Furse left her cold, but she knew Kit was in love with him. She had even turned down an invitation to visit Nancy's mother in Paris this summer. Nancy didn't think Marvell knew anything about the invitation or the reason for its refusal. As Marvell's arm encircled her, she looked up at him coaxingly as if she were about to ask a favor, but his knowing smile put her off. She shrugged mentally. It was Kit's affair and if her father was half as wise as he thought he was, he'd find out.

"Shall we dance this one, Fanny?" Ben asked.

"Not just now, dear, if you don't mind. I'd rather watch." They all smiled at Ben's sigh of relief.

"Nancy has triumphed over innocence," said Furse, nodding in the direction of the dance floor.

Fanny turned around. Marvell and Nancy were dancing close together to a staccato fox-trot. She smiled. He's having the most fun of all, she thought, it's his evening really. It means so much to him—almost too much.

Ben had been silent. It distressed him to think that Kit's life was to be a repetition of Marvell's—rebellious, competitive. He would have chosen for her the role of Elizabeth, without its flaws, of course. He saw no sense in a young girl's being involved in the scrimmages, the disappointments of so exacting a profession.

Rodenfels New Paint And Body Shop Is Area's Largest

The Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., for 26 years a dealer for Chevrolet cars and trucks, last week announced the completion of the most recent addition to its plant, a new body and paint shop adjacent to the sales and service building at 555 W. Broad-st. The new unit, which is located on Mill-st, one-half block south of Broad-st, makes available to Rodenfels 20,000 square feet of additional work space.

The new shop is a one-story concrete block structure with basement and was under construction eight months. General contractor for the building was Lec E. Ruisinger, Inc., 851 Frebis-av. With the added floor space in the body and paint shop, Rodenfels now has 45,000 square feet devoted to automotive service, largest in the area.

Facilities in the shop which highlight Rodenfels' claim to complete one-stop auto service are newest dust-proof paint spray booths, guaranteed paint matching, porcelainizing, undercoating, complete front end alignment and frame straightening and installation of custom-made seat covers. Service already offered at the Rodenfels sales and service building included lubrication, washing and motor overhauls and tuneups. Body repair and painting service will be offered on any make car.

The Rodenfels Chevrolet Co. was formerly located at 1160 W. Broad-st, for 18 years until Jan. 15 of this year, at which time the concern moved to the present sales and service building. During its entire history, the company, founded in 1924 by Leo Rodenfels, has sold only Chevrolet cars and trucks. In today's organization, Leo Rodenfels is president, Dick Rodenfels is treasurer, John L. Rodenfels is vice-president, and John W. Keefer is secretary. Dick has been associated with the firm for 15 years and John Rodenfels for 13 years.

In charge of the company's service department are W. G. Dennis, service manager; Herman Shepard, assistant service manager; Perry Davis, body shop manager; and Ray Dersoon, assistant shop manager.

The Spectator
By C.C. Hartley

Briefly Told: Hilltoppers attending the Mardi Gras at New Orleans recently included Mrs. Catherine Cramer and daughter, Marilyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller V. Spurr . . . Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deems have moved to their new home on Algonquin-av . . . Zail Kemp, Jr., 2574½ Sullivant-av, an accountant at OSU, swears his wristwatch stopped the minute Jimmy Hague kicked the field goal that won the Rose Bowl game for State. The watch hasn't run since, but he still wears it—proudly . . . Betty Kimes took Jim Saeger's word for it when he told her a Buick's as warm inside as Florida sunshine. She's been driving back and forth from Rome every day in shorts and halter, but the other night with the temperature down to 10 degrees, and with a stalled Buick, she didn't find it quite so warm walking six blocks to a filling station for help—and in her shorts! . . . Mrs. John Dundon and two children left last week for Japan where they will join Sgt. Dundon stationed there with the army . . . Word comes from California that Dr. John Czatt, former Hilltop physician, has lost the sight of an eye . . . Barbara Ferguson and two children are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ferguson before leaving for Seattle where they will take a ship to Nagoya, Japan, to join Major Robert Ferguson

Sign Of The Times

The Chamber of Commerce of Gadsden and Anniston, Ala., have set up 50 bulletin signs in their communities, which bear the following:

"Every Time the Sun Sets, YOUR Federal Government is $15,000,000 Deeper in Debt. How Long Can This Last?"

Primary Election Is Time To Pick A Fall Winner

One of the most important races in the coming primary election is that of county commissioner. From the standpoint of recent events in the office of the commissioners it appears that it would not be out of place to have a change. For a number of years now the office has been controlled by the Republicans. To keep the pendulum of good government swinging as it should, now is the time for the public to place a good Democrat on the board.

We believe we have such an individual in Harold Cunningham. Fisher-rd farmer, and well known throughout this community as well as the whole of Franklin County.

Cunningham is a newcomer to politics. He has a good reputation as a business man and farmer and he has a wide following of friends from both parties.

His Republican friends can't do much good for him in the primary election, however, and it will therefore be necessary for him to secure every possible Democrat vote in the primary if he is to be a candidate in the fall election.

In view of the fact that two other leading Democrat contenders for the nomination are old line politicians we believe the public will want to go along with Cunningham if they want a winner in the fall election. We doubt seriously if the necessary votes from the Republican side of the fence can be swung over behind any other Democrat who might be nominated in order to put him in the commissioner's office in the fall election.

But if Cunningham can get the nomination on the Democratic ticket in the primaries it is our prediction that he will be the next county commissioner. If he fails to get the nomination we would likewise predict that the present Republican contender will go back into office.

Franklin County needs a man from the rural areas on the board of county commissioners. It is only fair that this great portion of the local populace should have representation by a man who is acquainted with their problems. We believe Harold Cunningham is that man

Minstrel Tryout Mar. 12

Tryouts for the 1950 Hilltop Minstrel "Show of the Century" extravaganza will be held Sunday, Mar. 12 in John Burroughs Elementary School, 2585 Sullivant-av, C. H. Campbell, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, announced yesterday.

Applications from persons who wish to have a part in the annual fun-fest are still being received, with the program open for vocal numbers, either solo or group, comedy or dance routines, juggling or acrobatic stunts and instrumental music selections. Only requirement of participants is that they be residents of the area between Central-av and Rome.

The 21st Hilltop Minstrel will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Apr. 12, 13 and 14 in the West High School auditorium. Lee Koontz, who will direct this year's production, earlier announced that the theme for the 1950 show will be "The Dollmaker's Dream."

The coupon to be submitted as application for an interview for a part is printed on page 6 of Tuesday's Record.

Thos. Richards Sr. Taken By Death

Thomas E. Richards, sr., 55, died unexpectedly Tuesday in his home, 141 S. Burgess-av, after an apparent heart attack. A former semi-professional baseball player, Mr. Richards had been an employe of the New York Central Railroad for 33 years at the time of his retirement in 1946.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Maintenance, Franklin Lodge, K of P; Aquila Aerie of the Eagles, and the West Park Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Laura Thelma Richards; five sons, Carl F., and Thomas E. Richards, Jr., of Springfield, Charles T. Richards of Middletown, and Robert L. and Francis M. Richards at home; five daughters, Mrs. Frank P. Panstingle, Mrs. Marie Bowman and Mrs. Melvin Miller, all of Dayton, Mrs. Fred Newlands of Springfield; and Mrs. Frank Schrader of Columbus; two brothers, Frank and Charles Richards of Columbus; a sister, Mrs. Carl Hagans of Columbus, and 18 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Friday afternoon in West Park Methodist Church followed by burial in Concord Cemetery by the Norris Funeral Home, Grove City.

Thatcher Warns Postal Violators

Newton A. Thatcher, county treasurer, 2966 Crescent-dr, has complained that a local finance firm is using envelopes which have the appearance of official mail from the county and treasury department.

He said the firm would be warned about the envelopes which have "Treasurer's Office" in one corner with no address. The message inside is made to look like a tax refund, Thatcher said.

Indian Student To Talk At Hilliards

Mrs. Devadas

Rajammal Packiyanathan Devadas, Home Economics student at Ohio State University, will address the Hilliards Chamber of Commerce in a meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Devadas received her bachelor's degree in home science with highest distinction from Queen Mary's College for Women, Madras, South India, in 1944. She was one of the first eight home economists at that time.

She came to Ohio State University in September, 1947, on a government scholarship for graduate study. She received a master of science degree in foods and nutrition in 1948 and master of arts degree in home economics education in 1949. At present she is working toward a Ph. D. degree in foods and nutrition, a goal she hopes to achieve by June, 1950.

Mrs. Devadas has travelled through 30 states, visiting more than 40 universities in the United States. She plans to teach home economics on the university level upon her return to India as well as doing extension and research work.

Harold Cunningham will be the master of ceremonies at the meeting. It is open to the public at no charge.

Joan Heights Seeks City Water Supply

Approximately 50 property owners of the Joan Heights subdivision attended a meeting last Friday evening in the Franklin Township Hall, Demorest-rd at Sullivant-av, to hear Deano T. Mitchell, Franklin County sanitary engineer, discuss the possibilities of obtaining city water for the community.

Mr. Mitchell told the group that, barring unforeseen complications, preliminary plans for the extension of water service in the area bounded by Algonquin and Southampton-avs, and Joan-rd and Valleyview-dr, could be started in the near future, with the possibility that surveying and other more advanced work could begin as soon as the weather will permit.

In answer to a question from a representative of Nate Berlin, owner of considerable property in Joan Heights, Mr. Mitchell said that the water main to be installed would be of sufficient size to supply a "50-acre housing project." Cost of installation of the additional service to property owners would be from $2.65 to $5 a front foot, to be paid over a ten year period.

An earlier petition to Columbus City Council requesting that Joan Heights be incoroprated into the city proper was turned down in January by the service committee of city council. Upon learning of this, a committee of Joan Heights taxpayers headed by Mrs. Thelma Neal redoubled their efforts to have the city act on the petition filed last summer to provide the community with Columbus water service.

Other members of the committee working with Mrs. Neal are Mrs. Hattie Ferguson and Mrs. Emma Russell.

At the same meeting, the Franklin Township Board of Trustees voted to purchase a road grader for maintenance of roads in the township.

Ohio Treasurer of F.F.A. Says Hilliards Chapt. 'One of Best' In State

Beverly Worcester, treasurer of the State Future Farmers of America organization, was the speaker of the evening at the parent and son banquet of the Hilliards FFA last Tuesday.

Worcester is from the Ithaca chapter and is presently attending the college of agriculture at OSU. Worcester said that the activity of the chapter was very evident from the results of state contests and community activity. He rated the Hilliards chapter as one of the best in the state and said that the past record of the chapter was a challenge to present and future members to work toward even higher goals.

Richard Fisher was toastmaster and Rev. Noethlich of the Hilliards Methodist Church gave the invocation. The program opened by a presentation of the opening ceremony of the FFA organization in which the following officers participated: President, Bill Miller; vice-president, Bernard Geyer; secretary, David Hetrick; treasurer, Fred Barrett, and reporter, Richard Hansen.

A welcome was extended to the parents and guests and the response was given by Henry Hansen, representing the parents. Hansen commended the chapter on its activity and accomplishments, and stated that the parents were glad to help the boys gain these accomplishments.

Larry Hetrick led the group in singing and awards were presented to members for their accomplishments. Bill Miller presented Richard Hanson with a ton litter award and Charles Williams and Alvin Rings received awards from the Ohio Pig Producers Association.

Bill Finch, chairman of the pest hunt committee, presented an initialed tie clasp to Eugene Nunamaker, a bill fold to Oscar Buck and two dollars cash to John Kessler for the highest numbers of points scored in the chapter pest hunt contest

Bob Hooper announced the results of the scrap drive which was held by the chapter and stated that Charles Williams, Bill Finch and Bill Miller would receive prizes in the near future for the largest amounts of scrap iron collected.

Austin E. Ritchie, teacher of vocational agriculture at Hilliards and adviser to the chapter, recognized the guests with a short who's who. Austin White and Griffin Roberts were presented with honorary chapter memberships by the president, Bill Miller. The honorary memberships are given to men who

Dade Barnhill Is Winner In Crossword Puzzle Contest

3-Time Winner Gets TV Set; Mrs. Graham 2nd

An entry requiring three weeks work won the fifth weekly Hilltop Record Crossword Puzzle Contest and the grand prize in the contest for Dade Barnhill, 130 N. Terrace-av.

Barnhill's entry was in the form of a large display case with a revolving center containing displays of the wares of each of the sponsors of the contest. Two switches on the front of the case control the electric motor that revolves the display, and a light that illuminates it.

Second prize in the final contest goes to Mrs. John Graham, 45 S. Harris-av; and third prize goes to Pat Reardon, 2300½ Sullivant-av.

Entries in the final week of the contest far surpassed those submitted in previous contests for originality. Although the rules of the contest specified that the number of sales slips submitted would decide the winner in case of a tie, there was no instance in the entire contest of an entry being chosen on the basis of sales slips.

As the grand prize Barnhill will receive a 10-inch RCA Television set. As winner of the last weekly contest he will have his choice of a Nesco electric ovenette, a radiant heater, or a $15 portrait order from J. Curtis Allen.

The contest for the grand prize was a two-way race between Barnhill and Mrs. Graham. Barnhill was the winner of the first two contests and Mrs. Graham took first prize in the third and fourth contests.

The grand prize winner and other entries in the contest will be on display at the C. C. Robinson Electric Co., 2403 W. Broad-st.

Local Woman Feted At Legion Hall Dedication

Mrs. Paul C. Weimer, 442 S. Powell-av, her father, Perry C. Zimmerman, and her sisters, Gayle and Faye, were guests of honor Feb. 22 at the dedication of the Lehman-Zimmerman American Legion Post 259 at Forest, O.

The post is named after Mrs. Weimer's oldest brother, Forrest Zimmerman. Zimmerman was a veteran of World War I who died shortly after the war. Emmett Lehman, his closest friend in the service, also died soon after the war.

All work on the new Legion home was donated by legionaires and townspeople of Forest.

McNulty Named President Of 10th Ward Dems.

Officers of the 10th Ward Democratic Club for 1950 were elected Feb. 20 at a party held in the VFW Hall on W. Broad-st.

New president of the organization is Hugh McNulty, Sr. Other officers are Earl Jones, vice-president; Emma Kendrick, secretary; Matilda Hays, treasurer; and Martin Whelan, sergeant-at-arms.

More than 100 attended the party, at which a lunch was served and entertainment provided. Among Democratic committee members present were Gallagher of the ninth ward, Williams of the 11th, and Ward and Tracy of the 14th. Oscar F. Dildine, 10th Ward Committeeman, presided at the party.

New Electric Shop Opens On Sullivant Ave. Saturday

Vincent Reeder, 61 S. Harris-av, and Eddy Anverse, 598 Lilley-av, announced today the opening of their firm, the Arco Electric Corp., 2572 Sullivant-av, on Saturday, Mar. 4, at 6 p. m.

The owners stated that a radio will be given away as a grand prize, plus flowers to all the lady visitors and cigars to the men.

The company will feature the sales and service of Admiral radios, television sets, refrigerators and electric ranges. It will also handle a complete line of electrical appliances and kitchens.

Two Hilltop Girls On Bob Jones U. Dean's Honor List

Dolores Evelyn Brown, daughter of Mrs. Dorothyé I. Brown, 280 Binns-blvd, and Alice Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Mercer, 274 Wrexham-av, have been included among students named on the Bob Jones University dean's list, which was released at the close of the first semester. These students made averages of "A" or "B" in all their courses for the first semester of the 1949-50 academic year.

Miss Brown, a freshman, and Miss Mercer, a sophomore, are members of a student body of approximately 3,000 young people who have come from 48 states and from more than a score of foreign countries to attend "the world's most unusual university". Both are enrolled in the school of fine arts.

The university is in Greenville, S. C.

Wolfe In Line For Vets Post

Eugene Wolfe, proprietor of the Wolfe Electric Co., would be veterans' coordinator in the city government if Emile Reiss is elected mayor in 1951, according to a statement made by Reiss this week.

Reiss said that there "is a vital need in the city hall for someone to look after the problems of veterans of World Wars I and II." He said that, to a large extent, the post would be an advisory one.

Hilltoppers Appear In "Bloomer Girl" At Hartman Theater

When "Bloomer Girl" steps onto the Hartman stage on Saturday, Mar. 11, and Sunday, Mar. 12, two Hilltop residents will be included in the cast. "Bloomer Girl" is the musical comedy, just off Broadway, that is being given its first non-professional showing in Columbus by Paramount Players. Tom Witherspoon has been assigned the singing role of one of the merry sons-in-law who stop the show with the lusty rendition of "The Farmer's Daughter". Virginia Price, another well known Hilltop singer, will appear in the singing chorus as one of the hoop-skirted belles of the Civil War era.

"Bloomer Girl" has been called one of the most sparkling musical comedies to come off Broadway in the last five years. It will be produced by Paramount Players as their silver anniversary show. Musical direction is by Wilbur Crist, dramatic coaching by Margaret Crawford, staging by Bill Paul and Al Vacca, and dance direction by Gwen Kagey. Tickets for "Bloomer Girl" are available from any member of Paramount Players.

Hilliards F.F.A. Members To Conduct Subscription Drive

Members of the Hilliards Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will conduct a Hilltop Record subscription drive Saturday, Mar. 4. Commissions paid by the newspaper for new and renewal subscriptions will go into the group's treasury.

The Record will be mailed to every Hilliards resident on Thursday. The FFA members will follow up on Saturday with a house-to-house canvass of the community.

In addition to the liberal commission paid for the subscriptions, individual prizes will be awarded to the two members selling the most subscriptions.

The Record, during recent months, has been giving complete news and picture coverage of Hilliards happenings. The paper is interested in carrying stories and photographs of individual and organization news. Hilliards residents are requested to call Elizabeth Stoll, the Record's Hilliards correspondent, or the Record office, on any news items.

Members have been busy this week assigning the zone to be covered by each member, so a complete canvass of every home can be made. Temporary receipts will be given to each subscriber, and permanent receipt will be mailed from the Record office.

Contract Let On New Hilltop Fire Station; Construction To Begin In Few Weeks

Contract for construction of a new fire station for the Hilltop at Sullivant and Brinker-avs was awarded to the Geis Construction Co., 332 S. Sandusky-st.

The Geis Co. bid of $132,307 was the lowest of eight received by Service Director Elmer A. Keller. Architects for the engine house are Brooks & Coddington, 329 E. Broad-st.

Construction on the station, the third of eight proposed, will begin in a few weeks.

Letting of the contract for the Sullivant-Brinker station left only $30,000 of the $500,000 voted in 1945 for six new engine houses and relocation of two condemned stations.

The new station will be ultra-modern in every respect. The building will have a steel frame and walls of common brick with glazed materials on the interior. Roofs are flat and of pre-cast concrete, long-span, boxed joists with insulation and standard built up roofing.

The height of the apparatus room is above that of the dormitory and quarters section to allow a system of clearstory windows on both sides of the apparatus room, which together with the large glazed area of the overhead doors will provide maximum light and ventilation.

The watch office with radio and control desk is located at the front of the apparatus room in clear vision of street activity. The living and dining rooms are so arranged that the two areas may be thrown together by a system of sliding doors and thus used for various purposes.

The dormitory houses 10 beds and is approached by means of two wide passageways, so arranged that both ends of the dormitory may be emptied quickly at the time of an alarm. A recess in the apparatus room will house two Circul-Air dryers.

Heating will be by means of a radiant floor panel hot-water system with pipes extended to the approach ramps sufficiently heated to melt snow and ice. A service tunnel will be installed running north and south down the center of the apparatus room. In this section will be housed the motor exhaust vent system and all necessary air, water and electric conduits.

Dormitories, locker rooms, toilets, etc., will be on the west side of the building.

STUDENTS AT JOHN BURROUGHS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL'S second grade got free dental treatment this week when the Columbus Department of Health's mobile dental unit came to the Hilltop. Dr. A. H. Imhoff and Dental Assistant Mary Ann Stone check and clean the teeth of Tipton Brown, seven, 367 S. Terrace-av. Mary Hallauer, dental hygienist at 1960 W. Broad-st. is also a member of the unit's staff. The youngsters' teeth also received an application of fluorine as a measure to increase resistance to tooth decay. Parents are required to sign a certificate to authorize this treatment. The mobile unit will be at the West Broad Street Elementary School next week.

Wedding Planned For March 19

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Juanita June Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Weber of Hilliards, to Mr. Carl E. Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Huffman of Hilliards.

Miss Weber is a graduate of of Hilliards High School and is associated with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Huffman is a graduate of West Jefferson High School and is now a junior at Ohio State University, in the college of law. He is also associated with General Motors Corp.

An open church wedding is planned for Mar. 19 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Rome.

JOSEPHINE SHESKEY, who is known by many West Siders as an energetic and enthusiastic business woman by day, will play a glamour role on the night of Mar. 6 when she will appear as one of the principals in "Words and Music, 1950" at the Little Theater of the Gallery of Fine Arts, under the direction of Charlotte and Patricia Gaines.

Several costumed scenes will be presented and Miss Sheskey will be featured in two of these. Her contralto voice will be heard in "Over the Garden Gate", with songs by Stephen Foster, and for this scene she will wear a very beautiful satin hoop-skirt costume of the romantic Southland. In the final scene, "Green Mountain Spring", Miss Sheskey thoroughly enjoys playing the clever comedy role assigned to her, as well as the singing of authentic folk and mountain ballads.

Other residents of the West Side and the Hilltop in singing or acting roles will be Mrs. Alverta England, 130 S. Richardson-av, and La Donna Distelhorst, 2991 Crescent-dr. Ellen Page, 65 N. Powell-av, is one of the accompanists and Catherine Murnane, 24 S. Terrace-av, will be in charge of production. Miss Sheskey resides at 63 S. Richardson-av and is the secretary-treasurer of Keys' Five and Ten Cent Stores, Inc. She is contralto soloist at St. Aloysius Church.

STARLING LOSES TO CHAMPION

By Larry Crawford

Starling played on Friday, Feb. 24, at Champion Junior High School. Champion was ahead of Starling throughout the game. When the game was over, the score was 44 to 20 in favor of Champion.

That was Starling's last basketball game of the season. Starling won three out of 10 games. This year was a better season than last.

Wife Says Haines Good Provider And Hard Worker

The sudden death last Thursday night of Virgil T. Haines, the father of seven children, left his wife and family without any means of providing for them. His insurance lapsed a few months ago.

"My husband," Mrs. Haines declared, "was a good provider for his family. He loved us and always worked hard to keep us. But with seven children to feed and clothe and a house to pay for, it was hard to pay for the insurance."

"Haines was a good, reliable worker," Robert Bauch, owner of the All-Service Garage, said. "He was a dependable employe and I paid him $60, plus his social security and work-clothes."

"The boys in the garage," Bouch stated, "gave the family a donation. We wish it could have been more."

Members of the Hilltop Church of Christ have contributed more than $25 in food, fuel and cash to the family. Other contributions have come to The Hilltop Record office.

If you'd like to help this family, bring or send your contributions to the Record office, 2466 W. Broad-st.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY OF MARION B. ARMSTRONG, who passed away four years ago, March 1, 1946:

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
The world's weary troubles and trials are passed.
In silence he suffered,
In patience he bore
Till God called him home
To suffer no more.

Sadly missed by his wife, Lydia, and sons, Earl and Milton, and their families.

Annual Inspection of Robert Morris Chapt. Eastern Star Held

The annual inspection of Robert Morris Chapter No. 372, Order of Eastern Star, was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, at West Side Masonic Temple, 2025 W. Broad-st.

Preceding the meeting a dinner was served at 6 p. m. sponsored by the social club, and was served by two groups from the Glenwood Methodist Church. The tables in the dining room were beautifully decorated in yellow and white. A centerpiece of yellow roses and jonquils was on the honored guests' table and a red rose bud and small yellow plastic basket filled with mints were at each place. During the dinner vocal selections were given by Misses Marilyn Ring and Mary Lou Tilton.

The Chapter room was beautifully decorated with baskets of yellow roses, jonquils and palms.

The Chapter opened at 7:30 p. m. with the following officers in their stations:

Alice Goodall, worthy matron; Charles Goodall, worthy patron; Associate Matron Thelma Doran; Associate Patron Cranston Williams; Secretary Ethel Cranford; Treasurer Etta Timms; Conductress Martha Hegenberger; Associate Conductress Ruth Frizzell; Chaplain Jane Phillips; Marshall Wilma Fackler; organist Josephine Nowell; Ada, Patricia Jones; Ruth, Virginia Price; Esther, Olga Stepp; Martha, Edna Echols; Electa, Ethel Merriman; Warder, Winnie Lorimer, and sentinel, Herbert Pfaltzgraf.

The Christian flag bearer, Jo-Ann Bates, and the Eastern Star flag bearer, Jean Cline, preceded the officers into the chapter room.

The chapter was honored by the presence of the worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio, Mrs. Kathryn Wyre, who served as the inspecting officer.

Other Grand Chapter officers who were present were William Wrassman, worthy grand patron; Robert Draper, associate grand patron; Mable Schmermund, associate grand matron; Edith Conger, worthy grand chaplain, and also a past grand matron; Marguerite Kennerdell, grand conductress; Marguerite Steele, associate grand conductress; Betty Johnson, Grand Ruth; Edith McClellan, Grand Electa, and Audrey Kalbfleisch, grand warder.

Other guests included past grand matrons, Jessie Peck, Fairy Gingery, and Della Dolby, and past grand patrons, P. R. Devere, Charles Bechtol, and Eugene Beecher.

Grand representatives present were Myrtle Coffman, Flora Holmwood, Alma Allen, Josehine Wilson, Lora Beecker, Gwendolyn Hawkins, and Edith Hefflefinger.

Deputy grand matrons present were Mrs. Gladys Orr of the 17th district; Mrs. Mary Wood of district No. 18; Mrs. Lucille Gardiner, district 19; Elizabeth Carey, district 21, and Marie Williams of district 23.

There were fifteen visiting matrons and eight worthy patrons present.

Brother Masons present were the right worshipful deputy grand master of the 14th district of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Ohio, Ray Newlun, and the excellent high priest of West Gate Chapter No. 216, Royal Arch Masons, Charles Goodall, and the illustrious master, George Feist.

Other guests were a general grand chapter usher, Elsie Bechtol; the Hospital Circle officers, Willa Bailey, president, and Hazel Hale, treasurer, and the 17th district officers, Helen Pavey, president; and vice president, Ona McCloy. Two members of the "46" Club were present.

The past matrons of Robert Morris Chapter who were present were Bess Turner, Minnie Jones, Edith Day, Agnes Wolfe, Ethel Fishbaugh, Marie Payton, Ann McKnight, Florence Clark, Gladys Gilbert, Fern Johnson, Ada Slane, Kathryn Evans, Nelle Jane Price, Hazel Hale, Iris Swartz, Alverta Colburn, Florence Jones. Past patrons present were Stanley Colburn, Fred Clark, Jack Wolfe and Robert Draper.

The initiatory degrees were conferred upon the following candidates: Marilyn Ring, Elizabeth Sarvis, Jane Miller and Jean Lockwood. Each was presented with a gift of Robert Morris Chapter by Rev. Joseph Shellhaas.

Two musical selections were presented by Robert Morris Chorus under the direction of Ida Grinstead.

There were 184 members and 153 visitors or a total of 337 present.

The meeting was closed with the worthy grand matron, Kathryn Wyre, giving the ritualistic farewell.

have contributed highly in both time and service to the chapter and agriculture department.

George Miller and Fred Barrett, a junior, gave descriptions of their farming programs. These included a history of their projects to date, intentions for further farm experience, and financial success in projects carried. Slides were then projected by Eugene Nunamaker and narrated by Lorie Huffman. These included pictures of FFA members' projects and pictures which were taken when four representatives were attending the national FFA convention in Kansas City. David Hetrick gave a list of accomplishments which have been attained by the chapter, and a trio composed of Charles Pence, Richard Fisher and Bill Miller sang two selections.

The banquet dinner was prepared and served by the home economics department under the direction of Miss Mary Kohler, home economics instructor. Following the address of the evening, the officers concluded the banquet with the FFA closing ceremony, and the farm shop and class room facilities were open for parents' and guests' inspection.

Welmer Wins Bowling Tourney

Harry C. Welmer, 164 S. Westmoor-av, won the 1949-50 city bowling tournament at Broad-Olympic alleys Sunday in the singles division. Welmer topped other contestants in the division with a high of 738.

This was Welmer's second win in city tourneys. He took the 1947 doubles along with George Lewis. He believes he is the only bowler to take two city tourney firsts.

Welmer is secretary of the grocers' league and is a salesman for the Fairmont Food Co.

Cowboys To Tangle With South In Tourney Tonight

By Dave Miller

West High's Cowboys will collide with an always dangerous South High crew Thursday night in the third game at 9 o'clock in the central district class "A" tournament at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The two quintets have scores to match with each other. The Cowboys are out to avenge a loss to South which knocked them out of the 1948 district, while South will have a little matter of revenge to attend to, arising from that 83-78 loss suffered at the hands of West in the City League second round.

If the Cowboys can get hot, as they did against South in the game Feb. 17, there will probably be no doubt as to the outcome. However, if, on the other hand, West isn't hitting, South, which has a power-house offense, will have easy sailing.

Now that the City League is over, the pressure is taken away from West's two stars, Center Phil Young and Guard Bill Thrush, over the individual scoring record of the loop.

Coach Pug Hood of the South Siders will probably start Sophomore Jack Keller and Dick Ruh at the forwards with Dave Jones at center and Bob Strawser and Charlie Haws at the guards. All of these boys stand at least six feet, three inches tall.

Coach George Williams is still pretty much undecided over his starting lineups. However, three boys are definite starters, Guards Jerry Johnson and Bill Thrush and Center Phil Young. Paul Ellingsworth, Jerry Trabue, Frank Carson and Jack Gammon are still up for decision on the other two starting positions with the former two probables for the opening.

The lineup of Trabue-Ellingsworth-Young-Thrush and Johnson was plenty hot all night in their recent 83-73 encounter with South, getting 13, 17, 25, 20 and eight points respectively.

Also, it must be remembered that West and South in their first round encounter, which South won, 85-67 (with Ebert), the two teams' total set a new scoring record for a game, and then in the same two quintets' encounter in the second round they turned right around and set another record of the same manner with 156 shredding the nets.

The probable starters:

SOUTH

Household Hint

Flax fiber has a higher degree of hydration than cotton. That means that it will absorb water from a wet surface faster. Bleached linen can, in fact, absorb up to 20 per cent of its own weight of water without feeling damp on the surface. That is the reason most housekeepers prefer linen dish towels to [illegible].

Young and Thrush Lead City League In Scoring

By Dave Miller

West High's two high scoring twins all season long, Center Phil Young and Guard Bill Thrush, finished out the individual scoring of the 1949-50 basketball team far ahead from the rest of the pack.

Young and Thrush together accounted for 631 points scored by West this year. Total amount by the whole team was 1066. Young finished both the city and greater Columbus individual scoring just a few points ahead of Thrush in both instances. Young had 338 markers in all games while Thrush had 293. In the City League, Young, who passed Thrush on the final day of the season, was tops with 211 while Bill was only eight behind to take runner-up honors for the individual race.

It marked the first time that any City League school ever placed a first and second man in the city scoring race since 1946-47 when East duplicated the feat.

Behind Thrush and Young in all games was Jerry Johnson, a guard, who is back for service next year and a half-semester the following season. Johnson collected 119 points, and along with Young and Thrush was the only player to participate in all 20 games for the Cowboys.

The highest individual scoring game for one player on the West squad the past year was set by Bill Thrush when he hit 26 markers, while Young hit 25 in both the South and Linden frays.

From the present varsity Coach George Williams will have eight players back from service next season. They include Paul Ellingsworth, George Crissinger, Dave Caton, Jerry Johnson, Paul Thompson, Earl Potts, Jerry Trabue and Ted Fladt. Ellingsworth, Thompson, Caton and Potts will be mid-year graduates.

Hilliards Cub Scouts

The Hilliards Cub Scout Pack meeting was held at the Hilliards Grade School Feb. 21. This meeting's theme was the first anniversary the Cubs at Hilliards. The cubs had made a four-foot high card board cake.

The den mothers of 1949 were presented an award for their year of service.

The new officers of the committee so far appointed were: cubmaster, John Yore; chairman, Richard Rigsby; secretary, Alfred Skaggs; treasurer, Martin Boerner; outdoorsman, Henry Burbridge.

New den mothers present were Mrs. Humphries, Mrs. Richard Rigsby and Mrs. Alfred Skaggs.

Mr. Walker, past cubmaster, has done fine work and is going to work with Boy Scouts.

Ice cream and cup cakes were served to approximately 100 people.

"The American people owned $4 billion dollars more in E Savings Bonds at the close of 1949 than they held at the end of the war," according to Vernon L. Clark, national director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

Paul Thompson Top Reserve Scorer With 90; Fladt With 89 Is Runnerup

By Dave Miller

Paul Thompson, 6-foot, 1-inch pivotman, who was promoted to the varsity at mid-year was the leading scorer for the West reserves at the finish of the current season.

Thompson scored 90 points in 11 games before Coach George Williams moved up the reserves star to the varsity following the reserve fray between West and Marion Harding at Marion on Jan. 28.

Thompson won the lead by barely edging out big Forward Ted Fladt who was just one point behind Thompson as the season ended at East last Friday evening. Fladt was also moved to varsity, so the two leading scorers of the season both ended the season on the varsity.

Jerry Trabue who just graduated from junior high at midseason, moved to the reserve team and, in only three games, hit the nets for 30 points, and before he had a chance to score anymore, he also was moved on to the varsity. Anothed boy, Guard Earl Potts also was moved to the varsity at mid-year after racking 48 points in 11 frays.

It's pretty evident that Coach Fred Heishman of the locals had to be building his team up more than once during the campaign, with four boys in the season moving to West varsity.

Going into the East fray last week, Heishman really had only three boys that had seen much action through the year, and that trio got only 11 points between them. They were Forwards Bill South and Warren Stevens and Guard Russ Friend. Stevens was the only boy on the entire reserve squad that played in all 17 games of the season, scoring 60 points, while South, who is a great team-player and a playmaker, had 56. Friend, a pint-sized ball of fire, had 66 for the season, being fourth top scorer on the squad for the year.

Words of the Wise

Odd Fact

A 6-year-old boy, starting first grade at Jal, N. Mexico, will be flown to and from school daily by his rancher-pilot father from their home 16 miles away.

The more you think of some people, the less you think of them.

Do you just THINK you have enough insurance or do you know you have?

Records show that many property owners who have suffered fire losses recently have had to pay part of the loss themselves because they failed to increase their insurance in line with today's higher replacement costs.

GLENWOOD REC. NEWS

The open house activities at Glenwood Recreation Center last Friday evening were enjoyed by more than 500 people. Many parents of the Hilltop thronged to the center to see the junior girls and boys basketball games. An eye catcher in the craft display was the metal work, both copper and aluminum. Beautiful trays, dishes and cigarette holders were among the articles displayed. The photo display was also very interesting with many pictures of the children at Glenwood, and at other play centers, who take part in many activities that are offered at the recreation centers.

Coffee, punch and cookies were served by the senior girls who acted as hostesses for the evening. The girls wore corsages donated for the occasion by Josef Brinbirch the Hilltop florist. Mr. Brinbirch also donated the center pieces for the table from which the girls served refreshments.

Many parents and teen-agers enjoyed the March of Dimes dance which concluded the evening's entertainment. Bob Mottes and his orchestra provided the music for the dance. The evening's entertainment was sponsored by the City Recreation Department and the March of Dimes Committee.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

The interior of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church has a "new look" to be proud of. Due to the activity (work) of 27 persons, it has been redecorated by the ladies during the day and at night several men reported to refinish the pews.

Mrs. Golden Yeater, Maple-dr, entertained the Ruth Circle at her home Thursday night. Twenty members were present and the guests of the evening were Mrs. Clarence Elicker and Mrs. Carl Schultz. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. A. Howell, Pasadena-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes, Sr., 107 Pasadena-av, celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary at their home Feb. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes, Jr., 495 Greiner-rd, will celebrate their fifth anniversary Mar. 3, at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Maple-dr, entertained his brother, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beaver and their families at dinner Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Richey were dinner guests in Columbus Friday night of Mrs. Robert Miller, Maple-dr, to help celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Joe Stormont, Pasadena-av, attended the meeting of the past matrons which West Jefferson Chapter held at Welcome Inn, Pasadena-av.

Lenten season will be observed at the Columbia Heights Methodist Church with vesper services at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoons. Rev. Shellhaas will be the speaker at the first meeting, which will be Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Rutherford and Helen Warner spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kaufman and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kauffman have moved to their new homes on Buena Vista-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDowell and Mr. and Mrs. Carson Vernon of Buena Vista-av are vacationing in Florida for several weeks.

Adam Clonan and L. W. Johnson, both of Lawrence-av, have been confined to their homes this past week with the flu.

Nona Kimes, Maple-dr, entertained the following guests at a dinner party Saturday night: Herbert Rex, Blain T. Sickles, Mary Taylor of London, O., and Don Rightsell. Don formerly lived on Pasadena-av and is now studying at the Cincinnati School of Embalming. Afterwards, they attended a dance at the TKE fraternity house and a party at the Variety Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Steele and Connie, 156 Lennox-av, had as their guest this past week, Mrs. Sarah Warden, formerly of Bluefield, W. Va., now of Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. George Green were also guests at the Steele home this week.

Household Hint

There's no rigid rule about how high or low a picture should be hung except so that it can be seen to best advantage. This differs with whether or not the viewers are more frequently standing or sitting. Pictures in a hallway, usually looked at by people standing, should be hung higher than in a living room, where they're usually viewed by people sitting down.

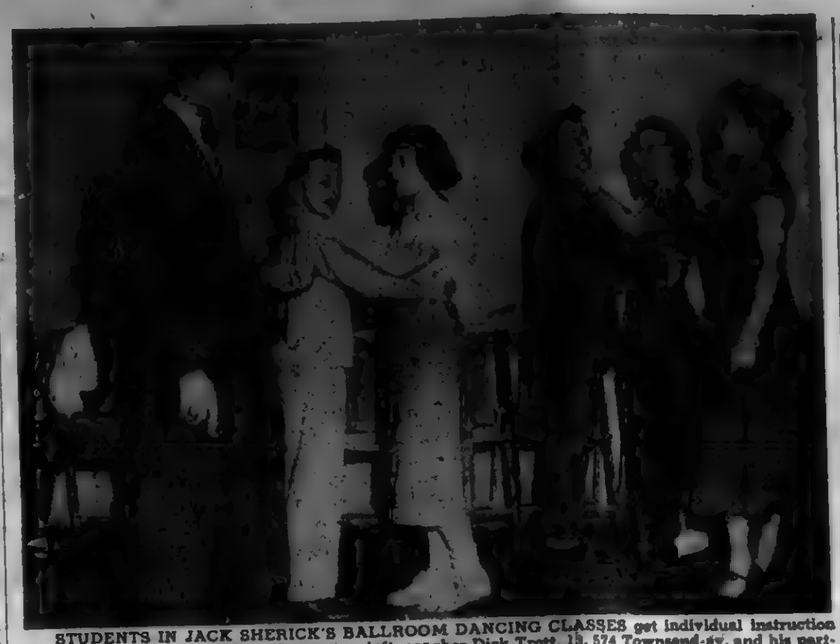
Briggsdale and Brown Road

By Mrs. Harry C. Downing

This community wishes to extend its most sincere sympathy to the family of "Grandma" Briggs. She was known and loved by several generations of Briggsdale folks and will be sorely missed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jones, 2370 Harrisburg-pk, have arrived home after spending four months in St. Augustine, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kimes, 1617 Harrisburg-pk, are announcing the arrival of David Edward, Feb. 22, at White Cross Hospital.



Nannie Smith, 789 Harrisburg-pk, was given recognition recently because she is the oldest living member of the Hesperian Club of Columbus.

Mrs. John H. Jones, 1712 Harrisburg-pk, was hostess to the W.W. Class of Briggsdale Methodist Church at its February meet Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in Grove City for George E. Glick, formerly of 1501 Demorest-rd, who died in Bradenton, Fla., last Friday, from injuries received in an auto accident. His wife and two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Klein and Mrs. Blanche McCarley, 3499 Clime-pk, survive.

Mrs. Jack Miller, 978 Midland-av, is recovering at her home from an illness of six weeks.

6 Hamsters Given To Hilltop Children Now Number 300

Back in September Rev. George P. Woodward, 201 N. Warren-av, brought three pairs of Syrian Golden Hamsters home from one of his evangelistic tours, to his three children. From this beginning they now have about 300 Hamsters which they expect to sell at Easter as pets. They are calling their little ranch the Columbus Hamstery.

The three children are Priscilla, age 15, in West High School, who has a sales license and will do the selling; Oren, 11, and Anna, 9, in West Broad Street School, who care for the pens. The children of the neighborhood come in to watch the Hamsters play in a large one-ring circus where they have a two-foot ferris wheel that they make revolve, a trapeze made of hardware cloth and three revolving disks.

The Golden Hamsters in their native stages are ground dwellers with habits somewhat similar to chipmunks and woodchucks. Their native habitat is the Syrian plateau. All domestic hamsters are descended from one litter which was discovered in a burrow eight feet deep near Aleppo, Syria, in 1930, by a Hebrew zoologist. They were taken to the Hebrew University in Palestine where experiments proved them to be exceptionally valuable laboratory animals. They were imported to America in 1938 by the United States Public Health Service.

Several leading magazines have described hamsters as "Toy Bears". They are stout little animals with a friendly and inquisitive disposition. When full grown they are about six inches long and weigh a little over a quarter of a pound. The color over the back is golden mahogany with darker markings on the head, and a white breast.

They have stubby tails which are about a quarter inch long. They are equipped with two very roomy shoulder pouches into which they usually cram their food when it is first given to them. They can carry half their weight in grain this way and later empty the pouches in a storage place in their dens. Their front feet are somewhat hand-like. They often stand up on their rear feet and can walk backwards as well as forward in this position.

DANCING STUDENTS TRY OUT WHAT THEY HAVE LEARNED from their teachers in Jack Sherick's dancing class. Last Saturday night the class held its first mid-term dance. Carl Hartley's orchestra played for the students and their parents and friends.

'Think This Over'

By William "Doc" Campbell

The New Hilltop Public Library

I never knew this "little man" (only by photo) but I felt the terrific impact of his intense personality. About 60 years of age, small, plump and with a gray beard, close cropped, almost to a goatee. He came to the United States at the tender age of eight years, from Scotland . . . poor, penniless, but with a mind of determination and power.

After years of "this and that" he became associated with the railroad industry . . . and now, here is where he had an idea (and a whopper, too) to put the railroads on steel rails. His vast fortune came from that idea, and plus this . . . he surrounded himself with brilliant young men of sound ideas like Charles M. Schwab, etc., who knew more than he did. They became millionaires through this "little man's" foresight and cooperation. Such was the beginning of ANDREW CARNEGIE! Later he could have a $2,000,000 home on Fifth Avenue, and a private organist playing Scotch airs at breakfast every morning on a great organ, and a 10,000 acre estate and a castle in Scotland, near his birthplace called "Skibo Castle." Andrew Carnegie never forgot his home town, gave lavishly to it of his wealth for free public institutions. His fortune of about $500,000,000 he devoted to education, and by the way, Scotland was the first country in the world to require free public school education. He left in his will $400,000,000 for his "Carnegie Library Endowment Foundation" in the USA, and left his daughter poor, so to speak, with only $1,000,000 and his beautiful "big house" on Fifth Avenue. This small man with a big vision saw the intelligent people of the United States studying and reading in libraries, becoming thereby wide awake and informed citizens, so thousands of small cities and towns, all over the country, have their "Carnegie Libraries", one-half of the cost given by him and the community obligated to complete the whole or nothing at all. Here in Columbus I referred, in a recent column to our "Masterpiece of Architecture" in the main building of our Columbus public library (Carnegie) but it is the HILLTOP that pushes to the front with the first completely NEW and genuinely MODERN branch library in the city. If you have not seen the building (on W. Broad across from Haldy) it behooves you to do so. Set back from the street, with two sections in long modern, sweeping roof lines, wire cut brick of a fine redish tone, great windows for full freedom of reading light, and long deep recesses for decorative shrubs in front.

Now, for the interior. As you swing the modern (chrome-glass) doors, you enter the main, large reading room. When the newly designed lower book racks were installed . . . this all will be so inviting, so "pulling you" to stay, browse around, read and become educated. The walls are painted in flat light chocolate biege tone and some of the walls are in a brilliant yellow. The floor (inlaid linoleum) of big squares of gray, emerald green, red and black to make you thrill to the modern use of intense color. This branch library is commodious, rest rooms, etc., and a grand end of the big room for the kiddies to revel in fantastic books; a splendid place for the big round low tables that can display the remarkable handiwork of Librarian Frances Emrick in clever, panoramic projects for supplementary study in geography, English, history, etc. The ceiling lighting effects are very beautiful, stripes, the entire length of the building in fluorescent lights, covered by squares of designed glass, so as not to blind you . . . give the entire reading room quite an elegant appearance.

Outside, the building will be "flood lighted" and the shadows formed by the jutting portions of the structure ought to be amazingly beautiful. It is well to remember that all of this solid construction (the contractor told me the building would last 200 years) was made possible by money paid out of a building fund. I truly think the whole library is a wonderful example of quality and beauty, costing actually, I believe, under $5,000. The architect was H. T. Roderick and the contractor Alvin V. Love.

Let us all see it . . . let us be proud of it. I believe that the opening will be near the middle of March. Let us all go and congratulate the chief librarian, Mildred Phalor and her very able assistants for their earnest cooperation (even in the old branch) and now to be extended to reach larger groups of readers and for West High pupils, too. To me, Andrew Carnegie was a grand old Scotch soul to make his fortune in business and then to give practically all of it away for free public education (libraries) in the good ole USA.

THINK THIS OVER.

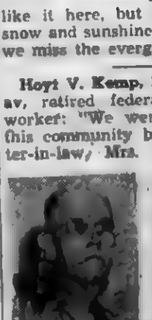
Roving Photographer



By Bill Gibbon

This week the Roving Photographer asked several newcomers to the Hilltop—people who have just moved here from outside the city—why they happened to settle here, and what they think of the community.

Mrs. J. W. Caldwell, 148 S. Powell-av, housewife: "My husband's work first brought us here. He was transferred here from Boston, Mass. He came here first and stayed on Sullivant-av. He became attached to the community, and when I came here in January we looked for a place to live on the Hilltop. We like it here, but we had more snow and sunshine in Boston, and we miss the evergreens."

Hoyt V. Kemp, 119 S. Brinker-av, retired federal government worker: "We were attracted to this community because my sister-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Landrum, of 743 Racine-av, told us how nice the Hilltop is. So, after I retired we sold our property in Chillicothe and bought our home here on the Hilltop. It's been bad weather since we arrived here and we haven't seen much of the Hilltop. But what we've seen, we like"

Mrs. John A. Harrison, 258 S. Powell-av, housewife: "We moved here from Nashville, Tenn., when my husband, who is an officer in the air force, was transferred to Guam. Columbus is my home town, so my children and I moved here. This was the only nice place we could find to live. I like the community. But we probably won't be here long. I expect to join my husband in Guam soon."

H. Harrison Helwig, 1063 W. Broad-st, attorney with Veterans Administration: "My wife and I moved here from Dayton recently. I have worked for the government in Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus for six years during and since the war. We like our new apartment here. It is handy to things, and it is close to my work at the VA office on Starling-st."

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

BEN LEANED forward to draw Kit's attention from the three-cornered conversation. "I am sorry, my dear, not to be more enthusiastic about this idea of yours, but I want a natural, well-balanced life for you."

"Which is?" Furse asked.

"Why, marriage, to be sure."

"It is a satisfying life," said Fanny. "But, Ben, on an occasion like this, there are a hundred other exciting things to come first."

"I don't mean that you elope tonight," said Ben touchily. "But it's something to look ahead to — a honeymoon abroad, a home of your own."

"And a summer place on the North Shore," Kit finished for him. They all laughed goodnaturedly.

"Will you dance, Kit?" asked Furse, grateful for the excuse that made a break.

Kit was so happy that for a moment she could not speak. "Are you as happy as I am?" she asked as they moved into the circle of dancers.

"I wouldn't have missed this for anything in the world," he smiled down at her, evading a direct answer. Happy? He was hardly that. He had too strong a feeling that he did not belong here. What was he supposed to be guilty of? If Marvell had any idea of what his passivit cost . . . "When do you go down to New York, Kit?" he asked abruptly.

"In the fall—if I go. Must I go, Drew?"

"I don't know, Kit." It's because I think Marvell is right that makes it so hard—she should have her chance now he thought heavily.

"We'll have the summer, won't we? You promised last spring that after I'd finished Holly, we'd have the summer."

He had promised because, then, it had seemed so far off.

"You want to see me, don't you?"

"Don't ask me any questions, Kit. I have no answers. Marvell will tell you."

"Forgive him about the roses."

"That doesn't matter." He took Marvell's side, instantly. "Listen to him, though. He's usually right. I know. Don't listen to other people, to lovers, ambitious friends, stage-managers . . ." he tried to laugh. "I mean what I say. Then you'll get your reward."

The words of her last speech came back to her. Mr. Rochester, if I ever did a good deed in my life—if ever I thought a good thought—if ever I prayed a sincere and blameless prayer—if ever I wished a righteous wish, I am rewarded now. To be your wife is, for me, to be as happy as I can be on earth. Those stiff hammerlike phrases that only the conviction of love made plausible. Oh, God, I do so want him to be happy. If he'd let go . . . "Is everything all right with you?"

"Fair."

"You won't let me any closer, will you?"

"No." His voice was urgent now. "Kit, be fair. Let Marvell have his chance—not only tonight, but more. It means everything to him and it must to you. We'll have the rest together . . ." If he could only stall for time.

"It's all right, Andrew. Forgive me." She slipped her hand from his as the dance ended.

When she came up to the table she saw they had all changed places. Marvell and Ben were sitting together. Nancy was next to Aunt Fanny diverting her with personal information. "My mother wants me to come to Paris to meet her new husband. I like that, I know Paris awfully well. You see, I always shoot my stepfathers there—at the Ritz."

Kit sat down next to Ben. For a moment, in spite of Andrew's stubbornness, she felt deeply at peace. Here were those she had known and loved and who knew and loved her. Nothing was changed—yet. It will never be like this again, she thought, as if she were already looking on the past. Marvell and Ben were talking about Uncle Proctor. She half listened, her eyes on Furse.

"You ought to see Proctor's boy, Bradford, Chubby little fellow; you'd like him."

"Why?" asked Marvell.

"Well—oh, he's like Emily," Ben replied lamely.

"Good. I always admired Emily. She was as comfortable a woman to get on with as I ever knew. All the more marked because Proctor was so uncomfortable. You know that, Ben."

"He was reticent." Marvell snorted but Ben ignored him. "You know, I've thought lately that he's probably never been really well. And then there was Elizabeth," he lowered his voice, "too young altogether. Nowadays, children are fortified from the beginning—nerved, glands."

"Humors let's put it down to that," said Marvell. "I drink to his good health, then. As a matter of fact, I'd like to see him once again."

"Call on him," said Ben curtly.

"You think he'd let me in?"

"I daresay."

"Because he's safe at last! Just as I am—what a dull meeting that would be."

"Safe?" Ben was puzzled.

Behave, Marvell whispered to himself. He signaled to the waiter who was serving the dessert. "Will you ask the orchestra to play us a waltz? An old waltz." He got up and walked to Kit's side. "Now it's our turn."

"I've been waiting all evening," she said charmingly.

They hesitated on the edge of the gleaming parquet. The music rose and fell with violins in the simple measure of an old remembered waltz. Kit's lips were parted, her eyes dark and fat-seeing. Suddenly Marvell was apprehensive. What did she see? If only he was sure what was going to happen to her! Then the moment broke like a bubble and they moved across the empty circle of the floor.

The trunk had come, it stood in the study, a dark-green wardrobe with brass trimmings. It was too bulky for the narrow stairs, front or back, and Kit would have to pack it where it stood, Marvell decided. He had ordered it as a surprise and when he called Kit in, she cried in dismay, "So soon?"

"Soon! Here it is September; you'll be leaving in about ten days. It's handsome, isn't it?" He admired it from all sides. "It has a real personality. Tell you what, Kit, after you've packed, just before we close it up, I'll take a picture of you draped against it and then later we'll take another picture when you're unpacking in some swell dressing room—'before' and 'after,' what do you say?"

She put her arms around him, laid her cheek against his. He took it for thanks but she was trying to tell him something. Managing a small smile, she drew back. It was just as useless as it had been all summer. For what could she say as long as Andrew forbade her to speak? Forbade? What was it, if not that—his unwillingness to change the course Marvel set for her? All through the summer she had willed herself to believe that all was well, that the lovely season was an island anchored in the narrow river of passing time where she was secure. But as the days grew shorter, the hours rode like water to destroy her refuge and she felt the panic of being trapped.

"We'll take the drawers out and carry 'em upstairs," Marvell said, watching her rub her fingers over the brass nailheads.

"But we haven't decided about the school and a place to live!" she protested.

"Of course we have! The Academy and that girls' club. I'm going in with you as far as Boston. Then you're on your own." The sooner he checked any homesickness, the better.

When Marvell came back from the shop in the late afternoon, the house was empty but for Mrs. Crane preparing supper in the kitchen. He and the trunk shared the study in companionable silence. "By golly, if I am excited as this, how must she feel?" He went to the toddy closet and got out a bottle of whiskey. He lit the fire in the big hearth, for the evenings were cool now. He sat in his favorite wing chair and poured himself a double measure. He raised his glass to the shining hulk before him. The brass lock winked at him. He chuckled. His plans were made. Kit would have the fall in New York while he settled up here—outstanding accounts, unfinished jobs. He would sell the business outright to Henry or Brewster, but not the house. It would always be a place for Kit to come back to. Then in the spring, he'd go down himself. He was not going to live with her, he would not hang on her steps. He'd look up Doc, still boarding in Brooklyn. He might look for a temporary job, or travel a bit. Visit Nedda? She was running some kind of private charity in England. She had discovered healing powers in her authoritative breast, at last, he mused. Hardly the place for him. But the main thing was to let Kit alone while she was learning. When she was on her feet, he couldn't be any burden. And then, and then . . . The whiskey tasted warm and smoky. It was a long time since he had enjoyed a solitary drink. To drink when you were feeling good, that was the thing. It blurred the too-sharp edges of anticipation, it extended the well-being of the moment into the next hour. He poured out another drink. There was an old trick of illusion, shared by everybody from infancy to senility, when the mind like an idling motor vibrated with the rythm and pattern of action, but stood still all the while wasting fuel in day dreams. Today Marvell sprinkled Kit freely with fame, early won, long-lived. I mustn't think I'm responsible for her, he managed to drag himself back to reality, for the most I can do is to turn the switch that will set in motion the chain of cogs and wheels already in place. "Since life's so inevitable," he said aloud, "where do all the shocks come from?"

Then the fire and the drink had their effect upon him and he drifted back to the quick success of dreams. The west wind blew through the trees outside the window and sounded to him like far away, prolonged applause.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Common Pleas Court, Franklin County, Ohio.

No. 178846 — Homer R. Langston, Plaintiff, -vs- Dorothy Tom Frazier, et al., Defendants.

Dorothy Tom Frazier, Frank Frazier (husband of Dorothy Tom Frazier), Chapter Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Betty J. Tom, and the unknown spouse of Betty J. Tom, if any, 6703 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Fred A. Tom, 6703 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49 Illinois; Marguerite Tom (wife of Fred A. Tom), 6703 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois, all of whose respective places of residence last known to said plaintiff are as indicated above, are hereby notified that on the 18th day of November, 1949, Homer R. Langston filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio, in cause No. 178846 against them as defendants, alleging that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession of said real estate described as follows:

Situated in the County of Franklin, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Franklin, being in Survey No. 1278, Virginia Military Land, and being also a part of a certain tract of 46.87 acres conveyed by Charles H. Tom, et al., to Emmet E. Tom, et al., by deed shown of record in Deed Book 294, page 490, Franklin County Records, and being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pin in the North line of the N. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way which point is South 88 degrees, 30 minutes, West a distance of 188.0 feet from an iron pin in the West line of Hague Avenue, and in the North line of said N. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way; said point being also the southwest corner of a tract heretofore conveyed by said Emmet E. Tom, et al., to the Hilltop Supply Company by deed as recorded in D. B. 256, page 188, Recorder's Office, Franklin County, Ohio; thence from said point of beginning north 91 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 144.00 feet to an iron pin; thence North 90 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 466.30 feet to a point in the center line of Hague Avenue (passing an iron pin at 285.00 feet); thence North 29 degrees, 30 minutes West along the center line of Hague Avenue a distance of 167.56 feet to a point; thence South 60 degrees, 30 minutes West a distance of 736.00 feet (passing an iron pin at 26.00 feet) to an iron pin on the East line of 20.000 acre tract; thence along the East line of said 20.000 acre tract, South 27 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 19.00 feet to an iron pin; being also the southeast corner of said 20.000 acre tract, and on the North right of way line of aforementioned railroad; thence North 88 degrees, 30 minutes, East along the North right of way line a distance of 356.00 feet to the place of beginning, containing 3.000 acres, subject to all legal highways; that defendants may claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right; that said claims constitute a cloud on plaintiff's title; and that, therefore, plaintiff prays that the defendants be compelled to set forth the nature of their claim; that said claim be declared to be null and void; that the defendants be forever enjoined from asserting any claim against the premises; that the Court determine that plaintiff is the true and lawful owner of said premises and that plaintiff's title be quieted against the claims of any and all defendants, and for such other relief as is proper.

Said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 1st day of April, 1950, or judgment may be rendered against them.

Did you collect your free movie ticket, MR. VINCENT? The Westmont tagged you last week in the want ads.

Now that the JAMES SPRAGGS and the BILL COONEYS are moved, we are wondering who our new neighbors are.

CORA PARKER was rolling Q-tips for her baby, and Hubby had the idea she was going to use them as curlers. HARRY, you'll have to take up the instruction course on babies.

It finally snowed last week for the first time to make it worth while for the children. But it was hardly what you call fun when DONNIE PHILLIPS slipped and sprained his wrist. Daddy felt so bad because little DONNIE, 9, was pulling HIM on the sled when it happened.

ED GARBER'S clock stopped, of course, when the electricity went off last week, and he was late for work. ED and MARY both work, and after they came home, forgot about setting the clock. The irony of it was they were late again the next day.

Oh BILL! How could you?!! Wifey was making a cake and she told him not to go into the kitchen because she was baking a surprise for him. But his curiosity got the better of him and he opened the oven door at the wrong time and made the cake fall in the middle. They say it was good though, especially the icing that filled up the center. Those MURRAYS can eat a whole cake between them in two days.

MARILYN VOGELSANG received a wristwatch for her birthday. HERMAN gave it to her—said his wife was only 16. A-hem! Well, anyway, we'll print it, and make it official.

"Light Out Sweetheart" ELLEN MARIE GRIFFITH! in her refrigerator. I mean the light, not ELLEN. She tested the bulb; it was OK. Well, her icebox just wouldn't work, and since her husband was out of town for several days, she called the shop to have her unit fixed. The repairman at once saw what the trouble was. Somehow the electric plug got disconnected and she was unaware of it. She was out two bucks.

The chicken and egg man, FARMER WILKES is a nice guy. He does quite a bit of egg selling in and around our section. He's a jolly fellow and loves farming.

I'm getting prepared for living on the farm myself. Just need a little more practice. I SOW on my own buttons; cut my own CROP on my head; take a THRASHING from my wife's tongue, occasionally, which I accept with a GRAIN of salt.

I PLOW up trouble: PLANT suspicion; CULTIVATE gossip; ROTATE the news; DIG up scandal; and RAKE the neighbors over the coals.

Better stop This is getting sorta CORN-Y.

SI-LO, Folks!

Six Hamsters Now Number 300

Hamsters do not have a peculiar disease of their own, but in tests they are susceptible to more human diseases than guineapigs. This susceptibility makes them more suitable for laboratory purposes, and they respond twice as effectively. They do not carry germs and there is no known case of anycne catching a disease from them.

The number of young that could be raised in a year from one pair of hamsters is more than 100,000.

They thrive contentedly in small pens, from one square foot of flcor space for a pet hamster to two square feet for a female to raise her litter of cubs. They are extremely easy to feed as they thrive on all kinds of grains, nuts, vegetables and lean meats. They never overeat and what they do not need they store away for another day; so they can be given a week's supply of food and need no further attention.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

CUB Pack 86 held its Blue and Gold dinner Thursday, Feb. 23 at John Burroughs School. Guests included the parents of the cubs, E. B. Graham, principal of John Burroughs, and Mrs. Graham, and "Grandma" Lasher, who is sponsored by Den 2.

After dinner the cubs of Den 2 entertained with their "Spike" Jones band. They played "Yankee Doodle" and it was enjoyed by all.

The meeting was then opened by Chairman Oscar Leach with the invocation and the singing of "America." Cubmaster Ed Johnson then led the group in the pledge of allegiance.

The charter was then presented to Principal Graham by Leach.

After a short business meeting Mr. Robinson of Citizens Coal Co. showed a movie on coal, "The Heatmaker", and also another picture "Party Line."

Firemen's Chorus To Appear At Burgess Ave. EUB

Music lovers of the Hilltop will be accorded an opportunity to hear one of the newer singing groups of the city when the Firemen's Chorus presents a program of sacred music at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

This group had its beginning in the annual Firemen's Minstrel and was such a success that they continued singing together. At present the chorus numbers 30 men and is directed by D. F. Crawshaw. The accompanist is Mrs. Dorothy Wilson Kinsey. The officers, all city firemen, are president, C. W. Highland secretary-treasurer, Harold Zultz; and librarian, Russell Witt.

These men, singing in uniform, have made several appearances in churches and in civic meetings and have been widely acclaimed. The public is cordially invited to this program which is sponsored by the senior choir of the church.

Church Children Meet

The Children of the Church group will meet at Hilltop Lutheran Church Saturday, Mar. 4, from 2 to 4 p. m. There will be a slide picture and story and worship service will be conducted by the junior boys and girls, with an anthem by the junior choir.

Sullivant Avenue Friends Church Revival Continues

The revival meeting at the Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, Sullivant-av at Guilford, will continue nightly at 7:30 through next Sunday evening. The meetings are under the leadership of Rev Archie Crockett of Bellefontaine, whose messages have been called amazingly clear and straightforward. The service is rare when the altar is not crowded with those who have seen their need of God.

The Saturday evening service will be sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society of the church and will feature a young people's message by Rev. Crockett with music by the young people's choir. Following the service will be a special youth fellowship hour which will include, among other activities, a showing of color slides of the new Friends' Christian Endeavor summer camp. Refreshments will be served.

Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the messages and inspirational music of the few remaining services of this revival meeting.

Ephesus Becomes Christian Center — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 19:1-20:16; Ephesians 4:25-32.

Paul, coming to Ephesus, Asia, found certain disciples there; but when he questioned them about baptism, he found they did not know about the Holy Ghost. Paul baptised them, then laid his hands on them and the Holy Ghost descended upon them.

Paul preached in the synagogue for about three months, but when many refused to believe and spoke evil of his work, he left the synagogue and took his message to the school of one Tyrannus, where he disputed daily for "the space of two years."

Many Ephesians were worshipers of the Greek goddess Diana. Silversmiths made money making small shrines to the goddess and selling them. This business was threatened by Paul's teaching, so the silversmiths brought Paul before the magistrate, who dismissed them.

While Paul was preaching one night, a young man named Eutychus, sitting by a window, went to sleep, fell from the third story and was taken up apparently dead, but Paul brought him back to life again.

MEMORY VERSE—Ephesians 5:10.

HENRY W. MUTH, 203 S. HARRIS-AV, has taught Sunday School for 50 years. Mr. Muth received a Revised New Testament with his name engraved upon it Feb. 12 at Memorial Hall with 15 others who were honored in a special service by the International Council of Religious Education. Mr. Muth started to teach in a Sunday School in 1900.

At present he is a member of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church and is teacher of the College and Young Business People's Class. Mr. Muth took over this class about two years ago when there was a membership of five. Now the membership stands at 35 members.

Continue Lenten Series At Hilltop Lutheran Church

The second of a series of midweek Lenten services was held at the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church Wednesday evening at 7:30. Rev. A. H. Schnake, institutional chaplain of the Lutheran Welfare League, is conducting the services and spoke on "Peter, the Overconfident Friend".

Sermon topics for the remainder of the series are:

Mar. 9, "Caiaphas, the Friend of Self"; Mar. 15, "Pilate, the Friend of Caesar"; Mar. 22, "Judas, the False Friend"; Mar. 29, "Dysmas, the Man Without a Friend"; and Apr. 5, "John, the Unfailing Friend".

Sunday Lenten Themes Announced

Themes for the Sunday morning and evening service of Lent were anncunced this week by Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor of the Westgate EUB Church. They are:

Sunday mornings: Mar. 5, "The Word of Authority"; Mar. 12, "The Word of Perplexity"; Mar. 19, "The Word of Suffering"; Mar. 26, "The Word of Victory"; Apr. 2, "The Word of Refuge".

Sunday evenings: Mar. 5, "Christ the Light to a Dark World"; Mar. 12, "Christ the Truth to a Philosophical World"; Mar. 19, "Christ the Life to a Dying World"; Mar. 26, "Christ the Salvation to a Lost World"; Apr. 2, "Christ the King of Kings" (the popular "King of Kings" film).

Rome Church Plans Lenten Vesper Series

A series of 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon Vesper services will bring a special emphasis to this Lenten season at the Columbia Heights Methodist Church, Maple-dr, Rome.

Guest speakers and musicians for the services include Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas, Glenwood Methodist Church, and other outstanding men, according to Rev. Elwood L. Rose, pastor of Columbia Heights, a "community church with a friendly heart."

The series is as follows:

Mar. 5—Dr. Joseph B. Shellhaas, Glenwood Methodist Church.

Mar. 12—Rev. Sydney Everson, pastor of Riverside Methodist Church.

Mar. 19—Vocal recital by Floyd Mussard, student at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Mar. 26—Dr. Walter P. Castoe, pastor, Broad Street Methodist Church.

Apr. 2—Gounod's sacred cantata, "The Divine Redeemer", to be presented by the Columbia Heights choir under the direction of Henry Warner.

Special Revival Series Planned

A special revival meeting will open at the Whitethorne Church of Christ in Christian Union, Whitehead and Whitethorne, Sunday. Rev. Arthur George of Washington C. H. will be the evangelist. Services will be held each night at 7:30.

A. J. Wold, 2503 W. Broad-st, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, 150 N. Hague-av, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wollerman, 387 Demorest-rd; Bess Sperry, 2255 W. Broad-st, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Benton, 65 S. Westgate-av, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, 80 Powhatan-av, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cove, 803 Crescent-rd, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stevens, 259 S. Westmoor-av.

Dr. Keckley Plans Series of Pre-Easter Messages

Dr. Paul Keckley, minister of the Hilltop Church of Christ, Disciples, has planned a series of messages on "We Crucify The Christ", the first of which was delivered last Sunday, "The Indifferent".

Sunday, Mar. 5, he will give the second message of the series, "The Unjust". On Mar. 12, "The Selfish", and on Mar. 19, "The Bias".

Anyone who does not have a regular church home is cordially invited to come and worship at the Hilltop Church of Christ, Disciples, located at Burgess-av and Olive-st.

Theological Terms Series Topics

For the four Sunday nights in March the youth program at Westgate Methodist Church is expanded to include the adults who will meet in the sanctuary at 7 p. m. in a class led by the pastor. The adults are invited to join the youth in the supper at 6 p. m.

On Mar. 5 the adult topic for presentation and discussion will be "Salvation". The remaining topics are also much used theological terms which need re-examination in the life of this day: Mar. 12, "Grace"; Mar. 19, "Incarnation"; and Mar. 26, "Atonement".

ENCOURAGE Incentive FOR IMPROVEMENT

DOCTORS ARE BETTER DOCTORS, Hospitals are better hospitals, because of Medical Meetings. The practice of medicine is being constantly improved through this interchange of the findings of research and experience.

Lives are being saved by these constant meetings, conferences, clinics and consultations. Discussions from such meetings are published in Medical Journals, for further study, and for the information of those unable to attend. This urge for improvement—that's the ingenuity and progress of Medicine in America.

Opportunity and incentive to get to the top, through honest study and hard work... that's America! Attending Medical Meetings is hard work, sandwiched between other duties of a busy Doctor, but conscientious, progressive physicians consider it a duty to patients to attend local, state and special clinical meetings.

For the sake of keeping the level of American health the best on earth, let's see that politicians do not kill the incentive for constant improvement.

On The Record

By Harry Frankos

All Elections Important In Insuring Good Government

A movie being revived and shown locally, "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington", contains a lesson that would benefit many of us. Jimmy Stewart, as a young and inexperienced senator, finds that the senior senator from his state is dishonest. The older man replies that there is no reason to fight for the people, since they take little interest in him and most of them don't even bother to vote.

It is all too true that an office holder might have to be swayed by minority interests to remain in office.

In the recent Shepard Lecture at Ohio State University the first fault found with the congress was that "not all congressmen are elected by a majority of the potential voting population in their districts."

Dr. George B. Galloway, legislative specialist of the Library of Congress and former staff director of the joint committee on the organization of congress, said that a number of the seats in the present House of Representatives are occupied by members who were chosen by a minority of the eligible voters in their districts.

The campaign for the May 2 primary election has been going on for some time and will increase in intensity from now until election day. Everyone who is interested in good government will have ample opportunity to learn the merits of the various candidates and make their own decision as to which one to cast their vote for.

On May 2 candidates will be chosen for the all-important November election. The two highest offices in the state, United States Senator and Governor, will be decided at that election. Important county offices are to be decided too.

Many people say that the primaries are unimportant and fail to vote at that time. It is true that the only posts decided at the primary are the party central committeemen, but if you fail to vote in May, the candidate of your choice might not even be on the ballot when November rolls around.

Hilltop Police Complete 25 Years Service

Four Hilltoppers are among the 14 city policemen who will become eligible for retirement this spring and summer. Chief Frank L. Harrison, 2964 Wicklow-rd, will complete 25 years service on June 22.

Also completing the necessary 25 years on that date is Walter C. Trapp, 82 Whitethorne-av. Sgt. John E. Phillips, 253 N. Ogden-av, will complete his service July 20 and Richard Roesch, 579 S. Ogden-av, will have served 25 years on April 15.

Policemen are not required to retire at the end of 25 years service unless they are disabled. Harrison has denied numerous reports that he will retire. He recently underwent an operation at University Hospital.

Phillips has said he will retire at the completion of the 25 years and Roesch says he probably will retire later in the spring or summer. Phillips has been off duty due to a right arm injury suffered in an arrest 20 years ago.

Harrison and Trapp entered the force at the same time, June 22, 1925. They were part of a group of 42 rookies that took the oath of office in the old police station at Sullivant-av and McDowell-st.

Hilltop policemen who have served more than 25 years on the force are Inspector Thomas A. Scully, 2101 Sullivant-av; Capt. Glenn C. Hoffman, 1940 W. Mound-st; and Sgt. John Grimm, 24 S. Burgess-av. Sgt. Grimm is in charge of the police pistol range.

5 Times Amount Asked Given To Aid Girl

For the sake of others who are in need, a Rome minister asked that contributions cease for an 18-year-old girl crippled with arthritis.

Rev. Arthur Rismiller, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, who conducted the drive for funds for a rare drug to save Delores Freeman, said so far $1445.45 had been given.

This is about five times the amount asked to start treatment with cortisone, a rare medicine, which may make Delores walk again. The extra money will be used to continue treatment with the rare drug.

"In view of all the other people who need help of different kinds," Rev. Rismiller said, "I think it would be well for people to stop contributing to Delores. We are deeply grateful for all the kindnesses. The contributions may have saved the girl's life."

Captain Budd To Address 306th Repl. Depot

Capt. Claude Budd, 791 S. Richardson-av, is scheduled to address members of the 306th Replacement Depot at their semi-monthly meeting at Fort Hayes Wednesday. Capt. Budd will explain current methods of personnel testing and measurement used by the U. S. Army.

Capt. Budd, who is personnel consultant for the unit, served with the 26th Infantry Division during the war. He was decorated with the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart, and wears four campaign stars earned in combat in the European Theater.

He is associated with the Blue Cross Central Hospital Service.

Raymond J. Beadle Dies In Hospital

Funeral services for Raymond J. Beadle, 54, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in his home, 84 S. Central-av. Mr. Beadle, an employe of the New York Central System for 30 years, died Saturday in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mr. Beadle was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Gladys Beadle; his mother, Mrs. Ida M. Beadle; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Widener and Mrs. Robert Bastian; a brother, Cecil W. Beadle; two stepsons, Richard W. Brown and John E. Brown, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Jennie Lou Murphy, all of Columbus.

Burial will be in Sunset Cemetery.

Mrs. Martha Ryan Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Martha B. Ryan, 72, formerly of 153 Midland-av, died Monday in the home of a son, Carl W. Ryan, 164 Chatham-rd, following a long illness.

The widow of Orville M. Ryan, she was a member of the Columbus Chapter OES, Gleaners Club, DeMolay Mothers Club, Second Church of Christ Scientist, and was a past president of the Highland Avenue School P-TA.

Surviving also is another son, Samuel R. Ryan of Tallahassee, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. J. G. Stone of Empire, O.; two brothers, George B. and Hardin Caldwell of Wellsburg, Va.; four sisters, Mrs. Julio M. Monroe, Miss Leota Caldwell, Mrs. Cloyd Taylor, also of Wellsburg, and Mrs. Mary Lloyd of Toronto, O., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Thursday at the R. L. Southwick Funeral Home. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Heat's On As Police Seek Dirty Crooks

Thieves at work on the Hilltop Saturday morning must not have foreseen the coming settlement of the coal strike, and probably got pretty dirty at their work.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rich, 34 S. Warren-av, were minus nearly a ton of coal Saturday as the result of an early morning robbery. The couple explained the loss of their fuel supply this way:

Rich, a railroad employe, had gone to work. His wife, hearing noises in the basement, assumed it was Rich fixing the furnace before he went to work.

Even when the thieves broke a number of fruit jars opening the basement window, Mrs. Rich still thought it was her husband.

Feeling a draft in the house during the day, Mrs. Rich telephoned her husband to ask him if he left the cellar door open. When he said he hadn't, she feared someone was in the basement.

Rich returned home to discover the thieves had carried away nearly a ton of coal. Police surmised a truck must have been used to haul away such a large quantity.

More Than $200 Given To Haines Widow, Children

Hilltop organizations, businesses and individuals have contributed more than $200 in money, food, fuel and clothes to Mrs. Geraldine Haines, 151 S. Richardson-av, and her six children at home.

Virgil T. Haines, 41, father-husband of this family, died February 23, leaving them without insurance or any means of subsistence. Haines was a hard worker and a good provider for his family, according to his wife, his employer and friends. However, the cost of living was so high, what with buying their home, furniture, and food and clothing for the children, that Haines was unable to keep up his insurance.

Mrs. Haines told the Record today that she is eager to rent a room in her home to a reliable person. If the person would like, the room would be free in return for care of the children. This would enable Mrs. Haines to seek a job.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club last Thursday collected $70 from its members for the Haines family. Mrs. Eugene Wolfe collected $20. The Superior Drugs and the Wonder Bread Co. are giving two quarts of milk and two loaves of bread to the family each day for 30 days. The Hilltop Church of Christ gave more than $25. Readers and employees of the Hilltop Record contributed $25 in cash and two cartons of food to the family.

Alban H. Gulcher Dies At Home

Alban H. Gulcher, 51, 4032 Riverside-dr, formerly of the Hilltop, died Saturday at his home. He was general superintendent of the Capital Elevator Co.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice; two sons, Robert H., 2463 W. Broad-st, and Alban F.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gulcher; and two grandchildren. He was a member of the First Church of Christian Science.

Funeral services were held Monday by the Noble L. Allen Funeral Home. Burial was in Sunset Cemetery.

Hilltop Boy Injured In Fall From Car

David Greene, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Greene, 851 Clarendon-av, sufferod a fractured left elbow Saturday afternoon when he fell from an auto driven by his mother.

The accident occured when David's six-year-old sister, Linda, inadvertently opened the car door as Mrs. Greene was backing from a driveway at a Highland-av address. David fell from the car and the right front wheel of the auto passed over his arm.

The youngster was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital where he was treated, and later admitted to Children's Hospital.

Harrison Returns Home

Police Chief Frank L. Harrison returned to his home at 2964 Wicklow-rd Friday from Mt. Carmel Hospital where he underwent an operation Feb. 14 for a gall bladder condition. He was returned home by Police Cruiser No. 3.

EMERGENCY SQUADMEN ARE SHOWN removing Rubic Rowe, 54, of 107 Brighton-rd, from her automobile soon after it was struck by another car at W. Mound-st and Ryan-av early Monday morning. She was on her way to work at the Columbus Plastics Co. Mrs. Rowe was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital with possible neck injuries. Driver of the other car was Arthur R. Freyh, 20, of 1196 Franklin-av.

Gene Urban To Write Record Bowling Column

A new sportswriter joins the Hilltop Record staff this week to cover the bowling news on the Hilltop. Gene Urban, 263 S. Terrace-av, will write the weekly column, "Across Hilltop Alleys."

Gene, a junior at West High School, has worked at the Hilltop alleys for the past seven years. He has also done a lot of bowling in that time. At present he is a regular bowler in three leagues, the Recreation, the Business Men's, and the Hilltop Y Merchants. This is his fourth year in league bowling.

After graduation from high school, Gene hopes to some day become the manager of a bowling alley.

Camp Fire Girls Conduct Traffic Safety Drive

Complimentary instead of traffic tickets were handed out in wholesale quantities throughout the Hilltop Saturday, March 4, when the Camp Fire Girls opened a broad, month-long traffic safety campaign.

All members of the Hilltop's many Camp Fire, Horizon Club and Blue Bird groups joined in the unique project, according to Mrs. Richard Wright, 149 Columbian-av, who is a member of the city-wide committee in charge.

With the older girls stationed at every major street intersection, both pedestrians and motorists will find themselves watched closely . . . not for traffic violations, but for walking and driving carefully. Every person who is observed obeying the traffic laws will be handed a signed card which will entitle the recipient to a special safety citation to be issued by the Motor Club of America, Inc., of Columbus.

While the older girls are busy with these duties in downtown traffic, the younger Blue Birds will be calling on their neighbors throughout the community to distribute literature designed to teach safety practices for bicycle riders.

Altogether, some 1,500 girls are engaged in this unique campaign in Franklin county. A repeat performance will be staged each Saturday during March.

Band Show Plans To Be Completed

Final arrangements for the annual Band Variety Show, to be given Mar. 16 and 17 in the West High School Auditorium, will be made at a meeting of the West High Band Parents' Club Wednesday night in the school.

Rehearsals for the annual show have been under way for the past month under the direction of Clair Barnard, school music director. Jim Lee will be master of ceremonies.

Proceeds from the show will go toward support of the West High bands and orchestras.

Patrons of the band may reserve their tickets directly following this meeting in the school music room, or on Mar. 9 at Story Dry Cleaners. The public ticket sale will begin Mar. 11.

Frank Pagura Burned By Motor Backflash Mon.

A backflash in a gasoline hoist motor severely burned Frank Pagura, 23, of 748 S. Burgess-av, early Monday.

The accident happened at the Superior Roofing Co. Pagura is a hoist engineer for Krause and Pagura, Inc., contractors, of 1069 Cable-av.

Pagura was attempting to start the motor when it exploded. Flames ignited his trousers. He was burned on the face, hands and the legs from the hips down.

An employe of the roofing company, Marion Collins, South Bloomfield, was standing nearby and helped Pagura tear away the burning clothing. Pagura was taken to Grant Hospital by emergency squadmen.

8 BJR Escapees Back In Custody

Eight boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were back in custody of the Bureau of Juvenile Research, 2280 W. Broad-st, following their escape Sunday noon.

Three of the youths returned to the institution voluntarily early Monday. The other five were brought back by sheriff's deputies after they gave themselves up.

West High Girls Guests of O.S.U. School of Nursing

More than 200 girls from the West junior and senior high schools were guests of the Ohio State University School of Nursing at an open house on the campus Saturday.

Assembling in the lobby of University Hospital at 10 a. m., the visitors were taken on tours of the hospital, visiting laboratories, dietitians' kitchens, nursing stations and other points of interest. Student nurses acted as guides.

High points of their fields were presented in brief talks at Oxley Hall, following the tour, by representatives of the occupational therapy, physiotherapy, dietetics, laboratory technology and health services departments.

Frances M. McKenna, director of the school of nursing, explained that the open house was limited to high school girls from one area of the city in order to facilitate handling of the large number of interested persons. According to tentative plans, similar open house invitations may be extended to other Columbus high schools.

Cooper Returns To TV School

Samuel Cooper, for several months manager of the Midwest Washer Service, 1116 W. Broad-st, has returned to Chicago to complete his final year at The American Television School. Upon completion of his studies there, he will be an accredited television engineer.

Cooper graduated from West High School and attended Ohio State University before he entered the armed forces. His present home address is 3339 N. Leavitt, Chicago, Ill.

Lions See R. R. Movie At Meeting

Members of the Hilltop Lions Club saw a movie on railroading at their Thursday evening meeting. Willard G. Lauterbach of the Lauterbach and Eibler Insurance Co. showed the movie. Lauterbach was the guest of John Grassie.

The next meeting of the Hilltop Lions will be at the Franklin Brewery, Mar. 16. Members are invited to bring any number of guests to this dinner meeting.

1 Point Knocks West Out of Tournament

By Dave Miller

West's Cowboys concluded their 1949-50 basketball season last Saturday evening, dropping out of the Central District Class "A" tournament by losing a heartbreaker to Aquinas' Terriers, 46 to 45.

The loss ended the Cowboys' overall record at 11 wins and 11 losses, their regular season ending with a 10-10 marking, with one win and one loss in the tournament again evening up the mark.

In a game such as the last Aquinas fray, some one player is usually tagged as the "goat" of the game. And this fray wasn't different. West's stellar junior guard, Jerry Johnson, who has been an outstanding team player all year in addition to being third highest scorer, missed a bunny shot and a free toss near the end of the game.

The Cowboys had tough luck on the east basket of the coliseum, a basket they hit the best on in their tournament go against South. After racking up 29 in the first half, the Cowboys changed buckets, and made only 16 points in the two second half quarters.

The second half spelled the difference in the game. West's great center, Phil Young, was snaring rebounds and was scoring effectively in the first half, having 12 points at halftime, but in the second half, he managed to get rebounds well on the Aquinas bankboards, but couldn't snare them or hardly even get in a shot. Aquinas shifted its defense in the second half, and it paid off effectively for the Terriers.

The Aquinas win, however, did not come as too much of a surprise to the tournament fans. The Terriers, who have copped previous wins over Grove City and Washington (the latter also by one point) went to the semi-finals of the district last year, and after tripping our Cowboys Saturday evening, they again will advance to the semi-finals tomorrow evening, meeting a red hot North five, a team that West would have met if they could have beaten Aquinas.

The game was very even throughout the opening quarter with Jack Burkley of Aquinas and Phil Young of the Hilltoppers matching bunny shots as the end of the first period came with both clubs managing 11-all.

It was different in the second period, however. Jerry Johnson sank a free throw and Bill Thrush followed with three straight markers. Jack Schmidt of the Terriers sank a drive in, but Paul Ellingsworth matched that one with a long one-hander from the corner.

Things stayed as this pace until Jack Schmidt again sank a bunny for the Terriers to knot the score at 23-all with a minute to go in the half.

Then, Thrush, Johnson and Ellingsworth hit three straight buckets and this provided the Cowboys with a 29-23 halftime margin.

Aquinas outscored our Cowboys, 17-8 in the third quarter. Aquinas scored only one more bucket than the Cowboys did in the canto, but made 7 out of 8 free tosses to make the difference.

With 1:35 left in the period, Burkley's second bunny of the game gave the Terriers a 40-31 margin, but two quick buckets by Paul Ellingsworth and two free throws by Bill Thrush cut the margin to 40-37 by the finish of the third period.

In the final period, John Masdea of the Terriers started things off with a hook shot, but Phil Young quickly matched that by the same shot. Masdea and Thrush then matched followup's to make it 38-42, and Paul Bean of the ultimate winners cashed in on a free toss to make it a four point difference again. After Masdea's free throw, Johnson and Young followed with quick drive in shots, and the score was 44-43 with 1:10 left to play.

In the closing moments of the game, Bean and Masdea sank charity throws, and after getting the ball out of bounds under the new rule, they began to stall, with 40 seconds to go. Johnson intercepted an Aquinas pass and went the length of the floor for a "sure two." But fate wasn't with the Cowboys and he turned his ankle just as he was ready to shoot and, being off-balance he missed the seemingly easy shot.

Aquinas got the rebound and again began to stall but Johnson was fouled on a charging play, and with the Cowboys trailing 46-43 the pressure was really on Johnson as he stood on the free throw lane, and he missed that also. West took the ball out of bounds with 10 seconds and Phil Young sang a long shot to advance the count to the final score as the Terriers stalled out the remaining seconds.

Phil Young took high scoring honors with 18 tallies with Paul Ellingsworth hitting for 13 tallies while Jack Schmidt and John [illegible] topped Aquinas with 16 and 13 markers respectively.

Jones To Be HCC Speaker Wednesday

City Councilman Joseph R. Jones will be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Hilltop Community Council Wednesday evening at the Glenwood Shelter House at 8 p. m., President Russell Carter has announced.

Jones will speak on civic improvements and discuss projects of special interest to Hilltoppers. Following the talk, Jones will answer questions from the audience. Among questions anticipated are those regarding supervision at Westgate Park, plans for new playgrounds, and the chances of the city buying the 24 Belvidere lots for a playground.

Jones is chairman of council's important finance committee.

Delegates Named To Livestock Producers Meet

Richard Kuhn of Hilliards, Walter Davis of Harrisburg and Harold Hart of near Columbus are among delegates named from Franklin County to the 15th annual meeting of Producers Livestock Cooperative Association in Columbus Mar. 9.

The Columbus branch of producers will be represented by 34 delegates to the meeting, according to Manager Roy D. Pavey. Eighteen alternates have been named.

R. J. Pollock, secretary and general manager of the national livestock and meat board, will be the featured speaker at the annual meeting. His topic is "Science Puts the Spotlight on Meat." F. G. Ketner, secretary-treasurer and general manager of Producers, is chairman of the national livestock and meat board.

Delegates to the meeting will choose seven directors for two-year terms.

Two Injured In Auto Collision

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, at 3 a. m. Sunday in an auto accident at Hague and Sullivant-ave.

Rosetta Davis, 22, of 271 Denaav, a passenger in an auto driven by Hershel A. Huffman, 22, of 208 E. Moler-st, suffered face cuts. Huffman was cut and bruised. They were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Police said the Huffman auto was in collision with a car driven by James McCarty, 20, of 683 S. Harris-av. McCarty was arrested by police for failing to have an operator's license.

We're Proud of Our Hilltop Home

Sure and we've good reason to be proud of the community in which we live too. It's growing every day . . . new homes for more people who are seeking out the Hilltop as the ideal place in which to live and rear a family . . . more business concerns are looking to the Hilltop as the spot in which to give their enterprise a successful start. It's only natural that this should be true for here on the Hilltop there is that intangible something known as "Community Spirit" . . . it permeates into every home and every individually owned business establishment here on the Hilltop . . . it's a sort of pride that comes from the willingness of home owners and individual business men to meet on common ground and work together for the bettermentof the community in which we live.

Now our home here on the Hilltop is not what you would term a mansion . . . it's comfortable . . . takes care of our needs . . . homey and neat looking and Joe and Alice who live next door also have a nice little home. As a matter of fact you'll find nice homes all along the block in which we live . . . and the owners everyone of them just as proud as ourselves of his own home and the surrounding community. It's just as we said before . . . everyone on the Hilltop cooperates in helping the growth of the community . . . it's a healthy spirit . . . and a spirit of helpfulness and progress.

This something called "Community Spirit" doesn't just happen . . . it's made and created by the people of the community and the individual business men all of whom are ready to stand up and "start pitching" when any community need or project takes form. Sure the Hilltop community is growing . . . growing every day.

And, another thing the majority of Hilltoppers are home owners . . . . their investments in their properties are guarded by their loyalty to the community, in maintenance of values . . . as Hilltoppers we know that when we spend our dollars with the individual merchant on the Hilltop that we're really investing in the community for the merchant invariably spends his profit margin here on the Hilltop too . . . our dollars come home to us in civic improvements making the Hilltop a better place in which to live, and a choice location of property values.

Sure we're proud of our Hilltop home—our neighbors and our community. Wh wouldn't be?

'Think This Over'

By William "Doc" Campbell

What's In A Name?

Shakespeare certainly knew his business, like "Old Gold" cigarettes (almost 200 years in the making). See how we still study and believe in him, even in the modern high schools. But what did he mean by his "What's in a name?"

I, for one, think a name, if designed for definite use, is a most valuable asset—or to the contrary. See how Hollywod obtains the utmost out of a changed name. Unpronouncible was "Jack Benny's" OWN name but his new name is now on the tongue of his millions of fans. Some theatrical people do not use their birth names. Only those persons who are truly great do so, such as Beethoven, Verdi, George Bernard Shaw, Sir Walter Scott, etc. Take for instance, Robert Taylor"—so pronouncible, but it is not his true name. Eddie Cantor, Loretta Young, Lana Turner, etc., are for public use. So there is "something" to a name, as Lux, Oxydol, Mozart, Pork and Beans, etc. But let us see the idea in reverse. Costello, Jesse James, Dillinger, etc. The gangster uses his real name until nearly apprehended. Then watch him lie about it. He knows that his real name has been publicized too much!

Now for some definitely chosen names. They say that "Booker T. Washington" as a slave had no birth name. He desired to get "up in the world" and when studying was asked his full name. He replied "Booker T." He was asked for the rest and said "I have none." He was informed he must have a complete name, not just an initial, for his last name. He chose one. So this (to be) great benefactor and fighter for Negro education adopted the name of the "father of his country", our admired and great Washington, hence "Booker T. Washington".

I can understand how a famous name can be everlasting inspiration to a youth with such a name —ABRAHAM Lincoln, VICTOR Herbert, ULYSSES Grant, CAESAR Petrillo, etc. I want to write here some names that come in the above category. Here are a few authentic, aristocratic sounding names: LeGrange Abbott, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Patrick Barry, William Dean Howells, Robert E. Lee, Alice Schille, Sergi Rochmanoff, Oley Speaks, John Phillip Sousa, Jan Pearce, Jeffrey O'Harra, Lily Pons and Harry Truman. Of course there are thousands you could mention, too, but my treatise today is to induce you to think my way (!)—that there is a driving force, or the reverse, in naming a newborn babe. Let us "go in reverse" for a bit. Clarence Darrow, the famous trial lawyer in the Scopes case, must have hated that seemingly feminine name in his adolescence; Percy Grainger, the noted composer. Of course the name does not "make the man" but it must ring true to masculine ears and not be hushed up. Perhaps J. Pierpont Morgan, the multi-millionaire, international banker, had a "soft" first name.

It is just too bad for a girl baby to have a mannish name for she, later on, is the target for jests, etc., which are no fault of her own. Lets name a few. PAULine, JOSEPH-ine, THOMAS-ine, ROBERT-a. Now listen to these charmingly feminine names. Gwendolyn, Alice, Charmaine, Helen, Marjorie, Barbara and Doris.

Real men prefer feminine women names, not masculine, in effect. The sweetness of a woman can usually win almost any positive man. Let young parents be very careful in naming their offspring with an off sex name. It may sound cute at first, but remember, your children will "grow up", mingle with all kinds, and that you "protect them" from an inferiority complex by studying the backgrounds of grandparents on both sides, and then "seeing the future"—of your heart's desire—living the life you gave it at birth, in all of its fullness and adaptability to the era which they will find themselves at 18 to 20 years of age—with appropriate "first" names.

THINK THIS OVER.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

KIT was on her way to Nedda's orchard of Macs. Andrew's pickers were working there today and maybe he was with them. Halfway across the seven-acre lot Kit stopped and, shading her eyes against the sun, looked back across the valley with its toy landmarks of water-towers and barns. There was no color yet except in the sumac, but in a month, and the memory of its glory was like a pain, those maples would be dull gold, and in another month winter would be waiting for the last gold spear to droop and leave the horizon bare. Behind her the ells and angles of the house had dipped out of sight. This is where it should set, she thought more quietly, where the view is wider. But the landline changed as the trees grew up. Where the house stood now must have been the first opening in the wilderness. Land and sky, wind and leaf were part of her. If I go, she thought fiercely, it will be more than homesickness, it will be bloodsickness.

At the entrance of the orchard, she could hear the voices and see the plaid-shirted figures of the pickers moving among the trees. On the untouched boughs of Macs gleamed red and round like balls on a Christmas tree. She sank in the grassy bedding. It was after four. She had not long to wait. When she heard the truck start up, she moved toward the far end of the orchard. If Andrew were here, she would find him now. He always walked home. If he were not here, she would look for him tomorrow.

From the shed where he stored the boxes, Furse saw her coming. "Hello!" he called. She waved and began to run toward him. As she came closer, he caught his breath; each time she seemed more vivid, more beautiful than he remembered.

"I waited . . ." she began, out of breath.

"We'll walk home together, it's a glorious evening," he said, putting his arm through hers. "Darling, what is it . . . you're trembling so!"

"Let's cut through our woods," she cried, as if she had not heard him. "I won't walk there again with you. I shall be gone soon. This afternoon the trunk came that Marvell ordered—it's big enough to live in, but actors live that way, don't they? I . . ."

"Stop, Kit, stop!" She was close to tears and he had only one thought, to comfort her. He picked her up in his arms and carried her the short distance to the wood lot where the spring rose. In a little clearing where a cedar stood out darkly against the brush-colored tree trunks, [redacted] her down. She stood unmoving, dejected. He looked at her bent head, longing to touch it, to tell her they would never be apart. "Is everything all right with you? For the first time he uttered that deep cry of reassurance for the beloved. When she did not answer, he began to talk quickly, but the words tasted chalky in his mouth and he hardly knew their [redacted]. "Kit, darling, listen to me, we must keep things as they were. The summer is short, but the year will be, too. Marvell wants you to be sure, that's all . . . not for me, I am here always, but of yourself. He's planned for this for so long—it won't matter to us—just a year. Then we'll be married . . ."

"Then it would be another year to wait, to make sure!" She pushed away his restraining hand. "You think you know me, Andrew, but you don't! I exist for you only as you think I ought to be . . . I can't live Marvell's life, not for you, not even for him. I am Katherine, Kit—alive and sure and me! The only one of me there'll ever be. It will [redacted] too late, in a year, I will be more and more unreal for you . . ." She sank down on the ground and put her head between her knees. In the fire of her words, he felt himself healed of doubt and darkness. He knelt beside her. The smell of the warm earth, as strong as an animal odor, was all about them but Kit was conscious only of despair. Between her helplessness, that Furse would never love her, had no love to give, feared it or [redacted] it long ago, and her unwavering faith, was a terrible suspense that wrung from her an anguished cry, "I can't bear it!"

Furse bent over her, touched her hair, her forehead, her cheeks with his fingers and in a voice shaken now of all control, murmured, "Katherine, Katherine . . ."

It was she who led him where they were going, out of the stumbling half-shadows into the pure darkness. It was she who first felt the light tremble on her eyelids, opening them upon a day so fresh and new that it seemed still without color, without form.

They walked across the orchard. A small wind moved the lazy clouds in the west, hurrying them on in time for the gathering glory of the sunset. When they reached the last stone wall, he jumped across and held out his hand to her over the rusted barbed wire. She kept her hand in his all the way. Scraps of sentences, old rhymes ran through her head. "The petals of this purpose are . . ." "What is love? 'Tis not hereafter . . ." It was all a lovely craziness. It was the old, private world of love and [redacted].

When they sighted the house, Furse said, "I'm coming in with you."

She pressed his hand. As she opened the front door, her elation dropped for no apparent reason to a leaden weight about her heart. There was an extraordinary loneliness in the sound of the wind that had risen. The house seemed deserted. She did not call Marvell's name as she usually did, but he must have heard her, for he questioned "Kit?" from another room. He came out in the front hall where they were standing in the shadows. "You're damned late," he said. There was something ugly in his voice and instinctively Furse stepped ahead of Kit. With one hand on the stair rail, Marvell [redacted] himself.

"Marvell," Kit suggested gently, "let's go inside and sit down."

"We want to talk to you," said Furse, keeping his voice all the more quiet because he smelled the whiskey which had increased Marvell's belligerence.

"Talk to me? Isn't it a little late for that?" He had been expecting her the last hour, prepared to share in her excitement, nursing his own along with an extra drink or two. His antagonism for Furse had leaped out at first sight of him. Now as they stood there, confident, complete, close together, his anger, like a charge of electricity in a storm, cleared his muddled senses. Immediately he was aware of what had happened between them. "You didn't ask me first, did you?" He lashed out at Furse, "if you could maul her in the fields as if she were another Poldi."

"You have no right to use her name like that," Kit cried.

"Just listen for a moment," said Furse, still without raising his voice, "We haven't deceived you, not this afternoon, not any time. I love Kit. I've known it for a long time, but I knew what you wanted for her and I let her alone. But this is stronger then we are—we, we are going to be married and we want you to understand . . ."

"You've got guts, haven't you?" Marvell sneered. "Once I had to back you up because circumstances were stronger, now you whine that love is stronger . . ."

"That's unfair and you know it!"

"Andrew," Kit put her hand on his arm. "Please, please don't say any more. No one knows what's fair now. Please go. This is my job. It will be all right."

They spoke to each other with their eyes in a way that shut Marvell out. He walked blindly into the other room. Kit followed him into the study. The trunk was a tangible evidence of the barrier between them. Suddenly Marvell felt that he had about five seconds left in all the world to make her see. "Kit, don't trap yourself too soon. Sex is just one experience. You need all kinds to know yourself—don't you remember when you ran off to Boston, you thought that was what you wanted? More, you called it then—that's all this is—you won't get more in marriage, you'll be giving up every chance for it."

"It isn't just sex, it's Andrew. You were patient with me that time. I didn't know what I wanted then. Only to be something. But now I know. It's grown in me just as I've grown. And Andrew is good. He'll go far. You can't say he is worthless!"

"He's not worth your talent, your individual freedom. He's steady and honest—all right, but what has that got to do with you at eighteen? Why do you think we started out here together in the first place? So that you could marry a farmer? Do you think I came up to this backwash [redacted] I wanted to be a plumber?"

"No," Kit's voice rang with conviction. "We came because you wanted everything for me—love and a place where I belonged. And you succeeded. This is where I belong. You've made me sure of what love is and what home is—it's my kind of life."

Defeated, he cried savagely. "It's such a stupid, rotten waste. Waste and regret—they're not pretty things to go through life with I can tell you!"

She was no longer thinking of herself, she was filled with pity for him. "You know them both, don't you? That's what's so wrong. You're pushing me forward to take the place you should have had. I can't do it, Marvell. You have to do it yourself. You can't live your life through anyone's, that's what you've always said." She was crying as she stumbled up the back stairs.

Cowboys Topple South In Tourney Opener Thursday

By Dave Miller

West's Coboys took full advantage of a bad South third period and found time enough to whip the mighty Bulldogs, 55 to 45, in the opening games for both teams in the Central District Class "A" basketball tournament played at the fairgrounds coliseum last Thursday evening.

In whipping the city's co-champs, South, the Cowboys surprised the audience at the coliseum. Not only because the Cowboys were the underdogs but also because the crowd, after hearing that South and West in two previous meetings had scored 308 points in 64 minutes of play, expected a pretty high scoring affair to come forth in the tournament, the first this year. As it was, though, West's total of 55 was second best of the tournament with Aquinas' 65 against Grove City the previous evening being tops.

However, as North Coach Carroll Woodruf is quoted as saying, "The tournament, with its bigger floor and bigger crowds usually cuts down on a high school team's scoring total about 20 points."

South started off fast and within a space of a few minutes the Bulldogs looked as if they had the ball game in the bag. Dave Jones, Scuth center, hit two charity throws as compared to Bill Thrush's one for West, but the Pug Hood-coached Southsiders came roarnig back with seven consecutive points: a drive-in by Dick Wagner; Jack Keller's tip; Charlie Haws' tip; and Keller's free throws to provide South with a healthy, 9-1 lead, which West cut a moment later to 10-5 on a bunny by Phil Young and a longie by Jerry Johnson sandwiched around Bob Strawser's free throw for South. Jack Keller and Young exchanged side shots and Paul Ellingsworth and Dave Jones' matched tip-in's to make the score 14-9. Again Ellingsworth hit a side shot and Strawser hit a bunny to provide the Pups with a 16-11 first quarter lead.

After Jack Keller sank a hook shot for South to give the latter a convincing 18-11 lead at the onset of the second period, West got going with Thrush and Johnson hitting seven straight points together to knot the count again at 18. Wagner and Haws sank gratis throws for South and Jones hit a one-hander as compared to Frank Carson's free throw for West to make the count 22-19. Thrush and Haws exchanged bunnies, and the same two later exchanged foul shots, but Phil Young came through in the right time with a hook shot and a foul foss to hand West a 26-25 halftime lead.

From there onward, it was all West. After a nip-and-tuck first half, Pug Hood, mentor of the Bulldogs put in an entire new team in the third period, mainly reserves, and West ran roughshod, outscoring the Gray and Blue 16-6 in the period.

Young and Thrush started off with five quick points with a Bob Nolan foul shot intervening between the former duo and Jerry Johnson's long set and two jump-push shots by Young to hand West a 36-26 lead. From there on, after they found their footing, West was great. They snared rebounds in great manner, and with Young, Thrush and Co. again pouring in the points, South was simply outclassed.

Pug Hood of the South Siders explained that his star center, Dave Jones was sick with a cold and was under par, with all of his first stringers being pretty tired at halftime and so he gambled with some second stringers in the third canto and lost.

Phil Ycung of the Cowboys was high point man with 16 markers. Thrush had 15 and Chuck Haws topped South with 12 tallies.

Girls Win For Four In Seven Parochial Record

The girl's basketball team from St. Mary Magdalene School finished its season last Friday, March 3, with a victory over St. Vincent's by the score of 37-33. This was the fourth win for the girls out of seven games in the Parochial Girls' Elementary League.

The team's members are: Mary Jo Evans, Beverly Hays, Martanne Holly, Mary Lou Robinson, Marielien Russell, Nancy Shannon, Helen Snyder—guards from the eighth grade; Joanne Fisher, Sue Kuhlwein, Rozanne Rudolph, Margaret Schubert, Patty Yeagley — forwards from grade eight; and Sue Yeagley, Patty Warren, Rost Tonti, Alice Quinn, Sue McCarrick, Rosanne Lowe, Donna Krivdo, Judy Grady, Marilyn Francis, and Barbara Crishbaum, all from the seventh grade.

New members who have recenty joined the team include Anne McEttrick, Christine Koyro, Beverly O'Farrell and Ann Brock. The girls from the Hilltop school are coached by Alice Ptacek, a student at the College of St. Mary of the Springs.

Field Trip In Chemistry

Under the direction of Clarence B. Hune, the 30 students of the Hilliards High School chemistry class will have an opportunity to visit Batelle Memorial Institute, where some atomic research has been done, on March 7. The Institute is located on King-av, and the tour will be conducted. The class will leave at 10 a. m. and will probably be gone the most of the day.

Looking Ahead

with J. W. WORREL

Will You Look In The Mirror?

When we gaze into a mirror it gives back the truth, coldly and impartially. The mirror cares not whether the image be as fair as an adolescent dream of love — or ugly as squalor. It stoops to no flattery, is not moved by compassion, cannot err. Remorseless as Time, it throws back dispassionately the thing that IS.

Most of us have become accustomed to seeing the same old countenance day after day. If it is unprepossessing we've become used to THAT too, and reflecting surfaces hold no terrors for us.

There is another mirror, however, into which few dare look. And that is the mirror that reflects the true state of our financial arrangements for our dependents in the event of death.

It is a happy — and a rare — man who can do so and be reassured by what he sees.

Too many of us are content to insure ourselves for an amount that SEEMS like a lot of money. Unless you translate that sum into terms of income replacement for your dependents in the event of your death, you will not have the true picture. Make the test now. I shall be happy to review your insurance with no obligation whatsoever to yourself. DARE you look in the mirror?

Hilliards Loses To Cardinals In Class B Tourney

St. Charles had a tougher fight with underdog Hilliards than the Cardinals had expected. As a matter of record, Tom Swope's entry, which moved out of the B class this year, dominated play for the first nine and a half minutes and was still very much in the running when the final quarter got under way.

St. Charles led only once in the first period, on a fielder by Lon Fallon that made the count 4-2. The score [illegible] tied twice in the opening frame and there were five deadlocks in the second stanza before Fallon's shot from the side with 1:39 remaining in the period gave the Saints the lead for good, 23 to 21.

Hilliards might have made it even closer, but the Franklin County League outfit fouled out four of its five regulars before time ran out, John Eberts and Dick Baumann of the winners and Hilliards' Jack Galbraith all hit for 14 points.

Score at end of each period:

St. Charles	6	26	32	47
Hilliards	13	21	28	40

She: Why is Helen's grave so [illegible]?

He: She trumped her partner's ace and they buried her with simple honors.

It Is Time We Do Something About This

Very interesting figures showing what we do about our democratic form of government were given at the last week's Kiwanis meeting. Harold Schellenger of Ohio Voters, Inc., provided facts that reveal an alarming situation and one that needs attention.

In last year's primary election just 40% of the eligible registered men voters and 25% of the women who could have voted took the trouble to go to the polls. In the period of 1940 to 1948 voting in Ohio has fallen off over one half a million. In 1948, 40 out of every 100 eligible voters in Ohio stayed away from the polls.

A survey has been made of the membership of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and it was found that 85% of them are registered, 80% of their wives are registered, and in the last general election 79% voted. This is a good record but it should be perfect.

Anotner primary election comes up on May 12 of this year. It is important that you vote.

If you are not already registered you may do so by visiting the County Board of Elections Ofice, 214½ S. High-st, before Mar. 22. The offices are open from 8 to 4:30 daily.

Your democratic form of government is in jeopardy. Do you part to protect it. Vote!

Spirit Of Generosity Is Still Alive

This past week has brought to light the fine spirit people in general have toward less fortunate individuals and in times like these such a spirit indeed adds much to the brightness of a day.

Many people came to the assistance of a local family left in need by the death of the bread winner of the family. Money and material contributions were numerous. To those who took the lead in getting this assistance a real vote of thanks is due. We know in particular such credit is due Ivan Reed, Jack Sensenbrenner and Mrs. Gene Wolfe. There were perhaps others who did equally as much.

Two weeks ago an appeal went out for funds to buy a rare drug needed by a girl near Rome afflicted with arthritis. Many times the amount needed was turned in within a short time and the local minister has requested that contributions cease so that such money might be placed with others who might be in such unfortunate circumstances.

It is well to know that a great spirit of generosity is still alive.

And then there was the gal who got money out of her husband by telling him she was going back to mother, whereupon he immediately handed her the fare!

"A Dozen Calls — And the Phone's Still Ringing!"

It seems that nearly everyone on the Hilltop wanted the table-top gas range advertised in the Record by Curtis Graves, 187 S. Eureka-av.

Mr. Graves called to cancel the ad on the morning after it appeared. "I've sold the range, received a dozen calls for it, and inquiries are still pouring in!" said Mr. Graves.

Remember RA. 1125—the number that brings seller and buyer together—the quick, easy way. There's nothing more simple than dialing RA. 1125 and asking for "Classified". A pleasant want ad taker will help you write a "tailored-for-action" ad in a jiffy. The cost is low—results are fast.

J. R. Jones Outlines Improvement Plans

City Councilman Joseph R. Jones painted a picture of an improved Hilltop before the Hilltop Community Council Wednesday night at the Glenwood Shelter House.

Planners are now working on the extenion of Grandview-av through the State Hospital grounds to W. Broad-st. Relocation of Route 40 for trucks to McKinley-av and the building of the Long-st bridge are among future plans.

Improvement of Columbia-av playground, with the possibility of two ball diamonds is on the program, and relief workers are scheduled to clean up Holton Park.

The two hard-surface tennis courts at Glenwood Park, which were built in 1948, may be opened in the spring. The city has brought suit against the contractor who built them and this action is still in the courts.

New street lights will adorn many new Hilltop residential streets in the next year or two. W. Broad-st is due for new, modern street lights.

Westgate Park Lake no longer will smell foul as a new sewer will carry away contaminated water, Jones said. A new, hard-surface parking area for Westgate Park will be started this year. Roadways are to be repaved.

The area east of Glenwood Park along W. Broad-st has been made into picnic grounds complete with concrete tables and fireplaces and has been graded and grass sown. It will be available in picnic weather. This area was formerly called the Hilltop Tourist Camp along about 1925.

Leo McComb, the florist, plans more mums for W. Broad-st this year.

Mrs. Edward Thompson, treasurer, presided at the meeting in the absence of Russell Carter and Averille Thorn, president and vice president, respectively.

Help!--We Need Jan. 24 Records

We're not going to bite a dog to make news, but we are going to do something unusual. The Hilltop Record would like to subscribe to the Hilltop Record.

To be more specific, we are in need of copies of the Jan. 24 issue of the Record. We don't know whether we sold too many or printed too few papers that day, but we are in the embarrassing position of needing at least a dozen issues of the Jan. 24 paper.

If you still have your copy of that paper would you please bring or send it to The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Last Call For Minstrel Tryouts

The final call for applicants for the Hilltop Minstrel Show is being malle today by Director Lee Koontz.

Tryouts for the 21st annual show will be held in the John Burroughs School auditorium at 2 p. m. Sunday. All who want to participate in the show should be there at that time. The application blank for the show is printed on page 4A of today's Record.

From the looks of the applications that have already been received at the Record office, there will be a lot of new talent in this year's show as well as a goodly number of the regulars. Director Koontz has termed the 1950 show the "show of the century".

The theme of this year's show will be the "Dollmaker's Dream", in which a cast of dolls comes miraculously to singing, dancing and fun-making life.

From a tentative list released by Koontz this week, end men in the minstrel show will probably be Bill Coon, George Hardy, Russ Carter, and Floyd Badgley.

Hilltop Library To Close Friday

The Hilltop Branch Library on N. Hague-av will close at 5:30 p. m. Friday for moving to the new library site on W. Broad-st, Mildred Phalor, librarian, has announced.

A definite date for the opening of the new library has still not been set. The library committee will meet Thursday at 3 p. m.

Deems To M.C. Sports Banquet

Herbert G. Deems

Herbert G. Deems, 26 Algonquin-av, secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 2369 W. Broad-st, will be the master-of-ceremonies for this year's West High School All-Sports banquet to be held Monday, May 22, at the Southern Hotel.

Wesley Fesler, Ohio State University football coach, will be the principal speaker at the banquet. The affair will honor all the school's athletic teams, including basketball, football, baseball, track, wrestling, tennis, golf and swimming.

Tickets for the occasion are $2.50 per plate. Three hundred seats will be available for the public; 200 are reserved for the team members.

Minstrel Ticket Sale Under Way

Tickets for the Hilltop Minstrel Show scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Apr. 12, 13, and 14, in the West High School auditorium, are now on sale, John Nippert, ticket chairman, announced today.

General admission tickets, selling at 60c, are being sold by all members of Hilltop Business Association and members of the show's cast.

Reserve seats will go on sale at the Thrift Finance Co., 7 S. Wayne-av, at noon on Wednesday, Mar. 29, Nippert said. General admission tickets may be turned in for the reserved seats which will sell for 75c and $1.

Approximately 500 seats for each price have been allotted for each of the three night performances. The auditorium has 1481 seats.

Dr. J. Foreman To Address HBA At March Meet

The Hilltop Business Association will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Mar. 14, at 6:45 p. m. at the Westgate Methodist Church, according to C. H. Campbell, secretary.

Dr. Jonathan Foreman, professor of the history of medicine at the Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker at the meeting. His topic is: "Trends Toward Socialism in America Today." Dr. Foreman is also editor of the "Land News."

A discussion of parking meters for W. Broad-st will also be held, John Nippert in charge of the program, stated.

Larry Scales, 603 S. Eureka-av, will address the HBA meeting on the Red Cross.

Hilltop Man Gets Highest Scout Award

M. E. Sensenbrenner, 335 Guernsey-av, was one of six adult leaders of the Central Ohio Council of the Boy Scouts of America who received the highest honor in Scouting presented to laymen —the Silver Beaver Award—at the Council's 40th anniversary dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Southern Hotel.

The presentations were made by Charles A. Jones, Columbus, chairman of the awards committee. The combined years of scouting service of exceptional character of the six men total 122 years.

The award emblem consists of a tiny silver beaver suspended from a blue and whie neck ribbon.

Fred J. Milligan, Columbus attorney, was elected to his third term as council president.

President Milligan reported that the Central Ohio area, comprising nine counties, now has a total enrollment of an all-time

Livestock Judging Team Ranks High In Competition

A judging team of four Hilliards youths took top honors at the Saddle and Sirloin "Little International" last Saturday at Ohio State University.

Competing with 20 other Ohio High Schools, the Hilliards team scored 1433 out of a possible 1600 points. Paul Slyh tied for high individual score with 366 out of a possible 400. Other members of the Hilliards team were Charles Pence, Eugene Nunamaker and Fred Barrett.

Ayrshire cattle, Southdown sheep, mixed fat hogs and Angus beef cattle were judged.

To Present Flag To Girl Scouts

On Monday evening, Mar. 13, at 7:30 the Auxiliary Unit of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion will present an American flag to the girl scout troop of St. Aloysius school.

Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Americanism chairman for the unit, will make the presentation. The presentation service will take place in the St. Aloysius annex.

Pre-Dawn Fire Destroys Safety Tire Co.; Two Firemen Injured

FIRE DESTROYED THE SAFETY TIRE CO., 2288 Sullivant-av, early this morning. Capt. Frank Luckshaw, 217 N. Wheatland-av, left, No. 9 Fire House, Mill and W. Broad-st, and Lt. Joe Bushler, 233 S. Eureka-av, No. 10 Fire House, Glenwood and W. Broad-st, check the damage of the fire. The firemen confined the fire to the corner building which houses the tire company. Smoke and water caused little damage to Sharon's Market, 2284 Sullivant-av, and the Hilltop Wine Store, 2282 Sullivant-av. At 10:30 this morning firemen were still at the scene. They pumped three and one-half feet of water from the basement of the building.

Fight Blaze In Sub-Freezing Temperatures

Firemen battled a pre-dawn blaze in below freezing temperatures early Thursday morning that destroyed the Safety Tire Co., 2288 Sullivant-av.

Fireman Delbert Watkins was overcome with smoke in an attempt to find the night watchman, as yet unidentified, who was supposed to have been in the burning building. It was later learned that the man was staying at the Astor Hotel, according to Battalion Chief Charles Garrett, 358 S. Richardson-av.

"Our men risked their lives," Chief Garrett said, "looking for a man who hasn't, as we understand it, been on the job for four nights."

The first alarm went in at 4:24 a. m. and extra equipment was summoned by Capt. Tom Stringer, 267 Belvidere-av, of the 17th Co.

Water used in fighting the fire froze on the sidewalks, hampering the work of the firemen. Only two casualties were reported, however. Fireman Lawrence Smith was overcome by smoke and Fireman Delbert Watkins suffered smashed fingers.

Firemen confined the fire to the tire company although smoke and water damage was done to Sharon's Market to the east of the building.

James Turner, operator of the Tire Co., said that no estimate has been made of the damage.

Battalion Chief Glenn Barr, 734 S. Eureka-av, who directed the fire fighting, said that the cause of the fire has not been determined.

The probable cause of the fire, however, according to Chief Garrett, was an overheated tire vulcanizer or an overheated gas furnace.

Three pieces of fire equipment were still on duty at 9 a. m. Thursday and early morning traffic was routed around the area.

Frank Wallace, owner of Wallace's Market, 2285 Sullivant-av, served hot coffee to firemen while they fought the fire in near-zero weather from 4:24 a. m. until almost noon today.

Program Announced For West High Band Parents' Club Musical Variety Show

By Myron T. Seifert

The musical extravaganza of "rhyme, rhythm and song" sponsored by the West High Band Parents Club, and produced by instrumental music students of West High School, will be presented at the school auditorium on the evening of March 16 and 17.

More than 250 students will take part in the musical revue, and Director Barnard, after witnessing various performers, has come up with a "wealth of talent that borders on the professional."

The orchestra will open the program with three or four selections.

Always a favorite musical organization with the Hilltop, the Junior High band will play several lively marches, a rhumba, and a favorite familiar melody.

Highlighting the first part of the program will be the Senior High Band.

The galaxy of stars includes many notables among West High students in the entertainment field in Columbus.

Tom Heyl, who plays eight musical instruments, has had parts in previous shows at West pertaining to music in the last four years. He has helped to arrange the music for the show.

Pat Culbertson will bring to the show a different type of instrument, the vibraphone. Pat has been the West junior band majorette; she is also a twirler in the senior band.

Lois Neff, who held a lead in the operetta, "Bittersweet Anne", will sing "Some Day My Prince Will Come", taken from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Lois has appeared with many bands on radio and television.

Sue Hardy, Nina Bates and Louann Reeves will sing novelty

THESE TWO CAMP FIRE GIRLS were among those on the job last Saturday to award pedestrians and motorists' certificates for courteous performances on the streets. The girls are, left, Judith Budd, 10, 283 Wrexham-av, and Nancy Gaskill, 10, 224 N. Oakley-av. They are both members of the Wakako Camp Fire group, and students at the Highland Avenue School.

Local Students On O.S.U. Program

"Speech Night" at Ohio State University's Hagerty Hall at 7:30 p. m. last Wednesday featured the six top-ranking students in the beginning speech course of the winter quarter.

The speechmakers were selected in elimination contest, and included William Woolson, 211 N. Terrace-av, and Andrew J. Baxton, 183 N. Guilford-av. Ralph Bennett, former Hilltopper and West High graduate, was also on the program.

Taste Treats Added At Sparks-Kent

A new line of delicacies has been added by the Sparks-Kent Super Market the firm announced this week.

If you like choice evening or party snacks you may be interested in their new sweet preserved cauliflower, pork and barbecue sauce, light and dark wine vinegars, accent flavoring, spiced grapes, olives stuffed with anchovies and almonds, smoked sturgeon and numerous others.

Mrs. Daisy Hertlein Rites Friday

Mrs. Daisy Ellen Hertlein, 74, of 2042 McKinley-av, died Tuesday in St. Francis Hospital.

Surviving are her husband, George; daughter, Mrs. Florence Hickman; one grandchild; and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Hertlein and Mrs. Edna May Strange.

Friends may call at Wylie S. Shroyer funeral home, 1278 W. Broad-st, where services will be at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Hilliards Student Killed In Cycle Crash Tuesday

A farmer's 17-year-old son died early Wednesday after he was thrown from his motorbike in a collision with an auto.

The victim was Joseph Holbrook, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Holbrook of 3965 Roberts-rd.

The youth's bike collided head-on with an auto driven by a neighbor, Walter Hoffman, 19, near Hoffman's home at 4487 Roberts-rd, shortly before 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriffs Edward Beckman and William Maxey quoted Hoffman, a freshman at Ohio State University, as saying:

"I had turned from my driveway onto the highway. As I reached for the switch to turn on my lights, I saw the boy coming toward me. I was not able to stop in time to avoid the accident."

Deputies said the motorbike—also traveling without lights—was knocked 54 feet by the impact. Holbrook died at 4:40 a. m. Wednesday in Mt. Carmel Hospital from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

A companion also riding a motorbike, Fred Haveisen, 16, of Rome-Hilliard-rd, succeeded in avoiding the oncoming auto and escaped injury.

In addition to his parents, Holbrook, a sophomore at Hilliards High School, leaves four brothers, Wedsel, George, Johnny and Robert, and four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Houser, Mrs. Lue Verne Wells and Martha and Alkie.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday in Hayden Church of Christ, followed by burial in Wesley Chapel Cemetery. Friends may call at the Ferguson Funeral Home, Plain City, until time of services.

Legion Essay Winners Are Named Here

By Myron T. Seifert

Five West High students were honored at an assembly held in the school auditorium Thursday morning, when, by virtue of submitting prize winning essays in a contest sponsored by the Hilltop's Camp Chase Post No 98 of the American Legion, they were claimed top winners of West Side schools.

Topic for the essay contest was "The American Way—and How to Improve It."

Best essayists, announced by Commander Robert Daggett of Camp Chase Post, and the grades represented were Audry Smith, ninth grade; Carol Eckles, 10th grade; Nelson Carson and Gayle Hinton of the 11th grade; and Walter Gibson, 12th grade.

Students were presented by Commander Daggett with appropriate medals from the American Legion.

Awards were a surprise to the winning student scribes until the assembly program this morning. Parents, however, were notified last night and kept the announcement secret. Parents were in attendance at the assembly this morning.

New Beauty Shop Open On Hilltop

A new beauty shop, the Gregory Beauty Shop, 350 S. Ogden-av, has recently been opened on the Hilltop by Catherine Gregory.

The operator of the new shop has had 18 years experience as an operator and is a graduate of the Lillian Johnson Beauty School.

Miss Shirley Gamble, 20, of 13 Hawkes-av, suffered five cuts early Sunday when her auto went out of control and struck a utility pole in Livingston-av at Bulen-av, police reported. She was taken to St. Francis Hospital by fire department emergency squadmen.

Hilliards Y.F.A. Hears Talk On Farm Tractors

Mr. Christiansen, representative of Standard Oil Company, recently conducted a tractor maintenance discussion before the combined Young Farmers Association groups of Hilliards and Grove City. Approximately 50 young farmers met for this meeting which was held Monday, Feb. 20, at the Grove City school house.

Mr. Christiansen discussed and demonstrated with the use of models, the importance of lubrication in tractor maintenance. He also discussed the composition of the various lubricants stressing the importance of using the proper lubricant to fit the operating conditions. Fuels, carburetor adjustents, air and oil cleaners, and spark plugs were also included in this demonstration.

Refreshments were served after which the Hilliards Young Farmers' team defeated Grove City in a basketball game.

These combined meetings are held annually as a means of promoting closer association of the two communities.

See End Of Contract Dispute

A dispute over awarding of an electrical contract for the new Franklin County Children's Home is expected to be settled next Monday, when bids for the job will be opened again by county commissioners.

The question led to a heated argument last month because Westgate Electric Co., the low bidder, was not awarded the contract, because they employ non-union persons, commissioners said.

At that time, as a compromise, it was agreed to ask for new bids. These were advertised for the month required by law and will be received Monday.

C. Curtiss Inscho, architect for the new home, told county commissioners and members of the building commission, at a meeting Wednesday morning that only two of the original nine concerns had taken out bids.

He said that one of these was the Westgate Co., which had under bid all competitors more than $3000 the last time the bids were received. In addition, an out-of-town concern is expected also to bid, Inscho said.

To Show Movie On Wild Geese

Ben East

Ben East, field editor of Outdoor Life Magazine, will speak at the banquet on Saturday evening, March 18, in the Southern Hotel, where the annual convention of the Ohio Conservation Congress will be held. Banquet tickets are on sale by The Hilltop Sportsman's Club, Inc., 2700½ Sullivant-av.

Following a brief opening speech at the banquet, Mr. East will show color movies of the greatest gathering of wild geese on the North American continent. He will appear in Columbus at the courtesy of the Outdoor Life with his all-color motion picture, "Wo-Ho, a Story of the Geese Beyond the North Wind."

The movie is free and the public is invited.

East made two trips to the James Bay district of Northern Ontario to photograph the great fall migration of blue and snow geese from their polar nesting areas and to record the interesting methods by which the Cree Indians of James Bay hunt the migrating waterfowl as an important part of their winter food supply.

"There are few spectacles in the outdoors that stir the imagination of earthbound humans as do the spring and fall journeys of the wild geese," Mr. East commented. "We watch them drive their living spearheads across the sky, south in October, north in March. All who see and hear them wonder where they are bound, in what lonely marshes they will rest at nightfall, where their flight will finally end. Most of us feel a mysterious urge to go along."

THE ROAD WE KNEW

I walked along the orchard road,
I climbed our tilted hill—
And wondered at the ways we go
While places stand root-still.

Beyond, I saw the very star
You gave me for my own—
But waste no pity, faithless dear—
I did not go alone!

THE BATHER

Dusk walks her trail of turquoise light,
Slips off bright hues and, amber-nude,
Descends into the pool of night.

DESECRATION

The words I would have said were suddenly
As silent as a frosted field at night,
The arrows paused against the trembling bow
Before their shafts could taste the joy of flight.

Stillborn, the fount of anger in my soul,
Stillborn, the words that never would belong;
Could I defile, with bitter barbs of wrath,
The consecrated birthplace of a song?

Stejee Cane 'Makes Models' In New Fashion School

A young attractive Hilltop she "makes" models.

Stejee Cane, 315 Whitethorne-av, is director of the Mayfair Modeling School, 33 S. High-st. A professional model of several years experience herself, Stejee trains Columbus girls to be style-show and photographers' models.

The Mayfair School's course runs 12 weeks and costs about $50. During that period the girls are taught the art of all types of modeling in any sort of costume. The models are prepared for work for retail clothing and department stores, wholesale clothing firms, and photographers.

The course gives instruction on make-up, hair-styling and modeling techniques. Reducing exercises play an important role in the course.

"Models Are Made"

"Models are made." Stejee declares, "not born, and experienced supervision and lots of hard work are the two basic requirements."

Girls graduating from the school find there is a great demand for good photographic models. In the retail line, Columbus stores use models extensively during the two seasons from January to June, and from August to Thanksgiving.

Stejee is the wife of a student at Ohio State University.

Qualified Instructor

Mrs. Cane is well qualified to be a modeling instructor. She started her career in New York and modeled there for three years after completing a course at the Barbizon School. Her work included retail and wholesale modeling; free-lancing in fashion shows and millinery modeling.

Stejee came to Youngstown as fashion co-ordinator for a department store there. Another three years were spent in giving style shows, working on self-improvement courses, and training models.

Models from her school are appearing in the spring issue of Brides Magazine, House and Garden, and House Beautiful.

One for the Budget

By Betty Barclay

HERE is a quickie for one of your meatless Lenten menus. It uses wonderful pre-cooked rice, and if you haven't tried it yet, you're missing something. It is a time-saver of the first water, but will make up into a baked rice-and-cheese dish you can be proud to serve, especially if you add vegetables to the rice mixture before baking. This is one for your file of budget-balancers, too.

Baked Rice with Cheese

1 package (1¾ cups) pre-cooked rice; ¾ teaspoon salt; 2¾ cups milk; 2 cups grated sharp cheese; dash of pepper; 2 tablespoons melted butter; ¾ cup fine soft bread crumbs.

Combine pre-cooked rice, salt, and milk in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir.) Add cheese and pepper.

Turn into greased 1-quart baking dish. Mix butter and bread crumbs together and sprinkle over rice mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until crumbs are golden brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: If desired, 1 cup drained cooked peas and diced cooked carrots or other diced cooked vegetable may be added to rice mixture before baking.

Wife Preservers

Laundry bleach will whiten kitchen sinks. Pour on wet porcelain, then rinse well.

Cub Pack 43 Celebrates Birthday

Cub Pack 43 of John Burroughs School held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the school with parents of the cubs attending. Two new dens, eight and nine, formerly of Pack 37, were added to Pack 43.

Awards were made to the scouts and the den's seventh birthday was celebrated. A charter was presented to the president of the John Burroughs PTA by Elmer Hegenberger, who, in turn, presented it to the cubmaster.

The Wearin' Of The Green

By Betty Barclay

YOUR St. Patrick's Day party table will undoubtedly be wearing green—whether you use formal linens and floral arrangements, or just a gay paper tablecloth and napkins; whether you plan an elaborate supper, or just sandwiches, dessert, and coffee. In any case, do serve little Shamrock Cakes. Cut out of a large sheet cake and frosted in green, they are no trick at all, yet how festive! Here are the easy-to-follow frosting directions: Cream well ½ cup butter. Add ½ teaspoon salt, then 3½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and enough top milk to give a spreading consistency (about 2 tablespoons). Tint with a few drops of green vegetable coloring and blend. Makes 2⅔ cups.

Shamrock Cakes

2½ cups sifted cake flour; 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ cup butter or other shortening; 1½ cups sugar; ¾ cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; fold in egg whites quickly and thoroughly. Bake in greased pan, 12½ x 7½ x 2 inches, in moderate oven (375° F.) 40 minutes; or in two greased pans, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cut in shamrock shapes with knife and frost each with green tinted frosting.

West Teacher's Wallet Returned By Honest Man

By Myron T. Seifert

Page Diogenes! Or so thinks Clarence Bateman, West High industrial arts teacher, who last week was reminded of the old bearded philosopher with the lamp, searching for an honest man.

Bateman, who is an ardent sports enthusiast, accompanied one of his friends to see an A. A. U. basketball game, Feb. 28, at the K. of C. auditorium where his friend's son was a participant.

Growing thirsty at one point in the game, Bateman repaired to the soft drink concession where he purchased a "coke". Replacing his pocketbook in his hip pocket, he returned to the bleachers, the spot where the wallet and its contents were later discovered.

Missed on Monday morning, before he started for school from his home, Bateman had no idea what might have happened to the wallet.

During the same day he received a telephone call at the school from a Hamilton Township farmer, that his purse had been found.

Asked for further identification, Bateman immediately responded that a western longhorn insignia was engraved on the leather pocketbook.

The purse contained money and valuable personal papers, and a gold nugget which Bateman had found on a summer excursion in Maine, where he had done some prospecting for gold.

This week Mr. Bateman met Charles Hann, 24, son of R. C. Hann of Hamilton Township, who refused to accept a reward for his honesty.

All was found intact, Mr. Bateman said.

Wonder Teams of West High School Won League Championships Back In '19-20-21

By Myron T. Seifert

West High basketball has undergone many changes in the last several decades, and looking back over its 41-year history basketball looms large in the annals of the Powell-av school. Turning back the pages is a series of stories dealing with the early years of the West High basketball, as reported in the school publication, The Occident.

West High Basketball Champs for 1918

Starting with a green squad, Captain Kurtzhalx being the only veteran, West High startled the league by winning the pennant with a rush. Twelve victories and no defeats tell the story of a wild drive for glory and from the time they went over the top until the last whistle sounded the armistice, no league team was able to make them even pause.

In the first place they were "shooting demons". Magly at forward led the league, while his mate, "Sleepy Bill" Krause, stayed awake long enough to run a close third. Carmichael at center, being a canny Scotchman, allowed his opponents a most meager number of buckets, while he himself burst forth occasionally in a startling manner and grabbed off quite a few. Captain "Kurty" was easily the best guard in the league, his floor work being the sensation of the season. Gray and Charles alternated at the other guard with equally deadly effect, while Palmer relieved Carmichael and Krause in fine style.

It was always a joy to watch this basketeering gang on the floor. When they got hold of the ball they took it places, and generally it ended up by rolling through the hoop. On foul shooting Magly was a wizard, which also helped. The whole team guarded beautifully and always went in after the ball as if it were worth a million dollars.

The ability of the bunch as a whole is proved by the fact that Magly and Kurtzhalx made the All High first team, Carmichael and Krause made the second and Gray and Charles received honorable mention. Some record! Down at Dayton, Steele High rooters who saw West perform will never forget it. Five times in the last half Steele was ahead, but in the last 10 seconds of play Magly dropped in the winning bucket and the state champs of 1918 walked off the floor defeated. Four times during that game Kurty dribbled the ball the entire length of the floor and scored. Oh boy, it was a game!

West's Wonder Team—1920

The very best team that West High or any other school in Columbus ever developed in this sport—an aggregation that will be remembered for many years by all Buff and Brown rooters.

To give in detail a history of their great playing, to draw a picture of every victory would fill a volume. Suffice it to say that they won the championship of Columbus, defeated Athens, the champions of southeastern Ohio, on their own floor and in the great state tournament at Delaware, they battled the strongest teams successfully until defeated by Dayton Stivers in the final game, when their condition of exhaustion was such that not even supermen could have fought longer.

The personnel of the team was remarkable. Each man was an excellent shot, all were fast and they had played together for three years. All had football experience and physical contact had no terror for them. When they got the ball they took it places through all opposition and their fighting spirit against odds is about the best we ever witnessed.

Austin Magly at forward not only finished third as high scorer in the league but was unanimously chosen All-High forward and was additionally honored by being made captain of that mythical quintet because of his consistent, unselfish playing and his courage in crises. Leading the league last year he was naturally closely watched, but playing a semi-guarding game he threw his opponents off their guard and breezed home with 112 points.

Palmer at center was just three points ahead of Magly at the finish. In fact, he led the league during the entire season, being slowed in the final games by sickness which permitted Shell of the School of Commerce to finish first. He, too, was unanimously chosen for the All-High team, having probably the best form of any player in the league.

Krause at forward finished sixth in the scoring and played a steady game throughout the season. He was especially effective in out-of-town games showing his best work at the state tournament. His playing there was very fine. He also made our All-High forward and next year should be the big man in the league. He is the only player who returns.

Gray and Kurtzhalx as guards showed the world a perfection of team play that was spectacular to watch and quite startling in its efficiency. Aided by Magly, their work was flawless. Gray, who protected our basket, worked so smoothly that it was rare indeed when a bucket was slipped over, while Kurtzhalx ran the floor at will, scoring often and feeding the ball to Palmer and the forwards in the most approved fashion. As Captain he led his team with courage and decision, sparing himself not at all. As he was the best fullback West High has ever had so does he lead all floor guards. Naturally he made the local All-High team, but the state tournament showed his real worth and he was made an All-Ohio guard, an honor never before received by any Columbus player.

Charles, playing both forward and guard, filled the breaks in the ranks. Probably the most accurate shot on the team, he starred in every game he played. At Dayton as a forward he played wonderful ball and at Delaware a thousand people will testify that he dropped the basket in the overtime period that won the Steele High game. Clark, subbing at guard, played well when called upon, especially at Dayton. His work was always steady and only the exceptional ability of the regulars kept him from showing oftener.

Basketball, 1921

For the third consecutive time West took the basketball championship and automatically became the permanent possessors of the big Bates cup.

Starting with Krause and Captain Palmer as a nucleus, the team gradually rounded into shape and when the season was two-thirds over there was no doubt but that they were the class of the league.

Coming under the wire neck and neck with North, it was necessary to play off the tie in a post season game and three thousand people saw West play her best game of the year, when she humbled North on the State gym floor, 23 to 16.

Then came the Ohio State Invitational Tournament, in which Xenia ruined all our hopes for further honors.

Individually, the Brown and Buff players were hard to beat. Palmer as center made the All-High team and the second team in the Ohio tournament. Bill Krause was by long odds the best forward in the City League, and to our mind one of the best in the tournament.

McFadden and Donley, alternating at the other forward, were fast and accurate and were largely responsible for the low scores of our opponents. As floor guards Moss and Brady performed in excellent style and next year Brady should be in a class by himself. Bigler, as the loafing guard, made All-High easily, and developed into one of the best men ever turned out at West. Lorenz, Wehr and Klein proved capable reserve and should help next year's team become one of the greatest in our history.

A description of the championship game follows:

WEST RUNS ROUGH SHOD OVER NORTH IN TITULAR CONTEST

Hilltoppers, Led by Krause With Seven Baskets, Win High School Championship by a Score of 23 to 16—Capacity Crowd Sees the Game, Played at State Gym

Before a capacity crowd at the Ohio State University gymnasium West copped the championship of the local "Hi" League by winning the titular post-season clash from the North High quintet by a score of 23 to 16.

Despite the fact that the score was much in West's favor, the game was fast and held the interest of the crowd until the final whistle. Krause was the outstanding star of the game. West is now the permanent possessor of the "Bates Loving Cup," which was to be awarded to the winner of three consecutive years of high school basketball.

North started off by caging two field goals and a foul. West, by clever floor work and shooting, forged ahead of Coach Spangler's quintet and the first half ended with West on the long end of a 14 to 10 score.

Both teams started the second half with a decided determination to win. The accurate pass work of the West Siders proved too much for the North team, while their defensive work held Spangler's proteges to one lone field goal in the second half.

Krause's wonderful ability to score seven buckets on "Curly" Winn, the star guard of the league, combined with his floor work, won him a spot in the heart of every West supporter. The steady guarding of Bigler and Brady of the Brown and Buff broke up North's highly-touted offense.

With two North men on "Hokey" Palmer, the West captain, constantly, he was unable to show his real ability, but nevertheless played a steady game, caging two baskets and one foul.

The game was a thriller from start to finish, and the crowd was in a continuous uproar.

Between halves an amusing boxing match was staged by two North athletes. Their monikers were "Kid" Flypaper and "Kid" Wallpaper. "Kid" Flypaper won the decision, and was very much "stuck" up about it.

CAPTAINS AND MANAGERS of the class teams which will participate in the West High girls' basketball tournament on Friday, Mar. 10, at 7:30 p. m., are (first row) Managers Shirley Mercer, Janet Roller and Carole Trapp; (second row) Captains Marcine Parker, Bobbie Graves and Betty Roederer.

The event, which will be held in the West High gym, is sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association. Admission price is 25c. Tickets may be obtained from GAA members, in front of the cafeteria during lunch periods, and at the door on Friday night.

Jim Seagle To Direct Youth Program At Apostolic Church

Jim Seagle, 78 S. Richardson-av, who recently became a member of the Apostolic Gospel Church, 1074 W. Broad-st, has been appointed their director of youth activities.

Jim has started right to work. He knows and likes boys and girls. He has taught hundreds of West Side youth swimming and life saving, and has also taught first aid and life saving under the Red Cross program.

Jim teaches the junior high group first aid on Wednesday nights, 7:30 to 9:30. On Friday nights, young people 15 to 25 gather in the youth center for a time of devotion, education and recreation. Jim has arranged to show educational pictures and ones on vocational guidance for young people.

This Friday night, Mar. 10, Dave Randall, coach at West High School, will be on hand to speak to the young people.

Jim Seagle believes "an idle mind is the Devil's workshop." He thinks young people get into trouble because no one has taken time to plan anything more interesting for them to do. He says that young people must pass through the "gang stage", but if home, church, and community combine together, real Christian character can be developed in our youth of today.

Theaters

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio, starting Saturday, Mar. 11, is showing, through Friday, Mar. 17, the gay Technicolor musical romance, "Nancy Goes To Rio", starring Jane Powell, Ann Sothern, Carmen Miranda and Barry Sullivan. "Nancy" is showing as a single feature.

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad is now showing as a single feature the Cecil B. De Mille Technicolor spectacle, "Samson and Delilah", starring Hedy Lamarr and Victor Mature as the Biblical lovers. This is the first central Ohio showing of this latest of De Mille's triumphs.

Seifert To Address County Historical Society March 24

Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate, vice-president of the Franklin County Historical Society, teacher at West High School, widely known chronicler of Ohio (particularly Columbus and Franklin County) historical data and legend, will be the speaker at the March 24 meeting of the Franklin County Historical Society meeting to be held at the Ohio State Museum.

A hobby, which he has pursued for the past quarter of a century, is based largely on sources elecited from newspaper accounts.

Seifert will divulge many heretofore unpublished stories since the original accounts in his talks before the local historical group. His talk will involve "Stories of Franklin County in the Local Press."

With a reservoir of information, embracing practically important, and even unimportant event that has transpired in the annals of local history, Seifert has chronicled hundreds of thousands of anecdotes and stories. His research has been used in a wide variety of ways.

At present he is engaged to provide the bulk of copy for the special Lancaster and Fairfield County Sesqui-centennial edition of the Lancaster Eagle-Gazette scheduled to appear June 3. Comprising several hundred pages it will be the largest special edition ever published in Lancaster and one of the few of such magnitude ever produced in the United States. The edition will weigh five pounds and will contain a liberal contribution from Seifert's files.

Newspapers are the historian's surest and most eternal source of information," Seifert avers. "The living event is forever gone, but the newspaper is evidence that life was there. The contemporary account of events — its time and place—transcribed in the press, brings to light the color, language, customs and atmosphere of that day," Seifert says.

"It is a panorama of history. For the student it provides documentary information, which may be used in a variety of ways; for the teacher, especially of social sciences, it is a source of enriching the subject-matter presented; and for the casual reader it provides leisurely, carefree reading—fascinating, unusual, even perhaps naive and amusing," Seifert adds.

Inexpedient to cart the multitudinous stories assembled through the years the speaker at the Franklin County Historical Society meeting in March will select many of his stories for their human interest. Members or friends of the society, who wish to hear about any special interest at the meeting are advised to call Mr. Seifert at Ra. 7271 prior to the meeting hour and he will try to oblige by resorting to his files for the requested information.

Not Guilty Plea In Seiller's Robbery Attempt Feb. 10

Joseph Ferrello, 35; felled by a police bullet in a Hilltop burglary Feb. 10, pleaded not-guilty in municipal court Wednesday to attempted burglary and is held under $1000 bond.

Ferrello was shot by Patrolman David Siegle as he and two companions attempted to break into Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st. Ferrello was brought to city prison Monday from Mt. Carmel Hospital.

At the time of the shooting Ferrello, also known as Joseph Ferrell, said he was from Cleveland, but Wednesday he said he was passing through Columbus heading for a former Kansas home, when the burglary attempt occurred.

Cubs of Den 4 Attend Party

Mrs. John Yore entertained Den 4 of Hilliards Cub Scouts with a buffet supper. This meeting was the end of Mrs. Yore's duties as den mother for the year. She received as a gift from the cubs a box of stationery and an artificial orchid center piece.

During the evening Mr. Yore taught picture developing to the boys. Those present were, host, John Yore, hostess, Mrs. Yore, Den 4 members Gene Yore, Robert Windle, Roger Cramer, Perry Ball, Donald Skaggs, James Skaggs, George Campbell, Gary Lee Morgan, two new cubs, Victor Stewart and Charles Lippert. James Shaw, acting den chief, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Skaggs and Donna Lee. Little Joe Yore shared his fifth birthday cake with the cubs.

Do your shopping on the Hilltop and conserve your time, energy and money. Hilltop merchants can supply every type of merchandise and service.

West High School Drama Students Visit WOSU

West High dramatic students visited the Ohio State University radio station, recently, and learned first hand many of the techniques employed to make broadcasting more effective.

Dramatic students observed many "stages" necessary to the production of successful radio broadcasts. All agreed that the trip was a profitable one.

Those attending from the Hilltop schools were: Chuck Leibensperger, Dick Briggs, Barbara Loechler, Barbara Cass, Carol Rickert, Joe Pettiti, Lee Love, Tom Myers, Howard Merriman, Dave Lockwood, Onda McPherson, Al Shade, Sheila Pugh, John Merservey, Doris Thomas, Bill Hinkle, and Tom Sunker.

Employment Cen. Opens Monday At New Site

The Columbus Ohio State Employment Center will open for business Monday, March 13, at its new address, 875 N. High-st.

The new location, with modern facilities and slightly larger space, will provide for better reception and service to job applicants, employers, claimants and the community.

The same services will be offered including registering for claims, counseling, labor market information, college placement and interviewing for professional, executive clerical, sales, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled jobs.

For convenience, the office telephone remains the same, Main 5361. The usual business hours of 8 to 5, will be observed, and until noon on Saturday.

West Inaugurates Honor System in Study Rooms

By Myron T. Seifert

The honor study system was inaugurated last week at West Senior High School, enabling students who can qualify, to study in rooms at the school without the constant vigil of a study hall teacher.

Admittance is gained to the study hall via a written pledge which reads: "I hereby apply for admission to an honor study room and thereby accept a personal responsibility to maintain honor study room standards."

Two class teachers and two study teachers must likewise sponsor the student's good name.

GLENWOOD REC. NEWS

The newest addition to the activities at Glenwood is a girls' chorus which is being organized. If you are interested in singing in a choir anr you are 15, 16 or 17 years old, call Pat Matthews at Rt. 7416 or Jo. 3998.

Joe Denbow, resident of the Hilltop and choir director in a local church, will be the choir master. The choir will perform for civic affairs and will probably perform on radio and television. Rehearsals will be held at Glenwood Recreation Center Tuesday evenings at 7. First rehearsal is Tuesday, Mar. 7. The choir is open only to girls at the present.

Warner Says New Capitol Center Would Cost $100 Million, Take 20 Years To Build

The idea of a new state house on the Hilltop is making gains. The plan of constructing a new state capitol building where the State Hospital now stands, proposed by David C. Warner of New Rome, is becoming more popular.

Warner, 77, a pioneer for conservation of natural resources in Ohio for nearly 50 years, is now water conservation consultant to the newly-organized natural resources department of the state government.

His idea is to move the State Hospital to the country, which he believes would be better for the patients, and construct the new state house on the top of the hill. He would have a wide mall and park in the lower section of the area, where the farmland is now, with department buildings to house offices of state services.

Officials Consider Plan

Warner has submitted his plan to several county and state officials, including Governor Lausche. A source close to the Governor has said the state's chief executive is not yet ready to make a statement on the plan. This same source said that he, himself, liked the idea.

State Senator Roscoe Walcutt and Grover Clements, director of the Franklin County Planning Commission, both Republicans, have been consulted by Warner on his plan. Clements' comments on the plan are:

"Ideas like Warner's are always valuable. We need them in making plans for the future."

Senator Walcutt reserved comment on the idea until "I have more time to study it." Walcutt contacted today, said he had just talked with Warner about the plan, and that Warner had given him a brochure on the idea which he wanted to study thoroughly.

Warner tells in his own words

about his idea:

"The departments of state government should each have a departmental building, properly built according to the needs of each separate department. These departmental buildings should be grouped about the state capitol, in a space large enough to permit easy and rapid access with transportation and parking facilities adequate for future growth. Such a Capitol Center should be landscaped in the center of a Capitol Park, which would lend dignity and beauty to the community as becoming the capital of the great state of Ohio.

Where can we find such a location, big enough and capable of transformation into such an ideal picture near the center of the state?

State Has Land

The state already owns the large tract of land where such a development can be located. The ideal site has been preserved throughout the past years, being occupied by another state institution that should be moved out into the country, away from the congested city environments and detrimental influences, namely: the Feeble Minded Institute and surrounding grounds.

The state house can be built on the hill facing a wide boulevard that would follow the line of Town-st. The department buildings can be grouped around the state capitol with plenty of space for future expansion and auto parking space.

The present capitol was built by our forefathers as their ideal for the future of Ohio, with saddle horse stables under the building for riding horses for the accommodation of the members of the general assembly and state employees.

"A look into the future for a new state capitol center at Columbus must take into consideration a location that meets many conditions. The present location and buildings are handicapped by surrounding congestion of business and transportation.

The capitol building is a Doric classic and a century old historic monument, that should be preserved as a museum for generations to come as part of the political history of Ohio.

"When such a plan is developed, then W. Broad-st will become an access boulevard on the north side of the capitol center, with Sullivant-ave transformed into a boulevard on the south side of Capitol Center Park, and with Central-av rebuilt into a boulevard along the east side of the Capitol Park. All of the present private properties should be cleared out to complete and square up the capitol grounds as a whole for the future. I refer to the properties on Central and Sullivant-aves that are now located next to the institution grounds, which would have to be acquired to complete the symmetrical setting for the future planning for the coming generations 100 years from now.

"To think into the future just a little, will be less expensive than the conditions that we of this generation have inherited.

"The idea of extending Town-st on the west from its dead end and so as to perfect the picture perspective of terminating at the front of a modern capitol.

"Such a wide boulevard or mall should start at the Scioto River and continue westward toward the capitol with a Y at the capitol so as to connect with the boulevards on the north and south sides of the Capitol Park.

"Ohio now owns the suggested location for new capitol center and also the large farm at Orient, where the present inmates can be permanently established. After the present buildings are vacated and new buildings are being planned and constructed, then many of the state agencies that are occupying expensive rented quarters, could move temporarily into several of the present buildings now used by the institution.

The development of such a monumental plan for a new capitol center for Columbus will be the product of many thinkers, planners, engineers, architects, scientists, landscape engineers, traffic experts and men of vision from all walks of life."

West Student Lauded For Vice Design

By Myron T. Seifert

Harry Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hubbard, 3043 Olive-st, and junior at West High School, was one of three boys in Columbus lauded for his drawing achievements at the State Industrial Arts Convention held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel last week.

Drawings from practically every important city in the state were on exhibition at the meeting.

Hubbard's subject for his design was the "Universal Milling Machine Vice." He devoted approximately six weeks to the project.

Office Practice Field Trip

On March 2, the office practice class of Hilliards High School took a field trip to the Farm Bureau and to the Motorists Mutual Insurance Co. to observe the different types of office machines that they will be required to use later in the year. The class instructor is Miss Mildred Mitchell.

Bob Maxwell, Hilltop Record circulation manager, says he has seven reasons why everyone should subscribe to the Record. They are pictured above. In the back row are David, Bob and Mrs. Maxwell, Kathy and Robert. Maxwells in the front row are Billy, Tommy, Dwight and Margie. David and Robert both are Record carriers. David and Robert both are Record carriers. David has saved $25 and Robert $66 from their route earnings.

Dramatics Class Presents Hilliards Variety Assembly

On March 1, the Junior Dramatics class gave a 45-minute assembly, entitled "Just What the Doctor Ordered." The play portrayed an ugly teen-ager who was considered dateless, but ended up with the whole football team for an escort to a Thanksgiving ball.

The leading characters were Bill Boden and Gail DeWolfe. The play was under direction of Mrs. John Sheehan. Also on the program was a tap-dance by Margie Wagner and Nancy Gheil.

Wanda Sherwood played an accordion solo, and Dave Warner did a pantomime of Spike Jones' "Dance of the Hours." Barbara Summers sang a solo, "When I Grow too Old to Dream", and Patty Hart played "Narcissus" on the piano.

HILLIARDS TEACHERS ELECT

On Thursday evening, Mar. 2, the teachers of Hilliards High School elected officers for Norwhich Local School Association. Those elected were: president, Clarence Hune; vice-president, Paul Kindinger; secretary, Miss Ellen Traftzer and delegate to Franklin County teachers meeting is Vincete De Felice.

TO GIVE PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. John Beall, 274 S. Sylvan-av, will present Donald Dostic and Marilyn Judson, piano students, in the cooperative recital of the Columbus Music Teachers' Association, which will be held at the Gallery of Fine Arts Thursday evening, Mar. 9, at 8 o'clock.

Letters to Editor

Contest Editor,
Hilltop Record:

I think at this time that it is only proper and fitting for me to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to those who made it possible for the wonderful five weeks contest that has just been concluded.

To the entire staff of The Hilltop Record, the sponsoring merchants who so willingly cooperated to make this contest a success and everyone else connected, I extend my heartiest thanks.

The beautiful nationally advertised prizes offered each week are well worth the effort put forth to try and win and I'm sure that all contestants whether they won a prize or not will vouch that they had lots of fun and enjoyment with the contest.

To Mrs. John Graham I extend my heartfelt regrets that she couldn't have won a television set also for she really put up a grand battle all the way. Here's the greatest of luck to her next time.

I want to thank the judges for awarding me three weekly prizes and above all for selecting my entry as the winner of the grand prize. The work put forth on my last entry was the fulfillment of a dream come true.

Again I wish to say good luck and continued success to The Hilltop Record and its entire staff.

Dade Barnhill
130 N. Terrace Ave.

The Hilltop Record
Contest Editor
Dear Sir:

I wish to express my thanks to the Record and the sponsors of your recent crossword puzzle contest for the prizes awarded me. I enjoyed the contests and I do appreciate the prizes very much.

Very truly yours,

Galloway

By Mrs. Eva Ramey

A surprise birthday party was given for Virginia Ann Ramey Saturday evening at the Galloway Town Hall. There were around 36 young people there. They played games, danced and Virginia received a lot of nice presents.

Our sympathy goes to the Conleys and Cochran families for the loss of their father, Eli Conley of Harrisburg.

The Ramey, Arganbright and Wright families are enjoying new television sets.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stone and family of Grove City spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ramey.

Virginia Ramey spent Saturday with Donna Ward of Georgeville.

Roving Photographer

Residents of Joan Heights—the community bordering the Hilltop on the northwest are now well on their way to getting city-supplied water. This week the Roving Photographer asked some of these residents what project they want after they get water.

Harry Trieb, 344 N. Southampton-av, retired: "I'm for sanitary sewers, first, but we also badly need storm sewers out this way. When there is a heavy rain, we really have a flood. This winter we had several rains that brought three and four feet of water in our yard. I think that if the township would clean out and enlarge the open ditch across the street, the water that comes from the field would drain off, and not come into our yards. That would be a temporary measure that might solve the problem until we can get sanitary and storm sewers."

Mrs. Elmer Mason, 361 N. Algonquin-av, housewife: "Some people out here want sanitary sewers and others want storm sewers. Of course, right now we are concentrating on getting water supplied out here. But after that we need sanitary sewers the most. With all the outside toilets in this community, conditions are not sanitary here. All the rain that we've had this winter has filled the wells and toilets with water."

Bill Wolfe, 336 N. Sylvan-av, claims adjustor: "I am interested in getting storm sewers—as a private matter. I have a personal problem, because I have the lowest lot on this street and the water, when there is a heavy rain, backs up here and floods my yard. I do, however, think sanitary sewers would help the most people. The lack of sanitary sewers create a health problem more than anything else."

Mrs. Don Neal, 367 N. Sylvan-av, housewife: "I think we should have sanitary sewers, rather than storm sewers. They would benefit the people 365 days a year, whereas storm sewers would serve us just a few days out of a year. We know that the sanitary sewers will cost more money than the water service will, but we are willing to pay. In this community there are 75 families—about 300 people—in the county, and 20 families in the city that use outside toilets. That is a menace to sanitation."

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN

THERE was a rustle behind the swinging door that led to the kitchen. Mrs. Crane poked her head in. "Mr. Coomes, you want supper now—just the same?"

She must have heard it all, Marvell thought. It doesn't matter. He picked up the glass and the bottle. "one for me. Call Miss Kit when it's ready." He groped his way in the half-dark to the living room. It doesn't matter, he kept repeating, don't let it matter. He lit the lamp, and the geraniums on the window sill leaped into color. He poured himself a drink and sat down heavily in a rocking chair. The room with its tidies, its plants and white curtained windows was comforting. He raised his glass and set it down without drinking. The smell gagged him. He rocked in silence. Here was a room to which he was almost a stranger. Why, then, did it make him feel so much at home?

The pattern was familiar. Then he remembered—it was like his mother's house in Castine. That was where he had first seen pink geraniums and dotted muslin curtains. We should have gone down there, he thought, nothing could have happened to us there. He tried to recall when his mother had died. A couple of years after Kit had been born, perhaps. It seemed a long, long time ago. Elizabeth and he had gone down for two days. His mother had liked Elizabeth. That was one way he had pleased her. He was trying hard to shut out the sound of Kit's words. They couldn't touch him if he didn't remember. "I've known three women," he spoke softly, "glorious women, all of them. Jane, Elizabeth, Katherine. And they all had to stand up to me in their own way." There was Nedda, he thought, she stood up to me, too. But I did right by sending her away. She'd never come back now—because she was selling everything. Even the house. The orchards to Furse. And he had written her on Furse's behalf! The raw spot opened again. Well, he had lost, that was all. He knew that now. He could not sway Kit. It was not rebellion-ness in her, that he could have fought. It was a belief in herself, a loyalty, he had never experienced. "I've got to go in and face her in a moment, I can't lose her, no matter what else. But I don't know what to say, how to begin . . ." He closed his eyes and drew a long breath. If only he could get away from the noise—the big tick of the clock, the heavy beat of his heart, the unexpected ringing of the telephone. Then he heard Kit calling him. "Marvell, Uncle Ben is on the phone from Boston."

Kit had built up the fire in the study. She had drawn up a table and set two supper trays. The pungent smell of strong coffee filled the room. She walked around the trunk, which dwarfed the room much as the heaviness in her heart made her feel little and mean.

When Marvell came in, he asked, "Did you speak with Ben?"

"No, Mrs. Crane said he wanted you."

"Proctor died yesterday. He wanted to tell me the funeral is tomorrow."

"Oh, I am sorry!" There was no picture of Uncle Proctor in her mind. All she could see was Aunt Emily, soft and pink-faced, in a long black dress. But even that faint outline was erased when she looked at Marvell. He looked so subdued, so tamed.

"So we're going to have supper here together. That's good—it's friendlier," There was an apologetic note in his voice, as if he were almost ashamed to speak, that reminded her painfully of the Christmas party when he had opened the empty red box. If only he'd never been hurt, she thought, if only I'd never had to hurt him!

"Before Ben called," said Marvell, making a pretense of eating. "I was rummaging around the past. But I wasn't thinking of Proctor. He always seemed very present to me. I was thinking, Kit, about Castine. You remember we went down there once and saw the outside of the house, at any rate. And about my mother. You'd have liked her, I think. You've got some of her looks. But maybe that's just because I like to think we are all part of one another."

"But we are!" cried Kit eagerly.

"Well, she wanted me to be a minister. I don't know as I ever told you about that. She started me out as a shaver, learning those fifteen psalms I know, and the Sermon on the Mount. She even trudged me up Mars Hill. Father was against such nonsense, and we didn't have much money, but she never gave in, not even after I'd been apprenticed to old Brown, the plumber after Father died. She'd saved enough to send me to Theological School, somewhere in Maine—hard-shelled Baptist probably. The Bible was the Bible just the same, she said, and she bought me a trunk."

For the first time Kit smiled on hers.

"Tin," he chuckled, "about as big as a suitcase. And you know what I did? I took her money and beat it off to Cornell, carrying the trunk by the handle, and spent most of my cash for fare. I wanted to get into the Engineering School. I stayed three weeks, till I had fifty cents and a lot of jobs that promised to pay, but not soon enough, so I walked back."

It will all come back to him, she thought, that's what happens when someone you've known dies. All your life comes back, and that's easier.

"I became a licensed plumber right there in Castine."

"Did your—did grandmother mind much?"

"She didn't say. But she kept right after me to save enough to get up to Boston and into a drafting office. Once she had seen what I had to do, she made me do the most with it. I'd have made a terrible minister, but I learned a lot of the Bible and it's come in handy. Once I even laid down its law to Furse."

At the mention of his name, Kit gave a little sigh.

He pushed aside the tray and began to walk up and down the room, still hemmed in by the trunk. "I wouldn't have done it any other way," he went on, almost in defiance. "Now you're doing the same thing, and that's the way I want it. You'll have to forget what I said first, just as I will."

The tight weight on her heart lifted. She flew at him and he looked first at the trunk and then back at her. He bent down and kissed her.

"I went through it all again tonight," he said. "Golly, it was real, but I can't quite make it real that Proctor . . ."

She knew she had lived more in his thoughts with Proctor than he would ever admit. If I could make him talk about it, she thought, like this!

"I'm going to that funeral by heaven," he said.

"I'll go with you."

He frowned. "I'd rather — go alone. Do you mind? It's not at the house, you see, it won't mean anything to you . . ."

"All right, I'll drive you down to the station when you say."

"Just after lunch. It's at two-thirty. Proctor and I kind of finished neck and neck."

For a moment she looked hurt. He couldn't expect her to understand. "Don't worry, Kit, I'll come back. Tell you what, you and Furse can meet the six o'clock."

"Andrew?" she flushed with pleasure.

He wondered how long it would be before he got used to that name.

Marvell arrived at the funeral home early; from it baronial style, he guessed it had been the former residence of a brewer, but the small chapel to which he was directed was simple enough—hung with gray velvet, with no trappings of any kind except a lectern, two large pots of greenery and about two dozen portable chairs. This was probably the one and only occasion, he reflected, when Emily had not given in to Proctor's choice of a suitable room for a reception. At home she had always stumped for her French sitting-room, Proctor for the chilly drawing room on the second floor. In the end, the guests had marched up a flight of stairs and kept on their wraps. There was only a few people in the room. Marvell did not recognize any of them. He hoped he hadn't wandered into some private corner of meditation. But as he walked to a rear seat on the center aisle, he caught sight of the gray, flowerless casket at the far end. He was struck with a sharp disappointment. It was no longer a symbol, it was already a memorial. What had he expected, he asked himself. Nothing. To have waited so long for nothing. He knew all there was of loneliness now. The beginning, the middle and the dry, empty course to the end.

As the room began to fill up, he saw Abbot, who had grown heavier. Like most of the others, who were either friends or associates, he looked depressed, resigned to the contemporarity of death. I hope Proctor's with a fiveller crowd by now, Marvell thought. He discreetly craned his neck to pick out Emily. When he saw Ben and Fanny, he suppressed a desire to wave to them. Emily would probably slip in at the last. Then the gray velvet curtains parted and the minister lifted his voice in prayer. The words that followed left Marvell unsatisfied. He could identify the quotations as they fell—Job, Ecclesiastes, Corinthians — the strong bold variations of an eternal theme modified by the impersonal sympathy of the speaker. What does it mean to me? asked Marvell humbly.

The "I" had gone out of Proctor. The "I" that had known hate and fear, responsibility and frustration, shyness and brotherly love —for Elizabeth, at any rate. And the "I" is going out of me, too, he thought. The "I" who couldn't stand up to restraint, who could not face rebuke. I was as arrogant as he ever was and more—with Ben and Nedda, yes, and Furse. Maybe not with Kit. Maybe. He remembered Kit's words with a pain greater than grief or loneliness. "You're pushing me forward to take the place you should have had. I can't do it. You have to do it yourself." He knew, then, there was another "I" somewhere, what he started out with, what he had yet to find, or both. Had Proctor finally learned that? I wish to God we could have acknowledged the fact to each other, that's all.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Common Pleas Court, Franklin County, Ohio.

No. 177960 — Homer H. Langrehr, Plaintiff, vs. Dorothy Tom Frazier, et al., Defendants.

Dorothy Tom Frazier, Frank Frazier (husband of Dorothy Tom Frazier), 1308 Chapel Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Mrs. Betty J. Tom, if any, 6760 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Fred A. Tom, 6760 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Marguerite Tom (wife of Fred A. Tom), 6760 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois, all of whose respective places of residence last known to said plaintiff are unindicated above, are hereby notified that on the 16th day of November, 1949 Homer W. Langrehr filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio, in cause No. 177960 against them as defendants, allowing that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession of said real estate described as follows:

Situated in the County of Franklin, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Franklin: Being in Survey No. 1579, Virginia Military Land, and being also a part of a certain tract of 45.87 acres conveyed by Charles W. Tom, etal., to Emmet E. Tom, etal., by deed shown of record in Deed Book 364, page 429, Franklin County Records, and being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pin in the North line of the P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way which point is South 84 degrees, 46 minutes, West a distance of 495.0 feet from an iron pin in the West line of Hague Avenue, and in the North line of said P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way; said point being also the southwest corner of a tract heretofore conveyed by said Emmet E. Tom, etal., to the Hilltop Supply Company by deed as recorded in D. B. 288, page 188, Recorder's Office, Franklin County, Ohio; thence from said point of beginning north 31 degrees, 31 minutes, East a distance of 214.94 feet to an iron pin; thence North 58 degrees, 29 minutes, East a distance of 406.30 feet to a point in the center line of Hague Avenue (passing an iron pin at 385.80 feet); thence North 31 degrees, 29 minutes (West along the center line of Hague Avenue a distance of 167.94 feet to a point; thence South 67 degrees, 16 minutes west a distance of 720.00 feet (passing an iron pin at 20.00 feet to an iron pin on the East line of said 20.000 acre tract; thence along the East line of said 20.000 acre tract, South 28 degrees, 29 minutes, East a distance of 10.00 feet to an iron pin; being also the southeast corner of said 20.000 acre tract, and on the North right of way line of aforementioned railroad; thence North 61 degrees, 30 minutes, East along the North right of way line a distance of 255.20 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.825 acres, subject to all legal highways; that defendants may claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right; that said claims constitute a cloud on plaintiff's title; and that, therefore, plaintiff prays that the defendants be compelled to set forth the nature of their claim; that said claim be declared to be null and void; that the defendants be forever enjoined from asserting any claim against the premises; that the Court determine that plaintiff is the true and lawful owner of said premises and that plaintiff's title be quieted against the claims of any and all defendants, and for such other relief as is proper.

Said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 1st day of April, 1950, or judgment may be rendered as prayed for, therein.

Spring Season Is Busy One For West High School Choir

By Myron F. Seifert

The popular West High Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edith White, is making many plans for public appearances in the near future.

Bedecked in their recently purchased brown and gold robes, the vocal group adds much color to any occasion.

Hilltop Business Association Minstrel Show, Apr. 12, 13 and 14, will for the first time use the West High Choir, in lieu of the traditional HBA Chorus.

On the choir agenda also is the Easter musical, to be presented at the school assembly Thursday, Apr. 6. A spring concert is in the making, date to be announced later.

Members of the choir include George Brown, Gene Burch, Joe Dickson, Paul Forgrave, Dick Gilbert, Dick Cooley, Warren Stephens, Bob Keiper, Robin Crispin, Cliff Everett.

Billie Proctor, Joan King, LaVonne Beard, Mary Beeson, Pat Bennett, JoAnn Bergman, Charlene Bowers, Gloria Brockington, Ginny Cockerill.

Almeda Smith, Lavina Sorelin, Barbara Stewart, Carol Tanner, Betty Walker, Joanne Willie, Phyllis Lowry, Donna Ramond, Alice Slaughter.

Religious Play To Be Presented

A religious play, "Queen By the Grace of God", is being planned by the children of St. Aloysius School under the sponsorship of the school PTA. The play is part of the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the ordination of the St. Aloysius pastor, Rev. William Maloney.

The play will be given the afternoon of Sunday, Mar. 26, at 3:30 o'clock at West High School. Tickets are on sale by PTA members.

Capital City Chapter Plans Meet

Members of Capital City Chapter Mailbag Club will meet at 6:30 p. m. for a casserole supper Tuesday, Mar. 14, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hershiser, 83 S. Hague-av. Arrangements for the grand chapter meeting, which will be held Apr. 13 and 14 at the Southern Hotel, will be completed.

Paul Tells Why He is a Christian

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 21:17-26:32; Romans 6:1-8; Hebrews 12:1-3; I John 1

On his way to Jerusalem, Paul came to Caesarea and abode with Philip, the evangelist. A certain prophet named Agabus came and he took Paul's girdle and bound his own hands and feet and said, thus would the Jews at Jerusalem bind Paul.

At Jerusalem Paul entered the temple, but certain Jews from Asia stirred up the people against him and they began beating him, intending to kill him, but the Roman soldiers and centurions rescued Paul, bound him and took him to the castle.

The Romans took Paul to Caesarea to keep him safe; and he was brought before Felix, the Roman governor, who gave him in charge of a centurion, but allowed him much liberty; finally he was sent for to appear before Felix and his wife who was a Jewess.

Festus, succeeding Felix, heard Paul and his accusers, and Paul then appealed to Caesar. King Agrippa coming to see Festus, Paul — taken before him and the king was almost persuaded to become a Christian.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

A welcome to the family of M. N. WAGNER. They are now one of us HIGH RIDGERS! They hail from Mishawaka, Ind., and settled over on Butler-ay.

Last week Mrs. GEORGE H. ZEISS entertained her Circle Club. She enjoys these parties. Her family and friends don't know how she does it. Always doing something for somebody.

Well, the ED MERRITTS moved to Grove City. New neighbors moved in as quick as ED moved out.

More television! This time at the CHARLES RUBLE residence. Most of us are buying them so we can see wrestling. My wife goes around and visits friends who have television, and believe me, she is getting pointers. She always did win our fights, but now she's better at it.

Dotty Floyd's going to be mighty busy in helping prepare a family shower on St. Patrick's Day for IRIS IRENE KAUFMAN, her cousin. MISS KAUFMAN is going to say, "I do" on Mar. 18.

We doubt whether BETTY will send her husband to the grocery store anymore or not. BILL OYER went after meat; and instead brought home a rope, with a goat on the end of it. Sounds like one of the fairy tales I used to read when I was a boy.

Anway, BILL figured he could quit the milk man for a couple of years, then kill it (not the milk man,—the goat), eat the goat meat; skin poor Billy goat, make shoes for the family and a fur coat for his wife.

She changed his mind in a hurry. The goat went the next night. We all hated to see him leave, cause he got rid of all our tin cans in one meal.

Things are getting pretty hot over at SHEA'S. Quite a row goes on every day. Upset furniture, broken dishes. Looks like a case for the courts. Too bad! Don't get excited folks! I'm just talking about their little puppy. PEPPER is hot stuff. Causes a disturbance, but they wouldn't part with him for the world. The children love him.

Last week I saw the first new license plates on the cars. At first glance I thought there was an awful lot of out-of-town cars, until I finally CAME TO. Since then I've noticed it's been putting everyone in the mood to shine up their cars to match the shiny new licenses. Take FRED BIEDERMAN for instance.

Last Saturday he spent two hours washing and shining up—and being a sporty type he let his high school son paint the spokes of his wheels yellow to match the license plates. A sharp runabout! So when you see it, you'll know it's FRED'S.

LEONARD SHIPP hates to go to the dentist—especially since this last time. The dentist found some extra work to do in his mouth. Doesn't that generally happen to most of us? We save a few pennies for a rainy day, and have to give it to "saw bones."

Words of the Wise

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.
—(Longfellow)

Sometimes I think all of us take our churches too much for granted, just as we take our American democracy so much for granted because we have grown up under its privileges, its protection, its guarantees of our freedom.

Yet just this morning as we walked down the street toward the clear ringing of the bells of our church, I thought, "What if all this were taken away? Would it make a difference in our lives?"

And I thought of my husband, who looks forward to attending church each Sunday — and of the inspiration, high ideals and abounding faith his church has given him that he may face life squarely and honestly.

I thought of my daughter — ready to do her part to bring peace and brotherhood to the world because her church has convinced her that life without either would be worthless and empty.

I thought of myself, and all that my church means to me: It makes me a part of something strong, clean and decent; it gives me courage to face life's temptations, and to do what I know is right; it builds my faith into an ever-present comfort in adversity; it illumines my life with love, and blesses it with happiness.

I thought of the millions upon millions who are my comrades and friends this morning all over the world, because they too, walked into the doors of their churches, for their hour with God.

These are reasons why my church exists. These are reasons for the bond that has grown strong between us. These are reasons why you, too, should come to church regularly.

. . . Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

$13,500, 9 Bus Garage Is Completed At Hilliards High School From School Bond

Pictured is the newly completed Hilliards High School garage. The garage was built at a cost of $13,500. Drivers of the school's buses pose in front of the garage beside one of the seven school buses that are stored there.

Bus drivers pictured are (fornt) Mrs. Emma Gallegher, Flora Van Voorhis, John Walker, Mrs. Estella Mathews, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Margaret Crager; rear row, Bill Edwards, Bill Kaiser, Felix Fluck and George Sheets.

Hilliards High School's new bus garages are now completed and in use. They are located at the north end of the high school building, are built of cement block, and contain space for storing nine buses. At present seven buses are stored there, and the rest of the room is used for storage space. Floors are cement and all are equipped with overhead doors. The entire grounds in front of the garages have been graded and through the cooperation of the Franklin County engineer's office, they are now covered with crushed stone. The entire space is well lighted by flood lights installed on the corner of the high school building.

This building project was financed by funds derived from bonds voted by residents of Norwich Twp. in November, 1948. The cost was approximately $13,500. Seven buses belong to this school district; six were bought in September, 1946, and one in February, 1947. Cost of the buses ranged from $3200 to $3800. Total expense for operation and maintenance last year was approximately $8800.

In addition to the seven buses owned by Norwich Twp., six other buses also pull up to Hilliards schools twice each day from other townships. Three come from Prairie Twp., one from Norwich Special, one from South Perry, and one from Brown Township. These buses serve the 216 tuition students who attend school at Hilliards. This makes a total of 462 grade and high school students served.

All bus drivers are required to qualify for their jobs by securing a first aid certificate, getting a chauffeur's license, passing a physical examination and filling out an application signed by five parents and two school board members. The seven drivers employed by Norwich Twp. are Estella Mathews, Mary Davis, Margaret Crager, John Walker, Eleanor Carey, Emma Gallegher and Flora Van Voorhis.

These drivers travel about 220 miles each day and spend about 45 to 60 minutes twice a day on their routes.

Contractors for the new garages were: general contractor, Atlee Mullet of Plain City; electrical work, F. A. Davis and Son of Columbus; and architect, F. F. Glass, 20 S. Third-st, Columbus.

On The Record

By Harry Franken

All editors know that for real reader-attraction there is nothing like an animal story. The death of Gargantua and the escape and capture of the zoo leopard made headlines all over the country.

So it seems that when one of the animals that has provided a newspaper with copy dies, it should be given a fitting obituary. This, then, is the obituary for "Betty".

Betty was the 23-year-old retired trotting mare that made the pages of the Record last summer by leading off the racers at the county fair in Hilliards.

Twenty-three years for a horse is about the equivalent of 80 years of human living, yet Betty had the appearance and the spirit of a three-year-old. I rode Betty last summer and found that she had a lot more life than many younger horses. In 1934 at Powell, O., Betty did the mile in 2:18.

For the past month or more Betty had been ailing. Veterinarians said that nothing could be done so her owner, Harold Cunningham, mercifully had her put to death last week.

We are continually hearing of readers from far away places. One of the Record's followers has recently gone to Okinawa. He is Pfc. Richard Newlun and his address is Prov. Squad. 641, A. P. O. 239, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Cal.

HBA To Take Part In Red Cross Blood Program

Arrangements have been made by the Hilltop Business Association to have the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit the Hillcrest Baptist Church, Apr. 28, so that all members of the association will have the opportunity to participate in the Red Cross blood program.

The association had approved participation in the program some months ago, but little progress was made due to the difficulty of members visiting the blood center during business hours.

The HBA is the first organization to participate as a group in the plan.

Hilltop Students Honored At OSU

Two Hilltop students were among the 22 Ohio State University students honored at an 8 p. m. meeting at the Faculty Club on the campus last Thursday.

The students are upperclassmen selected as candidates for degrees "with distinction." They were chosen on the basis of high academic averages and undertook special work in their fields of major studies during their senior year.

Those from the Hilltop are Joseph H. French, 289 Highland-av, and Charles S. Williams, 1928 Harrisburg-pk.

Scalded By Hot Grease

Janice Thompson, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Thompson, 480 Prospect-av, was scalded on the left leg when she spilled a skillet of grease at her home Thursday. She was treated by emergency squadmen.

New Hilltop Library To Open Sunday

Dr. Keiser To Resign As School Head

Dr. F. L. Keiser, superintendent of Columbus State School, state institution for the feebleminded, will retire May 1, it was announced Thursday by John H. Lamneck, state welfare director.

Dr. Keiser spent his entire professional career at the institution. He joined the staff in 1908, immediately after graduating from the medical school at Ohio State University, as an assistant physician. He has been superintendent for 26 years. At one time he headed both the Columbus State School and Orient State School.

Dr. Keiser's operation of the institution came under fire several months ago when an examination of the menus revealed that the patients were averaging about 1000 calories per day, considerably less than necessary.

No successor to Dr. Keiser has been named, according to Lamneck.

Announcing the resignation, Director Lamneck said:

"The State of Ohio has received from Dr. Keiser's services much more in value than what he received in compensation. For that reason the people of Ohio owe him a debt of gratitude."

Peeper Scared By Hilltop Man Sunday

A "Peeping Tom" was frightened away from a Hilltop home by Franklin Carrier, 39, of 72 S. Wheatland-av, Sunday.

Carrier was sitting in the living room with his wife and daughter, listening to the radio. Suddenly his wife, Kathleen, noticed the peepor peering through the window. She screamed, "There he is again!"

Reacting almost instantly, Carrier turned from his chair near the window and rammed his fists through the window. The peeper fled but Mrs. Carrier restrainced her husband from chasing him. The Carriers said the intruder has been seen at their windows twice in recent weeks. Carrier was not injured by the glass.

Carrier is a pressman at the Columbus Citizen.

April In Washington Is Record Tour

A week-end in the nation's capital when the cherry trees are in blossom is in store for those who take advantage of the tour being offered to residents of the Hilltop through the Record.

If you are interested in this April visit to Washington, D C., fill in the blank inside today's paper and a representative will call on you with full details of the visit.

Sunday has been set as the opening date of the new Hilltop Branch Library at 2936 W. Broad-st, according to Columbus Librarian Will Collins.

Sunday's ceremonies will be followed by "school week" when classes from the Hilltop schools will visit the library.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony is scheduled to take place at 2 p. m. J. A. Meckstroth, president of the library board, will make the presentation of the library to the community and the acceptance address will be made by Ed Witherspoon, president of the Hilltop Business Association.

The dedicatory prayer, opening the library, will be offered by Rev. Norman Schreiber, president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association.

At the indoor ceremonies Meckstroth will introduce members of the library staff, the library board, and members of the special committee that is arranging the opening program.

The benediction will be given by Rev. Raymond Rauschard, pastor of St. Mary Magdalene Church.

The old library on N. Hague-av has been closed since Friday for moving. The librarian, Mildred Phalor, said that no charge would be made on books that become due between the closing day of the old library and the opening of the new one.

Last Registration Day for Primary Is March 22

The last day to register or change your address as a voter before the primary election is Mar. 22. Those who have previously registered and have not failed to vote at least once in the last (wo calendar years (1948-1949) are still eligible to vote this year, providing they have not changed their place of residence in the meantime. All others must register or transfer their address as the case may be.

However, registration as a qualification for voting, is not required of members of the armed forces. A discharged veteran is not a member of the armed forces and is required to register, regardless of the date of his discharge. All persons who have changed their names through marriage or otherwise, must register.

Persons, who will become 21 years of age on or before the date of the General Election Nov. 7th, 1950 are eligible to register at this time.

All registrations must be done in person at the office of the Board of Elections, 314½ E. High-st. Transfers of addresses may be done in person or by mail. Hours for registration are 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Mondays through Fridays and 8 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

450 Cited On First Day Of Safety Campaign

More than 230 residents of the Hilltop area are due to receive special traffic safety citations from the Motor Club of America as a result of the observations of the Camp Fire Girls of this community.

According to Robert Hunt, Motor Club manager, approximately 450 reports were turned in on Hilltop motorists and pedestrians following the opening on Saturday, Mar. 4, of the month-long traffic safety campaign being sponsored by the Camp Fire, Horizon Club and Blue Bird Girls. This means that each of those persons were observed to be obeying traffic laws rather than violating them. Special cards were handed out by the girls, and anyone who returned them to the Motor Club will receive a citation card.

A similar check will be made on each Saturday during March, and many hundreds of other Hilltop residents are expected to become eligible for these citations.

This campaign is only one of the many projects being sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls this month in observance of the 40th anniversary of the founding of that organization.

Most of the Camp Fire Girls on the Hilltop attended church Sunday, March 12, dressed in their red, white and blue uniforms, as a special means of observing the occasion.

Plan Men's Banquet On Hilltop

Richard C. Johnston

A Hilltop Men's Banquet sponsored by the Hilltop Ministerial Association has been scheduled for 6:30 p. m., Mar. 23, at the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Hilltop Lions Club and laymen from the Hilltop churches are participating in planning the banquet.

The Columbus Girlchoir will feature the entertainment of the evening, under the direction of Richard C. Johnston. The Girlchoir was founded about a year ago by Herbert Huffman, founder of the Boychoir. It is made up of about 80 girls.

A lay leader of the Hilltop will deliver the principal address.

Tickets are on sale for $1.25 and may be purchased from the Hilltop ministers, members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, at Campbell's Pharmacy, 2766 W. Broad-st, and at Goodwin's Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av.

Lions To See Wildlife Pictures

The Hilltop Lions Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday, Mar. 16, at 6:30 p. m. at the Franklin Brewery, 117 N. Sandusky-st.

Buffet supper will be served. The speaker of the evening is Don Mack, with motion pictures about conservation and wild life.

Wolfe Withdraws As Anti-Heer Twp. Candidate

George W. Wolfe, 866 Midland-av, last week withdrew his name as a candidate for the Franklin Co. Democratic Central Committee, becoming the fourth insurgent Democrat to quit the race to unseat Chairman Walter F. Heer.

Wolfe, a defeated candidate for Franklin Twp. trustee last November, said today he is now "absolutely for William Haines." Haines is the Heer candidate for the committeeman post. Haines, the incumbent, and a member of the Board of Elections, would have been Wolfe's opponent.

"I'm now 100% for the Heer Group," Wolf said. "I don't approve of groups organized to take over other outfits," Wolfe added as his reason for withdrawing from the race.

"Nobody in the Democratic party," he added, "asked me to withdraw. I made up my own mind."

Interlocutor Named For Minstrel Show; Rehearsal To Begin This Sunday

Hilltop Minstrel Show Director Lee Koontz announced today the names of the interlocutor and end-men for the show to be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Apr. 12, 13 and 14, in the West High School auditorium.

Interlocutor is Floyd W. Badgley, 347 S. Hague-av. End-men are Russ Carter, 128 N. Huron-av; Bill Coon, 338 N. Warren-av; George Hardy, 606 Racine-av; and Art Miller, West High School teacher.

Rehearsals for the show, according to Koontz, will begin Sunday, Mar. 19, in the West High School auditorium. "The end-men," Koontz said, "are busy brushing off their jokes."

Show's 21st Year

"The Doll Maker's Dream" will be the theme of this year's two-hour long variety show. Showman Koontz claims the show will be "the biggest, the best, the most lavish and most memorable entertainment ever staged on the Hilltop."

This is the Hilltop Minstrel's 21st year. Nearly 5000 persons are expected to see this year's entertainment.

Tickets for the show are now on sale. General admission tickets are 60c. On Wednesday, Mar. 22, when reserved seats go on sale at the Thrift Finance Co., 7 S. Wayne-av, general admission seats can be turned in for reserved seats, which will sell for 75c and $1.

Approximately 500 seats at each price have been allotted for each of the three nights' performances.

Providing music for the show will be "Mac" Tooill and his orchestra. The West High School Chorus, directed by Mrs. Edith White, will also be featured.

Crash Disrupts Power Supply

A power line which services the communities of New Rome and Alton was damaged Saturday when an auto veered from the road and broke off a utility pole at Galloway and Hall-rds. Both villages were without electric power for 27 minutes.

The power line fell across some telephone wires and crews required several hours to repair the damage.

Deputy sheriffs said the accident happened when an auto driven south in Galloway-rd by Miss Marcelline Goudreau, of Dayton, failed to make a right hand turn into Hall-rd. She and two women passengers were uninjured.

4 To Sponsor Boys For Boys' State

Four civic groups have announced that they will sponsor boys attending the Buckeye Boys' State at Camp Perry from June 10 to 19 this summer. Buckeye Boys' State is a project of the American Legion.

The newly formed Hilltop Lions Club will participate in the program this year for the first time. Other sponsors will be the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, the Hilltop Business Association and Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion.

C. W. (Chet) Wagner of the Legion post is Boys' State chairman this year. Two members from each sponsoring organization will make up the committee to choose the boys to attend Boys' State this year. The boys will be chosen from the 11th grades of West and Holy Family High Schools.

Wagner said this week that there might be openings for one or two additional boys to attend this year and that any organization willing to sponsor a boy should contact him as soon as possible at RA. 5820.

New Post Office To Be Built At Broad and Harris

Word was received today by Donald Smith, attorney, that his bid for building a new post office for the Hilltop has been accepted by the Post Office Department in Washington.

The new building, one of the finest in the city, will be started almost immediately, on the lot at the corner of N. Harris-av and W. Broad-st. It will be a bank type building with half cages inside and with lockers for about 30 men working out of this office.

Plans call for the building to be ready for occupancy by July 31. At that time it is anticipated several new routes will be made up from this station.

The lease on the new building was completed by C. N. Craft, local real estate broker.

David Rinehart Is Promoted By Hilltop Bank

David M. Rinehart, 1670 Elmwood-av, has been appointed an assistant manager of the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National Bank, according to a recent announcement by President L. A. Stoner.

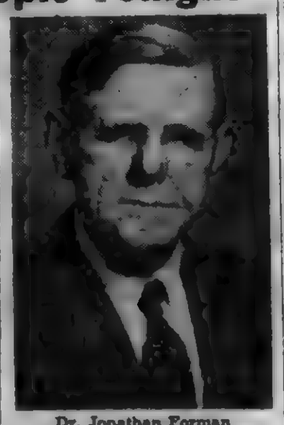
Rinehart is a West High School graduate and a Coast Guard veteran of World War II. He started as a bookkeeper at the Hilltop office in 1940 and has served as a teller, loan teller and supervisor of operations. He has completed several courses offered by the Columbus chapter, American Institute of Banking. He is married and has two daughters.

Rinehart

Robert L. Kneisley is manager of the Hilltop office and Charles E. Allen is an assistant manager.

Civil Service Group To Meet

The Hilltop Civil Service Association will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the amusement hall of the Columbus State Hospital, 1601 W. Broad-st. Fred Schneider of the State Welfare Department will speak on the topic, "Social Security or Retirement Fund?"



ALVA C. NAFZGER, 232 N. HARRIS-AV, LEFT, AND ROBERT CASE, 97 N. WESTMOOR-AV, are in charge of the ticket sale for the All-Sports Banquet to be held Monday, May 12, at the Southern Hotel. Wesley Fesler, Ohio State University football coach, will be the main speaker at this event which will honor all West High School athletic teams. Tickets for the affair are $2.50 per plate with 300 seats available to the public, and 200 reserved for the team members. Clarence Bateman, West High teacher, is chairman of the ticket committee.

REV. A. L. ROTH, 144 S. SYLVAN-AV, pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church, takes a look at his license plate. The "REV", a trademark for his profession, has prompted several comments and jokes from friends. When Rev. Roth ordered his new three-letter license plates, his first choice was his initials "ALR". Maybe the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles has a sense of humor. Rev. Roth's tags are among 13,824 three-letter licenses issued. One sure thing, he is the only minister in Ohio with his title on his auto tags.

Hospitalization Insurance To Be HBA Topic Tonight

"Hospitalization and Medical Insurance for Business People and Their Employees" will be the topic of Dr. Jonathan Forman at the meeting of the Hilltop Business Association Tuesday evening at 6:45 at the Westgate Methodist Church, Brinker and Wicklow.

Dr. Jonathan Forman

Dr. Forman, a native of Austinburg, O., was graduated from Ohio State in 1910 with an A. B. degree and from Sterling-Ohio Medical College in 1913, with a medical degree.

During the next 18 years Dr. Forman taught pathology at Starling-Ohio Medical College, which later became the Ohio State University College of Medicine. In 1919 he went to Harvard's medical school as teaching follow in physiology.

From 1921 to 1933 Dr. Forman's contact with medical teaching was primarily maintained through his position as vice-president of the grand chapter, Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity. He has also been secretary of Ohio State medical alumni.

Since 1933 Dr. Forman has been lecturer on allergy in Ohio State's medical college.

Dr. Forman is the auther of four books and scores of studies and abstracts on a wide range of medical subjects and is editor of the Ohio State Medical Journal.

Member of several medical societies, Dr. Forman in 1938 was elected national president of Phi Rho Sigma fraternity. He also belongs to the Ohio Academy of Science, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Sigma Xi scientific society and Ohio State Medical Association. He is past president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine and the American College of Allergists.

Gas Leak Blocks Hague Av Traffic

Firemen were called Saturday morning near noon to N. Hague and Steele-ave, to check a leak in the gas line running under Hague-av. No fire broke out. Firemen directed traffic away from the area.

Herman Harrison, Gas Co. official, said Monday that the leak was not serious and was repaired immediately. Gas service was not shut off for the repair.

Priest Is Kiwanis St. Pat's Speaker

The annual St. Patrick's Day program of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will be held at the regular weekly luncheon meeting at Schnelzer's, Thursday. Speaker for the occasion will be Rev. Albert Culliton.

Father Culliton is pastor of St. Christopher's Church in Grandview.

Estella Linda Cross Funeral Today

Mrs. Wilson Sells Her Deep Freeze On First Ad

Within a few hours after her "For Sale" ad appeared in the Record, Mrs. Julia Wilson, 130 N. Wayne-av, had pocketed the money she received for her deep freeze. Fifteen of our readers responded to the ad.

Countless families, looking for things they needed, shopped through their Record Classified Section which contained Mrs. Wilson's ad. The deep freeze was just the answer to one family's need . . . they called Mrs. Wilson and the transaction was quickly completed, IT WAS SO EASY.

You can place an ad before 5 p. m. Monday or Wednesday. For consistently fast results at minimum cost; remember RA. 1125.

Hilltop Housewife Is Only Professional Grad At OSU

A 29-year-old Hilltop housewife will be the sole representative of the professional colleges in the Ohio State University winter quarter graduating class Friday.

The one and only graduating senior in the predominantly male schools will be Mrs. Mary Baker Cass, of 325 Whitethorne-av, who will be awarded the degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy during the ceremonies, to begin at 2 p. m. in the fairgrounds coliseum. The other professional colleges of dentistry, medicine, law and veterinary medicine have no graduates this quarter.

It will be the second degree won by Mrs. Cass since beginning an "in-again out-again" program of study at Ohio State 11 years ago. The out-of-school periods were spent working to raise funds to continue her education. During the early part of the war, the former Ada, O., farm girl worked in a factory in the afternoon and evening, going to classes in the morning hours.

Married to Charles T. Cass, now manager of a Columbus automotive supply store, she took another time-out from school to follow her serviceman husband to New Orleans where she worked in a hospital. After he was sent overseas, she returned to Ohio State in 1944 to complete work for the degree of bachelor of science in bacteriology, awarded her in the summer of 1946.

Mrs. Cass entered the College of Pharmacy in the fall of 1947, and for the past nine months has served an apprenticeship in a Sullivant-av drugstore while completing her requirements for the pharmacy degree.

Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lee Primmer

The marriage of Miss Joan Malone and Mr. Ralph Lee Primmer was read in the Hilltop Church of Christ before an altar decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of white gladiolus, white pom poms and seven branch candelabra.

Dr. Paul Keckley performed the double ring ceremony at 4:30 o'clock Jan. 22, following a half hour musical program presented by Mrs. Marie Ann Burns, vocalist, and Mr. Maurice Bowsher, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys E. Malone, 45 S. Wheatland-av, and Mr. Fred C. Malone, 550 Elsmere-st.

The white satin bridal gown was styled with an Elizabethan collar buttoned down the front of the fitted bodice with capelets over the long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt ended in a long train. The bride's finger tip veil was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and orchids. The bride's attendants, Mrs. Hilda Koehler, cousin of the bride as matron of honor, wore American Beauty satin with caplet collars and mitts, Miss Patricia Whalen and Miss Shirley Snow, as bridesmaids, wore identical gowns in peacock blue satin with mitts. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations and pom poms.

The flower girls, little Armendan Sue Koehler, cousin of the bride, was in American Beauty satin and Karan Lynn Longhenry was in peacock blue satin. Their basket bouquets were of pink carnations and white pom poms with pink ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle Mr. William Williams. Mr. Jerry Coe was best man for Mr. Primmer. Seating the guests were Mr. Lewis Trout and Mr. Richard Hickman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Hostesses were Miss Betty Malone, Mrs. Valley Gleissinger, Mrs. Harry Primmer, Jr., and Mrs. Lewis Trout. Receiving the guests the bride's mother wore royal blue crepe with black accessories, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Ethel Primmer in old rose crepe with brown accessories. Their corsages were of white rose buds.

Mr. Primmer is the son of Mrs. Ethel Primmer and the late Mr. Harry Primmer of Logan O. He is associated with the Shoe Corporation of America.

Parents' Assn. Meets At Home Of Mrs. Gentry

The Hilltop Parents' Association's last meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gentry, 410 S. Oakley-av. The meeting opened with a short program. Mrs. Rosan Brown read a paper on "What the School Age Child Needs from Parents", which will be the topic for discussion at the next meeting; Mrs. Vivian Bynum sang a solo, "After"; Mrs. Goldie Holmes gave a reading, "The World Is All Right; It Is Just the People In It".

The following reports were received:

Mrs. Estella Franklin and Mrs. Vivien Bynum reported on the meeting at the Spring Street YMCA, which was called to form a women's council for the FEPC.

Mrs. Ora Benton reported on the monthly meeting of the Hilltop Community Council, which met at Glenwood Center.

Robert Johnson gave a report on the Hilltop YMCA annual meeting and banquet, which was held at the Central YMCA.

Other reports received were from the director of activities, Mrs. Rosa Triggs; the treasurer, Delbert Prillerman, Sr.; the financial secretary, Mrs. Irene Madden; the sunshine committee, Charles L. Shaw, chairman; and the recreation committee, which conducted an open discussion on the recreational year-round needs of the Hilltop, and the proposal which was presented to the city recreation commission Jan. 11.

The following were appointed on the nomination committee for the annual election, which will be held in April: Clenzo Fox, Mrs. Ora Benton and Robert Beatty. Plans will be made by the social committee, Mrs. Benton, chairman, and the ways and means committee, Mrs. Jean Nichols, chairman, to celebrate the organization's fourth birthday.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Mar. 21, at the home of Mrs. Estella Franklin, 382 S. Highland-av, at 8 p. m.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

In response to the demand for a more comprehensive form of children's insurance, the Sun Life of Canada announces the new Junior Adjustable Assurance, a policy which:

1. Permits regular small payments which will be greatly to the child's advantage when he reaches 21.
2. Starts assurance coverage at the early ages when the premium is at minimum rates. Premium never increases.
3. Covers expenses incurred through death in childhood.
4. Is flexible, permits a wide choice of valuable options and a considerable increase in face value (actually to five times the original amount) at age 21, without medical examination.
5. Ensures protection should the child later become uninsurable.

Let me show you what this plan can do for your son.

Bob Taft Has Always Fought To Preserve Our American Way of Life--To Stop the Trend Toward Socialism and Bankruptcy, For Higher Wages, Lower Taxes, Better Living Standards and Against Selfish Pressure Groups Who Want America To Become A Totalitarian Welfare State.

WHILE HE SLEPT!

THE OLD SWIMMIN' HOLE!

THE MIRAGE—AND THE DESERT!

IN THE STOCKS—MODERN VERSION

Next November's Congressional election is far bigger than a contest between Republicans and Democrats. It is a battle of ideologies—whether we shall continue as a Republic of free men — enjoying standards higher than any country in history—or continue on the road we are rapidly traveling toward a socialistic welfare state, with a bureaucratic government dictatorship regulating the lives of every man, woman and child . . . A coalition of power-drunk labor leaders, socialists and ambitious politicians of the type of jail-bird Pendergrast, who sponsored Pres. Truman, are spending millions of dollars to fool the American people by extravagant promises into turning the reins of our government over to them. If they succeed we will be in the same boat as Great Britain, broke and hungry. Sen. Robert A. Taft is the staunch enemy of this pressure gang and they are therefore out to defeat him in November at any cost. If they succeed it will be a catastrophe for all America. It's up to Ohio voters to save the day.

Stevens Ave. Boy Injured By Truck

William Gardner, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner, 182 Stevens-av, suffered a compound fracture of his left leg and a fracture of his right elbow when he ran into the side of a truck in Stevens-av, near his home.

Firemen took the boy to Children's Hospital. He ran into the rear wheels of a coal truck driven by John W. Adams of Cambridge, police said.

Hilliards TB X-Ray Report Received

Tuberculosis cards were received by faculty, students and employes of Hilliards High School last Thursday. These cards reported that the X-ray taken showed no evidence of active tuberculosis and it was recommended that every one over 15 years old should have an X-ray at least once a year.

Tests were taken Feb. 10 and cards were signed by W. L. Potts, M. D., of the department of health, Franklin County.

'Think This Over'

By William "Doc" Campbell

Great People
I Have Met And Seen

Theodore Roosevelt

A sick lad—asthma—pretty bad—so he goes west and ranches it—mixes with wild, tough characters—restores his health—returns to New York state and goes into politics and FIGHTS! SOME MAN!

I saw him three times. First at a Memorial Day service on the east side of Grant's Tomb, New York City, addressing GAR soldiers. We sat directly in front of him, say 15 or 20 feet. He was governor of New York State then. I had my good, big, wooden box-like camera with diaphram shutter, held by a rubber band. When I snapped it—with its awful click—T. R. stopped, looked at me, startled. Then he grinned his famous "smile and teeth" and continued. He thought he had been shot—and he was, but not by bullets!

Another time I grasped his firm clasp, after a political speech in Memorial Hall. Again I saw him coming off a New York ferry boat in afternoon clothes but with a silk top hat perched atop his large grizzled head, hair sticking up all around—terribly ludicrous. He was the president of the United States!

Chic Harley

A quiet chap, smiling face, and I think a senior at East High—thus was Chic Harley, later OSU football immortal, in the old art gallery. We talked about pictures, and he was a really charming fellow.

John Phillip Sousa

What a band he had. At a concert in the Hartman Theater I was thrilled by it. Sousa, in military uniform, I think, used no baton — only his white cotton gloved hands to direct that famous and dynamic organization. His "El Capitan" march and "Washington Post" march were written while I was a youth.

At Cedar Point, Sandusky, I saw him again. He liked trap shooting and as he came along that long corridor of the Breakers Hotel I was within two feet of him. He was dressed in tweed knickers, carrying his gun and bag, and I believe he wore a short dark beard.

I followed him (discreetly) into the dining room and sat at a table nearby and studied him. His successor, Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, always puts one of Sousa's marches on his regular and record programs.

Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio

This is a rather funny episode, yet definitely true. Governor Cox was the speaker at a great convention in Memorial Hall and my "Boys' Public School orchestra" of 30 lads was to play a 15 or 20 minute concert beforehand. These young lads with white duck trousers and dark coats made a very brilliant picture. Well, we were all set to play and, lo and behold, the big curtain would not pull open. They worked for some time but it would not budge, so Governor Cox went before the curtain and talked for nearly an hour. Can you imagine me with 30 young wild-bucks, full of the devil, trying to keep them in their places and quiet for an hour? Every sound could be heard in front. Well, I was almost a nervous wreck, but, believe me, I DID keep them almost quiet. Then, just before Governor Cox had finished, the curtain was OK and we played our part as we never had done before—and what a "hand" we received.

Governor Cox was a trim business man in dress and manner and to him goes the everlasting credit for building centralized schools throughout the entire Ohio school map.

Just the other night I heard via radio of the passing of Sir Harry Lauder (I heard him once on radio), a great Scotch comedian-minstrel. He belonged to the middle class but reached the hearts of millions by his humor, wit and his never-to-be-forgotten Scotch costume. He won a place in history by his gift of making people laugh or sigh, with his own Scottish ballads.

Then, every night I think of my dear young friends, Russell Moraine, Bob Brownfield and Dave Hart (Wes's brother) who never came back from World War II (in spirit, yes!). Sterling lads too. We forget the names of crooks, but will always remember with endearing gratitude, the names and actions of such daring, brave young men who died for their country's sake!

It is good to REMEMBER THEM!

THINK THIS OVER.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

IT'S ALL over, Marvell realized, as people rose around him and rose and moved down the aisle. He stood aside; should he try to follow him out to the chaste statuary on Chestnut Hill? He had never felt so aimless.

"Marvell . . ." It was Emily. She was not wearing black, but a light heather-colored suit and hat that reminded him of a faded lilac bush.

"Why, Emily," he said, taking her hand, waiting for the tears.

"How nice of you to come," she said, as if he were one of those old-fashioned "at homes" when she and Elizabeth had kept their hats on in their own house all day.

As he murmured words of sympathy, she nodded her head, the lavender feathers in her hat rustling against her veil like dried plumes of lilac in the wind. What had become of her emotional overflow? Her eyes used to fill up as quickly as Alice Ben Bolt.

"Won't you drive back to the house with us? I want you to meet Bradford. He's at home."

"Thank you." He was rather dazed. Ben must have put her up to it.

They drove home together, Emily and a pleasant sister of hers from Cambridge, and Marvell. He listened while Emily talked and her amiable sister sighed and clucked in sympathy. "There won't be a service at the cemetery. At least not a formal one. Cremation, you see. That was his wish. He always planned for everything. He was ill only two days, you know. And I think that was what he minded most, to be taken so unawares."

Marvell nodded. He understood just how he must have felt.

"How is Katherine, Marvell? She must be a big girl. Is she still at home?"

"Very well, she wanted to come with me today but I . . ."

"Quite right of you. Let our children always remember us alive and well. Bradford is especially sensitive, so I insisted he remain at the house.

"It was last June, wasn't it, that she graduated? I'd like to have seen her in the play. Fanny sent me notices in the paper. Her first important occasion, it was very remiss of me not to have given her something in remembrance. I shall send her something now."

"Better make it a wedding present," said Marvell.

"Oh, how nice! Is it a Harvard boy?"

"He meant to be, but he went to war instead."

Emily wrinkled her nose. "Too bad, but aren't we grateful that we'll never have war again? Ah, here we are."

There was no crepe on the door. The front hall was as dim as ever. The draft from the back hallway was as strong. He filed noiselessly up the wide plushy stairs guided by memory and the light plumes of Emily's hat. The amiable sister continued to the third floor, exchanging a few words about coming down later for tea.

Before he entered the library, Marvell knew that nothing would be changed. The red curtains were drawn back, the coal fire laid in the grate, the brass desk lamp was placed at the same angle. Not a picture, not a paper knife had been disturbed. Emily maneuvered him into an easy chair. He was terribly aware of Proctor. He might come in at any moment. He had been reading "The White Monkey" and had been called away. The book, with a marker, lay on the small table at Marvell's side.

"You look so well, Marvell. Ben and Fanny told me. But it is good to see for myself. You've changed. Then, we're all older, aren't we?"

Was it ten years or only yesterday that he had stood in this room, Marvell wondered.

"Bradford will be eleven next spring. Here is his picture." She lifted it from Proctor's desk. Marvell looked at the fair-haired plump little boy, exceedingly cheerful. It might have been the steel rimmed glasses that made him appear rather wise.

"Fine, he looks older, though."

"He goes to a progressive school," she said proudly. "He's very talented."

"For what?" Marvell was interested.

"Why — for everything now." She tried to be modest. "I mean he picks out his own tunes on the piano. He makes pictures. He loves color." She wrinkled her nose at the room. "He never liked this, it's so dark and still."

"But he hasn't made any special choice yet and I wanted to talk to you before he comes down to tea."

Marvell turned his head toward the door, surely he had heard the handle turn.

"He has no head for figures or detail. He is so absorbed by what he sees and hears and touches. I believe he will be an artist. At ten, you can be pretty sure what the twig will be. Don't you agree?"

Marvell smiled, not without a touch of superiority. Emily had a few things yet to learn. Wait till the boy was eighteen, he might make a master plumber and knock the breath out of her.

"I don't want him to go into business. Nor even to Harvard. I want him to find his native atmosphere now, day by day, not to be pushed into it at twenty."

Marvell had never thought Emily so observing. "What do you mean to do?"

"Next year, I wouldn't take him from school now, I'm going to take him abroad, to France."

What was the affinity between Back Bay and France, Marvell wanted to know, thinking of Nedda and Amory.

"Because — now you mustn't laugh—he won't be self-conscious about his talent. Even if it is a small one." She looked as if she were trusting him with a secret. "What do you think?"

Marvell was tigety. He had no opinion; even if he had, he would never be bold enough to give it. Not any more, he thought grimly. "It sounds fine."

"You remember how Father Barlow arranged everything?" Her gray suede pumps rubbed the carpet a little nervously. When Marvell made no reply, she went on, "Trusts, you know, for the heirs, managed by Ben and some bank, or was it a judge . . ."

She continued serenely, ". . . but free and clear for the male heir when they are twenty-one. I want Bradford to decide for himself when he's a little older. But I'm his guardian and Ben the trustee. We thought, Ben and I, that you might represent him in the business. You would be representing Kit, too. Her share, I mean. Abbot needs a partner. Then you might buy him out, Bradford, I mean, later and . . ."

"That's impossible!" He sprang to his feet, the hoarseness of his voice startled him, but not Emily. She kept right on.

"I was going to write you, but when you came all the way down—Ben will be here a little later. There's nothing like a talk face to face."

"Emily," he began. He clapsed his hands behind his back. They had never been so cold and damp. "Ten years ago was a different matter. But now—I've slipped back. I have been a plumber. I haven't kept up with new developments. I couldn't compete with the standards in the field."

She shook her head in reproof. "You wouldn't do manual work. You'd direct. You've always brought out the best in the men." She remembered hearing that somewhere—as a matter of fact, it had been Marvell's favorite boast. "I didn't imagine you'd say 'yes' right off. You're supposed to think it over," she laughed. "That makes it more legal."

"Abbot—" he got no further. There was nothing to say. He could not do it again. He could not repeat the same pattern. He'd be starting out with a handicap again, as he had at first, way behind the others. Abbot would remember mistakes, other people would look for them. I didn't come all this way to begin again, he wanted to cry out.

"Abbot is a fixture, Marvell, he doesn't do much now. Think about it. Do. I'll see about tea. I left the maid upstairs with Bradford. We'll be down in a minute."

He tried to stop her. His mouth was dry, his throat tight. She had left him but he was not alone. He was back where he had started, trembling, panicked. He could see Proctor, gray and pale before the fireplace, thrusting Kit upon him with that terrible thin smile. "Why do I have to go through this again, why do I?" When he spoke, he recognized the emptiness of the room. He threw out his hands in a final appeal. "But I don't have to decide, I won't . . ."

He heard a faint movement behind him. He did not dare to turn, but his imagination did not falter. The little girl with the black button shoes and the white stockinged legs was watching him, looking as wise and admonishing as only eight could look. Then, he knew that the decision had been made, long ago, perhaps that very afternoon Kit had discovered him here. At last he had to accept.

The knob turned and the door opened slowly. He heard Emily say, "Here is someone you have never seen before, Bradford." Marvell took a deep breath before turning to face them.

SHE MAY BE THE BEST COOK IN THE WORLD . . .
BUT, did you ever stop to think that she likes to dine out too, that she would like to get out of the kitchen occasionally and enjoy the thrill of a meal someone else had prepared. TONIGHT, tell the "little woman" that you are taking her to Hoover's for dinner . . . leave the rest to us, we'll see that it will be a treat that she will enjoy—and so will you. Don't forget . . . we'll be looking for you.

Stage Crew Busy On Hilliards Play

Senidrs on the stage crew have been busy painting scenery for "Mother Was a Freshman", senior play to be given Mar. 16 and 17 at Hilliards High School auditorium.

Members of the committee are Charles Cowgill, Dave Russell, Bob Mullins, Jim Canfield, Don Weisenberger, Lanny Stroble and Bob Stormont.

FIRE THURSDAY MORNING COMPLETELY DESTROYED the cabinet shop of Ralph Clements, 320 Powhatan-av, and his son-in-law, Robert W. South, 3250 Fisher-rd, building contractors. The estimated value of the new workshop was $6500. It was located at the Fisher-rd address. The blaze started when the wind blew over an oil salamander when a door was opened. The building was partially covered by insurance, but three new pieces of valuable equipment, installed just last week, were not covered. The structure was nearly in ruins when city fire equipment arrived from the Butties and Harrison-avs firehouse and the Prairie Twp. fire company arrived from New Rome. The building is in Franklin Twp. Franklin Twp. has a contract with the city for fire protection. Mrs. Robert Smith points to the wreckage of the new machinery.

Leaves For Tour Of Active Duty

Lt. (j.g.) William C. Conn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conn, 222 N. Terrace-av, left Columbus Friday, Mar. 3, for two weeks of active duty with the Naval Air Corps Reserve.

Lt. Conn, formerly of Columbus, now resides in Indianapolis, Ind., where he is employed as the Indianapolis terminal manager of Suburban Motor Freight, Inc.

Hoge Wins Second Church League Title

Hoge Memorial's basketeers have won their second West Church League basketball title. They are coached by Ben Lewis. Hoge will now represent the West Church League in the city recreation department's champ of champs tournament, which will be held after the teams have drawn their opposing team for the tournament.

During the four years Lewis has coached the Hoge team they have won 102 games while losing 13.

CARD OF THANKS

HAINES—We wish to thank our kind friends and neighbors for their acts of love and sympathy during our recent loss of husband, father and brother, and also extend grateful thanks for the beautiful tributes to our loved one.

Hoge and Highland Are Tops In 'Y' Church League

By Joe Hutt

Highland Friends took the second round of play in the "Y" league as they made it five straight to duplicate Hoge's record in the first round. Both of these teams have made excellent scoring records in the league. Hoge set a record of 69 points and then Highland came back to score 90 points against St. Paul.

Barry Emrich of Hoge won the league scoring honors as he tossed in a season total of 119 points. Chuck Klein, his nearest competitor, was far behind with only 96. Bill Killian of Highland was third with 87. The top ten scorers in the league are as follows:

	G.	P.
Emrich	10	119
Klein	10	96
Killian	10	87
Groomes	10	75
Bond	10	69
Hunter	10	69
Lazenby	10	66
Hutt	10	63
Wahrer	10	55
Cassell	10	50

Monday, the sixths' games ended with a new league scoring record being set by Highland as they tossed in 90 points against out-manned St. Paul in the second game. Oakley fairly ran over HCC 48-23, while Hoge eked out a close game over sparked-up Burgess 58-49.

The first game started with Oakley and HCC tangling and Oakley came out victorious. Groomes of HCC was selected outstanding and also was high point men with 11 points. Rile of the opposing winner team was voted tops, while Hunter, his teammate, was collecting 13 points. The score:

HCC	2	9	17	23
Oakley	10	21	33	48

The second game saw Highland top Hoge's scoring record of 69 points as they racked up 90 points against St. Paul's 28. It is the highest total any team has scored in the two years of the league's operation. Calhoun of St. Paul was nominated as tops while Balthaser was hitting for 10 points. Grable of Highland was outstanding and high point man for the evening with 24 points. Bill and Killian each scored 21 and 20 points. The score:

St. Paul	8	10	18	28
Highland	17	41	64	90

The third game of the evening went to Hoge as they played hepped-up Burgess and beat them 56-49. Klein of Burgess scored 17 points as his team mate Edwards was voted tops. Wahrer and Emrich of Hoge were high with 16 and 15 points each. Emrich of Hoge was voted outstanding. The score:

Burgess	5	20	33	49
Hoge	14	24	41	56

First round	W.	L.
Hoge	5	0
Highland	4	1
Oakley	4	1
Burgess	3	2
St. Paul	1	4
HCC	0	5

Second round:
Highland	5	0

Approve Hilliards Summer Races

Hilliards Raceway was given the "green light" for a 41-night harness racing program Saturday by Henry Knauff of Ladd, Ill., president of the United States Trotting Association.

The meeting will get underway Tuesday night, June 13, with trotters and pacers going to the post every night except Sunday through July 29.

There will be a purse minimum of $400 and a program of early closers is being arranged now, to be announced in a few days. Closing dates for entries has been set for Apr. 15.

Carl Johndahl of Buffalo is new president of the Hilliards oval, Rollo Haines, Grove City, is vice-president and Lyman Brownfield of Columbus is secretary-treasurer.

Davidson Opens New Plumbing Shop

A new plumber, Robert Davidson of 804 S. Roys-av, has recently opened a shop on the Hilltop. Davidson will be located in Ray's Bicycle Shop at 2518 W. Broad-st. He recently completed his master plumbers examination.

A Hilltopper for a number of years, Davidson is married to the former Eileen Wynkoop. Both were West High School students. They have three daughters, Sandra, Linda and Sharon.

Davidson served in the army for two years before taking his plumbing training from George Shipper.

Mrs. Grace Clifton Senator Candidate

Grace B. Clifton, 207 15th-av, is announcing her candidacy for state senator on the Democratic ticket in the primary election, May 2.

Mrs. Clifton is the widow of Dr. John L. Clifton, former state director of education of Ohio. She is the mother of Dr. John L. Clifton, Jr., Dr. Lucile Clifton, English faculty, Ball State Teacher's College, and Mrs. Larry Rainier (Esther Clifton).

Before her marriage, Mrs. Clifton was a teacher in the public schools of Pickaway Co. She was elected to three consecutive terms to the Columbus Board of Education, in 1935, 1939 and 1943. Also, she was appointed a member of the Building Commission for the Juvenile Center in Franklin Co.

The Spectator By C.C. Hartley

Notes and Nubbins: Many thanks to all the good people (our subscribers) who took the trouble to help us find additional copies of our Jan. 24 issue . . . John Shrum has recently been appointed a member of the Grandview fire department . . . Mr. O. D. Leach, who will be 90 years of age on Oct. 4, talks by phone each week with his sister, Laura J. Bailey, 96, in San Francisco . . . Mr. and Mrs. Leach just recently returned from a rest in the Florida sunshine . . . Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Farrenkopf, former New Rome residents, are operating a vacation camp at Rhinelander, Wisconsin, and are looking forward to seeing some Hilltoppers up that way this summer . . . Joe Agee advises that he is looking for fishing spots up Minnesota way for his Hilltop friends. He advises he recently stepped out of the hotel up there with the temperature at 23 below and thought nothing about it . . . The headline in last week's Record pertaining to "Vice", the instrument that holds things, seemed to draw some objections from some people who thought it was a proofreader's error, but we have exonerated said lady, because Webster says it can be "vice" or "vise" . . . Larry Scales spoke in behalf of the Red Cross drive at the Tuesday HBA meeting and did a nice job . . . Auto tags will be on sale on the Hilltop at the C. C. Robinson Co. store at Wayne and Broad each day from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. through Mar. 31 . . . Clark Finneran is up and around again and expects to return to work about Mar. 27 . . . We killed our first snake of the spring a week ago Sunday and another sign of spring is the arrival of a big blue herron . . . Reports have it a big housing project is about to be announced for west of the city . . . And a couple of new business buildings are in the planning stage for West Broad Street.

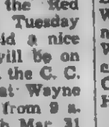
Our Bucks Are Against The Wall Now

Benjamin Gitlow, former communist, speaking at the Columbus Rotary Club Monday, claims that the United States has its back to the wall. "The communists are seeking to destroy our government from within. We are now in a psychological war to destroy our faith in our government," he claimed.



All the atom bombs and hydrogen bombs in the world won't win the next war, he contends. But at the same time it is the plan of the communists to take over the U. S. government by boring from within. Liberals, progressives and fellow travelers are carrying the communist load, he claims.

More so-called liberals might do well to consider just what they are doing to help preserve the American way of life.

Flowers of the Week

The public is invited to the opening ceremonies for the new Hilltop Library Sunday afternoon. This is indeed a fine addition to the civic betterment of the Hilltop. We are proud of this fine building and the service the library staff will be able to provide. Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, Hilltop representative on the Columbus Library Board, is deserving of the praise of the community for her part in bringing this improvement to the Hilltop. This week's Rosebud floral tribute is being sent her way.

New Hilltop Post Office Is Welcomed Improvement

Announcement that the Hilltop will soon have a fine new post office is welcome news Don Smith, O. H. Craft and the post office department are to be congratulated. Both postal workers and those who use the postal facilities will welcome this improvement.

"Market Basket" Is New Classified Page Shopping Aid

A new feature, known as "The Hilltop Market Basket", begins today as a regular part of the Thursday Classified Section, on Page 6A.

The "Market Basket" is a convenient double-column listing of the Hilltop's neighborhood groceries, designed as an aid to the housewife in completing her food-shopping list. Check your store's ad each week, Mrs. Hilltopper!

Red Cross Drive Workers Reach 59 Per Cent of Goal

Red Cross solicitors in the Valley-Hilltop-Westgate section had attained 59 per cent of their goal at the fourth report given Tuesday at a luncheon meeting at the Southern Hotel. It was ladies' day as the report was made and Dr. Roy F. Burkhart, who delivered the invocation, was the only man at the speakers' table.

The Colonel for this section is Mrs. Don Rice, 112 N. Huron-av and Co-Colonel is Mrs. Claude Budd, 791 S. Richardson-av. Volunteer workers for the Westgate and Hilltop areas are:

District Scouts To Appear On Radio Show Saturday

On Saturday, Mar. 18, at 1 p. m. the Boy Scouts from the South West district will appear on the WCOL radio program "Special Freight." Joe Dixon from troop 181 will sing an Irish ballad, "Galway Bay", Walter Renner, Bill Boiland and Bill Hauffman from troop 181 will harmonize "Beautiful Ohio." Patrick Martindale from troop 250 will tell about his coin collection. Robert and David Maxwell from cub pack 250 will sing "Dear Hearts and Gentle People."

From Grove City troop 86, Lewis Mathers will play a special arrangement of "The Jack Rabbit Rag" on his trombone. Dale Harrison will play "Star Dust" on the trumpet. Boy Scouts from troops 181 and 86 will sing "On the Upward Trail" and one boy from each troop will give a short troop history.

On last week's program Karen Reber a Hilltop Girl Scout from troop 246 gave a piano selection. The program is written by Mrs. K. L. Martindale.

Hilliards Grange Meets Mar. 9

The Hilliards Grange held an open house Mar. 9 with the program in charge of the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Austin White. The meeting was featured by Irish songs by Margaret Slater with Gretchen Roberts at the piano.

The Brannan Plan was then debated by four Ohio State University students, Don Bowman, Bill Massurios, Jack Cowden and Tom Gindlesberger. Afterwards, they answered questions from the audience.

The next meeting will be held Mar. 23. At this time the third and fourth degrees will be conferred. All members are urged to be present. A pot luck dinner will follow the degree work.

Use Permit Granted To Club 219

A use permit for a meeting hall for Boy Scout Troop 219 has recently been granted to Mothers' Club 219 by the Franklin County Board of Zoning Appeals. The Mothers' Club sponsors the scout troop.

Mrs. Mary Martin, 917 Whitethorne-av, received notification of the ruling from Grover Clements of the Franklin County Planning Commission.

The hall is located on Whitethorne-av just north of Eakinrd in the Rainbow Addition.

HBA Speaker Urges Votes, Hits Teaching

It is time to register, time to vote and time to have the republican form of government. This was the advice of Dr. Jonathan Forman, speaking at the Tuesday meeting of the Hilltop Business Association.

He was critical of the new teaching program which he claims has eliminated civics and replaced it with lessons in democracy.

Social security is neither social nor secure, he claims. "Your son is merely paying taxes to pay your social security and will do so the rest of his life," he said.

Pointing to the overlapping of governmental services he stated that Franklin County has too many health officers and a couple of good ones could do a much better job.

John Nippert was in charge of the meeting and explained the functions of hospitalization insurance and outlined how employers might get it for their employees.

A discussion of a city proposal to install parking meters here drew considerable pro and con comment.

Membership was voted to Dr. S. Slaven, J. A. Boden and R. L. Woods; the latter, representatives of the Ternstedt Fisher Body Plant.

Haager Guest Of RBA Tuesday

Clyde Haager of the county engineer's office addressed members of the Rome Business Association Tuesday on the petition now being circulated to improve the storm sewers of the community.

The dinner for the members was prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church. More than 50 persons attended the meeting.

Members of the Highland Avenue School PTA are busy preparing for the Spring Festival to be held at the school Friday from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Gene Fisher New Pres. of Alton Advancers 4-H

The regular meeting of the Alton Advancers 4-H Club was called to order Mar. 14 at 8 p. m. by the president, Walter Hoffman. There were 26 members present.

After dispensing with the business proper, election of officers for the coming year was held.

They are: president, Gene Fisher; vice president, Dick Fisher; secretary, Walter Hoffman; treasurer, Bob Stormont; reporters, Charles Link, Eddie Dietrick; recreation leaders, Louis Scheiderer and Paul Slyh.

A motion was made, seconded and passed that meetings be held on the second and fourth Monday nights of each month. Tentative plans for the coming year were suggested and discussed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Roy Hoffman on Rome-Hilliards-rd.

Paul Thompson Elected Pres. Of Class of '51

Class officers of the January class of 1951 at West High were elected this week, A. E. Buchanan, senior advisor, said today.

Officials who will direct the senior class activities at the Powell Avenue School include: president, Paul Thompson, 320 N. Oakley; vice-president, Joe Petitti, 2533 Sullivant-av; secretary, Delores Shrum, 92 N. Haldy-av; and treasurer, Judy Brook, 478 Whitethorne-av.

High In Bowling Tourney

H. O. Johnson, 225 S. Algonquin-av, took top honors in the national railroad bowling tournament at Utica last week-end in doubles division. Rolling 287 in his final game Johnson scored 675. The 625 of Neil Lantz brought the total to 1300.

HRCA To Get Report On Lighting

H. T. Van Ness, president of the High Ridge Civic Association, has reported that favorable word has been received concerning the installation of street lights on Butler-av and Clark-av, and that he hopes to have a full report on these projects at the Mar. 21 meeting of the association.

The meeting will be held in the recreation room of the Hilltop Church of God at Whitethorne and Safford-avs. Also up for discussion at the meeting is the High Ridge school project on W. Mound-st.

The guest speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Nancy Michael, director of the Columbus Milk Council. A full color motion picture, "The Milk Parade" will be shown.

All members and residents of the area are urged to attend this meeting.

Hammer Robbins Dies At Home

Hammer S. Robbins, 82, of 309 Josephine-av, a former maintenance man for the Hocking Valley Railroad, died Tuesday at his home. He was last employed as a crossing watchman for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at the time of his retirement in 1937. He was a member of Church of Christ.

Surviving are his wife, Wilmetta; a daughter, Mrs. Jessie L. Adams, and a son, Herbert Robbins, both of Columbus; a brother, Frank Robbins of Cincinnati; six grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at Jerry Spears funeral home, where services will be at 1:30 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Union Cemetery.

Members of Highland Avenue Parent Teacher Association are making final plans for the annual spring festival to be held on Friday evening, Mar. 17, at the school. Doors will be opened to the public at 6:30 and there will be no admission to the building. Tickets for the various shows that will be held in the different rooms all during the evening may be purchased at the north entrance on the lower floor of the school.

The children of the school and their teachers have planned a variety show using the children's own talent as one of the features of the evening. There will be a magic show, a cake walk, a fish pond, a hobby show and a game room that will furnish entertainment for all.

There will be booths where handmade gift items, baked goods and candy, donuts and coffee, weiners and pop may be bought all during the evening. The doll clothes that are for sale are a specialty. This should interest the "little mothers" everywhere.

Wolfe Electric Co. Offers Unique Customer Service

Wolfe Electric Co., 2427 W. Broad-st, today inaugurated a new shopping service for the convenience of their patrons on the Hilltop by offering free courtesy car service.

Gene Wolfe, proprietor of Wolfe Electric Co., today announced the beginning of the unique service which offers his customers free transportation from their homes to the store. "Customers desiring anything in the electrical appliance line from refrigerators to television," according to Mr. Wolfe, "need but call our number RA. 1356 and one of our employees will call for them at their homes, bring them to the store to shop at their convenience for needed electrical appliances and return them to their homes."

Great Day For Irish

Hilltop Sons of Erin To Celebrate Friday

Aye, surely, the Hilltop sons and daughters of the "auld soil" will be after having a busy day tomorrow, Mar. 17—St. Patrick's Day.

Wednesday the Record staff called Hilltoppers who have typically Irish names to learn what they will be doing on the day honoring the patron saint of the Emerald Isle. We found that the descendants of Ireland will have a big day Friday.

Bob O'Shaughnessy, 650 Belvidere-av, represents a truly Irish family. For 60 years his family has marched in every St. Patrick's Day parade. Bob's nephew, Jerry, nine, will be fourth generation to walk in the parade. Bob will mark his 25th year marching in the parade. He will also attend the Shamrock Club breakfast, then mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral, and in the evening the Society of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick banquet.

Mrs. Katherine Murnane, 70, 24 S. Terrace-av, will spend a quiet St. Patrick's. She will attend mass at St. Aloysius Church. But, her son and grandson will be for marching in the early morning parade, and they'll be after carrying their shillalahs. "I don't know about the clay pipes," she added.

Tommy O'Farrell, 1571 Demorest-rd, will be "wearin' the green, "but I won't be in the parade. I've got to work."

Mrs. Kerm Malone, 157 S. Eureka-av, whose Grandparents O'Dwyer were born in Ireland, will be downtown early Friday morning to watch the parade. Then she will attend mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral. But her husband will have to work. Mrs. Malone's father, a native of this country, was born on St. Patrick's Day.

James McElwee, 86 N. Hague-av, a Scotch-Irishman, always works when St. Patrick's Day falls on a work-day. "But I always wear a shamrock, or something green," he said.

N. D. Murphy, 184 S. Richardson-av, will have to work this St. Patrick's Day, but his heart will be in the parade. He has plenty of Irish in him. His grandparents were born in County Cork, Ireland.

Mrs. Anna F. McLaughlin, 71, 397 S. Burgess-av, plans to go downtown to watch the parade and then come back to the Hilltop to go to church. Her grandfather was born in Scotland, but her in-laws came to this country from Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Casey, 485 Larcomb-av, will have breakfast with the Shamrock Club tomorrow morning and then go to church. Casey is a member of the club. His grandmother came from County Cork, Ireland.

George Sedgrick, 70, 397 S. Burgess-av, had a grandmother on each side of his family who came from Ireland. He is going to take things easy on St. Patrick's Day.

John S. Duggan, 888 S. Wiltshire-rd, will be working tomorrow, but he's plenty Irish nevertheless. His grandparents came from Ireland.

The parents of William A. Kirwin, 105 N. Huron-av, came from Ireland, too.

Work Begins On Don Smith Building

Donald F. Smith, attorney, announced Wednesday that work will begin immediately on the new building at Broad-st and Harris-av that will house the new Hilltop branch post office.

According to present plans the building will be ready for occupancy Aug. 1.

The building will have a 70-foot frontage and extend 126 feet back. The post office will occupy the entire front of the building back to a depth of 72 feet on the first floor. Plans call for complete locker room facilities for the post office employees. Trucks loading and unloading at the post office will enter through the rear of the building to a loading ramp inside.

Facing on Harris-av will be two rooms that will be used as a barber shop and a beauty salon. Apartments will be situated on the upper floors.

"The number of stories will depend on the demand for space," Smith said of the height of the building. Architect Howard Tuttle said that it would be possible under present plans, to build the structure four stories high.

The building will be built along modern lines with contrasting bands of architectural concrete and bricks. The front will have a marble facing and a marquee will extend from the front of the building.

The contract for the foundation of the building has been let to the George J. Igel Co. and Peter Catena. Other contracts have yet to be let and will be handled by Greer Orr, 150 Binns-blvd, who has been named construction foreman of the project.

A ten-year lease between the post office department and the new owner has been secured through O. H. Craft, realtor. The lease is renewable for ten years.

Smith emphasized that he will not change the location of his law office which is at 2977 W. Broad-st.

Hilltop Record To Publish Weekly Starting March 30

Effective Mar. 30 The Hilltop Record will be published but once a week, and will be delivered by mail on Thursday mornings.

For the past year the Record has been published twice weekly and delivered by carrier boy. In this period of experimentation it has been determined that the support for the twice weekly paper is not sufficient to merit the great additional cost.

A spot survey from house to house in numerous areas of the community reveals that for the most part subscribers prefer a larger Thursday paper over the smaller editions on Tuesday and Thursday. Advertisers have expressed a desire for once a week delivery likewise.

Monthly subscribers will be called on by their carrier boys for payment of any amounts due to Apr. 1. Thereafter the better carriers will be given an opportunity to take over jobs as route supervisors and will be responsible for collections and complaints in their areas.

Subscription price of the paper will be reduced to $1.50 per year, $1.00 for six months, three months for 50c or 20c per month.

All paid in advance subscriptions at the higher rate will be extended at the lower pro-rata rate and within a period of about four weeks each subscriber will receive a card showing the expiration date of his or her subscription.

Candidate Opens Campaign HQ On W. Broad St.

Cunningham for Commissioner Headquarters have been opened at 2532½ W. Broad-st, it was announced this week by Harold Cunningham

The office will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Telephone is JO. 4101. Persons interested in furthering his campaign are invited to call at the headquarters for literature.

Cunningham, a Democrat, lives at 4744 Fisher-rd.

Mrs. Genevieve Waters, Apt. 4, Broad-Lechner Apts., has been named office secretary.

Westgate Firm Still Low On Contract Bid

The controversy over awarding the electrical contract for the new Franklin County Children's Home appeared settled Monday.

The Westgate Electrical Construction Co., 3060 W. Broad-st, was again low with a bid of $40,395, which was $1,072 lower than the three other bidders for the job.

A fight over awarding the contract began several months ago, when the county commissioners refused to give the Westgate Co. the contract because they said they feared "union trouble" on the job.

At that time, Westgate's bid was $3,000 lower than the nearest competitor.

Last month the commissioners asked for new bids for the electrical work after the union-non-union shop dispute arose. Westgate's new bid was higher than the previous bid offered.

2 From Hilltop Cum Laude Grads

Two Hilltop students will receive degrees with high honors at the Winter quarter graduation of Ohio State University Friday in the fairgrounds coliseum.

The "cum laude" grads are Jerrold Dale Karabner, 826 S. Terrace-av, B.S. in education; and Patricia Ann Newman, 196 N. Chase-av, B.S. in education.

WIN "CHARM" CONTEST

Mrs. Leo N. LaVelle, 187 Midland-av, and her 17-year-old daughter, Sally, were declared "Columbus' Most Charming Mother and Daughter." The award was made in the contest held in connection with the current showing of the M-G-M musical "Nancy Goes to Rio."

10 West Students Nominated For Speaker Tryout

By Myron T. Seifert

First step, preparatory to commencement plans in June, was taken by the seniors this week when they nominated, by secret ballot, 10 candidates for class speaking honors at the traditional commencement rites, George F. Neeb, class adviser, said today.

Nominees included Malcolm Ator, Carl Caliguri, Walter Gibson, Don Naftzger, Newell Yaple, Lavonne Beard, Jean Byrum, Clara James, Francis Smith and Gay Wade.

A faculty committee of five English teachers, also to be named by the seniors, will determine best boy and girl speaker at a scheduled meeting in the near future.

Each student selects his own topic and prepares his own speech under the direction of Ed Kaylor, public speaking instructor.

Hilliards School Robbed

A thief broke into four rooms in the Hilliards High School building Tuesday evening, taking a small sum from a cash box in the school cafeteria. Sheriff's deputies believe he entered the building during a meeting of an outside group and left before the night watchman came on duty.

JERRY JOHNSON, West High athlete, has a double reason for celebrating St. Patrick's Day. Jerry will be 16 on the day that everyone wears green and searches through the family tree for a bit of Irish ancestry. Jerry lives at 206 N. Hague-av.

Camp Fire, Blue Bird Groups To Celebrate 40th Birthday

The Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups all over the city are planning special occasions in celebration of their 40th birthday.

On Mar. 19 at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, 29 S. Eureka-av, the O Ki Wi Ta Camp Fire group is having an exhibit of old and new articles, which will be brought in by the girls who are members of the group. Leader of the O Ki Wi Ta is Mrs. K. L. Birkhead, 78 N. Powell-av, assistant leader is Mrs. Lester Moore, 228 N. Hague-av. Members of the group are Jane Baker, Yvonne Birkhead, Jeanne Hilbert, Gayle Lamb, Elaine Marziuf, Nancy Moore, Nancy Parks, Judith Swartz, Dianne Wade and Beverly Wilson. Each girl will tell something about one article she is exhibiting.

Miss Bess Sperry, a teacher at West Broad Street School will exhibit and give a lecture on her famous doll collection, which will be interesting to both adults and children.

Mrs. Avis Campbell, acting executive secretary for the Camp Fire Council, will give a short talk on the camp fire birthday project.

Mrs. Kay Truitt and Jan Waring, Camp Fire Field Directors will lead the group singing of camp songs. The program will be followed by folk games and songs led by Mrs. Patria Dague, 2511 Johnstown-rd, formerly of the Philippine Islands.

The O Ki Wi Ta has invited in addition to the special guests taking part in the program, the following guests: Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Wold; Mrs. Harry Mayers, 479 Hilltonia-av, who is the chairman of the City-Wide Camp Fire Leaders Association; and Mrs. Richard T. Wright, 140 Columbian-av, chairman of the West District Camp Fire Leaders Association.

Families and friends of the groups are urged to attend.

W. Broad PTA Sells Cookies

The West Broad PTA is sponsoring a cookie sale which started Mar. 3 and will continue through Mar. 16. The cookies will be delivered Mar. 21. Mr. O. W. Menz, 2729 Sutton-pl, is chairman of the ways and means committee.

This is the only money raising project of the PTA this year. The money raised from this sale will be used to buy three radio and record player combinations, bicycle racks and a film strip machine.

Last year the project was blacktopping the playground. Previous accomplishments of the PTA included: playground equipment, balls and bats for each room, playground slide, basketball equipment in the auditorium, interior decorating of the lunchroom, piano for the auditorium, two sets of World Book Encyclopaedia, loud speaker system, electric stove, dishes, silverware, and tables for the lunchroom, music for glee clubs and orchestra, mimeograph, jungle gym, and a moving picture machine and screen.

Band Variety Show Opens At West High

THESE WEST HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS will present specialty numbers at the West High Band Parents' Variety Show tonight and Friday. In the back row are Arthur Miller, R. C. Glass, John Brown, R. E. Teichert, Cyrus Sedgwick and George Wing. Flexing his biceps in front is O. D. Lehman.

The largest instrumental musical groups on the Hilltop and much of the community's top variety talent will participate in the annual Band Variety Show at West High School tonight and Friday.

Headlining the attraction will be the senior high band, the junior high band, the school orchestra, and the school dance band. Music Director Clair Barnard is directing the show.

Proceeds from the show will go towards the support of the bands and orchestra at the school. The show is sponsored annually by the West High Band Parents Club.

Tickets are on sale at Story Dry Cleaners, 2420 W. Broad-st, and will also be sold at the school ticket office the nights of the show.

For prompt and profitable results, try a Hilltop Record Want Ad.

PRETTY MARGARET MORGAN will entertain Band Variety Show patrons with her singing of "When You and I Were Young Maggie".

THE DANCE ROUTINE of Mary Street will be "Humpty Dumpty on Tape".

Rev. Witherspoon Attends Funeral Of E. E. Oliver

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Witherspoon, 3988 Wicklow-rd, returned recently from Madison, Wis., where they attended the funeral of Emery E. Oliver, philanthropist, who met death in a plane crash.

Oliver had founded the Calvary Gospel Church in Madison where Rev. Witherspoon had been pastor. Oliver also aided in the founding of Rev. Witherspoon's present church, the Apostolic Gospel Church, 1074 W. Broad-st.

Rev. Witherspoon was one of four clergymen to speak at the rites.

While in Madison the Witherspoons were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raido Wysong. Wysong is a former Hilltop realtor.

On the return trip they visited Levern Beckberger of East Chicago. Beckberger is a graduate of West High School and Ohio State University and is now a chief chemist for the Sinclair research laboratory. Since leaving Columbus he has married and now has three children.

Firm Celebrates 82nd Anniversary

Lauterbach and Elber, one of Ohio's oldest general insurance companies, will celebrate its 82nd anniversary of business operations Monday night at a dinner in the Athletic Club.

Thirty state agents and company managers have been invited. Several of these companies have been continuously represented by the Columbus firm for more than three-quarters of a century.

The agency, which is in its third generation, is headed by Arthur E. Lauterbach and Willard G. Lauterbach, grandsons of the founder. Associated with the Lauterbach Brothers are E. B. Hatch, Jr., Charles J. Schaefer and John E. Grassie.

Hilltop Branch Library Opens Sunday

A dream of more than ten years will be fulfilled Sunday with the opening of the new Hilltop Branch Library Sunday.

In special community ceremonies the ribbon to the entrance of the library will be cut and the new library, for which the ground was purchased ten years ago, will be opened.

The one-story modern brick building contains one large room and a number of supplementary smaller rooms. Construction started on the building last summer after being delayed by the war and the period of high building costs following the war.

The Hilltop will have the first branch library to be owned by the city.

The old branch, in rented quarters on N. Hague-av, has been closed since last Friday. It opened on the Hilltop in 1928.

Good-All Circle To Meet Wednesday

The Good-All Circle of Robert Morris Chapter No. 372 Order of Eastern Star will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening, Mar. 15, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Fern Johnson, 59 S. Ogden-av. Mrs. Bess Turner will be associate hostess.

A short business meeting will be conducted by the president, Mrs. Wilma Fackler. Mrs. Alice Goodall is worthy matron of Robert Morris Chapter.

Dana Ave. P. T. A. Meets Thursday

The Dana Avenue Parent Teacher Association will meet Thursday at 1:30 p. m. A musical program will be given by one of the classes.

A movie, "The Human Growth" will be shown. All are urged to attend this meeting.

Report Shows $380,000 Assets Gain For Modern

Substantial increase in assets, amount loaned, and loans outstanding of the Modern Finance Company during 1949 was reported by President L. Kirts Osborne, Jr., at the company's annual stockholders' meeting Saturday, Mar. 11.

President Osborne's report showed assets of the company increased from $1,297,909.81 on Dec. 31, 1948, to $1,677,791.20 on Dec. 31, 1949, a gain of approximately $380,000. Loans outstanding gained more than $323,000.00, rising from $1,165,959.78 on Dec. 31, 1948, to $1,489,482.66 on Dec. 31, 1949.

Officers and directors of the company re-elected are L. Kirts Osborne, Jr., president; Lloyd L. Osborne, vice-president; C. Bruce Osborne, treasurer, and Carl Tangeman, secretary and attorney.

Modern now operates two offices in Columbus, and one each in Barnesville, Coshocton, Greenfield, Portsmouth and Xenia.

Modern's Columbus offices are located at 81 E. Gay-st and 2434 W. Broad-st. Richard Glick is manager of the downtown office and Jack Miser is manager of the Hilltop office.

Polygon Club Meets At Home Of Mrs. Lower

A number of members of the Polygon Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Eva Lower, 1457 Union-av. The Polygon Club is for middle-aged people who would ordinarily have few outside interests or activities.

Those who gathered at the Lower home were Chester Moore, 1686 E. Kossuth-st; Mrs. Stella Beeler, 460 Stanley-av; Oliver D. Long, 1036 Miller-av; Mrs. Mary Jane Davis, 214 Danu-av; Mrs. Mary Patterson, 274 Maple-dr, Rome; J. O. Dunlop, 77 W. Second-av; Mrs. Hazel Burgoon, 1584 S. Fourth-st; Mrs. Edith Hartley, 2025 Fairmont-av; Mrs. Chlora Campbell, 483 S. Burgess-av; Mrs. Stella Laile, 31 15th-av; and Lutrell Amrine, 654 S. Remington-rd.

The next meeting of the club will be a pot luck dinner for all members Sunday at Schiller Park from 5 to 9 p. m. Information on this meeting can be had from any member of the club.

Odd Fact

A shivering couple, who emerged from the icy waters of a lake near Potsdam, Germany, told police they had planned to commit suicide but the water was too cold.

Theaters

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio, starting Saturday, Mar. 18, is showing as a single feature the romantic comedy, "Mother Didn't Tell Me", starring Dorothy McGuire and William Lundigan as happy newlyweds. Jessie Royce Landis, June Havoc and Leif Erickson are in the cast.

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad, through Tuesday, is showing for a second week the Cecil B. DeMille Technicolor spectacle, "Samson and Delilah", starring Hedy Lamarr and Victor Mature. This DeMille epic is showing as a single feature.

Plan Poetry Contest For Students Of Local Schools

Students with poetic ability are having an opportunity to enter their poems in a contest being sponsored by the State Department of Education. Poems finally selected by the state committee will appear in the 1950 Ohio Anthology of Verse to be published before Oct. 20, Ohio Poetry Day. The contest is open to all grades from one to 12, and entries will be judged in four groups: primary, intermediate, junior high and senior high.

Franklin County entries, which are due Apr. 4, will be judged by the following people: Susan Scatterday, supervisor of reading, Bexley; Gladys Ricketts, Upper Arlington; Mrs. Virginia Kessler, Canal Winchester; Mrs. Louise Fridenstine, Lincoln Park; Rhea McCarty, Station WTVN; Martha Chambers, Franklin Junior High; Mrs. Verona Rothenbush, Starling Junior High; Mrs. Frank Kirven, head of the English department, South High School; Mrs. Esther Weakley, Hilltop Record poetry editor; Mabel Haynes, North High School, and Eve Finson, South High School.

Entries should be mailed on or before Apr. 4, to the Franklin county chairman, Ellen F. Boyer, 128 E. Pacemont-rd.

Scalloped Halibut

By BETTY BARCLAY

Scalloped fish makes a very tasty supper served with old-fashioned Johnny cake, and cucumber and watercress salad with French Dressing.

Here is a scalloped fish recipe that you will find ideal, for a Lenten dish — or for any time of year. Note that it is seasoned, not only with salt, but with a tablespoon of Worcestershire Sauce as well. It's a wise cook who keeps this piquant sauce handy for appetisers, soups and vegetables, as well as meat dishes.

Scalloped Halibut

2 tablespoons butter
Fresh bread crumbs
1 lb. halibut
1 tablespoon flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon Lea & Perrins Sauce
1 cup milk, or half milk and half stock in which fish has boiled
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt 1 tablespoon butter, stir in the fresh bread crumbs (about ¼ cup) and reserve for top. Cover halibut with boiling water and cook slowly until tender (about 20 minutes). Drain and separate into flakes, removing skin and any bones. Meanwhile melt the remaining tablespoon butter in top of double boiler. Stir in flour, add milk and stock, slowly cooking until smooth and thick. Remove from fire and add seasoning, fish, chopped egg and lemon juice. Mix lightly with fork. Pour into greased baking dish. Cover with bread crumbs and bake in hot oven at 400° F. for 15 minutes, until it bubbles up and top is nice brown. Serves 4.

LEAD DANCE ROLES in the play "Queen By the Grace of God" will be played by Jackie Howard, 132 S. Powell-av, and Joan Lytle, 15 Whitethorne-av (pictured above). The play is being given Mar. 26 at West High School by the pupils of St. Aloysius School in honor of the pastor's silver jubilee. The director of the play is Mrs. Ruby Kaiser and the dancing director is Mary Ann Gillivan. The church pastor is Rev. William Maloney.

'Middy Girls' W.H.S. '29

With one-half of the girls at West Senior High School participating in a school-wide intramural volleyball tournament at present, recalls to many Hilltoppers another sport in which West High girls excelled 21 years ago.

They were the 'Middy Girls" who made an enviable record in depression days of 1929 in basketball.

DONNA McKNIGHT will entertain show goers with her variety number, "Mutiny in the Nursery," at the West High Band Variety Show, Thursday and Friday nights. (Photo by J. Curtis Allen)

Hilltop Sport Shorts

By Dave Miller

West High's two sensational cage stars of the past basketball season were paid off for the sterling performances of the past season by the naming of the recent all-city and all-tournament selections around the city.

For any fans who don't know who we're talking about, it's Guard Bill Thrush and Center Phil Young. Both boys were unanimous choices of all three Columbus newspapers' all-city teams, and in each instance West, with Thrush and Young representing, was the only school that landed two players on the first team.

Naturally, no paper could fail to overlook either one of the sensational cagers. Young finished as individual scoring champ with 211 points while Thrush was runnerup with eight less than his super-larger teammate.

But insofar as the tournament play goes, West's two big guns were pretty much overlooked by the papers. Young scored 18 points in both of his tournament appearances and both against respectable opponents for a 36-point tournament total for only two games, and Thrush, who pasked mostly into the pivots throughout the tournament, wound up with a 24 point total also for only two games. However, only Thrush was able to gain a first place berth on any of the papers' choices, the Journal. The pint-sized guard also got a second team decision on the Citizen's vote. Young got a second team berth on each of the Journal and Citizen selections and an honorable mention on the Dispatch team.

Your reporter, who has not missed any district games in the last five years, picks East's Romie Watkins as the best of the tournament, and anyone will verify his coach's statement that he is a once-a-lifetime player. The little sophomore guard, who just recently was voted to every all-city team and every all-tournament team is a whiz and can't miss being sensational in his next two high school years.

The squatty guard is to East's regional-bound Tigers what Bob Donham is to Ohio State's sensational cage squadron. Neither Watkins or Donham may stand out in the scoring column always, but take them out of their respective lineups and both squads would be lost.

For those who don't already know it: West won the first Central District Class A crown in 1923, but has never won it since . . . Also, for the second year in a row West has been knocked out of the tournament by one point, last year by Delaware, 32-31, and this season by Aquinas, 46-45. Newark after losing out by one point in '48 and '49 came into this year's tourney to avenge it, and went home suffering from a 58-34 humiliation. from the tourney champs, East, in their first start . . . Let's hope West doesn't duplicate the feat next season.

Ron Shockley, starting center for Newark in their game with East in the tourney, was the same center who played in the West-Newark reserve game in the opener for both teams last December. Shockley, only a sophomore, scored only two points against West's reserves, but tallied five markers against East last week.

Of the starting five West has used in its final four games of the season, three of them will be back for duty next season. Jerry Trabue and Jerry Johnson will be back for the entire season and Forward Paul Ellingsworth will be back until mid-year graduation in January. Johnson will graduate the following January and Trabue the next (1953).

West High's coming season also brightens up a bit by the fact that a good junior high team will be coming up next season. Bob Thornton, Doug Clark, Bill Haire and Dick Hutchison will be depended upon for the coming three seasons around the West cage circles. Coach Red Lehman's junior high enjoyed one of the most successful seasons around the school for many a moon with an 8-2 record, good enough for third place in the City Junior High loop.

Speaking of things brightening up—the football picture for West is doing just that as of the last couple of days. Bill Orcutt, all city guard for West in 1948, when they had their second successive undefeated year, has been back in school the past semester after dropping out in '48. Gene Brown, fleet West halfback, also of the '48 team, and a second team all-city in scoring 36 points, has just recently come back to school. Like Orcutt, he, too, quit school a year ago, but is back to finish his schooling and play a little football on the side.

Track Coach Rufe Glass was greeted by 44 boys out for the spring sport at West High. These boys have been in the gym for the past semester every evening working out, and at the first sign of good weather they will be heading for the outdoors.

Coach George Williams, West's baseball mentor, will have seven lettermen back for the diamond sport when play begins in April. Like the trackmen, the baseballers will head for the outdoors as soon as good weather sets in. The returning monogram men include pitchers Phil Young and Bill South, both right-handers; infielders Dave Caton and Jack Winnestaffer; catcher Don Nafzger, and outfielders Morris Dobbs and Paul Ellingsworth.

TWO WEST HIGH SCHOOL TANKMEN took first place honors in the state high school swims held Saturday in the natatorium at Ohio State University. John Current (left above) was the diving champ and Ronnie Bolin (right) was the first place winner in the individual medley. Center is Tom Shelton of Grandview who finished second in the 300-yard freestyle. (Columbus Dispatch Photo)

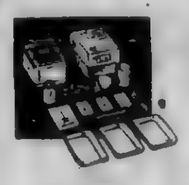
F.F.A.-F.H.A. Party Set For Mar. 24

The annual Hilliards FFA and FHA party will be held Mar. 24.

Sue Hamilton appointed the girls who will serve on the various committees at the last FHA meeting. The two clubs will work together on the refreshments, recreation and decorations for the party.

The FHA Club donated $25 to the school curtain fund.



New student teachers from Ohio State University were introduced to the FHA. They are Miss Babs and Mrs. Hartman.

A film library is to be opened soon at Hilliards High School. The FHA was asked to contribute to this fund and help sponsor it. Movies on dating, manners, etc. will be included in this library.

"The girls have been ordering FHA jewelry, and several girls have been working on the First Homemaker Degree which will earn them a guard for their pin. Doris Brown, Patty Hart, Leona Brown, Patty Hart, Leona Bohlen, Patty Rings, Wanda Sherwood, Edna Wourtz, and Janet Pierce are working on their first homemaker degree and have almost completed it.

Donna White was program chairman of the last FHA meeting. Other members of the committee were: Kay Karmichel, Loretta Young, and Jean Krohn. They told about George Washington's boyhood life and read "Washington's Prayer for the Nation."

GIRL SCOUT News Notes - - Activities

By Pat Martindale

Can you imagine just what it would be like not to belong to anybody or anything? Very few of us can, for besides belonging to a family most of us belong to clubs, teams or organizations. Many benefits can be derived from the worth while organizations, both for the member and non-member. Many of the fine ideals and principals practiced today came from such organizations. And so it was with this in mind that over 1½ million girls in the United States have joined the Girl Scouts. It meant belonging and sharing the fun of growing and living with other girls their own age. It meant joining with that 1½ million Girl Scouts in every state and territory of our nation to achieve the year's goals in service projects. It meant sharing ideals and aims with three million Girl Guides and Girl Scouts around the world. But belonging to the Girl Scouts means even more. In a deeper sense it is the acceptance of a personal code of ethics embodied in the ten laws of the Girl Scouts.

1—A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted.
2—A Girl Scout is loyal.
3—A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.
4—A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout.
5—A Girl Scout is courteous.
6—A Girl Scout is a friend to animals.
7—A Girl Scout obeys orders.
8—A Girl Scout is cheerful.
9—A Girl Scout is thrifty.
10—A Girl Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

There were thousands of girls in America who joined the Girl Scouts as new members during the past year. They came from cities, small towns, and farms, from families of high, middle and low income groups. They represented many racial and religious groups that compose America. In the wide diversification of their environments, backgrounds, interests and ambitions, they found a unity of ideals. They spoke a promise that had been spoken by millions of Girl Scouts before them.

On my honor, I will try;
To do my duty to God and my country,
To help other people at all times,
To obey the Girl Scout Laws.
—and they belonged.

It was 38 years ago this month that Juliette Low brought Girl Scouting to the United States. She is one of the most fascinating personalities in the history of the Girl Scout movement. Juliette Low was born in Savannah, Ga., Oct. 30, 1860. She lived a story book life of happiness, adventure and romance, interspersed with sadness and tragedy, a life that gave her the character and courage that made her a good woman. She always felt sorry for the person in trouble, loved animals, especially dogs and birds, and had many pets. Though gay and high spirited, there was also a serious side to her. She was generous and loyal and exceptionally talented. She traveled a great deal and it was on one of her trips that she met Lord Baden-Powell, the founder of Boy Scouting, and not only became a very good friend of his but became very much interested in scouting. She started Girl Guide companies in London and Scotland and then brought the very worthy organization of Girl Scouting to the United States.

Hilltop Taxidermist Progresses From Pigeon To Lion As Hobby Becomes Full Time Job

Hilltop taxidermist Max Shipley is shown putting the finishing touches on a pompano. Also shown are an African lion and a bear cub.

A hobby has developed into a full time job for Max Shipley, 705 S. Ogden-av, who started on his career as a taxidermist 16 years ago when he mounted a pigeon.

Since that time he has mounted a tiger, a leopard, a lion, and game birds, fish and animals too numerous to keep track of. At present Shipley is working on "Duke", an African lion that died at the Columbus Zoo. "Duke" will end up as a rug in the home of Zoo Superintendent Earl Davis, 2634 Eakin-rd.

Among the more unusual things Shipley has preserved are penguins, a two-headed calf, and a horse's tail. The tail was mounted and put on a plaque for a local oil company. At the end of each year the plaque is awarded to the lowest salesman on the staff.

Local hunters send and bring game from all parts of the country to have it preserved by Shipley. Deer come from the far western states, Michigan, Canada, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Two deer brought in this season were taken with bow and arrow.

Most of Shipley's time from October to the first of the year is spent in skinning game. The rest of the year he spends putting the finishing touches on the specimens. Most hunters have only the heads of deer or moose mounted. Lamps or ash trays are made from the hooves and jackets and gloves are made from the skins.

Shipley says he thinks that a new crop of Ohio hunters must have taken to the fields during the past season because of the large number of pheasants brought in. Birds, Shipley says, are the hardest to mount. Among each year's work are a large number of ducks and geese. A recent painstaking job was done on a canary, but Shipley says the hardest job to date is a small South American bird he did.

Next to birds, fish are the hardest, since they lose their natural color and have to be retouched with oil paints. Mrs. Shipley has the job of retouching the fish.

Glass eyes for the animals originally were nearly all made in Germany, but now most are supplied from this country. The mammal and bird eyes are made in Denver and artificial fish eyes are made in Nebraska. Shipley had his longest wait when he put through the order for a pair of lion eyes for "Duke".

Shipley came to the Hilltop two years ago from a farm near Darby Dale after his taxidermist business had become so large that it required all his time. He has his workshop in the basement of his home where he works amidst the sacks of tanned skins and piles of deer and moose horns.

Besides working for the hunters who bring in their game and take away the meat and finished mounts, Shipley does a lot of work for the zoo. However he does not do household pets. "People who have lived around the animals know exactly how they look, and my mounts might not seem natural to them," he says.

Records Come In, We're Looking For A Journal Now

The Hilltop Record has a new service—a newspaper exchange—almost.

Last week the Record put out a request for issues of the Jan. 24 Record. Thanks to our readers, several copies came in to replenish our files.

Along with one of those past issues of our paper came a request from Mrs. C. A. Minor, 277 S. Westgate-av for a copy of the Ohio State Journal of Monday, Nov. 21.

Mrs. Minor was sick in the hospital when that issue of the Journal came out, and there is an article in it which she is very interested in reading and keeping.

The Journal is as embarrassed as we were. It ran out of that issue. If you happen to have a copy of the Journal for that date, please call Re. 1125, or bring it to the Record office.

Saint Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, lived about 387 to 463. His supposed British name was Sucat.

Sucat had a romantic life, full of adventures. He was captured by pirates. They carried him back to Ireland and set him to tending flocks of a chieftain.

Six years of slavery made him a devoted Christian. He escaped to France and became a monk. In 432, a vision led him to return to Ireland as a missionary bishop.

He worked zealously in various parts of the island for the rest of his life. His labors were so successful that he came to be known as one who "found Ireland all heathen and left it all Christian." Over 300 churches were founded by Saint Patrick and more than 120,000 people were baptized.

One of the best known legends about Saint Patrick is that he charmed the snakes of Ireland and lured them to the seashore. All the snakes were drowned.

Saint Patrick's feast day is celebrated throughout the world, wherever there are Irish people. That day is always March 17.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

'Lo folks, put on your specs
We've found a little dirt
Read this news and you'll learn as much
As 'phone operator MYRT.

Well, here we go—first on our list
Is WATTS' relatives
They watch The Hilltop Record
To see how the other half lives.

We haven't met the HOWARD DUNNS
I hear they're top new neighbors
They've both worked hard to fix their house
Two thrifty happy laborers.

To buy himself a Buick
F. E. HALL put out some cash
MOSER got a Studebaker
And BURKHARDT bought a Nash.

A sporty car was purchased
A Dodge by GLADYS POPE
I'd settle for a Model-T
Will one be junked?—I hope!

The GREENOS had some company
Come up from Circleville way
All they did was play Canasta
And gab the live long day.

The KIRBYS, who have three babies
Are keeping wee-wee hours
But it's not the children's crying
Just television powers.

These sets are really pop'lar
With movies, news, and such
They cost a lot of money
And I ain't got that much.

New babies in our neighborhood
The BURLEYS had a son
With 'nother girl at TOMMY LANES'
They'll have to watch their mon'.

MR. AND MRS. NORMAN HART
A son to them was born
But all I have is me ole' wife
So I am all forlorn.

The three RUMFIELDS had the flu
They're better now by far
HERBY CLYDE is back to work
And wearing out his car.

Everybody's wondrin'
Who writes these weekly lines
They think they know the author
Then quickly change their minds.

Got no more gossip to spread aroun'
I'm sorta in a rut
'Cause I got no news left now as big
As a hole in a doughnut.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Common Pleas Court, Franklin County, Ohio.

No. 178860 — Homer R. Langston, Plaintiff, vs. Dorothy Tom Frazier, etals, Defendants.

Dorothy Tom Frazier, Frank Frazier (husband of Dorothy Tom Frazier), 67 Chapel Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois; Betty J. Tom, and the unknown spouse of Betty J. Tom, if any, 6705 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois, Fred A. Tom, 6704 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49 Illinois; Marguerite Tom (wife of Fred A. Tom), 6705 Merrill Avenue, Chicago 49, Illinois, all of whose respective places of residence last known to said plaintiff are as indicated above, are hereby notified that on the 10th day of November, 1949, Homer R. Langston filed his petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio, in cause No. 178860 against them as defendants, alleging that plaintiff is the owner in fee simple and in actual possession of said real estate described as follows:

Situated in the County of Franklin, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Franklin; being in Survey No. 1276, Virginia Military Land, and being also a part of a certain tract of 45.87 acres conveyed by Charles E. Tom, etal., to Emmet E. Tom, etal., by deed shown of record in Deed Book 284, page 150, Franklin County Records, and being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pin in the North line of the P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way which point is South 88 degrees, 50 minutes, West a distance of 445.9 feet from an iron pin in the West line of Hague Avenue, and in the North line of said P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way; said point being also the southwest corner of a tract heretofore conveyed by said Emmet E. Tom, etal., to the Hilltop Supply Company by deed as recorded in D. B. 756, page 198, Recorder's Office, Franklin County, Ohio; thence from said point of beginning north 21 degrees, 31 minutes, East a distance of 114.96 feet to an iron pin; thence North 98 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 406.30 feet to a point in the center line of Hague Avenue (passing an iron pin at 383.00 feet); thence North 23 degrees, 59 minutes (West along the center line of Hague Avenue a distance of 167.04 feet to a point; thence South 67 degrees, 10 minutes west a distance of 726.08 feet (passing an iron pin at 20.00 feet) to an iron pin on the East line of 20.989 acres tract; thence along the East line of said 20.989 acre tract, South 23 degrees, 27 minutes, East a distance of 10.00 feet to an iron pin; being also the southeast corner of said 20.989 acre tract, and on the North right of way line of aforementioned railroad; thence North 88 degrees, 50 minutes, East along the North right of way line a distance of 266.20 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.325 acres, subject to all legal highways; that defendants may claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right; that said claims constitute a cloud on plaintiff's title; and that, therefore, plaintiff prays that the defendants be compelled to set forth the nature of their claim; that said claim be declared to be null and void; that the defendants be forever enjoined from asserting any claim against the premises; that the Court determine that plaintiff is the true and lawful owner of said premises and that plaintiff's title be quieted against the claims of any and all defendants, and for such other relief as is proper.

Said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 1st day of April, 1950, or judgment may be rendered as prayed for therein.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

Warren Northrop Commands Growing Metal Army Units

By Myron T. Seifert

A most unique hobby for a Hilltop boy which began several years ago is now assuming great proportions.

Following World War II, Warren Northrop, 16, 166 Guernsey-av, junior at West High, anticipated future atomic developments and the disappearance of much of the infantry and cavalry military services, and undertook the task of preserving, in miniature, many kinds of military units used in various countries.

His colorful collection of more than 300 metal soldiers can be arranged in groups and units in much the same manner as commanders who set up their puppets preparatory to strategy to be employed by the leaders in actual combat.

"Most of the cavalry units were disbanded following World War I," Warren said, "but I wanted to preserve it because it is so colorful and played so important a part in history." His cavalrymen, of course, are on horseback and are life-like statues. His infantry men are dressed in colorful regimental uniforms.

In his huge collection, armies throughout the world have a place, particularly British regiments.

Other specimens in his collection include Arabian soldiers on foot, horseback and on camels; Coldstream guards on foot and horseback from Canada; Black watch from Scotland; Military Band from England; Drum and Bugle corps from England; Ev zones from Greece; Gordon highlanders from Scotland; Gordon Horse from India; Hussars from Hungary; Grenadier Guards foot horse from England; Foreign Legion from France; Lancers from Ireland; Life Guard from England; First Life Guard from Sweden; Mounted Police from Canada; 16th Century Knights Foot Horse; 16th Century Knights; Logoland Warriors from Africa; and West Point Cadets from America.

COLUMBUS ALUMNI OF MACALESTER COLLEGE were entertained last Friday evening by Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Wold, 2503 W. Broad-st. Those who met with Rev. Wold, chairman of the local chapter, were, left to right, Carolyn Hanning, St. Paul, Minn.; Ardis Wheeler, Worthington; Mrs. Wold; Mrs. Milton McLean, 196 E. Frambes-av; Rev. Wold, pastor of Hoge Memorial Church; Dr. Milton D. McLean, co-ordinator of religious affairs at Ohio State University; and Dr. Frank Throop, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church. Members not present were Dr. Clarence E. Ficken, dean of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware; Mrs. Ficken; Natalie Shepard, instructor at Ohio Wesleyan; Mrs. Amelia Stemens, 1283 Mooberry-st; Mrs. Robert Raney, 30 W. Beaumont-rd; and Rev. John A. McEwen, Bremen.

A local group of college alumni reminisced of school days last Friday evening, when the Columbus Chapter of the Macalester College Alumni Association met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Wold, 2503 W. Broad-st.

Observed nationally as Founder's Day, the event is an annual celebration in which 48 local chapters, including three abroad, participate.

The college, located in St. Paul, Minn., was founded in 1885 as a liberal arts school. Many distinguished national leaders are numbered among the graduates, including Henry Luce, editor of Time and Fortune magazines. The school's enrollment has grown consistently over the years necessitating a continuous expansion program.

The highlight of the day's program was centered at the college campus where several hundred alumni gathered for an all-day celebration. A coast-to-coast program was broadcast by the Macalester Radio Singers, presenting their sixth program over the Mutual Broadcasting System. A new feature of Alumni Day in June will be the first appearance of the Macalester bagpipe band. Colonel C. E. S. McAlester of Loup, Scotland, has donated a complete set of bagpipes, with his coat of arms, for the band.

Plans for next year's celebration include a joint observance with the Dayton chapter. The Rev. Wold is chairman of the Columbus group.

Girls To Present 'Gay Nineties Show' March 30

Price $5 — Tax Stamps

West's girls will give "Miss Prunella Prun's School of Charm for Young Ladies," during registration Thursday, March 30. Barbara Hill will be Miss Prunella, mistress of ceremonies.

Admission is $5 worth of sales tax stamps.

An all-girl orchestra and chorus line will roar through the Gay Nineties. Sparkling and gay, the show will have a picturesque Easter number composed of twenty-two 10B girls, duo pianos, girls' trio, solo dances, accordion dust, and several comedy routines.

Mrs. Evelyn Hall announced that the girls are out in full force to produce a show equal to last semester's all-boys' follies.

Sales tax stamps may be turned in any time between now and time for the show.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hilbert, 162 S. Hampton-rd, entertained with a family pot-luck dinner Saturday evening, in honor of her grandfather, Lewis Durban's 81st birthday. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Durben, 92 Buena Vista-av, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Crego, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Warner, Mr. and Mrs. William Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crego and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Judson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schatz and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schatz, Russells Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Faye Mosier and daughter, Plain City, visited Mr. and Mrs. Cary Crego, 52 Maple-dr, Sunday.

Mary Patterson, Maple-dr, was in Plymouth last week to attend the District Past Matrons' Association. She was also elected conductress for the coming year.

Mrs. Henry Warner, Pasadena-av, entertained several ladies with bridge Friday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Mrs. James Whalen, Mrs. Allen Burns, Mrs. George English, Mrs. Ed Deitrick, Mrs. M. A. Howell, Mrs. I. A. Thompson, Mrs. Charles Lowery and the hostess, who served delicious refreshments.

Jim Berry of Akron, Miriam Wentzel of Akron and Mrs. Gerald Ridinger, Miamisburg, were dinner guests Sunday at the Warner home. Their daughter, Priscilla, Otterbein student, was also home for the day.

Although Mr. and Mrs. John Cross and family have lived here only a short time, the community extends its sympathy in the death of their little daughter, Linda, Sunday noon. The parents extend their thanks to the inhalator squad of Prairie Township Firemen for their service as they did everything possible to save the baby's life.

Mrs. Irving Kasler and daughter, Diane, drove to Springfield Sunday to visit her niece and nephews in the Oesterlen Home for Children.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Schaeffer, mother of Earl Kordell, 92 Maple-dr, spent Saturday evening visiting at the Kordell home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gessner and family spent Sunday evening visiting her brother, Earl Kordell, and family.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Kordell entertained for Sergeant and Mrs. Walter Blake and family and Mrs. Olive Trickey. Mrs. Blake is Mrs. Kordell's cousin and Mrs. Trickey is the mother of Mrs. Blake. The Blakes are leaving for an indefinite stay in Japan.

Thirty members responded to roll-call when the Rome Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Growdon, 5132 Fisher-rd. The program committee had arranged for a "THEN" and "NOW" Style Show. Beginning with the year 1850, the gowns worn by the models caused much laughter, but when the "latest" styles (through the courtesy of Seiller's) made their appearance, worn by the same models, a more serious attitude was shown and personal interest was noted in the modeled clothing by different ladies. The guests for the evening were Mrs. Reba Long, who accompanied Mrs. Ed Deitrick, who sang several numbers. Also Mrs. Virginia Richey, Mrs. Isobel Schoonover, Betty Stormont, Phyllis Armstrong, Marie Beatty, little Karen Rismiller and Virginia (Sister) Whalen. Delicious refreshments were served by the committee, composed of Mrs. Ruth Armstrong and Mrs. Mildred Eberhard, who was responsible for the delightful concoction "Spring Snow Balls."

The Ruth Circle will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Marion Randall, 113 Buena Vista-av, Mar. 30, instead of at the home of Mrs. M. A. Howell as previously planned.

News Notes Of Job's Daughters

By Patty Holycross

Friendship night was celebrated Thursday night at Bethel No. 3 with the girls of Bethel No. 10 of Springfield as their guests.

George Roberts, the associate guardian, celebrated his birthday, and the queen from Springfield, Barbara Hoffman, read a fitting poem to him. The entertainment was furnished by the choir, entitled "the Love Life of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts." The refreshments were done up in St. Patrick's Day style.

We will dispense with our next meeting and go to Bethel No. 1 inspection. We will meet at Schmelzer's at 6:15, Mar. 23, and go up to Dodridge High, where Bethel meets.

Our Inspection and banquet will be held Thursday, Apr. 13, at Glenwood Methodist Church. All reservations are to be in no later than Apr. 10. The reservations can be given to the following girls: Barbara Wendel, RA. 6238; Marilyn Davis, RA. 8794; Nancy Constans, AD. 8789, and Patti Holycross, RA. 12931.

Our skating party which was held Mar. 2 turned out very successful although there was one mishap. Barbara Wendell fell and broke her arm, but that didn't keep her away from the meeting. She came and even pro-temmed. Mickey Bishop also pro-temmed.

During the meeting our librarian gave a report on "Winter Sunset", a play which she dramatized herself.

Words of the Wise

They who are in highest places, and have the most power, have the least liberty, because they are most observed. —(John Tillotson)

CAN DO

Fix These Warps In Storm Doors

STORM DOORS are an excellent invention. Sturdy, patient, dependable, they stand forth to protect the entrance to your house from the onslaught of all kinds of weather during the fall and winter seasons.

But once in a while even they need a little assistance, over and above the painting or varnishing they should get when they are removed every spring.

For instance, a storm door sometimes will bow or warp along the side, either above or below the latch. If this happens, the top or bottom of the door, depending upon where the bow is, will not close tightly into the frame, thus greatly reducing its efficiency as a protector and insulator.

Since few things are more annoying than a warped door, here is what you can do to fix it. And by the way, such a bow or warp generally is caused by a lack of paint on the edge of the door. When wood is left raw, it absorbs and holds moisture which swells the wood fibers and causes warping.

Now to remedy the situation: Remove the door from the hinges, and plan on having it off for almost a week. Lay the door flat on sawhorses, boxes or whatever suitable equipment you have that will serve the purpose. Be very sure to put it in the driest place you can find, then lay weights along the warped area of the door.

That's all you do. The weights should straighten out the door in a few days. It is also advisable, if you can do it, to let the weights on the door until they force it very, very slightly in the opposite direction of the original warp.

When you think you have it right, paint or varnish all the edges before rehanging the door, first making sure the finish has dried thoroughly, of course.

By the way, did you know that when you're taking off a door you should free the lower hinge first? Conversely, when you're hanging it the top hinge should be attached first.

STILL on the subject of doors, perhaps you'd like to know how to keep that front door from jamming up on the throw rug you have down just inside for people to wipe their feet on.

Obviously, you have to saw or plane enough wood off the bottom of the door to allow it to clear the obstacle. And since the simple result of this operation would be a dangerously large crack between the door and the sill, you have to raise the sill to meet the door.

You can do this by fastening a brass "saddle" over the door sill with special screw anchors. Your hardware dealer can supply you with these items. It's also wise to put metal weatherstripping along the bottom edge of the door so that it will lock into the saddle when the door is closed. This will forestall any leakage of wind-driven rain, too.

Household Hint

To keep plastic curtains soft, wash them in mild, thick suds and rinse well. For the final rinse, add about three teaspoons glycerine to enough tepid water to immerse curtains completely. Dip up and down several times, then squeeze out excess water. Hang up to dry, smoothing out wrinkles and straightening edges.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout neighborhoods; West High School with eight troops, West Broad Street School with four troops, John Burroughs School with 17 troops, Wilson School has three troops, Grove City has four troops, St. Mary Magdalene has six troops, and St. Aloysius has seven troops. The neighborhood chairmen are: Mrs. Walter Glass, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Raymond Haughn, Mrs. H. Cline, Mrs. George Allmon, Mrs. Froehlich and Mrs. K. L. Martindale. Mrs. H. C. Booth is the district chairman and Joan Smith is district director. Each troop has an adult leader, one or two assistant leaders and a committee of four. Besides the chairman each neighborhood has a vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer, and a publicity chairman. There are approximately 800 Girl Scouts in this district, the total of which has doubled in the past year.

The Girl Scouts of St. Mary Magdalene School received Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass on the Girl Scout's birthday, Sunday, Mar. 12.

Brownie troops 199 and 201 were invested in an evening service at 7:30 on the Girl Scouts' birthday. Benediction followed investiture. Thirty-six girls from third grade made up these troops.

The Girl Scouts from the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades of St. Mary Magdalene School will present an entertainment and display of craft at the regular meeting of PTA Thursday, Mar. 23, at 8 p. m. The performance will commence with the flag presentation, and will be dedicated to the Girl Scouts' birthday. Refreshments will be served after the program.

The next neighborhood meeting of St. Mary Magdalene will be held on Monday, Mar. 20, at the school. All parents of the scouts are invited.

Brownie Scout Troop 61 of West Mound Street, a newly organized troop, held its first investiture service Tuesday, Feb. 28. Besides the investiture they presented "The Brownie Story" as a three-act play and later served tea and cookies to their mothers. The following girls were invested: Judy Backman, Sharon Blakely, Sandra Bottman, Christine Diamond, Sheron Greiner, Sharon Rumfield, Nancy Stimmel, Joyce McClintock, Diana Robinson, Karen Groezinger, Janie Huffard, Nancy Hutton, Pam Murray, Patty Patterson, Linda Surrell, Jo Ann Seelig, Paula Preest and Sharon Hessler. Mrs Paul Blakely was also invested as a new leader.

The other two leaders of the troop are Mrs. Robert Bottman and Mrs. Gene Diamond.

The troop committee members are Mrs. Harold Warsmith, Mrs. Lawrence Surrell and Mrs. Paul Seelig.

In the Wilson School neighborhood the nine senior Girl Scouts of Troop 270 will attend the Lazarus Girl Scout birthday tea on Mar. 18. The leader is Mrs. Bernice Ballinger, Troop 289 will attend the tea on Wednesday, Mar. 15. In this troop there are 16 intermediate Girl Scouts with Mrs. Hale Cline as leader and Mrs. Lou Workman as co-leader.

Brownie Troop 200 will attend the Juliette Low birthday tea at Lazarus on Mar. 18. There are 21 Brownies in this troop with Mrs. John H. McConahay as leader, and co-leaders Mrs. Fred Eckart and Mrs. Virginia Vincent.

In John Burroughs School there are 223 Brownies and Girl Scouts, 11 Brownie troops and five Girl Scout troops. Eighty-three registered adults help as leaders and co-leaders and troop committees for these girls. To celebrate the birthday of Girl Scouting these girls are portraying the 11 different program fields in the Girl Scout program on Tuesday, Mar. 14, at 8 p. m.

Two girls from Troop 113 at John Burroughs, Janice Butterbaugh and Lynn Bohanan, acted as flag and color guard at the Southern Hotel Mar. 5 at the Girl Scout exhibition. Janice also is treasurer of the junior planning board and Lynn is on the committee for the Rules of Procedure. The leaders of this troop are Mrs. Ruth Stimson and Mrs. Lawrence Kegg.

On Sunday, Mar. 19, Brownie Troop 127 will appear on the television show, WTVN "Kiddie Karnival". The girls are Sharon Andrews, Shirley Anderson, Sondra Beck, Sandra Blum, Nancy Brooks, Annette Bates, Patsy Hanawalt, Ruth Ann Hardacre, Sandra McNamee, Mary Jo Cramer, Gail Adams, Linda Prior, Nancy Reichelderfer, Marilyn Ruhl. Their leaders are Mrs. Lowell Hardacre and Mrs. Charles Reichelderfer.

Watch for this program and send your votes.

One of the recent neighborhoods to be organized is West Broad Street School. The leaders and committee members for Troop 294 are Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. J. J. Higgins, Mrs. Earl Abram, Mrs. Hanne and Mrs. Don Myers. In Troop 295 Mrs. Dorothy Fichter, Mrs. Cleo Smith, Mrs. Jose Reeb, Mrs. Ross Contizano, Mrs. Robert Barland and Mrs. McLain. In Troop 297, Mrs. Rismiller, Mrs. Warren Weeks, Mrs. Robert Howison, Mrs. Elmer Compton, Mrs. C. Paul Probst and Mrs. Lewis Smith. In Troop 29, Mrs. Elma Snovely, Mrs. Amrine, Mrs. Treherne, Mrs. Lee Edwards, Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. John Halloway and Mrs. Willcoues.

On Monday, Mar. 13, the St. Aloysius Girl Scout neighborhood held a mother-daughter tea in the school annex. At the tea the Camp Chase Post of American Legion presented an American flag to the Girl Scouts. The guest speakers from the Legion were Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Americanism chairman, Mrs. Ray McVay, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. D. C. Finneran. Mrs. H. C. Booth, district chairman of the Girl Scouts, and Joan Smith, district director, were guests. Mrs. Thomas Kenny, PTA president, represented the sponsor of the St. Aloysius Girl Scouts.

Mrs. K. L. Martindale, St. Aloysius Girl Scout chairman, was in charge of the affair, with the following committee: Mrs. Ray Sapp, special invitations; Mrs. Fred Balthaser, entertainment; and Mrs. Patrick Martin, refreshments; Mrs. Thelma Lynch, Mrs. Fay Close and Mrs. Pauline Rowe as assistants.

Troop 185 of West High neighborhood has been busy during the last few months. Each girl passed the requirements for a Community Badge. Also they made 12 inch aluminum trays for their parents, which is part of the medal badge they will receive in the near future.

A few other activities they enjoyed were the folding of seals for the Tuberculosis Society, the folding of newspapers for district nurses, and braiding plastic bracelets for themselves. Along with this work four of the troop are completing their Second Class Badge requirements which the other girls already have.

Mrs. Carl Spohn is leader of this troop, which includes the following girls: Alice Athey, Nancy Geyer, Carol Hoover, Suzanne Hoover, Carol Jhensen, Judith Jones, Janet Reid, Karlene Spohn, Nancy Steckman, Jo Ann Strauss, Audrey Wise. Mrs. Harold Athey and Mrs. Charles Schmidt are members of the troop committee.

Officers Chosen For Senior Choir

Four officers were recently elected by choir members. Those elected were: President Ralph Vanatta, Secretary Shirley Mielke, Librarian Cliff Everett, and Monitor Warren Stevens.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edith White, plans to sing in the Easter assembly for the school, be in the processional, and will sing in the Hilltop Minstrels instead of the regularly scheduled group of men.

Neff Sings For Estelle Liebling

Lois Neff, a senior, is going to New York for four days, March 18, where she will sing for Estelle Liebling, noted editor and critic.

The numbers Lois will present are: "Love Is Where You Find It", "Russian Picnic," "Let All My Life Be Music," and "Some Day My Prince Will Come."

Lois, along with a group of ten other high school students from Columbus, is going to stay at the Barbizon Plaza Hotel, which is located across from Central Park.

While she is there, Lois is going to attend several hit musicales and will make definite arrangements for her return there after graduation.

Lois has been taking voice lessons from Dorothy Humphreys for four years. During that time she has made several public appearances. Recently she sang in a concert with the men's glee club at Capital University.

Do you think accidents only happen to others? Like the driver who passed you on the highway and just managed to squeeze between your car and the one approaching in the other lane. Maybe you swore at his recklessness. But, asks the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, did you slow up to give him plenty of space when you saw the danger of what he was doing? Yes, accidents do happen to others. But they can also happen to you—unless you prevent them.

"It's OK Boys. You can tell him everything... He's the Census Man!"

You're right, Rafe! The Census-Taker hasn't got any connection with the "Revenooers." Anything anybody tells him is strictly confidential. By law, Census facts and figures can't be shown to the tax people, the police, or anybody else.

Everything the Census-Taker asks is important to you and your family. Your answers will help leaders in industry, business, labor and civic groups to plan such things as better schools, better roads, better housing; better distribution of such services as telephones, gas, water, and electricity.

What's more, if you want to have a voice in the government you have to be counted in the Census. According to the Constitution, the number of Representatives your state is entitled to send to Congress is determined by the Census taken every ten years.

The Census man will come around to your house some time after April 1. Be ready to answer all his questions accurately, and honestly, and quickly. (Remember, it's a big job to count upwards of a hundred and fifty million noses!)

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE CENSUS-TAKER COMES

1. Ask him to show his official card. This identifies him as an employee of the Census Bureau.
2. Be friendly. Invite him in. He will stay only a few minutes.
3. In non-English-speaking homes, have an adult or older child ready to translate.
4. Answer all questions accurately and honestly. Remember—the information you give is strictly confidential. Under law, it is not available to any individual or any other Government agency.

HELPING THE CENSUS HELPS UNCLE SAM — 1950 CENSUS — MAKE SURE YOU COUNT IN AMERICA'S FUTURE

Radio and newspapers will do their best to tell you beforehand what most of the questions are. Watch for them and have your answers ready.

Columbus' Most Progressive Community Hails A New Civic Improvement

The New Hilltop Branch of Columbus Public Library

2955 WEST BROAD STREET

Sunday, March 19, marks another milestone of progress for this Hilltop Community with the acceptance of the newly completed Hilltop Branch Library at 2955 West Broad Street. Observance of an "Open House" policy will prevail Sunday with city and community leaders conducting ceremonies appropriate to the occasion.

The addition of this new edifice to this community and its formal acceptance is indicative of the feeling of the community and the spirit that pervades throughout the Hilltop . . . a spirit of cooperative friendliness . . . a spirit of continual growth for this community . . . a constant striving by residents and business men of this community to make it even better and to continually look forward and make further progressive moves that will eventually endow the Hilltop with the title of: "The Most Progressive Community in Columbus and Franklin County."

Progress is not counted solely by the number of business firms within a community, nor by the ornateness of the homes in the residential districts . . . all too often communities and people lose sight of the fact that there is much more to the creation of a progressive and advancing community . . . these facts are reflected in the thinking processes of its leaders and their recognition of the other needs of the community such as churches, schools and other cultural establishments. This has been evidenced on the Hilltop . . . where the civic leaders recognizing the need of a good public library in this area worked tirelessly that it might become a reality . . . Today it is just that — a reality, a building housing the cultural and literary ambitions of the community.

The Hilltop and environs have just cause to be proud of this newest addition to its public buildings. The newer and larger library will serve well the needs of the community and perhaps give encouragment to others who may follow in the days and years to come to make this even a better community in which to live . . . rear our families and enjoy life to the utmost.

The Public Is Invited To Attend "Open House" Sunday, March 19, -- 2 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Church Youth Hold Spiritual Emphasis Week

A week of "spiritual emphasis" featuring a program to direct energies of youth into useful channels is under way at the Eastwood Seventh-Day Church. Special junior and youth services will be held daily, March 11-18, in the church grade school at Union and Ryan Avenues and at the church on Wednesday and Friday at 8 p. m. and Saturday at 11 a. m.

Pastor R. T. Minesinger will conduct the devotional services. Miss Fern Losie and Mrs. Robert O'Connell, teachers at the school, will lead out in the other programs.

According to E. W. Dunbar, Washington, D. C., Seventh-Day Adventist world youth leader, nearly one-quarter million youth in the denomination's young people's societies of Missionary Volunteers will participate in this international Week of Prayer. Youth will give consideration to the society's "Share Your Faith" movement, leisure time activities and to attendance at youth camps, of which 80 will be held this next summer in North America.

Westgate WSCS To Meet Tuesday

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Westgate Methodist Church and their guests will have a pot luck luncheon at the church Tuesday, Mar. 21, at noon. A business meeting and program will be held at 1 p. m.

A one-act play entitled "Ha-Ji-Me-Te" will be presented by Mrs. Thomas Scholl, Mrs. W. L. Justus, Mrs. Walter Glass, Mrs. Carl Spohn, and Mrs. Mearl Weaver.

Members are to bring a home-made articles such as sewing or baked goods for a silent auction. Circle 4 will be hostesses.

Leonard Echols To Address Group

Leonard Echols will speak on "The Last Supper" at the meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of Hilltop Lutheran Church Monday night in the church parlors.

The committee arranging the program is made up of Mr. Echols, Henry Geshwilm, Hugh McCurdy, Russell Fletcher and Richard McCurdy.

Paul Journeys to Rome

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Romans 1:1, 7-15; 15:22-29; Acts 27-28; Philippians 1:12-30; 4:22.

Paul's journey to Rome was a tempestuous one. Arrived at Lasea, Crete, it was decided to winter at Phenice, the harbor. Paul told Julius, the centurion, sailing was dangerous, but was not heeded.

Sailing on toward their destination, the ship was "exceedingly tossed" by tempests, and all feared death. Paul told them an angel had appeared to him in a dream assuring him all would be saved.

Wrecked later in the island of Melita (Malta), they were kindly treated by the natives, and in return, Paul healed the chief's father of a serious sickness, and others that were brought to him.

Arrived in Rome at last, Paul was lodged in a house of his own, but was chained to a Roman soldier. Here he received the chief Jews of the city.

MEMORY VERSE—Romans 1:16.

THESE SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OFFICIALS teach the 200 students enrolled in the church school of the Westgate Methodist Church.

In the front row are Mrs. Fred Foster, Mrs. Carl Spohn, Mrs. Belford Lane, Joyce Huegely, Georgia Bodle, Mrs. J. D. Arnold, Marilyn Grier, Mrs. George Pruden, Carol Montoney, Mrs. Mearl Weaver, Mrs. Harry Graham and Mrs. Mary Biegler.

Church To Canvass Membership In Sunday Drive

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. J. Bauer, 785 Chestershire-rd, are co-chairmen for the west district in the annual every-member canvass of First Congregational Church, Sunday, Mar. 19.

Harold K. Schellenger, 516 Piedmont-rd, is general chairman for the canvass to be participated in by 200 members of the church. Workers met Sunday, Mar. 12 for an instruction luncheon at which they were given a brief resume of the present church program, an outline of the minimum budget approved by the church council and suggestions on individual giving for the coming year.

The plan is to have the "friendly visitors" call on all 1500 members of the church in the four-hour period between 2 and 6 p. m. Mar. 19. Members are requested to remain at home during those hours and to be ready to sign pledge cards.

Evangelist

Rev. Francis B. Cummins

Rev. O. G. McClure, pastor of the Hilltop Church of God at 635 Whitethorne-av, has announced that a revival will be held at the church from Mar. 19 to Apr. 2.

Rev. Francis B. Cummins of Middletown will be the evangelist. The music will feature congregational and choir singing and special numbers.

Mrs. W. H. Riley will lead the meditation and a play "The Lord's Acre" will be presented.

Two men entered a railway coach one day and after arranging their grips sat down to enjoy a ride together. They had not been there long when a porter looked in and told them to move to another coach. "What's the matter with this coach?" "Nothin', only it ain't hooked onto nothin' that's goin' anywhere." Hook up with Christ and His church and start growing. Growth means more than change. Growth is change for the better. The development into something higher.

Suppose, for a moment, you were up here tonight, on the flying bridge of a large ship plowing through icy North Atlantic waters. Nothing to worry about, even though the seas are running high.

Suddenly, an engineer appears on the ladder, hurries across the rolling, pitching deck and reports to the Captain. There is excitement and fear in his voice. "Sir—the rudder's gone!"

Of course, such an accident is next to impossible today. Big ships just don't lose their rudders anymore.

Yet many who cannot think of such an accident without a chill of fear passing down their spine have managed to lose another rudder without giving the matter any thought. These people have lost the rudder of religious faith—and many of them lost their rudders when they ceased to attend church regularly. Only when disaster looms ahead will they regret their loss.

Churches don't fashion rudders. But they do enable a man to make one of his own that is stout, strong and indestructible. Sometimes there is nothing a man can fall back upon but his faith in his own dignity and his faith that God is with him. His church is his stout keel. His faith is his sure guide.

That man is not afraid of his future—for he sails forward with God.

And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul...

SHAMROCK

Oi we don't mind the burnin'
For the taxes of the queen
And we didn't mind the hangin'
For the wearin' of the green.

But the raddest day in Ireland
Was the day the news went 'round
That the shamrock was forbidden
For to grow in Irish ground.

The little three-leaf shamrock
That the good St. Peter found,
The shamrock was forbidden
For to grow in Irish ground.

But they never told the shamrock,
So it grew all green and small
And became the flower of Ireland,
Though it is no flower at all.
Touchstone,

IRISH HEATHER

You are like priceless carpet spread to view
In rich bazaar near Eastern city wall,
In all its harmony jewelled hue,
Worthy t olie in some vast royal hall.
But lovelier your bright fabric, covering torn Dreary, brown bog - land spreading far and wide,
Naked to wind and rain, hiding
forlorn,
Gray, uncouth boulders on the mountainside.

You are like Heavenly Pity, covering
The wounds that Death has made; Pity that feels
The agonies we feel; that hovering
Over poor, stricken mortals, gently heals.

Dear Irish heather! Homesick memories fly
To your bright glow, undimmed, though shadows fall
On Connemara's peaks so blue and high,
And on the grim, bare heights of Donegal.

COURAGE

Courage is a lovely word,
Holding depths and depths of

Courage is a lovely word!
Thoughts go soaring like a bird,
Dipping, slanting and careening,
To attempt the wondrous gleaning—
Courage is a lovely word!

WILL SOMEONE CARE

I sometimes wonder if in after-years,
When spring winds laugh and dance on yonder hill,
And dead leaves stir along the garden wall—
Will there be someone who will love them still?

Will some one watch each little leaf and bud?
The first bluebell, the jonquil's cup of gold,
Small crocus faces smiling on the lawn—
Forsythia that flaunts its colors bold?

The new shoots that the evergreen has grown;
The robin who returns each year again—
Will there be one who'll love the growing things
That lift their eager lips to April rain?

Sometimes I catch my breath in deep despair,
Wondernig if there will be someone to care.

TALL SON

You are no longer part of me
But strictly on your own,
Since you've become an entity,
So wise and overgrown.

But 'still my heart must yearn and be
Aghast to see you go
Against the rip-tides of the sea.

Band Show Rare Display of Talent

The 11th annual band variety show at West High School last Thursday was a rare display of talent and coordination. All who worked so hard to make a success of the show must certainly be pleased with the result of their work.

Never once did the show lag, never was the audience restless, and everyone seemed genuinely sorry to see the show end.

Among the highlights of the show was the tuba solo of Malcolm McCoy. After watching him strut through so many half-time shows at the football games, I was anxious to watch his solo performance on the Sousaphone. He is not only a musician, but a natural born comedian.

Jim Lee did a masterful job as master of ceremonies as well as showing his versatility by playing the piano, the clarinet, singing and helping in the arrangement of some of the music.

The production number that ended the show could only be rated tops. The singing and dancing of the cast was masterfully combined into a "Fantasy of Cinderella." The lighting, scenery and stage effects were of a professional quality.

And she always drove it slow: "There comes a time in the life of every man" is a good way to start a story on the first day of spring, but this story is different. This is about the time that comes to everyone when they go in search of a car.

I spent last week shopping the lots for a used car and would like to debunk some of the charges made against used car dealers, and perhaps come up with the startling statistic of the half-century. I only came across one car that had just been brought in by "an elderly lady who always drove it slow." And there was not a single case of the well-known car "traded in by a millionaire because the ash trays were full."

The problem was not finding a suitable car, but eliminating a number of good ones to make the final choice. Now that the decision has been made, I turn my head and hurry past the car lots without even looking, afraid that I might see a "dream car."

Fred Pagura Leaves For Rome, Italy

Fred Pagura, 99 S. Warren-av, left Saturday night for a month's visit in Italy. On his first trip back to Italy in 25 years, Pagura will visit brothers and sisters, near Venice.

Pagura is scheduled to arrive in Rome by plane at 7:30 (Columbus time) today. He left LaGuardia Field in New York Monday morning. Pagura went by train to New York.

After visiting with his immediate family in their village 25 miles northeast of Venice, near the Austrian border, Pagura will be a Holy Year pilgrim to the Vatican. "But I'll not be a member of the pilgrimage," Pagura said. "They walk the legs off you. I'll be a lone eagle," he added.

"I'm pretty sure," Pagura stated, "of having an audience with the Pope. I know several prelates from my home town in Italy who are high in the Vatican."

A successful building contractor, a partner in the firm of Krause and Pagura, the Hilltopper came to America in 1922.

Pagura will leave Rome April 21, for his return trip to Columbus.

Seek New School For Westgate

The erection of an elementary school in Westgate was termed "our No. 1 project this year" by Russell Carter, president of the Hilltop Community Council this week.

The site was purchased by the school board 27 years ago.

The "forgotten" site is a lovely 10-acre plot virtually in the center of W[illegible]'s attractive residential area and nearly adjoining Westgate Park. It was purchased for $15,000 in 1923 for West High. Later, the board reconsidered and built West High on its present site on Powell-av.

Westgate's school problem dramatically illustrates the need for the current survey of school needs now conducted for the school board by the Ohio State University research staff.

When the 1945 bond issue was passed, Westgate was not included for any new buildings. The plans were based on a 1939 survey of school needs, long before the war-spurred growth of the area.

Death Takes 100-Year-Old Mrs. Ewing

MRS. MARY JANE EWING

Mrs. Mary Jane Ewing, 100, died Friday in the home of her nephew, Walter C. Horton of 172 S. Richardson-av.

She was the second 100-year-old resident of the Hilltop to die in less than a month.

Mrs. Joseph Briggs, who would have celebrated her 101st birthday anniversary on the same day as Mrs. Ewing, Dec. 10, died Feb. 26 at Briggsdale.

The last of a large family, Mrs. Ewing was born in Jackson County in 1849. She was the widow of John E. Ewing, a Civil War veteran and one-time sheriff of Jackson County. She had lived in the home of her nephew here the last five years.

Funeral services were in The Jackson Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Sunday with Rev. Paul I. Wachs officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery, Jackson.

Election Office Open Wed. Night

The Franklin County Board of Elections 214½ S. High-st. will remain open until 9 p. m. Wednesday, the final day to register for the May 9 primary.

Knife Throwing Episode Is Prank Of Hilltop Boy

A Hilltop family was resting easier Saturday, happy to know a Friday night "knife-throwing" episode had been solved.

Six-year-old Marguerite Georgiton answered a call at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Georgiton, 300 Binns Blvd, Friday night, and was greeted with an 11-inch butcher knife.

Saturday afternoon, a 14-year-old neighborhood boy confessed he was the person who stuck the knife in the door of the Georgiton residence.

The youth was brought to police juvenile bureau by his father after he had told his parents of his "prank."

The boy told Capt. Fred Snyder, head of the Juvenile Bureau, he had no particular reason for planting the knife in the door other than "to scare someone."

He said he didn't throw the knife, as was first believed, but stuck the knife in the door, rang the doorbell and ran. Then, he said, he decided he'd better retrieve the knife. As he was about to do so, Mrs. Georgiton came to the door.

Captain Snyder said the Georgitons and the boy's parents knew each other slightly. He said the boy had been in no previous trouble, and would not be held.

New Store Hours

Effective this week, Westgate Electric, 2566 W. Broad-st, will remain open each Friday until 9 p. m. in order to accommodate more evening customers. The firm is also open Monday evenings until 9.

High Ridge Area Seeks New School Building As 141 Students Are Taught In Two 'Temporary' Structures

THESE "TEMPORARY" WOODEN, PORTABLE SCHOOL BUILDINGS were opened for school in November, 1931, and August, 1932. Previously they had been used at Highland Avenue School when that school was teaching junior high classes. The board of education owns the two-acre site where the West Mound Street School is located.

Crowded Wood Portables In Use Since 1931

"How long is 'temporary?'"

That is the question that residents of the High Ridge area south of Sullivant-av would like to have answered.

The W. Mound Street portable school, opened in 1931 as a "temporary" arrangement to facilitate the teaching of the children of a rapidly-growing community, is not too far removed from the one-room country school of 50 years ago.

The school, within the city limits and a part of the Columbus school system, has an enrollment of 141 youngsters in grades from kindergarten to the fourth. This large number of students is housed in the four rooms of the 20-year-old wood-frame buildings.

Talk of a new, permanent elementary school building in that area began when the Hilltonia housing development started 20 years ago. Year after year since then, talk and "bond issue" promises have indicated that "in the near future" a primary school would be built on the two-acre space owned by the board of education where the portable school now stands.

Costs Prohibit Building

Increased cost of building and disputes over where to build a new structure have been given as the main reasons why the much-needed school is still absent from the ever-growing community. In the Hilltonia section, now known as the High-Ridge area, hundreds of new homes—many are those of veterans with children—have gone up, in the four years since the war, surrounding the old school.

Three full-time teachers and one part-time teacher instruct the 141 students. The kindergarten teacher spends the afternoon at the Mound-st school after teaching the pre-school class at John Burroughs School. All the classes, except the kindergarten group, are mixed classes. That is, one teacher instructs pupils of the first and second grades; another has part of the second and some of the third; another teaches part of the third and the fourth grades.

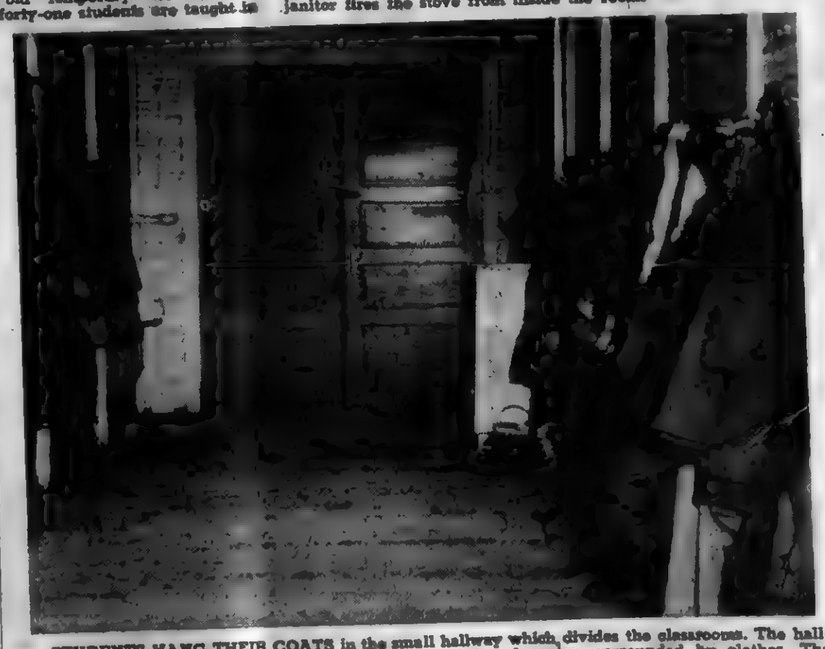
Such arrangements of split classes makes teaching extremely difficult for the teacher, and learning exceptionally hard for the students. This sort of set-up is another reminder of the "little red schoolhouse" era of 50 years ago.

Heated By Coal Stoves

The rooms of the two old wood buildings are heated by large coal stoves (one can be seen in the photo) which are fired inside the schoolroom. The hallways, where the children hang their coats, are heated by gas. The school does have inside toilets, which make conditions better than those of those students' grandparents. However, the toilets are small for the number of students; they are unheated; and are accessible only by going outside and then back into the building again.

The wooden buildings were built more than 20 years ago. They were previously used at the Highland Avenue Elementary School, when that school in 1928, and previously, housed some junior high grades. In 1931 one building was moved to the W. Mound-st site. On Aug. 3, 1932, the second building was opened for use.

Many residents in the near vicinity of the school have refused to send their children to the Mound-st school. Instead they have enrolled them in the already crowded John Burroughs School. More and more of the war children are coming of school age. Increased enrollment in the elementary schools has already begun, and school authorities anticipate even larger numbers in the lower grades in the next five years.



On Bond Issue

It is estimated that within the next few years the facilities of the two schools — West Mound Street and John Burroughs—will not be able to accommodate the large number of young students.

Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Roys-av, member of the board of education, says that the board has only one-half enough money to build a new building on the W. Mound-st site. The needed amount, required to build the school, will be included in the bond issue that is to go to the voters in this November's election.

"If the bond issue is passed,"

Scouts Aid In Collection Drive for Goodwill Industries

Boy Scouts will be busy on Saturdays, Mar. 25 and Apr. 1. They will canvass the community for contributions of clothing and furniture for the Goodwill Industries as a part of Help Week.

Harry Keller, scoutmaster of Troop 58 of the St. Paul Congregational Church, will be in charge of the drive in this district. Mayor Rhodes has proclaimed the week of Mar. 25 to Apr. 1 as Help Week. The Goodwill Industries employ handicapped persons in workshops where clothing and furniture are reconditioned.

On Saturday, Mar. 25, the Scouts will distribute handbills announcing to Hilltop residents that collections of clothing and furniture will be made by Boy Scouts on the following Saturday.

Troops Cover Area

Boy Scout troops and Explorer Posts participating in the Goodwill Industries drive from Glenwood-av on the east to Westgate-av on the west are as follows:

Troop 29—Clayton Cook, scoutmaster, Glenwood-av to Nashobas-av, all streets south from Broad to Mound.

Troop 89, Paul Patton, scoutmaster, from Hilltonia to Clarendon, all streets south from Broad to Mound.

Troop 147—C. L. McLane, scoutmaster, Highland-av from Broad to Mound.

Troop 49—John Stamer, scoutmaster, Wheatland to Wayne, from Broad, north to Steele.

Troop 172 — Ralph Duncan, scoutmaster, Eureka-av from Steele-av, south to Eakin-rd.

Through the cooperation of many civic groups and many large trucking companies approximately 65 trucks, with the Boy Scouts, will cover this city Saturday, Apr. 1. Contributors are asked to have their contributions ready on their porches where a Boy Scout can easily pick them up. This is an opportunity for all the citizens of the city of Columbus to help employ and train less fortunate people.

Bellar Takes City Public Safety Post

Arthur J. Bellar

Arthur J. Bellar, 326 S. Algonquin-av, has been appointed executive secretary of the Columbus Dept. of Public Safety by Safety Director C. C. Cole.

Bellar will conduct a safety program designed to reduce the number of man hours lost by city employees because of accidents.

Cole pointed out that on the job accidents involved more than 500 city employees last year, more than 100 more than during 1948. "We need a good well rounded program of safety in every department of city goverenment,' Cole said.

Bellar said that he would acquaint himself with the programs set up by other cities for employee safety and that he hoped to have a definite program in force before long which would cut time losses and accidents down to a minimum."

"During my past 20 years in the steel industry I have made many contacts with safety men and believe a successful program can be completed if all city employees cooperate," Bellar added.

In addition to setting up the safety program Bellar will also take over the duty of chief dance hall inspector for the city. The post which Bellar is assuming was vacated two years ago by Richard C. Davis when he became administration assistant to Mayor James A. Rhodes.

Bellar is a past commander of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion.

New Hilltop Branch Library Dedicated, Presented Sun.

The new Hilltop Branch of the Columbus Public Library at 2955 W. Broad-st, was dedicated and presented to the City of Columbus during ceremonies at 2 p. m. Sunday, a $56,000 building designed to hold 10,000 books.

Only one of the eight branch libraries owned outright by the city, the new branch was officially opened when Carla Dorr, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Dorr, 2680 Sullivant-av, cut a ribbon stretched across the main entrance.

Jacob A. Meckstroth, president of the library board of trustees, presented the library to the city, and Mayor James A. Rhodes accepted.

Others taking part in the dedication were Edward G. Witherspoon, president of the Hilltop Businessmen's Association; Will Collins, head librarian of the city system; Rev. Norman L. Schreiber, pastor of Westgate Methodist Church, and Rev. Raymond Bauschard, pastor of St. Mary Magdalene Church.

All this week will be observed as school week at the new library with classes from Hilltop schools visiting the library at scheduled times.

Mildred Phalor is librarian of the new Hilltop branch.

Hilltop Banquet Set For Hillcrest Church Thursday

Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will hold a round-table discussion during the noon luncheon meeting at Schmelzer's Thursday with the main meeting being set for 6:30 in the evening.

The first Hilltop Ministerial-Kiwanis-Laymen banquet will be held at that time at the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Hilltop ministers in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club with all laymen on the Hilltop being urged to attend. A prominent Hilltop layman will be the principal speaker.

The Columbus Girl Choir, under the direction of Richard Johnston, will provide the entertainment at this meeting.

Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor of the Westgate EUB Church, is general chairman of the program.

33 YEARS ON FORCE

Inspector Thomas A. Scully, 2101 Sullivant-av, completed his 33rd year of duty with the Columbus Police Dept. Monday. He is the oldest member of the department in years of service.

"Dearie, Do You Remember?" might well have been the theme of a recent style show given by the Rome Study Club. And if dearie didn't remember she can just wait a few years, because the club has discovered that styles run in cycles.

A comprehensive study of the dresses from the period 1850 through 1950 will show that after a cycle of approximately 30 years the styles swing back and derive something from the past two decades.

We wonder if we are gradually returning to the madcap styles of the 20's. The "New Look" has come and gone and the question is what startling changes will the next "New Look" bring.

Demonstrating some of these similarities in styles were the following models and their daughters:

1850, Mrs. Donald Garnett, 3345 W. Broad-st; 1880, Mrs. George English, 234 Pasadena-av; 1900, Mrs. Donald Bateman, 124 Buena Vista-av; 1918, Mrs. Henry Warner, 250 Pasadena-av; 1920, Mrs. W. J. Stormont, 121 Pasadena-av; 1921, Phyllis Armstrong, 918 Lenoxav; 1925, Mrs. Russell Brooks, 464 Maple-dr; 1930, Mrs. I. A. Thompson, 54 Lawrence-av; 1935, Mrs. Clarence Scheiderer, 160 Norton-rd; 1940, Betty Jo Stormont, 121 Pasadena-av; 1948, Mrs. Arthur Bismiller, 250 N. Harris-av; 1950, Mrs. James W. Whalen, 1[illegible] Green-Acres-av, Virginia Whalen, 26 Buena Vista-av, and Karen Bismiller, 250 N. Harris-av.

Under the direction of J. P. Merriman, 44 S. Sylvan-av, buyer for Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, a style show was held at the lovely country home of Mrs. Clarence Growdon, 5132 Fisher-rd, Monday evening, Mar. 13.

This was the regular monthly meeting of the Rome Study Club. Assisting Mrs. Growdon were the following hostesses: Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Mrs. Harvey Rose, Mrs. Harry Eberhard, and Mrs. James W. Whalen, who was in charge of the program for March for the Rome Study Club.

Mr. Merriman served as fashion co-ordinator and explained the 1950 modes, which were furnished the club by the Seiller's Department Store.

The children's apparel were copies of the Shari Robinson models worn in the new Walt Disney movie "Cinderella", which will be shown soon in this city.

Music for the evening was furnished by Mrs. James Long, 399 King-av, and Mrs. Edward Deitrich, 105 Alton-rd.

Miss Virginia Casey Weds Mr. Richard Sutton

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Casey, 19 S. Wheatland-av, announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Ann, to Mr. Richard Lee Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Sutton, 156 Binns-blvd, at Zanesville, Jan. 28.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before a large open fireplace at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osler, the former Lois Pickens of Columbus, by Rev. E. A. Peters of Sonora, O. The bride wore an ankle length gown of blue slipper satin fashioned by Christian Dior, offset by a shoulder corsage of yellow talisman roses.

Mrs. Sutton's only attendant, Mrs. John O. Eckhardt (Joan Duffy), was attired in an ankle-length gown of champagne slipper satin adorned with pink shattered carnations. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. John O. Eckhardt of Columbus. A wedding breakfast preceded the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Sutton attended Ohio State University where she was a member of Phi Mu Sorority and other campus groups. The bridegroom also attended Ohio State and is now employed in the executive offices of Lustron Corporation.

The couple will reside at 1657 Hunter-av.

News Notes Of Job's Daughters

By Patsy Holycross

Don't forget girls, there will be no meeting Thursday night, Mar. 23, for us. Instead we will go to Bethel No. 8's inspection. We will meet at Schmelzer's at 6:15 and go to 2863½ N. High-st.

Bethel No. 8 will hold inspection Wednesday night, Mar. 22, at the K of C Hall, 697 S. High-st. I hope some of the girls will plan to attend this meeting and don't forget our own inspection, April 18. Be sure and get your reservations in as soon as possible.

On our sick list we have George Roberts who is in White Cross hospital. He is in room 168. On our improved list is Mary Cummins who has been very sick for the past several weeks, and Mrs. Roberts' mother is improving. Barbara Wendel reports that her arm that she broke at the skating party, is much better now.

I would like to thank Jo Ann Bergman and the girls of her refreshment committee for taking care of the refreshments at our last meeting, and the line officers' mothers who helped serve. A great big thanks goes to the girls who put on the entertainment and to everyone who made our last meeting a success.

That's all for now, until the next time.

Register and Vote

Good citizens go to the polls on election days! That's one effective way of registering your approval or disapproval of our government's actions.

But in order to be able to vote, a good citizen must register. This means that any person 21 years of age (or who will be by Nov. 7), and who has lived in Ohio one year and Franklin County one month, must go to the Board of Elections, 214½ S. High-st and register their name.

Tomorrow, March 22, is the deadline for registering for the May 2 primary election.

As of last year, all residents of Franklin County, including those in all the townships, must register in order to vote. Previously, citizens outside the limits of Columbus were not required to register. They must now.

If you have moved from one precinct to another, you are required to register your change of address at the Board of Election.

If you have not voted during the past two years, you must register again, even though you had registered before. If you voted in the 1948, and/or the 1949 elections, you may consider yourself registered.

Absentee voters may not register by proxy. But, after registering, they may vote by proxy, that is, in absentia.

If you are in doubt as to whether you are registered, and for further information on registering and voting, call the Board of Elections, AD. 3293.

Teaching of History By Visual Education Approved

By Myron T. Seifert

Come next fall, West High students along with other high school students in the city will see many interesting dramas of local history unfolded via visual education, if the plan approved by superintendent of schools, N. G. Fawcett and sponsored by the Franklin County Historical Society materializes.

At a meeting in the offices of Supt. Fawcett a plan was agreed upon wherein the society will present a series of talks on Franklin County history before junior and senior high school history classes in Columbus, beginning the latter part of September. Dan Pugh, secretary, and Nelson Dodds, research committee, will conduct these programs.

At the recent meeting, slides of historic homes in the county were shown, with Fawcett and his assistant, L. K. Replogle, present.

After the showing, the superintendent said that eventually he would like to see the Franklin County Historical Society record lectures on local history for use throughout the school system. This recording would be used by the history teacher in combination with the showing of slides, Fawcett advised.

Initially, lectures will be presented in junior and senior high schools. Later on, material will be worked out by the committee to suit the fifth grade level.

Is the regular beat of an ancient rune
Drumming in my ear.

'Think This Over'

By William "Doc" Campbell

Who Said Teachers Never Play?

As a teacher, myself, of 40 years or so experience, I believe the following discussion may enlighten parents, teachers, and pupils, alike! I will endeavor to clarify the old notion that teachers, as a whole, are called "sedate," "old fogys," "old maids," etc. and are held entirely in their positions by renouncing human characteristics and impulses, not mixing enough with their fellow teachers, except in formal educational meetings. This is definitely UNTRUE . . . but in several instances, because of background, etc., it seems feasible that parents who never "go to see a teacher at all" are led to believe that the above assertion is not without reason.

The first duty of a genuine teacher, of course, is to educate. He is bound to react to pupils who are diligent in this respect . . . yet . . . when HUMOR is injected into the classroom . . . the response is usually quick and decidedly practical. The so-called "frills" . . . shops, athletics, art, music, etc., get HAPPY results because of the fun involved!

I recall, vividly, while in the office of Robert Harshe (now deceased), former director of the Chicago Art Institute, when he told me "that most teachers are inclined to be cloistered too much . . . that is, they keep within the recesses of their minds to the detriment to live teaching." A practical teacher "MIXES" with the outside world (as do their pupils) and thus is considered better adapted to the strenuous work of leading youth to become an extrovert, not an introvert.

I well remember a young art teacher, in another city, years ago, who took her work HOME with her . . . each night, and thereby became so nervous that she broke down and was superceded by a "live wire" man who spent his days IN school, instructing, and enjoyed himself evenings OUTSIDE, in the company of adults not necessarily of his profession. It paid dividends . . . for the pupils loved his understanding of their daily lives, and were loyal and cooperative.

Do teachers in our high schools belong to outside groups enough? I fear not, therefore a reaction ensues, from too great an introspection and too little outside enjoyment. Text Book teachers are prone to belittle so-called gaiety and become, thereby, cloistered and pedantic . . . when instructing vibrant and searching youth.

But, the other night, I had a revelation of the "FUN" side of teachers. At the annual West High Teachers' Party in Pomerene Hall, OSU, about 70 or more teachers and wives . . . from the youngest man, to the oldest . . . were ready for action! Several retired teachers were honored guests and tables were arranged in a "U" form with clever John Thompson, as MC.

After a delightful supper the festivities were on tap (nothing else). With brief appropriate quips about each other, the MC turned the affair over to a real personality and his small orchestra. "Magic" was the first on the bill, then came the hilarious time of the evening. Square dances. Why! Do you know that those 70 or so teachers gave their all to this type of moving fun . . . and that it was "side splitting!" I did not dance so had ample opportunity to watch the gaiety. Laughter was rampant, and confusion galore and when it became too warm the gentlemen (Mr. Young too) took off . . . first their coats, then later their vests. During an intermission (welcomed by the dancers) the "magic man" turned his trick a la Charlie McCarthy with appropriate school episodes to make us chuckle and giggle.

Well . . . the final dance left the teachers in a splendid mood . . . their formality gone. What a good thing! It was just too bad that MORE teachers did not attend. Now to top all this teacher play life, let me tell you briefly of one other affair, say, 40 years ago in old Central High School (E. Broad and Sixth-sts) in the auditorium. Dr. J. A. Shawan was superintendent of schools and SOMEONE arranged this vast "get together" of our, then 600 teachers, for an evening of chat and dancing. All of the seats and desks were taken out . . . a good orchestra was on the stage . . . and "believe it or not" . . . the board of education footed the bill, provided light refreshment, etc. . . . HAPPY TEACHERS . . . "No name for it."

But why Oh why! . . . only once in a half century? Why not once a year? Our 1500 city teachers today would become an educational UNIT at no more cost than around $500.

WEST HIGH has attempted to get together once a year . . . but "something" seems to block that attempt. What is it? Let us all be practical like "Big Business" firms . . . they plan affairs for their employees and pay for them. It comes back in "good will" and hard work. Let teachers mix more and more and they will become real educators, not merely instrumental in putting "so-called matter" into pupils' minds.

THINK THIS ALL OVER.

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

Just the other evening I got a new slant on my job. I was visiting an old friend and after dinner we sat reminiscing. Our talk shifted, after a while, from the past to the future and we spoke of our plans and dreams for our loved ones. After one particularly lengthy pause, my friend suddenly said, "There's one thing that makes me very happy, and that's knowing that if anything happens to me, you will look after the insurance and see that Mary is all right." Later, I got to thinking about that remark. My friend was heavily insured and I had handled all his policies, so I would come into the picture as a matter of course.

Now here's the point that struck me. Despite my assurance that—for friendship's sake—I would do everything I could for his wife, I couldn't, for the life of me, see anything I could do for her that I would not automatically do for ANY beneficiary under ANY Sun Life policy. It is a routine service with me to ensure that all beneficiaries of my policyholders fully understand the terms of the policy and are aware of the generous optional settlements available under Sun Life contracts. My advice, based upon highly specialized training, backed by years of experience, is at their service. And of course Sun Life claims are settled promptly and with a minimum of technicalities.

Sure, I'll look after Mary . . . just as I look after all my beneficiaries.

GLENWOOD REC. NEWS

Glenwood Shelter House has been the center of attraction to the teen-age girls these past two Saturday afternoons. The activity that has aroused the interest of girls all over the city is the playday program held each Saturday afternoon from 1 until 4 p. m.

Girls between the ages of 12 and 16 join together each Saturday to play, create, sing and dance.

The program, which is sponsored by the City Recreation Department is designed to offer to girls physical activity through games which are not generally played. This offers them the chance to learn new skills plus introducing new ideas for good play.

Crafts are also part of the program and offers to each girl a chance to create something of her own liking such as jewelry, belts, glassware, woodwork and many other things.

Instruction in games such as badminton, deck tennis, shuffleboard, ping-pong, volleyball and others helps to widen the outlook on recreation.

The program is also designed to teach the girls how to work and play together.

Girls who participate in the playday are asked to register but there is no registration fee.

If you are interested in the playday activity, come to Glenwood Center Saturday afternoon at 1 p. m. to register.

Household Hint

To remove the odor of onions from knives and cooking utensils, rub them with a damp cloth, then rub thoroughly with salt and wash well in hot, soapy water.

ROBERT AND CONNIE SUE CONRAD recently took parts in a nature play, "Charlie the Chatterbox", at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. Robert took the part of Dr. Frost and Connie Sue played the role of a rosebud. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conrad, 1443 Thomas-av.

Girls Play In Intramural Volley Ball Tournament

By Myron T. Seifert

When one-half of the girls at West Senior High School participate in a volleyball tourney, after school hours, without benefit of credit, it's indeed news.

Intramurals among the girls, which began last week, under the direction of Helen McCormick, physical education teacher, include mass activity of 250 girls. All girls are given an opportunity to take part in this tourney, Miss McCormick said.

Many of these girls recently presented a colorful panorama of folk dances at the West High PTA meeting.

The games, which are played on Tuesday nights, are organized and officiated by the members of the GAA.

The captains of the teams are Jo Clark, S. Clarkin, N. Gleaming, S. Glass, B. Graves, L. Jennings, N. Krull, M. Leech, C. Luckshaw, P. Morris, R. Ogle, D. Penny, B. Proctor, M. Ringer, B. Roederer, J. Rohr, S. Shroyer, D. Smith, F. Smith, M. Valentine, B. Stewart, S. Timmons, E. Vandevender and N. Constance.

First Organized Public Library On Hilltop Was Gift of Late Col. J. T. Holmes

By Myron T. Seifert

A forerunner of the luxuriously appointed new Hilltop Library, dedicated Sunday, Mar. 19, was the Holmes Library back in 1922.

Two stories published in The Hilltop Record 28 years ago expressed the spirit that prompted the first organized library movement on the Hilltop. They read:

On Aug. 7 the following editorial appeared:

"The Hilltop public should deem itself indeed fortunate to be the recipient of so valuable a gift as the library of the late Col. Holmes, to be known as the Holmes Memorial.

"This library now lies idle in storage in the Glenwood Shelter House, and nothing has been done toward providing funds for its maintenance or removal to a settled and central location for its use by the Hilltop residents.

"The value of this library is well known throughout the state, and several colleges have tried to secure it for their own usage.

"Mrs. Karl T. Weber, Mrs. Lafayette Woodruff and Mrs. C. E. Sharp, who are boosters of the plan, think that this library should be made available to the West Side, and especially to the Hilltop, as we have none. To this end, they have asked that the matter be brought up for discussion at the next meetings of the various Parent-Teachers' associations and welfare organizations of the West Side.

"The Hilltop Chamber of Commerce now has the project before them for consideration and development.

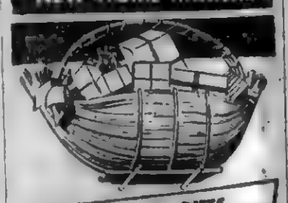
"Col. J. T. Holmes, who was formerly a member of the Columbus Bar Association, was always in sympathy with and interested in the West Side. It is for this reason that his heirs have offered these books to this section of the city.

"Would it not be fitting and proper for us to get together and discuss ways and means for the upkeep of this noble gift, which has been so generously offered?"

The success of the editorial is evidenced by the story that followed a few months later on Nov. 9, 1922.

"The new Holmes Library is an assured fact for the Hilltop. It is the gift of the late Dr. Holmes, and contains over 3000 volumes, being valued at between eight and ten thousand dollars. The books are very valuable, containing fiction, science and history. It will be especially valuable for school pupils, as it contains many volumes of history of the great wars as well as science.

"The library will be located on the second floor of the Hilltop Branch of the Citizens Trust & Savings Bank Building at the corner of S. Park and Broad and it is expected to be opened about Dec. 1 and will be open every afternoon and evening. A reading room will be in connection to which everybody will be welcome.



"A campaign to raise funds for the support and upkeep of the library is under way. Captains for 10 teams have been appointed by the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce, the names of which are as follows: Rev. R. E. Shields, Rev. R. T. Stimmel, Dr. Howard Whitehead, Frank Cussins, C. E. Helmbrecht, J. W. Worrell, A. F. Elliot, W. L. Millikin, Mrs. Karl Weber, R. G. Hauntz. One of these persons will probably call on you. Please be ready and let's all help to boost this, a most valuable addition to the Hilltop."

Census Takers To Start Calls Mar. 24

Some time this week or next, a census worker will call at your home and leave a census report form for you and your family. Distribution of these forms will start Friday, Mar. 24, and will continue through Mar. 31.

You will be asked to fill out your report on Apr. 1, and return it to the census office at 56 S. Sixth-st, Columbus, by mail, according to Eli Barack, district supervisor here for the Bureau of the Census.

3 Hilltop Students Touring Plants In Four States

Three Hilltop students are among the 115 Ohio State University chemical engineering students who are making a tour of industrial plants in four states. They are Richard H. Marwold, 298 N. Burgess-av; Donn P. Rice, 87 S. Richardson-av, and Earl C. Sumner, 79 S. Eureka-av.

The 39th annual inspection trip, under direction of Dr. Joseph H. Koffolt, chairman of the chemical engineering department, is planned to provide practical knowledge of modern chemical engineering industrial operations.

The students are traveling by train and bus and will return to Columbus, Saturday.

The party will visit the Columbia Chemical Division of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Barberton; The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron; The Glidden Company, Industrial Rayon Corporation, and Cleveland Wire Works of the General Electric Company, Cleveland; Eastman Kodak Company and Taylor Instrument Companies in Rochester, N. Y; Esso Standard Oil Refinery at Bayway, N. J.; General Aniline Works, Inc., at Grasselli, N. J. Chamber Works of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Inc., Penns Grove, N. J.; and the Fairfield Plant of the U. S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc., Baltimore, Md.

Alumni of the university's chemical engineering department will meet with the students at dinner in Cleveland, Rochester, New York and Baltimore.

Roger Dellinger Dances In Show

One of the Jimmy Rawlins juvenile dancers will be featured in a Hilltop Variety show next week.

The entertainer is Roger Dellinger and the occasion is the "John Burroughs T. V. Varieties"—to be given in the school auditorium, Mar. 29, 30 and 31.

Roger will perform an advanced military dance.

Mrs. Verghn Horger is program chairman. Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dellinger of 3080 Sullivant-av.

Hilltopper Works On Master's Degree In Wildlife Management In Colorado

By Myron T. Seifert

Jack Remington, graduate of West High School in January, 1941, is now working on his masters degree in wild-life management at Fort Collins, Col. His special study is "Martin Habitat," and his Saturdays are occupied in field trips, trooking and observing.

Mrs. Harold F. Remington of 123 N. Ogden-av, is visiting her son at the Colorado school and reports in a note to your correspondent: "Last Saturday he took me along and when he was working I watched a high school ski meet between Boulder and Loveland, Col. school—also intramural college meet both in Hidden Valley on Longs Peak. It is such a wonderful sight to see them start (have to wear dark goggles) way at the top and zoom through the gates marked by flags.

"We were close to the last gate and got sprayed by snow as each one came to the last turn going about 60 miles an hour. The girl skiers looked so small. The slalom race had to be postponed a week for darkness so will miss it, as Jack will be going to another part of the forests before the finals week.

Late in February he met John Herbert (from Hilltop). Both fun and memories and lots more important now that so many of the alumni are away from home," the letter from Mrs. Remington read in part.

"Beware the Ides of March!" they warned Caesar. He got killed anyway, but there wasn't much he could do to prevent it when his enemies started striking daggers into him. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce warns, "Beware the winds of March when you're crossing streets!" Ducking your head into your coat collar and scrambling blindly across the street lays you open to being struck by an automobile—and the damage can be as extreme as the daggers brought to Caesar!

Many Hilltop residents are appearing in the Independent Players of Columbus production of "The Great Waltz" this year. Maxine Oney is a featured dancer; Dick Ault is doing the part of Hirsch and Herb Ault is cast as Lt. Carl. Bill Hayes is cast as Hartkoff. Others from the Hilltop who are in the chorus are: Mr. and Mrs. Morley Sutton, Ellen Page, Jackie Hardy, and Betty Kidwell.

"The Great Waltz" is the story of the father and son feud between Johann Strauss, Jr. and Johann Strauss, Sr. The music is familiar to young and old and includes such compositions as "Artist's Life", "The Emperor Waltz", "Tales from the Vienna Woods", "Blue Danube" and other compositions of the son and some of those of his father.

The production of "The Great Waltz" is under the direction of Albert K. Germanson and is scheduled for three evening performances, Mar. 24, 25 and 26, at the Hartman Theatre.

Odd Fact

Investigating complaints of neighbors about the pets kept by two Versailles women in their 3-room house, police discovered the pets consisted of 100 chickens, 60 goats and several dogs and cats.

FRED FAGURA, 99 S. WARREN-AV, packed his bags Saturday for his trip to Italy. He is scheduled to arrive in Rome by plane today.

Hilliards Agriculture Students Visit Farm Bureau Cincinnati Plant

The junior and senior vocational agriculture class of Hilliards High School were guests of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, visiting the Co-operative's seed corn plant, fertilizer plant and feed mill recently. The students were driven to Cincinnati by Farm Bureau Managers Phil Purdum, Fred Pursley Russell Boring, John Forst and the vocational agriculture instructor at Hilliards, R. E. Ritchie.

The first visit included the seed corn plant where corn which is bought from certified growers is treated, graded and bagged for sale. Next, the group visited the fertilizer mixing plant. After visiting the fertilizer plant the boys were taken to Schuller's restaurant for lunch.

In the afternoon the group visited the Cooperative Mills, one of the five largest feed mills in the world. This mill supplies mixed feed to the eastern half of the United States. The mill was built at a cost of $2,000,000 and has a maximum output of 48 car loads of feed per day. On the return trip the group stopped at "Everybody's Farm", home of the broadcast sponsored by radio station WLW.

Hilliards students on the trip were Bill Finch, Oscar Buck, David Hetrick, Charles Martin, Bob Oller, Richard Davis, Paul Slyh, Dick Fisher, Bernard Geyer, Eugene Nunamaker, Charles Pence, Herb Fladt and John Kesler.

GROUND WAS BROKEN on the new Don Smith building being erected at W. Broad-st and Harris-av last week with a group of community leaders and representatives of the post office department on hand to observe the ceremonies. From left to right are C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record; Greer B. Orr, construction foreman; Q. H. Craft, realtor handling the lease on the building; John Hippert, representative of the Hilltop Business Association; H. G. Deems, First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.; C. W. Snyder, postal official; Smith; E. S. Mers, postal official; Algae Minnifield, in charge of maintenance; and Howard Tuttle, architect for the building.

The ground floor of the building will be occupied by the new Hilltop branch post office. Plans call for the building to be completed by Aug. 1.

H. H. S. Conducts Red Cross Drive

The Red Cross drive is being sponsored this year at Hilliards High School by senior home room 21. The drive began on Mar. 15. Money which is received from this drive will be spent on disaster relief, help for servicemen, gifts for oversens, life saving blood, safety training and the Gray Ladies.

Those on the committee for the drive are: Delores Baum, Connie Cowgill, Patty Cox, Bill Miller, Jack Flickinger, Don Patterson, Mary Jane Fenner, Bernard Geyer, Jo Ann Price, Larry Patrick, Betty Owen and Eugene Nunamaker.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL

George Roberts, 379 S. Eureka-av, was admitted to White Cross Hospital for treatment Friday. He will remain about two weeks in room 106.

Delores Freeman To Begin Arthritis Treatment Today

Cortisone treatments made possible through the donations of neighbors and other persons will begin Tuesday for Delores Freeman, 18-year-old New Rome girl, the victim of arthritis.

Physicians at a Columbus hospital said first shipment of the rare drug, cortisone, had arrived.

Delores is the pitifully deformed girl with arthritis so far advanced doctors believed her only chance to live and walk again was use of cortisone.

But because of its scarcity, and because it still can be released only on a research basis, it was not available. The hospital had no research funds. Contributions to help Delores added up to $1600.

Cost of 1.2 grams, enough for 12 days, was about $175. Doctors said they can't tell yet, how long the treatment must be continued.

Extensive tests required for the research, were being made this week with the funds. One, for example, was a test of blood within the bone structure.

Doctors said movies and X-rays will be taken before, during and after the treatment as a part of the research. All the voluminous data required must be finally sent to the National Academy of Science, Washington, D. C.

Delores has been happier since she has known she will get the treatment. The girl is the daughter of a New Rome, O., father of 12. He has been unemployed for months because of a leg fracture suffered at work.

Odd Fact

A Buffalo, N. Y., woman, charged with disorderly conduct, asked the judge to give her the maximum sentence because "I like the penitentiary. That's where all my friends are."

141 Students Attend Outdated W. Mound St. School

Draper declared, "the school will be built for sure."

E. B. Graham, principal of John Burroughs Elementary School, has the added responsibility of being in charge of the portable school. According to Graham, the portable school has one of the most active Parent-Teacher Associations in the city. This is probably indicative of the interest parents have in the children's welfare and education.

These parents know that such conditions and facilities that exist at the Mound Street School are not favorable for providing adequate and desirable educational environment.

Short News Notes: St. Patrick's day was fittingly observed at First Federal Savings & Loan by handing out green carnations . . . And Harold Fox sold "Irish Apples" (bricks) at three pounds for a quarter . . . Here it is the first day of spring and Mike Sheskey claims he feels like the last rose of summer, and he looks it . . . Leo Phillips spent a few days last week watching the Red Birds in training at Daytona Beach . . . W. McCleaster, 3091 Sullivant-av, the Heath candy bar man, reports business as really good, so good he had to drop in at the Record this week to order a new supply of order blanks . . . "We are open and hopin" says the sign in the new Hettinger's Grocery out west on Sullivant . . . Ed Ferguson will travel to Cleveland in the near future to get a new hat, a Christmas present . . . Jerry Watson is helping to light up Broad-st these evenings with that nice large Watson Market sign . . . Cap Hoover is vacationing in Hawaii, via air from Toronto, Canada. He is the guest of Col. Kenny Kennerick, former West Side boy. Incidentally, we learn that such a trip via air is approximately $100 cheaper by taking off through Canada, same old story of taxes, taxes, taxes in the USA . . . Alex Florio is tossing up his usual good Italian spaghetti at the Corner Cafe again . . . A recent investigation reveals that about 36% of the local business people are not registered voters . . . Parking meters are being considered again as a solution of the Hilltop parking problem but opinion seems to be divided as to whether they should be advocated . . . The gang at the Record is still wondering if Harry Franken ever found that airport he was looking for in a downtown alley . . . One of the best of recent programs at the Hilltop Kiwanis Club was the fiery anti-communist talk by Fr. Culliton last Thursday . . . Could there be any meaning behind the election of an obstetrician as the new VFW post surgeon?

Cast Chosen For Minstrel Show

Floyd W. Badgley

The Hilltop Minstrel Show cast of more than 60 has been selected, Director Leo Koontz announced today. Rehearsals for the show, to be held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Apr. 12, 13 and 14, in the West High School auditorium, began last Sunday afternoon.

Floyd W. Badgely, 347 S. Hague-av, will be the interlocutor for the huge cast of nine song and dance acts, in addition to the chorus and endmen. The cast includes among others: Colleen Greene, 228 S. Southampton-av, dancer; Tommy Smith, 501 Catherine-st, and Judy Mawbray, 2112 Deckenbach-rd, song and dance; Beverly Vance, 268 Powhatan-av, singer; Glenn Haudashelt, 1992 Fairmont-av, singer; Gayle Lamb, 181 S. Sylvan-av, song and dance; Jimmie Hill, 63 Powhatan-av, clarinet solo; Frank Ongaro, 57 Letchworth-av, accordion solo; Eddie Walker, 340 Demorest-rd, dancer; and Jack Sherick's six-girl dance chorus.

A mystery dancer will be a main feature of the 21st annual minstrel sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association. Bob Motzer and his orchestra will provide the music for the show.

Tickets are now on sale. General admission tickets are 60c. On Wednesday, Mar. 29, when reserved seats go on sale at the Thrift Finance Co., 7 S. Wayne-av, general admission tickets can be turned in for reserved seats, which will sell for 75c and $1.

More than 5000 are expected to see this year's two-hour long show which will have the theme of "The Doll Maker's Dream."

Endmen for the show will be Russ Carter, 128 N. Huron-av; Bill Coon, 338 N. Warren-av; George Hardy, 308 Racine-av, and Art Miller, West High School teacher.

Ambulance Type Cruiser Assigned To Hilltop Area

An ambulance type police cruiser will be placed on duty on the Hilltop around the first of the month, according to a statement made by Police Chief Frank Harrison, Tuesday.

It is one of seven such vehicles purchased by the city recently. Four of them will serve outlying districts of the city following the completion of an eight-week training course by 43 rookie policemen.

The cruisers carry stretchers and other first aid equipment, and are able to take care of accident victims and others who are injured. Police teams that operate the cruisers will take refresher courses in first aid.

SHOWN AT DEDICATORY CEREMONIES of the new Hilltop Branch Library Sunday are Librarian Will Collins, Mildred Phalor, secretary of the branch, and J. A. Meckstroth, president of the library board. The new library is the first branch library to be owned by the city. School week is being observed this week at the library with classes from the Hilltop schools being taken on "get acquainted" visits to the library. (Ohio State Journal Photo).

Levy Elected New Commander Of Westway V.F.W.

Harry A. Levy, 468 S. Roys-av, was elected new commander of the Westway Post 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the last meeting. He will assume office Apr. 21. Levy is a veteran of World War I.

The new commander announced today that he will appoint Robert Zulauf, 136 S. Roys-av, as adjutant and A. A. Bunnar, 591 Chestershire-rd as service officer.

Other officers elected were Robert Hartman, 420 S. Harris-av, senior vice commander; Richard Martin, 2056 Fairmont-av, junior vice commander; Harry Zulauf, 136 S. Roys-av, quartermaster; Ray Boord, 604 Salisbury-rd, judge advocate; Herbert Kunzi, 3133 Ellis-pl, chaplain; Dr. Lovell Rohr, 1251 W. Broad-st, post surgeon.

Gus Sora, Roland Wolford, and Charles Geddes were named post trustees.

Delegates to the county council will be Robert Swigert, Ralph Hartman, and Charles Geddes. Delegates to the 11th District Conference will be Harry Zulauf, Charles Geddes, Robert Swigert, Robert Hartman, Ray Boord, George Chambers, Olindo Roberts, Ralph Hartman, Herbert Kunzi, Gus Sora, Clifford Thompson and Roland Wolford.

The installation of the new officers will take place at the post headquarters, 2393½ W. Broad-st, Apr. 21. The retiring commander is Alva O. Boystel, 191 Cyp-

Bauch Coal Co. Celebrates 33rd Anniversary Here

Ray McVay

The Bauch Coal Co. recently celebrated its 33rd anniversary at 217 W. Main-st, following a reorganization in the administration of the firm.

The company is a family project for the McVay family, being run by Mr. and Mrs. Ray McVay, Sr., and children, Agnes and Ray, Jr.

Ray McVay, Sr., 165 S. Roys-av, is president of the company, Ray McVay, Jr., 208 N. Powell-av, is vice president and assistant treasurer, Agnes (McVay) Wolfe, 120 Haldy-av, is assistant treasurer and secretary, and Mrs. Lilliam McVay, 165 S. Roys-av, is vice president.

The company was formed in 1917 by John Wilhelm and Henry Bauch. McVay bought the firm in 1940. A coal yard has occupied the site for 60 years.

McVay, Sr., has been a member of the Columbus Retail Coal Dealers Association for the past 10 years and for eight of those years has been the association's president. He attributes the comparative ease with which Columbus went through the recent coal strike to the action of the association. He said that all members took part in a voluntary program of rationing and trading which insured an adequate coal supply at all times.

You Can't Match Either End Of Car Man Finds

Lloyd E. Bailey, 61, of 188 S. Ogden-av, learned Tuesday an auto can be combustible at both ends and the lesson cost him first and second degree burns on the face.

Of course Bailey knew it is a classic mistake to check a gas tank with the aid of a match. He learned the same thing applies to checking an auto radiator.

Police said that when he lighted a match to peer into the alcohol-filled radiator of his car, a blue sheet of flame arose and Bailey was burned on the face. He was released after treatment in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Dr. Cowles Named To Certified Credit Board of Directors

Dr. D. S. Cowles, 51 S. Westgate-av, and Ted J. Eaton, 1441 Wyandotte-rd, have been elected to the board of directors of Certified Credit Corporation, 18 W. Spring-st, officials of the consumer finance firm, announced this week.

Dr. Cowles is a physician with offices at 3191 W. Broad-st, and Mr. Eaton is president of Eaton-Brookhart, Inc., insurance brokers.

Dr. Newburger To Address W. Broad PTA Study Group

Dr. Maurice Newburger

Dr. Maurice Newburger, executive psychologist at the Bureau of Juvenile Research, will address the W. Broad St. School study group in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 1:30.

Dr. Newburger's subject will be, "Emotional Problems of Children and How to Meet Them."

Dr. Newburger resides at 180 S. Powell-av and has two children attending W. Broad-st School.

Following the meeting tea will be served. Arrangements have been made to take care of preschool children while the parents attend the meeting.

Generator Trouble Disrupts Hilltop Electric Service

Electric service was off in parts of the Hilltop for about an hour and 40 minutes Wednesday afternoon. An official of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. said the cause was generator trouble at its new unit in southeastern Ohio.

Mechanical difficulties with the generator at the Poston plant, five miles southeast of Nelsonville, threw 50,000 kilowatts of electric current out of service.

Service was expected to be back to normal today, according to the company official.

Mrs. Waidleich Solves Her Problem The Easy Way

Mrs. Howard Waidleich, 143 Binns-blvd, had a dining room suite which she no longer had any use for. Her decision to dispose of the suite by way of a Record want ad proved wise. The ad, which appeared in last Thursday's edition, read:

WALNUT DROP LEAF table, dinette size, and pads; 6 chairs. RA 5110.

Result: She sold her furniture Friday morning. In that short period she had received about 10 calls.

Whoever you are, whatever your problem, the "Want Ad Way" is the EASY way to solve it. If you want to buy, sell, offer or ask, an "up-and-at-'em" Record want ad will do the job for you—fast and economically. It's SO EASY to place a [illegible] ad. Just pick up your phone and call RA. 1125.

Saturday Is Anniversary of 1913 Flood; Magly Diary Recounts Story of Inundation

Mar. 25, 1913, is a memorable date that West Siders and Hilltoppers will never forget, for it was on that day that the Scioto river levee gave away and inundated practically all the West Side to the asylum grounds, and for three days that portion of the city was isolated and cut off from all modern conveniences.

Many present day West Siders who reside in that district or later moved to higher ground, recall vividly the impending disaster that cost lives and millions of dollars of valuable property.

Otto H. Magly, venerable patriarch and principal of West High School, whose diary is full of many human interest stories, gives his impressions of the havoc and destruction wrought by the turbulent flood waters that covered the vicinity of old West High School.

We report herewith his graphic description of this momentous event. (West High School was then located on S. Central-av in what now is Starling Jr. High School.)

March 25

No cars running on W. Broad-st. Camp Chase line moving very slowly. Managed to catch last car east. Crossed Town-st bridge at 10 a. m. Police had closed all bridges to traffic but at the request of the inspector, car was permitted to cross. At 11:10 a. m. West High was surrounded by a roaring deluge, a levee having broken at Central-ave. At one o'clock water stood 23 inches above first floor and remained until 4 p. m. B&O crossing at Sullivant-av gave away, releasing water for a fall of about four feet. About 150 refugees in the buiding. Supper cooked in the domestic science room. Boats began bringing people to the school and all fairly comfortable.

Wednesday, Mar. 28. Building began to cool. Gas off at 3 a. m. No electric light. No water service.

Tuesday, Mar. 27. Institution for feeble minded sends supplies and medical attention and boats begin taking people to higher ground. Mr. Roney last to leave building at 5:25 p. m.

Friday, Mar. 28. Reached the Hilltop via Fishinger's Bridge and Rome with a machine load of clothing. Quite a number of pupils at the Highland relief station and Glenwood Church. Was able to get down the drive to within 100 yards of Central-av, but not having boots, could not cross the running water. School yard now out of water. Much debris on Central-av. Many inquiries about pupils from whom there had been no report.

Saturday, Mar. 29. Secured pass to go West. Crossed Rich-st bridge to T&OC tracks, north of Broad and west to edge of water about Davis-av. Joined by Francis Swain, who had heard nothing from folks since Tuesday. Jumped on wagon crowded with men and drove through water to the hubs most of the way to Dana-av. Met Mr. Roney at corner of Brehl-av, and went to the building. "What a sight." Mud, debris and wreckage everywhere. Made brief inspection of damage. Arranged to begin cleaning Monday.

Sunday, Mar. 30. Remained at home. Too many sightseers.

Monday, Mar. 31. Managed to reach building by walking most of the way. Some stretches of water still across Broad-st. Mr. Roney had several of the boys at work, Claar, Randolph, Todd, Millay. Homer Wood looking on. Put him to work at 10 a. m. Wheel repaired, $1.50. (Mr. Magly had his bicycle repaired so that he might ride to and from school since there was no car

Tuesday, Apr. 4. Herbert Deems and Sheldon Mann joined the laborers; tackled the mud. Oh, what a mess!

Saturday, Apr. 5. Mopping and cleaning mud. About all out of basement. Quite a rush to finish mopping. No chance to begin school work Monday, but a reunion announced through papers.

Monday, Apr. 7. In spite of obstacles, reunion at West High. All pupils accounted for.

Church Votes To Allow School Use

The Glenwood Methodist Church board Tuesday night voted to let public school classes be taught in the building.

Highland Elementary School is slated for repairs and decorations in mid-April and the youngsters wouldn't have a place for classes until next November, when the job is scheduled for completion.

Tuesday night the official board of the church met with the church school board and officers and teachers of Sunday school and voted to turn over six of the church rooms to the school.

Rea-Bow Group Seeks Zoning Repeal

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association Inc., at a special meeting, held Wednesday, Mar. 8, voted to seek the repeal of the Zoning Law in Franklin Twp. The resolution as adopted instructed the chairman of the association, George W. Wolfe, to use the entire resources of the Association for repeal of this law.

Rea-Bow Hall will be made available to any group at any time at no cost, who are seeking to repeal this law, the association announced.

Shop, Fine Arts, Cooking Displays Planned At West

by Myron T. Seifert

A unique program sponsored by the West High PTA is scheduled for Tues. Mar. 28 at 8 p. m. when several departments of the school will stage "on the spot" demonstrations of work performed by scores of students at the Powell-av School.

Exhibits of fine arts, industrial arts (including wood, metal, and mechanical drawing), and cooking products of West High students will be much in evidence at the evening's program.

A general exhibit of fine arts and industrial arts on the school auditorium stage will follow the business meeting of the PTA.

At the general meeting two students will tell about art. Jack Six will speak on art and what it means to the individual; and Gay Wade will speak on art and its relation to the school.

A few pictures framed in the new improvised "art gallery" in rear of the auditorium will also be displayed.

Art demonstrations will be held in senior high art studio room 304 — water color painting, Jack Martin and Virginia Cockerill; poster works, Irene Batteiger; wire and paper mache, Gay Wade; slide making, Jack Taylor; stencil making, Donna Snapp and Nancy Cornwell; home planning, John Ryan and Phyliss Arter; oil painting, Shelia Pugh; works on mural for new Hilltop Library; Jack Six and Rolland Karshner; wood project, Tom Durflinger; cut paper, Ann Durham and Diane Smith; sketching Joyce Lewis; scratch pictures, Virginia Cockerill. Exhibition Committee for art includes Martha Krebs, Joyce Lewis, and Phyliss Ater.

Roger Burley will speak for the Junior High Art Dept.

A silver service set for use of the home economics dept. at the school, and a project of the West High PTA this year, was used by many of the students who served as hostesses at the table on this evening.

The PTA will add extra pieces to the service for this meeting and make a final presentation to the school of the service.

Numerous articles made in the Wood, Metal, Drafting, and Arts and Crafts rooms will be on display.

The exhibit will consist of writing desk, large and small cedar chests, all varieties of tables for the living room, checker boards, cabinets for record players, various styles of book shelves, lamps and novelties of all kinds.

The Industrial Arts teachers plan to have boys in each shop working on projects. These boys will be demonstrating the different machines and processes in the construction of their furniture. They will also answer and explain any phase of the shop and their work which might be of interest to the visitors.

Merchants Asked To Close Good Friday

Hilltop merchants were asked this week by the Church Committee of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club to close their businesses from noon until 3 p.m. on Good Friday in commemoration of the hours Christ suffered on the cross.

Window display cards, telling why the store is closed, will be sent to all the merchants. Good Friday this year is Apr. 7.

UNDERGOES EMERGENCY OPERATION

Jimmy Miles, 6-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Miles is reported in "fair" condition in Mt. Carmel hospital where he underwent an emergency appendectomy early Monday morning.

THE RAMBLING DISTRICT from which John Burroughs School draws its enrollment is pictured above. Besides the area shown, an "undetermined number" of children from the West Mound Street School district are sent to the school by parents who will not send their children to the "temporary" wooden buildings of the West Mound Street School, built more than 20 years ago. The High Ridge Civic Association and other civic groups have been campaigning for a new school building to replace the structures. More than 1000 children are already enrolled at John Burroughs School and birth rate figures indicate a one-third increase within the next three years. (Columbus Citizen Engraving).

Hilltop Shriners To Honor Newly Elected Nobles At Breakfast May 4

By Myron T. Seifert

On Thursday, May 4, 500 Hilltop Shriners will gather at the semi-annual breakfast to be held at the West Gate Masonic Temple. The breakfast will honor the newly-elected Hilltop Nobles, who will, on the same day, be candidates for Aladdin Nobles to the Mystic Shrine downtown, according to Dr. R. J. Miller, president, and Ira Claggett, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Already committees are at work making preparation for the occasion, which promises to be an outstanding social event for the Hilltop Nobles.

The list of committees, announced by the Hilltop Shrine officials, includes the following:

RECEPTION: Carrol Vance, Russell Carter, Herb Kunzi, Joe Goodwin, Lou Saunders, and Dr. T. S. Fox.

TICKETS: Curt Wilcox and Hazen Rhodes.

FOOD SERVICE: Jerry Watson, John Apel, Loren Galloway, Franklin Sparks, Billy Southworth, "Slim" Elder, Don Hines and Ray McVay.

PROGRAM: Merl Haller, Leo Phillips, Harry Fell, Walter Hoelcher, Leo Amspoker, and "Spang" Spangler.

DECORATION: Merl Haller.

The local club, which was instituted on the Hilltop eight years ago, has grown by leaps and bounds, commanding the attention of the Aladdin Mystic Shrine Divan who commended the Hilltop Shrine Club for its splendid work in promoting fraternal fellowship and having a vital part in helping to underwrite the Crippled Children's Hospital program.

Hilltop Nobles of the Mystic Shrine contribute substantially to the Crippled Children's Fund.

Scouts Seek Odd Jobs

Dampness Causes Mildew On Wood

MOLD or mildew, as it might manifest itself in unsightly patches on the woodwork in your home, is a fungus growth that is the result of dampness. It often appears in bathrooms as on window frames in exposed walls, particularly in older houses.

If you have mildewed wood in your house, you will have to track down the immediate cause of it yourself. If could be that the walls and ceilings of a room have been painted with a flat paint which is absorbent and holds moisture. Or perhaps, if you have no storm sash, it might appear on the inside of the window frame because of moisture condensation on the cold pane.

Whatever caused it, you want to get rid of it. The fungus growth can be inhibited, or killed, by spraying with a mildew proofing preparation on sale in most hardware stores. That is your first step—to kill the growth.

You should scrape the worst of the mold off and then wash the area well with the mildew proofer. While you're at it, it would be well to wash all doubtful places in the room with the preparation.

If you are going to paint again, apply a priming coat of aluminum paint to the affected area before you restore the original shade or color.

The basement is another spot where it is all too possible to raise a flourishing crop of mold, particularly during wet weather. And the musty odor that accompanies this is something you'll want to be rid of, too.

In a majority of cases you can lick this condition in the basement by applying a solution of one pound of formaldehyde to 1½ gallons of water. A garden spray-pump or even a sprinkling can may be used to get the solution into the places needing it.

If there are musty odors only, with no mold present, a weaker formaldehyde solution may suffice. Try a small amount in water for wall washing or floor-scrubbing, for instance.

You'll find that moldy garbage cans, sinks, pantries and attics also can be deodorized with the formaldehyde solution. The chemical can be purchased at many hardware stores.

When using it, however, be careful. Any space treated with formaldehyde should be thoroughly aired before it is again occupied. Wear rubber gloves if your hands are to come in contact with the solution in order to avoid skin irritation. Spills on the skin should be washed off with soap and water at once. Used in dilute solution, however, the chemical does not injure textiles or household utensils.

TRYING to clean the face of a brick fireplace is a maddening job, but a very simple trick will turn it into a breeze.

Just coat the bricks with liquid wax. The wax gives the bricks a slight gloss and a comparatively smooth finish, filling up the porous surface in which dust accumulates. With the wax applied, soot and dust are much less likely to collect, and any that does can be wipe off quickly. Wax the bricks as often as needed. A small paint brush makes a convenient applicator.

The third annual Hobby Show of the students of Starling Junior High School was held Mar. 15 and 16 in the library of the school.

One of the most professional of the exhibits was that of Harry Woods, 808 Pierce-dr, whose model racers have rubber tires and gasoline engines. The owner has, as a matter of fact, won a medal from the American Midget Car Racing Association for a winning performance by one of his cars at Dayton in 1948.

Proudly holding scale models of a B-24 Liberator bomber and a P-38 Black Widow fighter he built is Robert Sparks, a student in the 7A grade at Starling Junior High. Robert, who lives at 1546 Thomas-av, has been building model planes as his hobby for more than three years but never has placed any of his handiwork on public display until now. In the background can be seen two Nazi flags which the exhibitor claims came from one of Hitler's residences.

Mrs. Oakley Wiseman, librarian at Starling, was the Hobby Show director. Included in her list of 115 exhibits were salt and pepper shakers, model planes, trains and cars, German and Japanese army rifles and bayonets, dolls and doll house furniture, pennants, gold fish and match books. Other exhibits vary from a clever wood model of a 1949 Ford automobile to a suit of pajamas.

GOLDEN AGERS MEET

The Golden Age Club met Tuesday, Mar. 21, at the Sunshine Recreation Center. President Fred Birkhimer presided over a brief business session, after which refreshments were served. Next meeting of the club is scheduled for Mar. 28.

The pupils who were chosen as captains from the leaders' group are, the following: Vera Adams, Shirley Carr, Margaret Dorsch, Shirley Fitch, Marilyn Greene, Kathleen Murray, Norma Partlow, Dora Mae Sands, Doris Saunders, Mary Flo Tharp, and Shirley Robinson.

Hiking Club Banquet Set for Apr. 18 At Central YMCA

The Central Ohio Hiking Club of the YMCA is holding its 14th annual banquet this year on Apr. 18, at 6:30 p. m. in the "Y" auditorium. Speaker for the evening will be Robert M. Ingle of the Diamond Milk Company. Toastmaster will be Albert Koshiba.

Members of the committee are as follows: Grace Doerflein, chairman; Mary Pugh, co-chairman, with Frank Seipel, Margo Williams, Ray Tope, Agnes Boudaboush, Ernest Leogrande, and Margo Riggin.

All hikers, both old and new are cordially invited to attend.

Opens Dental Office On W. Broad St.

Dr. J. J. Sirotnik announces the opening of offices for the general practice of dentistry, specializing in extractions, x-ray and dentures, at 935 W. Broad-st.

Dr. Sirotnik is a graduate of Ohio State Unida, college of dentistry, and served as dental surgeon in the air forces during World War II.

To Discuss Townsend Plan

"The Townsend Plan and Its Implications" will be the topic of an open discussion to be held Thursday evening, Mar. 30 at Sunshine Recreation Center. Fred Birkhimer, 1930 Linwood-av, will preside. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

GLENWOOD REC. NEWS

The city recreation department is sponsoring a play day every Saturday afternoon for girls between the ages of 12 and 16. The play-day activities begin at 1 p. m. and the program includes kickbaseball on the gym floor plus crafts in the crafts room and ping pong, shuffleboard and badminton in the large play room.

The play day program is designed to acquaint girls with forms of recreation that are not generally accessible in school or otherwise. The program also offers the girls an opportunity to make new friends and learn new abilities. Milk and cookies are served at the conclusion of the activities which end at 4 p. m.

Glenwood Recreation Center has been host to two successful play days in which nearly 75 girls have taken part.

Girls aged 12 through 16 are cordially invited to attend the regular Saturday play days.

Golden Age Club

The Golden Agers are very proud of the fact that with every meeting the attendance of the club has increased until at the present time there are 58 members enrolled. A far cry from the small number of 13 which first met to organize the club at Glenwood.

The Club now meets at Sunshine Park at the corner of Sullivant and Sandusky every Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. with the exception of the first Tuesday of each month when the group meets at 12:30 p. m. to enjoy a pot-luck dinner.

The Golden Age purpose is purely for soial enjoyment and friendship and it is our sincere desire to reach every person over 50 years of age and bring to them a little fun and good fellowship. Fred Birkhimer, president, announced at Tuesday's meeting the future plans of the club would include a box social to be held the third Tuesday in April.

Crafts

Pins, broaches and ear rings made of sea shells are the latest rage of the groups working in handicrafts at Glenwood. These items make lovely presents and are very easily made.

The adult craft class which meets at 1 p. m. every Wednesday will finish its copper cigarette holders at the next meeting. The ladies will then begin making pins and trays of copper. The class is open to any adults who wish to attend.

The craft room is open on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 3 until 5 p. m. for any one who wants to learn handicrafts.

Photo Club

Dick Koontz is working with the Junior Boys' Photo Club, teaching the boys to take and develop their own pictures. The boys have already done several prints and will soon learn to enlarge their pictures.

Girls' Glee Club

On Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p. m. the Girls' Glee Club holds its weekly rehearsal. The Glee Club is open to teenage girls and will welcome anyone who can sing. Joe Denbow of 2717 Carroll-st, is the director. Mrs. Patricia Denbow is the accompanist for the choir. If you wish further information call Pat Matthews at Ra. 7416 any afternoon after 2 p. m.

Sells Home Through Record Ad

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Groom, Jr., of 191 S. Terrace-av, have purchased the Marie S. Creager home at 59 N. Chase-av and will move to that address about Apr. 15. Details of the transaction were handled by Estella C. Burnside, Broker, 92 N. Powell-av. Sale was made from an advertisement in The Hilltop Record.

Keystone Bible Class To Elect

The Keystone Bible Class of Hillcrest Baptist Church will hold the annual election of officers at the church Saturday evening, Mar. 25 at 8 o'clock. The men of the Keystone Class will be in charge of the program. Chairman of the entertainment committee is Carl Kunz, and the refreshment committee chairman will be Kenneth Lathem.

Mr. and Mrs. Motorist—could you stand to see a child you had killed? Then please keep your eyes open for children while you drive. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce reminds you that children don't always stop to think; drivers, therefore should always be thinking and should always be prepared to stop in time to save a child's life.

Snaring Stand-Offs Is Big Job Around Sunshine Center

By Harry E. Jacobs

We leave to other minds the question of whether or not 50 pupils in a classroom are "too many" for effective teaching.

Just between you and me, though, the number of young folks participating at Sunshine Center bothers me not one whit. To the contrary, in fact, wherever our youth are concerned, with me, it's "the more, the merrier."

What bothers me most in youth welfare is the wallflower, the youngster, any age, who comes to the center only to stand off by himself and stare at nothing or no one in particular—the youth who is either unable or unwilling to get into some of the activities we offer each day, for it is obvious he came to the center to let off excess steam, and failing to find his place in the program, I always feel he may drift out of the center and into surroundings which may not be best for him.

It's those on the fringe of things, the wallflowers—they're the ones you and I have to worry about to capture and retain their playtime interest. That's our problem.

Only last week we finally got hold of a teen-age wallflower who had kept me guessing for nearly two years. If you'd see him come in through our doors, healthy and robust, at 15, you'd probably expect him to head for our gym where pick-up basketball is often in progress. But he seldom went toward the gym, nor could our glider table tennis draw his attention. None of our several hobbycraft or all purpose boys' clubs got him to look in. Seldom, if ever, would he even hesitate near our juke box, the music from which glues down teen-agers numbering into dozens each day. Once I asked him, politely enough, what around the center he liked most to do. "Nothin' much, just mess around," he stammered, backing away from me as he spoke.

In all the time he had come to the center, I had never seen him actually join with others in any segment of our program. Yet come to the center he did, more or less regularly for two years.

But last week we finally landed him, and the West Side Boosters it was who lassoed and corralled him. For last week the Boosters presented Sunshine with a brand spanking new table model shuffleboard. And since that day, my teen age worry wart has either been pushing the stainless steel pucks over the smart, highly polished playing surface of our new shuffleboard, or patiently waiting, his eyes aglow, for his next turn to try his luck against some worthy opponent just 10 feet away.

Centuries ago the soothsayers said to Julius Caesar: "Beware the Ides of March!" But Caesar took a chance—and he got killed. Today the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce says to motorists: "Beware the rides of March!" What they mean is this: Don't drive like the March wind — whirling and whisking past everything on the road — weaving gustily in and out of traffic lines — blustering at more careful drivers. That's the kind of driving tactics which bring death and serious injury to many persons and shatter the well-being and happiness of many families the year 'round.

Wildcat Club To Sponsor Gladden Hop

On Friday evening, Mar 24, the Wildcat Club is sponsoring a dance at the Gladden Community House, 623 W. Town-st. The dance will begin at 7:30 with popular recorded music and end at 10:30. Refreshments will be available. Admission to the dance will be 10 cents.

The Wildcat Club, a group of teen-age boys, has taken full responsibility for organizing and conducting the dance. They expect it to be a real success and invite all West Side teen-agers to come and have a good time. Proceeds of the dance will go toward the purchase of club shirts.

The officers of the club are Walter Tippie, president; Michael Poole, vice-president; John Mason, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Strader and Stanley Buchanan, house council delegates; John Mason, softball team captain; Marion Swank, co-captain.

Committees for the dance were as follows: decorations, Mike Poole, Stanley Buchanan; refreshments, check room and music, John Mason, Jack Perkins; admissions, Walter Tippie, Robert Mason.

The entire club membership assumed responsibility for publicity and for ushering at the dance.

Central Alumni Choir Makes Debut Tuesday

The newly-organized Central High School Alumni Choir will be highlighted in the 1950 presentation of the Alumni Riverside Review, to be held Tuesday, Mar. 28, at Central High School. The choir, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Moore, has been practicing Monday nights in preparation for the event.

Central's Nancy Morgan will sing in the trio with her sisters, Delores and Mary, who at one time attended Central. Organist Bill Libero, an alumnus, will play the electric organ throughout the program.

A drum novelty act will be presented by Don Blakely The Ross County Farmers, Leonard and Alva McCoy, will be joined by their sister, Jean, a student at Central, for their songs.

Johnny Murphy's chorus line will present a novelty tap dance. Last year's attractive Whackstone (Harold Stegmiller), the magician, is bowing to younger talent in the person of Dick Marsh's Magic Show.

Under the direction of Mr. Rockey, members of the instrumental department will present a preview of their spring concert in April. The senior dramatics department, directed by Mr. Dupre, will present a short skit.

JOE BRIGGS
Says:

Many a defendant is not half as guilty as the judge and jury — take him to be.

We, your insurance agents, feel guilty when you suffer a fire loss and are only partly covered by insurance. You know values are up at least 50%. There are hundreds of thousands of new values uninsured. Let us help you bring your insurance up to near present values. Then, if fire should occur, we will both feel better. Bill Kirby's 262 was the feature game of the week in the Tuesday Niters. Floyd Winn paced Yoders with 258-616. The team had 969-2790. Art Bishop had 245 and Walt Trailkitt 629 with Ben Brew Beer getting 972 and Pepsi Cola shooting 2756 in the Recreation League.

The Suburban featured Ward Reynolds and Paul Leighninger having 234 each and Dick Ardle 656. Seiller's Dept. Store had 960 with Ohio State Construction Co. getting 2712. Art Helms had 222 and Bill Frasure totaled 561. Kent Builders swept the team honors with 968-2733.

Nyra Deibert shot 212 and Edna Latscha with 513 led Hilltop Hardware to 804-2259. Helen Gary tallied 200 and Kate Cecil 528, helping Painter's Market to 820-2329.

The St. Aloysius PTA showed Marie Balthaser with 163-486 and Keith School of Dancing had 733. Valley View Market shot 2061. Diane Smith shot 170-446. Seiller's shot 623-1710 in the Hilltop YMCA Merchants' Girls' League.

George McCoy again got hot with 524 in the Hilltop YMCA Merchants' Boys' League.

"Joker" Stewart shot a nice 633 total when his team, Clark Grave Vault, shot another big 3100 in the classic league at Olentangy Village on Wednesday.

Gen Graham blasted a 237 and Mary Harrity shot a nice 556. Stewart Black Top had 903-2460 in the Hilltop Ladies.

The leaders in the Businessmen's were Gene Schulz with 235 and Sonny Camp with 598. Hirsch & Hirsch had 996-2839. The Friday Niters featured Glen Harbage with 213-530 and Broadview Tile and Linoleum shooting 862. Oak Grove Tavern had 2480. Joe Skufza had 219 and Jack Guetz a nice 597 in the K of C.

Bill Wolfe is enjoying himself in Florida and doesn't know when he will come back to Columbus.

The Hilltop mixed doubles tournament will start sometime in April.

To most people, perhaps, the term "one-arm driving" means romantic distraction while driving. But there's another form of one-arm driving that is also dangerous. That's the too-common practice of driving with the right hand alone on the wheel, while the left arm rests idly on the ledge of the open window and the left hand dangles uselessly or perhaps clutches the top of the window. There's no romance here—just false confidence in that right hand—or just plain laziness. Any driver should realize that he cannot control his vehicle as well with one hand as with two, and that trouble can sometimes strike before there is time to get that other hand working. The safest car, you know, is no safer than its driver makes it on the road or street. Left-handed, one-arm driving gives safety only half a chance.

OUR THIRD WAR WITH ENGLAND

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
Central Press Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Me.—In the year 1842 fighting had started and the United States and England were on the verge of again declaring war. How this dispute arose and how it was peacefully settled is one of the most fantastic stories on the pages of history.

The negotiations which closed the Revolutionary war had established the border between Canada and the United States on a line designated on appended maps.

When a minor boundary dispute arose between Maine and Canada in 1842 it was discovered that no map was attached to the copy of the treaty in Washington.

Then suspicion flared up and these suspicions became stronger when it was stated in London that there was no map attached to its copy of the treaty.

BORDER DISPUTES broke out between Canada and both New York and Vermont. There were raids on Canada from the American side and reprisals by the Canadians.

An American was murdered. A Canadian was seized and about to be hanged. Maine declared its intentions of declaring war on England, in what has since been known as the "Aroostook war."

It was in this tense atmosphere that Daniel Webster and Lord Ashburton undertook the negotiations of the border dispute. Then a fantastic thing happened.

AN AMERICAN in Paris discovered the map on which Benjamin Franklin had marked the Canadian border for the information of the French government. About the same time an Englishman discovered a map which British officials believed should have been attached to the treaty.

To add to this comedy of errors the map discovered by the American placed the border line where the Canadians contended it was, while the map discovered by the Englishman agreed with the American claim.

With these discoveries the suspicions disappeared and good feeling was restored. A compromise was quickly reached, placing the American-Canadian border about halfway between the lines shown on the two maps.

Canadian-U. S. boundary that brought about war-like dispute.

Well, it's time for the youngsters to take to the air again. Off they go into the wild blue yonder, riding in fancy on their zooming and swooping kites. It's real sport and a child should not be denied the thrill of it. But he should also know the dangers and be guarded against them. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce asks parents to supervise the smaller ones' kite flying. At least, train the youngsters never to fly their kites near electric wires—also not to dash down the middle of the street to get the kite aloft, and not to back into the street while maneuvering. And motorists, the Council asks you to help see that it's all clear for the kite corps—help protect America's child life!

Signed By Pirates

Jim Ackers

Jim Ackers, 72 S Eureka-av, prominent center on the Combo 5 basketball team of the Sunshine Recreation Center, received word this week from Fred Herring, Pittsburgh Pirates' Farm Club director, to report Mar. 27 to Greenville, Ala., for training with the Tallahassee Pirates baseball team.

Jim will probably play at center field for the Tallahassee team, an entrant in the class "C" Florida State League. The league opens its season Apr. 15.

Although his latest fame is in the world of basketball, Jim is no newcomer to baseball. He first played organized baseball in 1946 when he performed with the American Legion Post 37 team at Portsmouth, Va. That year it won the district title.

In 1947 he played semi-pro ball and in 1948 was with the Camp Lee, Va., team while in the armed services. Last year he played briefly with the Camp Lee team and after his discharge from the army worked out with the Brooklyn Dodgers late in the season. He was signed by the Pittsburgh Pirates in September and was notified early this month that he would play with the Tallahassee team.

Jim is the son of Mrs. Lulu Davis of the Eureka-av address. He has a brother, Frank Ackers, a sophomore at West High School.

Warning to children from the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce. Watch out Kid Clipper and his car! For he may not be watching out for you. He is like the big clumsy kid in school. He doesn't intend to hurt anybody. He just goes lumbering around the vicinity of a school or through residential neighborhoods without watching or thinking very sharply, and he bumps into smaller kids, and hurts them pretty bad sometimes. Then he's sorry he wasn't more careful. You kids stay out of the way of motorists—and, motorists, let's always watch out for kids.

With the first hint of spring—even before the little buds start popping out on the tree limbs—you'll notice that those "little buds" named Tom, Dick and Mary, and so on, pop out to play all along the streets. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce brings motorists this reminder: It pops up your mental motor when the signs tell you that spring is coming around the next corner. But you develop a missing spark plug if a late frost or breeze kills the early buds on the trees. That's nothing, though, to what happens to a driver's outlook if he himself is the frost that nips one of those human little buds. They and their limbs are fragile but full of life. They're so carefree they sometimes forget to be careful. Motorists, please watch for them and allow for their unsafe acts—for the sake of all their future springtimes.

Linden Looms As Team To Beat In City Baseball Loop; West Returns 6 Lettermen

By Dave Miller

Apr. 11 is not very far off and on that date, the City Baseball League will open the 1950 season with Linden at Central; South at Acquinas; and East at North with West drawing the loop bye.

There will be only one new coach in the league this season with Bob Moore, basketball reserve mentor, replacing Paul (Bucky) Walters, present basketball coach, at East High. George Williams will be tutoring the West High outfit; Jack McAndrews will direct Aquinas; Hal Martin will be at the helm of Linden McKinley's defending champions; Dale Helmick will direct South; Dave Parks will be operating Central and Mike Hagley will again coach North High. The latter two are veteran football coaches. Both will be starting their 30th year in coaching football at their respective schools next fall.

Probably one of the strongest teams of the seven-squad league will be defending champion Linden. Not only did the Panthers win the loop title last year, but the same team won the district tournament Class A finals last season, and in the summer they went to the finals of the local American Legion tourney. In addition, Coach Hal Martin of the Lindenites has had his forbes practicing in the school gym, limbering up their arms until the weatherman gives them the green light to go outdoors.

Going down the line of the city loop squads, here's a roundup of what the coaches have to work with:

AQUINAS — Coach Jack McAndrews, assisted by local amateur baseball stars, Herb Russell and Bob Cline, has a total of seven lettermen back from last season's squad, which won only three of 12 tilts, but the needed experience of City Loop ball will be back for action this season. The Terriers will open their Loop season playing host to a tough South nine. Back for duty this year are infielders Tom Keerns, Lou Casparro, Dick Burkley and Frank Shirtzinger; outfielder Jim Crt; and catcher Don Swepston along with pitchers Bill Entz, who won two games and lost five for the Mt. Vernon-av school in '49. In addition to his returning men in the infield, McAndrew will have Dick Fogo and Ben Fath for aid while Harry Flannagen, Al Pierano and Jim Reiser will try for the outfield. Aiding Entz in the mound chores will be Jim Mangan and "Lefty" Engert.

CENTRAL — Dave Parks of the Bucs will have some six lettermen back for his squadron this season when his opening game will pit him against Linden on the Central diamond. Parks has Jimmy Towler at second base and Howard Cassady at shortstop with Jim Fenstermaker and Ray Blake in the outfield; Les Biederman and Dave Reynolds as catchers and pitcher Vernon Feen as returning monogram men. The rest of the squad won't be rounded out by Parks until the weathermen permits Parks to see some of his other prospects in action on the diamond.

EAST — The Tigers' new coach Bob Moore, doesn't have too bright of an outlook on things at the present. He has not yet started his diamond training, but when he does, he will be digging deep to get that needed experience. Moore has one infielder, first baseman Dick Linson left from last year; one catcher, Bill Marcum and a little more depth in the outfield, Dick Kauffman, Carl Thompson, Bill Humphrey, and Ted Georgeff. Moore has some prospects from the surrounding junior high schools, Champion and Franklin, attending school, and he hopes to see some of them in action in order to round out his team.

LINDEN — Coach Hal Martin really has a glowing face these days, at least it's a little brighter than the other coaches around the league. In addition to having 10 returning lettermen, Martin, as aforementioned, has all his boys back from some valuable tournament experience in the American Legion last season.

When Martin sends nine men in his season opener at Central April 11, five of those starters will be back for their second consecutive season. Paul Burns will be at first base; Myron Hutchison at second; Gary Barber at shortstop and Sam Massara will be at the hot corner, with the latter two boys regulars from last year's team, Bob Vannette, a sensation last year as a sophomore will be the No. 1 pitcher (he's a righthander).

NORTH—Mike Hagely of the Northsiders was greeted by five lettermen in his first practice session for his hopefuls in the school gym last Monday. Like the rest of the teams in the league, North also will be "just throwing" until the weather gets a little warmer. The Bears' monogram men include pitcher, Russ Daye; third baseman, Dave McBride; shortstop, Bob Blanchard; and outfielders, Dick Mahaney and Rodney Whitt. The Polars will open their loop campaign by playing host to Easts Tigers, and outside of a few positions, the Bears will field a team that has plenty of experience.

SOUTH — The Bulldogs, always a powerhouse in the diamond sport will be coached by Dale Helmick. He will have six returning lettermen from last season's third place team in addition to some good reserve prospects and junior high hopefuls. Only position open at the moment on the Bulldog team is second base, where Martin Allen, a sophomore, just graduated from Barrett, is expected to make his debut. At first base is Dick Ruh, a good hitter and excellent fielder from last season's team with Dick Wagner back at third and another sophomore, Chuck Robeson, probably at shortstop. In the field, the Pups will have Bob Holderle, Bob Nolan, Bob Hewit and Don Wirtz, with the latter the only one not a letterman. On the mound, Helmick marvels at his ace Bob Strawser, with a very good prospect as No. 2 twirler in George Treneff, brother of Chris, who is preparing to start his third straight year as regular catcher for the Ann-st school. South will start its season Apr. 4 at Bexley with the league opener being at Aquinas.

WEST—Always a strong contender in the baseball circles of the City League, Coach George Williams' Hilltoppers will be out to get another one of their baseball trophies to their collection. In '48, the Cowboys tied with Central for the City Loop title, while last year, two losses at the hands of champion Linden gave them a runner-up post.

William was greeted by six returning lettermen in his first practice session called last Monday for all batterymen and last year's team members to loosen up their arms before going outdoors. The returning "W" men are, pitchers, Phil Young and Bill South; catcher, Donnie Nafzger; infielders, Jack Winnestaffer and Dave Caton; and outfielder, Morris Dobbs. Seven other boys saw action last year, but didn't receive letters, and they will be back for service this season. At first base probably will be Jack Winnestaffer with sophomore Eddie Gliebs as a stand-in. Last season, when third baseman Bill Thrush was injured, Winnestaffer switched from first base to third and did an admirable job. Russ Friend will be fighting it out with some ex-junior high players from last year, namely Dick Orr and Ed Easterly, for second base. At shortstop, letterman Dave Caton is expected to fill the shoes of former West shortstop, and really a great one, Jack Pickens. Caton, with less experience than Pickens, is an excellent fielder. In the outfield, Morris Dobbs, a sophomore last year really was outstanding in '49, and is expected to head the gardeners including such returnees as Tommy Wright, Ron McElwee and Paul Ellingsworth. Young, who has been a standout for the Cowboys on the mound the last two years, is expected to have another good season this year, with South as probably the No. 2 man. Two other twirlers from the junior high team, lefty Fred Ladeder and Russ Gardner will also be expected to make the grade.

The Cowboys draw the first league bye, but will open their season on Apr. 14, by visiting South. Williams announces that he plans a few non-league games with Grandview, Upper Arlington, London, and Chillicothe throughout the season.

THESE TWO GIRLS' BOWLING TEAMS will be defending their state championship in the Junior ABC tournament when they take over the alleys Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Hilltop Bowling Alleys. On the left is the team sponsored by Ed McGuire's Garage whose members are Judy Schulfa, Geneva Emrich, Mary Hauderschield and Jo Ann Bergman. Members of Fays' Dress Shop squad are Diane Smith, Nancy Johnson, LaDonna Mithoff and Jean Mason. In the center, with the trophy, are Mrs. Frances Furry, girls' supervisor of the Y-Merchants League, and Averille Thorn, YMCA secretary.

TWO BOWLING TEAMS OF THE HILLTOP YMCA-MERCHANTS LEAGUE look over the trophy they will be defending next Saturday, morning in the state Junior ABC tournament. Last year both the girls' and boys' teams won the state championship. Paul Leighninger, secretary-treasurer of Seiller's, holds the trophy while members of the Hilltop Jewelers, left, and the Georgiton's Candy Store team look on. Team members are, left to right, Johnnie Harold, Dale Chaffin, Eddie Harold, Dick Swisher, Gary Swisher of the Hilltop Jewelers, Leighninger, and Billy Ray Evans, Richard Rose, Stan Croson, Joe Humphrey, and Gene Harold of the Georgiton squad.

Going to and from work in the wintertime can be very risky. Here are a few tips from the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce: The man who walks should take it easy in icy weather and keep his own porches, steps and walks clear. He should remember that the half-light of twilight and dusk is especially dangerous for pedestrians. He should not bury his head blindly in his coat collar. The man who drives should get up early enough to avoid speeding to work. He should allow plenty of space and time for stopping on slippery pavement. The man who rides public conveyances should allow time to be careful and sure of step. He should not run or leap or try to dash around the front end of a bus or streetcar after alighting. However you go to and from your job, be careful and get there and back home safely.

Briggsdale and Brown Road

By Mrs. Harry C. Downing

Peter Schwindt, 1157 Geneva-av, is recovering satisfactorily at his home following a recent cataract operation. He wishes to thank his friends and neighbors for the cards and best wishes he has received.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Donaldson, 1118 Geneva-av, will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary next Monday. They have one son, Earl, who lives in Bexley. The Donaldsons were married in Pratt City, near Birmingham, Ala., Mar. 27, 1900.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reber, 2063 Frank-rd, were hosts at dinner last Wednesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bellomy and Tommy, and Joann Bellomy and Raymond Gearhart. The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Bellomy's birthday.

The Briggsdale WSCS held an all day meeting at the church last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marx and sons, Russell and Lowell, 1328 Tedco-dr, had as their week-end guests recently Mrs. Marx's aunts, Mrs. Eldon Dick, Holland, Mich., and Mrs. Frank Stevens of Fennville, Mich.

The Wilson School Study Group met last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alfred Robinson, 1053 Brown-rd. Members present were Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Seeger, Mrs. Cockerill, Mrs. Burrell, Mrs. Nardin, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Cline, Mrs. Daumler, Mrs. Wiedner and Mrs. Robertson. Mrs. Cline led the discussion, entitled "Responsibility — Little Today, Bigger Tomorrow."

Mrs. Earl Canter, 1135 Geneva-av, is recovering from an attack of flu.

The Briggsdale Room Mothers' Club held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. John Jones, 1712 Harrisburg-pk. Those attending the potluck luncheon were Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Rife, Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. McVey, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Bautler, Mrs. Grooms, Mrs. Downing and Mrs. Jones.

Committee members and troop leaders of the Wilson School Girl Scout Neighborhood Association met last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George Goodrich, 1905 Jackson-av. They were Mrs. John McConahay, Mrs. John Quelette, Mrs. Oscar Seeger, Mrs. J. M. Haley, Mrs. Lou Workman, Mrs. Hale Cline and Mrs. H. Booth, district chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day, 1364 Brown-rd, are the parents of a son born Mar. 15 in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. W. S. Williams, 1928 Harrisburg-pk, and Rev. Grace Henry of Eaton, O., left the first of the week for Cuba where they plan to visit for a month.

The W. W. Class of Briggsdale Methodist Church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Spangler, 712 Brown-rd, as hostess.

Russell Pack, 2042 Eakin-rd, is in Mt. Carmel Hospital where he underwent an appendectomy Monday morning.

Shut-Ins Help Themselves and Others Through Unique Group — 'Courage, Inc.'

FOUNDER OF COURAGE, INC., MRS. RUTH McDONALD, 2497 Steele-av, receives a check for $50 from Ed Witherspoon, president of the Hilltop Business Association. The HBA last week voted to give this group the money to buy TV sets for handicapped shut-ins. Although the organization has no officers, Mrs. McDonald handles the funds.

By Esther Weakley

Courage, Incorporated, is a fast-growing organization comprised of local shutins who want to help others who are physically-handicapped, and perhaps a dozen able-bodied men and women who supervise the activities of the group. It all started three years ago when Dr. Floyd Faust, pastor of Broad Street Church of Christ, asked two members of his congregation to visit some shutins. These ladies, Mrs. B. A. Sanford and Mrs. Carl Frost, were distressed by the loneliness of these shutins and decided to do something about it. A small group of them were invited to a Christmas party at the church; through the medium of the telephone, they were introduced to other shutins.

Later, picnics, shows and other affairs were planned for their entertainment, transportation for the bedfast being furnished by William F. Feil, one of the founders of the group. As the number of shutins attending the functions increased other funeral directors offered their services, among them Jerry Spears of the Hilltop. Monthly parties are now being held in the IOOF Hall on Goodale-st, the ladies of the Rebekahs acting as hostesses and furnishing refreshments.

From the start, "Courage, Incorporated" has had the cooperation of civic groups, business men, churches, the press and the radio. This week, the Hilltop Business Association presented a check to Mrs. G. W. McDonald, 2497 Steele-av, chairman of the television committee. According to Mrs. McDonald, herself a shutin for more than 20 years, the first TV set was installed last week. It was given to a young man who has been paralyzed many years. Mrs. McDonald has worked hard for "Courage, Incorporated" since its inception but says that without the sympathetic aid of her husband she could not be so active. One outstanding characteristic of the members of this organization is eagerness to give all credit to somebody else and to belittle his own efforts. Other active Hilltop members are Mary Jane Mack of 176 S. Algonquin-av; Mary Ellen Young, 76 N. Harris-av; Mrs. Joseph F. Buehler, 233 S. Eureka-av, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Atkins, 300 S. Harris-av, and Earl Lee of Powhatan-av.

In the words of Gil Sanastine, who is perhaps the best-known Columbus shutin, "Members of 'Courage, Incorporated' help solve one another's problems. They purchase wheel chairs, medical supplies and other necessities for strangers and friends alike. They buy typewriters, wire-recorders, rug-looms and other articles that will help the handicapped earn a living."

The television sets purchased by the group are supplied at cost and serviced free by Barton Williams of the Gustav-Hirsch Co. on W. Broad St. When other things are needed by individual members, they are given instead.

Anyone wishing to contribute to this worthy organization may write to Courage, Incorporated, P. O. Box 1942, Columbus 16, O. Any donation, large or small, will be gratefully received. Quoting Mrs. McDonald: "We do not want to compete with the Community Chest, Red Cross or any of the other established money-raising organizations. We realize what a tremendous strain is being put on the average pocketbook today. The postoffice box will be there the year around, for anyone who feels the urge to assist in our projects."

One of the members interviewed for this story was Jerry Walsh, former Hilltopper who now lives on Cypress-av. Jerry spoke enthusiastically of the generosity of prominent Columbus people. He said that a party for shutins is to be given at Ryan Hall on Summit-st, in April, compliments of Bishop Michael J. Ready, Catholic diocese of Columbus, and that Bishop Ready has offered other aid. Jerry also mentioned the donation of stationery by Jack Thomas, 170 N. Huron-av, and of his confidence of aid for the group from the West Side Board of Trade, which Jerry himself will contact.

During the interview with Mrs. B. A. (Sandy) Sanford, 263 Glenmawr-av, she suggested the stressing of the need for volunteers with cars to convey shutins who do not need ambulance cars, to church, shows and other places. Sandy also gave some information about the above-mentioned Jerry Walsh which he forgot to give. It is that Jerry is furnishing the refreshments and entertainment for the next party. She also mentioned the group's gratitude to William Feil, Jerry Spears, Egan-Ryan and O. R. Woodyard, local funeral directors, the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, the Batelle Institute, who gave minstrel show for shutins, and others. She says that a chapter of "Courage, Incorporated" is being founded in Glendale, Cal., by a former Columbus woman.

"Courage, Incorporated" now has approximately 175 members and is still growing. Its affairs are carried on in a quiet, dignified manner. It is not denominational; there is no discrimination against any color or creed. The story of "Courage, Incorporated" is not one story. There are as many stories as there are members, each a story of courage and hope and the desire to help. Gil Sonastine is credited with naming this organization, and he has named it well.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Cubs of Den 2, Pack 86, recently celebrated the birthday anniversaries of all cubs who had birthdays during the month of March. A large decorated cake was served by their den mother, Mrs. Charles Meddles.

A Webelo Badge was presented to Donald Renner by the chief of the den, Bernerd Ranney, and the Webelo candle was lighted. This was also a farewell to Donald, who will graduate at the pack meeting Mar. 23 at John Burroughs School. Bob De Witt will also graduate at this time.

Several members of the den took part in a safety program Saturday morning at WOSU.

Den 2 will sponsor a rummage sale this month. The receipts from this sale will be used to furnish new suits for the cubs' Spike Jones Band.

Nation May Set Record In Good Health in '50

Public Health Service's Chief Highly Optimistic

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—On the health front, the state of the Union continues to be the best in its history.

Although it is difficult to measure, with complete precision, the relative "goodness" or "badness" of a year, Uncle Sam's surgeon general, Dr Leonard A Scheele, declares: "If the trends in medical science and care during recent years continue, there is every reason to believe that the nation's health, in general, should be the best during 1950 that it has ever been."

Dr Leonard A. Scheele

The surgeon general, who heads the United States Public Health Service, continues:

"There are two yardsticks by which health can be measured the death rate and the morbidity, or illness rate The data on the latter are often not too reliable, chiefly because of the ineffectiveness of the reporting methods

"However, it is a measurement that can be useful in spotting broad trends By both of these measurements, 1949 was a good health year We have hopes that 1950 will be even better"

Dr Scheele pointed out that during the past year substantial progress continued in the sharp acceleration of United States health that has characterized the past two or three generations That the trend has been accelerated is apparent from such statistical measures as life expectancy, which was 45 years in 1885 Today it is 67 years.

The dramatic march of science in prolonging the life of the average American is revealed in Public Health Service records comparing the causes of death in the United States in 1900 and again in 1948 During 1900, the first six causes of death were pneumonia and influenza, tuberculosis, diarrhea and enteritis, heart diseases, senility and ill-defined causes and cerebral hemorrhage.

By contrast, the first six causes of death in 1948 were heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis, accidents (excluding motor vehicles), pneumonia and influenza

The new low of 31.8 deaths per 1,000 live births in 1948, as compared with 100 of every 1,000 in 1915, is expected to be equaled, if not surpassed, in 1949 and 1950 The same applies to maternal mortality, which was 1.1 per 1,000 live births in 1948, as against four in 1940

Nearly 3.7 million babies were born in 1948, which was next to the largest American year, and statisticians estimate that the number was about the same in 1949

Although the nation's over-all health card for 1949 has not yet been completed, officials report that during the past year the conquering march against sickness and disease has not slackened It is in this and other statistical measures that the optimistic hope for 1950 as a peak health year has its solid foundation

America's vast army of doctors, nurses and other guardians of the peoples' health would be the last to claim full credit for this happy forecast The American people themselves have been quick to take advantage of scientific information offered them by their personal physicians and by their own social agencies and their government for erecting their own defenses against illness

Lessons in diet, exercise and other day-to-day aspects of the life of the average American have been broadcast from one end of the country to the other in a way that must confound those who condemn "American imperialism" for its "suppression" of the common man.

Since medicine is perhaps the most democratic of all the sciences, the goals of its research during the past year continued to be "the greatest benefit to the great number" For example, Drs Philip Hench and Edward Kendall of the Mayo clinic announced the results of their tests with cortisone (Compound E) and ACTH (adrenocortico tropic hormone) in the battle against rheumatoid disease, from which more than seven million people in the United States suffer

Research Gains In Last Year

With American science and the American people entering upon the new year in a spirit of full co-operation it is not difficult to understand why Uncle Sam's statisticians predict new relief for these and many other sufferers from sickness and disease during 1950—and a higher level of health for us all.

If their present color doesn't match your teen-age daughter's skirt, wool or nylon sweaters can be dyed. All-purpose dye will change them to a harmonizing color. If a pastel shade is preferred, use the new color remover, then tint the sweater any color desired.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

You should've seen MRS. WALTER ZIMMER'S face light up this week when she received her give dollars from the Dispatch. Since she missed only two pictures in the contest, and being the only winner among us, we think she deserves a BRAVO!

Now we have a school teacher among us, MR. RENTSCHLER! I hear he's good at mathematics. Do you suppose he'd have been good at helping us with our income tax figures?

A tree took a BOW to SPEEDY PAGE Tuesday around midnight. As he was waiting for a bus on Mound-st the wind was blowing hard, and SPEEDY was doing his best holding his hat on, when a BOUGH from a tree brushed his shoulder. He swung on his heel expecting to face a masked man. But nope! just a branch. Whew, what a relief!

One hundred dollars reward for the capture of NELL HARRISON — last seen entering her home on Wrexham! NELL didn't examine her parcels for an hour after she came home from downtown shopping. To her surprise she saw she had an extra package of two pairs of hose. This is how it happened, she thinks:

In paying for her own stockings she placed her package on the counter to open her purse; then as she picked them up, these extra must have been lying there.

Anyway, she's returned them, so let's call off the FBI. Wasn't she honest? Or was it maybe because they weren't her size, anyway?

Glad to see LEE MASTBAUM back in our Columbus again. Wonder if she walked the sidewalks of New York like she does in our neighborhood? Walking is good exercise and she's a good example of perfect health.

Pull your fenders in, folks! JOE ROBINE'S learning to drive. Yep, that was him the other day blowing his horn and not a person in his way. Truth about it was the horn stuck. Ain't that embarrassin'? I remember on two separate occasions last summer when the neighbors' car horns stuck in the middle of the night. Woke everyone up except the owners themselves. It was funny—one owner had to be called on the phone before the noise pierced his ears.

Well, the Pot of Gold has probably called most of you folks by now. My wife bought one of those premium books and you know she thinks she really won something. Maybe she's right. (She probably thinks she's won my heart over again, getting me to take her places with those coupons, not realizing it's costing me money.)

ED GRIGSBY is back in circulation again. He broke his heel when he fell off a stepladder. He doesn't limp any more. ED got rid of HIS, but the poor stepladder looks a little LIMP after a busted rung. He always WAS going to fix it when he noticed the crack, but he waited a little too long.

Everybody polishing your clothes on washday? Oh! MARY WHALEN picked up the bottle of furniture polish instead of her bleaching liquid. She found her mistake as she started measuring it out. Her heart skipped a couple beats. Wouldn't BOB'S shirt sleeves shine like the arm of the chair, though?

Why does a chicken cross the road? For the same reason people do. Why does a chicken get killed before it gets to the other side? Because it doesn't know how to be careful. People do know how to be careful — but the Safety Council records show that many of them fail to get to the other side of the road or artset. You don't have to be chicken-hearted to walk safely. Just don't be chicken-headed!

It may be of interest to Dale Larson's friends to know that he is among the selected number of students from the Columbus Boy Choir School, (Dale formerly lived at 274 Maple-dr) to tour the East in the motor school room by day, and at night take care of their engagements.

Mrs. Stanley Nash, Worthington, spent Friday visiting at the home of Mrs. Alva McFarland, 347 Pasadena-av.

Mr. and Mrs. Betts, 5104 W. Broad-st, are making an indefinite visit with their daughter who lives in California.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Barnecut, Maple-dr, attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, Oliver Wells, Gallipolis, Mar. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Craigie, Detroit, spent the week-end visiting at the home of their son, George T. English, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Pyle, 120 Maple-dr, spent Sunday afternoon in Springfield, visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pyle and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Pyle announce the marriage of his brother, Mr. Roland Pyle, who has been living at the Pyle home, to Miss Martha Yowler, Springfield. They were married in Richmond, Ind., Saturday. He will be a graduate from Barber College in July. The bride wore blue taffeta with pink accessories. They will be at home temporarily at the Pyle residence.

Mrs. Roscoe Pyle, mother of Mr. Verlyn Pyle, is spending this week with her son, and family.

Twenty members of the Monitors, young married class of Columbia Heights Methodist Church, met in the church basement for their regular meeting. Rev. Elwood Rose and Mr. Kent Richey were responsible for the picture film that was shown, "Human Re-Production." Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wallace were hosts for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Barnecut, Maple-dr, spent Friday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Earl Knisely, Kenbrook-dr.

M. S. Kuhen, 49 Pasadena-av, who has been working in Muncie, Ind., is at home now with a broken leg, due to a fall on the icy pavements. He is making good progress.

Sgt. Eddie Wells, Nassau, Bahama Island, who spent several years in service in Japan, is now spending a month's furlough at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Burns, 167 Pasadena-av, the guest of their daughter, Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Burns and family, New Haven, spent Sunday with his brother, the Allen Burns family.

Mrs. I. A. Thompson, 31 Lawrence-av, entertained several ladies at bridge, Friday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. Henry Warner, Mrs. Allen Burns, Mrs. Ed Deitrick, Mrs. James Whalen, Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, Mrs. Daniel Brown, Mrs. George T. English and the hostess who served delicious refreshments.

Miss Priscilla Warner, Pasadena-av, was bridesmaid and Mrs. A. B. Sampson (formerly LaDonna Coulter) was matron-of-honor for the Huffman-Weber wedding that took place in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Sunday evening.

Railroad right of way which point is South 86 degrees, 30 minutes, West a distance of 286.0 feet from an iron pin in the West line of Harue Avenue, and in the North line of said P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad right of way; said point being also the southwest corner of a tract heretofore conveyed by said Emmet E. Tom, et al., to the Hilltop Supply Company by deed as recorded in D. B. 754, page 103, Recorder's Office, Franklin County, Ohio; thence from said point of beginning north 01 degrees, 31 minutes, East a distance of 214.60 feet to an iron pin; thence North 86 degrees, 30 minutes, East a distance of 406.80 feet to a point in the center line of Harue Avenue (passing an iron pin at 386.80 feet); thence North 03 degrees, 29 minutes, West along the center line of Harue Avenue a distance of 167.04 feet to a point; thence South 87 degrees, 10 minutes west a distance of 726.00 feet (passing an iron pin at 20.00 feet) to an iron pin on the East line of 20.080 acres tract; thence along the East line of said 20.080 acre tract, South 23 degrees, 28 minutes, East a distance of 72.08 feet to an iron pin; being also the southeast corner of said 20.080 acre tract, and on the North right of way line of aforementioned railroad; thence North 86 degrees, 30 minutes, East along the North right of way line a distance of 286.20 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1.225 acres, subject to all legal highways; that defendants may claim an interest in said premises adverse to plaintiff's right; that said claims constitute a cloud on plaintiff's title; and that, therefore, plaintiff prays that the defendants be compelled to set forth the nature of their claim; that said claim be declared to be null and void; that the defendants be forever enjoined from asserting any claim against the premises; that the Court determine that plaintiff is the true and lawful owner of said premises and that plaintiff's title be quieted against the claims of any and all defendants, and for such other relief as is proper.

Said defendants are further notified that they are required to answer said petition on or before the 1st day of April, 1950, or judgment may be rendered as prayed for therein.

Glenwood Youth To Present Play 'Spring is Here'

Tuesday evening, Mar. 28, the Senior Youth Fellowship of Glenwood Methodist Church will present a timely play, "Spring is Here", by James Reach. It will be given in Motter Hall at 8:15.

This comedy has been called "warm as a day in spring." The action of the entire play takes place in the living room of a sorority house and the time is the junior prom.

In the cast are Marcia Brady, Charlotte Cranston, Gloria Brockington, Nancy Kimes, Dawn Dennison, Dolores Shrum, Martha Brown, Nellie Jane Evans, Kenny Evans, George Brown, Dick Brenner, LeRoy Wise and Barbara Loechler.

Annis Turner is the director of the play. Mr. and Mrs. James Van Nostrand are the business managers.

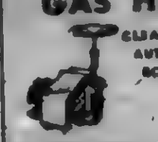
Church Suffers, but is Triumphant

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Matthew 21:1-16; I Peter 2:1-10; Revelation 7:9-17.

By Alfred J. Buescher

When Jesus and His apostles were near Jerusalem, Jesus sent two disciples to Bethphage, saying that they would find an ass and her colt; they were to bring the animals to Him, telling anyone who asked that the Lord had need of them.



The disciples put their clothes on the ass and seated Jesus on her, and multitudes spread their garments in the way, and many went before, crying, Hosanna to the Son of David; blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord.

The next day, in Jerusalem, Jesus went into the temple and cast out the money changers, rebuking them, saying they were making the holy place a den of thieves. And the lame and the blind came to Him and He healed them.

The chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things Jesus did, and were "sore displeased." They objected to children crying Hosanna; Jesus said, "Have ye never read out of the mouth of babes thou hast perfected praise?"

Gospel Singer Featured At Sullivant-av Friends Church

Dale Beery, gospel singer, will be featured at the 6:30 p. m. Sunday evening service of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Sullivant Avenue Friends Church, Sullivant-av, at Guilford.

Dale is opening revival services later Sunday evening at the Family Altar League at E. Richst at Sixth. He will speak for a few minutes and sing several musical selections at the Sullivant-av meeting before leaving for his downtown service.

This is the second in a series of special programs being presented by the Sullivant Avenue Christian Endeavor. Last week's service featured Jimmie Ouga, Japanese gospel singer now attending Capital University, and Fylena Beard, pastor of the Third Street Mission. The attendance was over seventy at this young people's service.

This large attendance is especially significant since this society has grown in attendance from an average of 10 or 12 during 1949 to this group of over 70 last Sunday. Capable leadership and eager young people with fast moving young people's services and many outside activities form the basis of this group. And the formula seems to be successful.

New ideas and new members are needed, says the group. They are inviting everyone to attend this special 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. service next Sunday and share in their Christian fellowship.

Rev. Joseph Denton Continues Revival At Comm. Church

Rev. Joseph Denton, former English Army officer, is closing a 12-day revival meeting with services each night at 7:30 in the Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av. Rev. Denton spent 12 years in the British Army. Four and a half years were spent in France, three and a half years on the borders of India and Afghanistan.

At one time he was orderly to the Prince of Wales, who is now Duke of Windsor. Rev. J. L. Dean, the pastor, invites the public to these services.

Christ of Masters To Be Shown At Westgate Methodist

On Sunday night at 7 o'clock at the Westgate Methodist Church, Rev. C. B. Harrison, pastor of the North Methodist Church of this city, will present a slide lecture. This program will include 54 of the best known painters' productions of all phases of the life of Christ.

These masterpieces will be reproduced in color and something of their history and background will be presented by Rev. Harrison.

This program marks the last of a series of four Sunday night Lenten meetings.

TO TAKE INDIA OFFERING

A special offering will be taken Saturday, Mar. 18, at the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church Sabbath School to help build a hospital in Karachi, the capital of the new Pakistan Dominion in India and a printing press in Chuharkana in the same field. These two cities are in the West Pakistan Union Mission, the most newly organized union in the southern Asia division with a population of 90,000,000.

Six Hilltoppers To Attend Ohio Adventist Meet

Six Hilltoppers are among the more than 1500 representatives of Seventh Day Adventist churches expected to attend the 12th biennial constituency meeting of the Ohio Conference of Seventh Day Adventists Mar. 28 at Memorial Hall. They are Charles Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil N. Brown, L. A. Holobaugh, Ruth A. Michaelis and J. B. Reichenbach.

The meeting is called for the election of officers and trustees and for the transaction of other business of the conference. A meeting of the Mount Vernon Academy Corporation also will be held at the Eastwood Church at 10 a. m. Sunday, Mar. 26.

The Sabbath services held at Memorial Hall Saturday, Mar. 25, will start with Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m. under the direction of Elder G. W. Liscombe, the leader of all the Sabbath Schools in Ohio.

Elder A. V. Olson, vice-president of the General Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists in Washington, D. C., will address the conference at 11 o'clock.

Elder D. A. Ochs, Washington, D. C., president of the Columbia Union, consisting of Ohio and six other eastern states, will speak at the 7 p. m. service followed by an ordination service in which five pastors will be ordained to the ministry in Ohio. Elder W. M. Robbins, president of the Ohio Conference, will give the report for the biennial period.

The business sessions will convene at the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church at the close of the vesper service at sundown on Saturday night and on Sunday, Mar. 26.

Christian Scientist To Speak Here Tues.

Ralph Castle, C. S., of San Francisco, Calif., member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will lecture on "Christian Science: Its Reinstatement of Primitive Christianity and Spiritual Healing", at Memorial Hall Tuesday, Mar. 28, 8:15 p. m.

The lecturer will review the Christian teachings and show how, through the study of Christian Science, His teachings may be applied in our daily lives. He will discuss Christian Science treatment, or healing through understanding prayer, and relate instances of spiritual healing through prayer alone. All are welcome.

Galloway

Mrs. Tom Baker and daughter of Westerville spent a few days last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wilson.

Mrs. John Cockrun spent a few days with relatives at Troy, O.

Miss Virginia Ramey, Ralph Perdew and Joy Wright spent Sunday evening with Miss Delores Miller of Columbus.

Mrs. Rodger Geller and daughter Marlene of Springfield spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wright.

STARS OF THE ST. ALOYSIUS SCHOOL PLAY, "Queen by the Grace of God", are, left to right, Betty Schlegel, 65 S. Burgess-av, who plays Lady Lorraine; Judy McAndrews, 1936 Fairmont-st, Lady Olivia; and Sharon Close, 116 N. Oakley-av, Lady Beatrice. The play will be presented Sunday, Mar. 26, at 3:30 p. m., in the West High School auditorium. It will be given in honor of the pastor's silver jubilee. Mrs. Ruby Kaiser is director, and Mary Ann Gilliven is in charge of dancing.

Maennerchor To Sing In Third 'Hilltopix' Program

One of Columbus' outstanding musical organizations, the Columbus Maennerchor, will be featured in the next "Hilltopix" program at the Westgate Methodist Church Tuesday.

The choral group has been in existence more than 100 years and has participated in national saengerfests with other German-American singing societies since [illegible].

The director of the Maennerchor is Prof. I. A. Leinheuser,

Holzapfel

Leinheuser

and the president is Andy Holzapfel.

Tuesday's program will be the third of a series of four educational and entertaining programs sponsored by the Westgate Methodist Church. The program will start promptly at 8 p. m.

Those who do not have tickets for the entire series may purchase advance tickets at Seiller's Dept. Store, Lauer Cleaners or the Westgate Pharmacy. Tickets will also be sold at the door on the night of the program.

Men's Banquet To Be Held Thursday

The Hilltop Ministerial-Kiwanis-Laymen banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 at the Hillcrest Baptist Church. The Columbus Girlchoir will give a concert and a layman from the Hilltop will give the address.

The Girlchoir is sponsored by the Broad Street Presbyterian Church under the direction of Richard Johnston.

'King of Kings' To Be Shown At Westgate Church

The famous "King of Kings" religious film will be shown at the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday night, Apr. 2, at 7:30.

The Franklin Council of Churches is sponsoring the showing of this film at the Westgate Church. There will be no admission but an offering will be received at the service for the cost of rental of film. All are invited to see this picture.

Survey Shows Class Officers College Bound

By Myron T. Seifert

Newly elected officers of the Jan. 1951 senior class, all 17 years of age, have aspirations to attend college upon graduation from West High School, a survey disclosed this week.

College-bound are President Paul Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Thompson, 220 Oakley-ave, who will attend Miami University; Joe Petitti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Petitti, 2583 Sullivant-av, who has designs upon a course in college of commerce, Ohio State University; Secretary Judy Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith H. Brock, who will enroll in social administration at Ohio State, and in charge of the purse strings is Treasurer Dolores Shrum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Shrum, 92 N. Haldy-av, who plans a secretarial career and will probably enroll at a local business college.

Four Keys

What is the true key to happiness? For hundreds of years, men have pondered the answer.

Long ago, in Greece, a kindly man named Socrates was certain that the answer lay in two words:—Know thyself.

Socrates believed that knowledge was the key to happiness. Yet even the most educated men and women do not have the complete peace of mind that happiness should bring.

Amidst the decay of the Roman Empire, the great Marcus Aurelius wrote this answer:—Master Thyself.

Self-discipline—a valuable quality, but not the complete key.

Millions of us were involved in a mighty war because another man, Friedrich Nietzsche, gave the German people this formula:—Elevate thyself. Of the methods of that formula, democratic peoples want no part.

The fourth and final key is here in your own community. Every Sunday, your church tells you how it may be used. Those who have turned that key have found that it opens a new world of soul-satisfying, real, abiding happiness.

Two short words. Perhaps you have guessed them by now. They constitute the real key to happiness.

Two words:—Give thyself.

...and whose trusteth in the Lord, happy is he. Pr. 16:20

On The Record

By Harry Frankos

Now Is Time To Start School Building Program

A simple bit of arithmetic would show those responsible for teaching the three R's to Columbus children that there will be an overcrowding in the schools within a few years much greater than we have today.

That is, there will be an overcrowding unless we embark on some sort of a building plan soon. In 1944 there were 5,789 babies born in Columbus. This was the first of the crop of war babies that are entering the schools now. The birth rate shows a steady increase through the war years, reaching a peak soon after the war in 1947. There were 9,282 babies born here that year. In the following two years the figure has stayed right around the 9,000 mark.

Not allowing for any children moving in from outside areas, this means that there will be a one-third increase in enrollment in the public schools by 1952.

The residents of High Ridge, sparked by the High Ridge Civic Association, have been campaigning for a number of months for a new school for their area. In what are called "temporary" buildings, 141 children of that area attend school. These wooden structures, more than 20 years old, are hardly a suitable place for children to be taught. Many parents send their children to John Burroughs School rather than to the West Mound Street School, even though the latter is closer.

John Burroughs too is overcrowded, drawing students from a lot of the Hilltop area and from Westgate.

We know the situation today, we know how it will be in a few years. We cannot afford not to do something to remedy the crowded conditions in the Hilltop schools.

Says Stray Dogs Frighten Children On S. Roys Ave.

A Hilltop woman said last week that three stray dogs that have lived in a field near her home since December have not been picked up in spite of numerous complaints to the Humane Society.

Mrs. William Kuhn, 836 S. Roys-av, says that the dogs have been living in a field south of her home, subsisting on rabbits they kill and out of garbage cans.

No one has been reported bitten by the dogs, but Mrs. Kuhn said they frighten the neighborhood children and that they chased her son, Donald, 8, on his way to school one morning last week.

Mrs. Kuhn said that officers of the Humane Society have been out and called the dogs, but that the dogs have run away from them. Nothing further has been done toward capturing the dogs, she added.

Record Story Brings Donation Of Wheelchair

Courage, Inc., an organization of 150 Columbus handicapped persons and shut-ins, last week got quick results on its request through the Record for a wheelchair for an invalid who was unable to pay the full price for one.

The story making the request appeared in last Tuesday's paper. On Wednesday, Mrs. Ruth McDonald, 2497 Steele-av, reports, Ome Smith, school teacher and former Hilltopper, donated a wheelchair to the group.

Cunningham Hits Red Tape In County Vets' Memorial

"Cut the red tape around the building of the Franklin County Veterans' Memorial Hall." This point headed the program of Harold F. Cunningham, 4744 Fisherrd, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, issued today.

Cunningham pointed out that he had three sons in the service during World War II and he feels that the many long drawn out delays in the building of the Memorial Hall could be eliminated and "the building should be constructed and put into use before these boys are so old they won't be able to enjoy it. The people of Franklin County voted their approval of this building program and they are entitled to more action than has been evident."

Cunningham, addressing a group of Cunningham for Commissioner workers on the Hilltop Wednesday night, included these additional points in his program:

1. Devote full time to the job of commissioner and be available to the public at all times.
2. Set up a microfilming service in the court house and put all county records on microfilm, thus saving a great amount of valuable court house space plus providing far greater safety for all public records in the court house.
3. A closer coordination of relief administration between the city and county to do the most good for the greatest number of people.
4. Provide better representation for the rural and township areas in the commissioner's office.
5. Development of county recreational facilities.

Hilltop Man Is Highest In State Bar Examination

A Hilltop applicant in the February bar examinations ranked highest with a grade of 90.5 it was announced Monday by Seba H. Miller, clerk of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The top honors went to Curtis Stanley Taylor, Jr., 465 Binns-blvd.

Taylor, 24, was graduated from Ohio State University's law school last March. He is a native of Columbus and was graduated from West High School with scholastic honors, being a member of the National Honorary Society.

He is an Air Corps veteran of World War II and is married.

A total of 357 applicants, or 53.2 per cent, passed the examinations. The successful applicants will be sworn in by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court, in the supreme court chambers, Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Three West Art Students Win Prizes In Contest

By Myron T. Seifert

West High art students fared well when laurels were passed out at the annual city-wide art poster contest held last week at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

Jack Six, 592 Crescent-dr., and Forest Evans, 50 Whitethorne-av, rated second spot among exhibitors, receiving $5 premiums for their efforts. Roger Schumann, 683 Wiltshire-rd, garnered third position winning $3.

Richard Teichert if West Senior High art instructor.

Osteopaths Elect Dr. Paul Keckley

Dr. Paul J. Keckley, 2537 Sullivant-av, was elected president of the Columbus District Academy of Osteopathic Medicine at the group's meeting Thursday night at the Neil House.

Dr. W. Duane Burnard, 2528 W. Broad-st, was named a trustee of the group for a three-year term. Dr. Keckley was also named a delegate to the Ohio Osteopathic Association.

Ghenry Ghome Gcoming Gto Gwest Ghigh

On Friday, Mar. 31, at 3:45 p. m. at West High School the Community Junior theatre will have as its guest Ray Evans, Jr., and Ghenry Gnome. Children are familiar with Ray Evans, Jr.'s drawing in the Sunday edition of the Dispatch and those who have not seen Ghenry on television have a happy treat in store.

Ghenry Gnome is probably the oldest man alive, being by his own estimate, somewhere between four and six hundred thousand years old. Consequently, he knows a great deal about what went on in the days before there were human beings in the world. He will tell you how the elephant got his trunk, the giraffe his long neck, and how the lion got his mane and became king of beasts, as well as many other facts about Old Mother Nature's workshop. And while he tells these stories, Ray Evans, Jr., will illustrate them with black and white chalk drawings. Ray also plagues Grenry by teasing him with all sorts of drawing tricks which usually fools the little fellow.

However, Ghenry is a pretty wise old gentleman, being a Doctor of Gnomenclature, which is a very special type of Gnomanslanguage. A recent arrival to the Ghenry Gnome Show is the peekabird, a strange creature which is really Ghenry's conscience, or Other Self. When Ghenry tells a lie or does something bad the peekabird gives him a nip on the nose.

From all reports the Ghenry Gnome Show will be not only an exciting show for the children but also will reveal interesting points on drawing.

Ray's wife, Adele Evans, plays the part of Ghenry Gnome and works the puppet Ghenry. Brock Evans, their 13-year-old son, takes the part of the peekabird and operates that creature in puppet form. Those who do not have tickets may obtain them at the door. Single seats for children are 25c and adults 35c.

Jonas Derrer, Hilltop Dairyman, Dies Saturday

Funeral services for Jonas Derrer, 79, of 117 Derrer-rd, who died Saturday in his home, will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

One of the oldest dairymen in Central Ohio, and one of the oldest Holstein cattle breeders in the United States, Mr. Derrer's cattle had won many awards in national and central states dairy shows.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Maude Derrer; a son, Harold Derrer of the residence, and a sister, Mrs. Nettie Althen of New Rome.

Friends may call at the funeral home. Entombment will be in Wesley Chapel.

Susie's Back Again

Susie Johnson

Hilltop Girl Returns To City In 'Brigadoon'

By Myron T. Seifert

When theatrical star Susie Johnson, 22, comes home again on Thursday morning, Mar. 30, to appear at the Hartman Theater for a three-day run as leading comedienne with the Brigadoon troupe, she will also return to her first love, West High School, where she is scheduled to make a surprise appearance at the "Gay Ninety" benefit All Girls' Show to be presented on that morning at the Powell-av school. Susie graduated in the class of 1945 at West High. While a student she participated in a variety of activities.

The school yearbook, The Occident, credits these activities to Miss Johnson: French Club 2, 3; Girl Reserves 1, 2, 3; Photoplay 2, 3; Variety Show 1, 2, 3; Bowling 1; Winter Festival; Red-Hot-Blue; Marching Along; Frolics of Gay 90's; Say It With Music; Senior Social Committee; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Choir 1, 2, 3; Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Office Monitor 1; Occident Business Staff 3; Annual Bus. Ad. 3; Senior Class Play.

Since leaving West High Susie's rise in the theatrical and musical world has been meteoric.

For almost two years now Susie has been with the Brigadoon Company, traveling from coast to coast, and in Canada.

Her outstanding and phenomenal spot in the comedienne role with Brigadoon has been acclaimed [illegible] country.

The road to success, not an easy one of course, has been achieved by Susie by much hard work and application. In addition to her regular work with the musical company, she continues to study voice, and two hours each week are devoted to learning more about modern dancing.

Playing in Dayton Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, her appearance at both West High and the Hartman the following day gives the reader an idea of the close schedule of Susie's routine.

Since the advent of television her telegenic personality is constantly in great demand. She will be seen over one of the local channels during her visit here.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Johnson, 2422½ W. Broad-st.

WIND DAMAGES PROPERTY

Property damage was reported from various sections of the Hilltop Monday as winds reached a velocity of 44 miles per hour. Tree limbs obstructed traffic on N. Southampton-av in the Joan Heights addition, and a gate and two brick pillars were blown down at the rear of 2493 W. Broad-st.

West Trackmen Open Season With Worthington Here

By Dave Miller

West High's tracksters will have their hands full when they engage in their first meet this afternoon, facing one of the strongest teams in the Central District in Worthington.

The Les Eisenhart-coached North Enders are out to defend their county, district, and Ohio University relay championships, and they will pick on Coach Rufe Glass' West Siders for their trial this afternoon at Magly Field at 4 p. m., weather permitting.

West, always a dark horse in the spring sport of track (but hardly a champion as long as Central runs) will field a group of 10 returning lettermen. Because of the terrible weather conditions all throughout the recent month, the local tracksters have been able to go outdoors only three or four times. However, Coach Glass has had his prospects working out in the school gym in order to limber up for the coming track schedule, which also has East on the agenda this Friday afternoon.

The 10 returning monogram men for West in whom Glass will place a lot of faith, will be Bob Epps, Claire Ashton, Carmine DeMatteo, Ronnie James, Jack Leubering, Dick Pendell, Ronnie Coup, Dave Cockfield, Joe Janes and Frank Carson. Also working out with the 40-man track team are nine reserve letter winners from 1949.

Glass figures to be strongest in the distance events and the pole-vault, with Bob Epps in the latter and Ronnie Coup, Dick Pendell, Jack Leubring, Cliff Everett, Jerry Witherspoon and Wilbur Werling good distance men. However, Glass' big worry is in the sprints where he lost the services of Don Eitle, one of the best in Ohio in 1948 and '49, plus John Benedetto and Bob Cochran in addition to distance man Bill VanAtta and quartermiler Gregory Burke.

Lettermen back for Worthington will be such stars as Andy Anderson, Mike Freeman, Jack Herritt, Jim Triplett, Jack Woods and Ed Vollrath. Also, Worthington coach, Les Eisenhart, has Jim Browning, Leon McCulloh, Marlin Stewart, Andy Spieker, Bill Bell, Buddy Butler, Don Crow, Chuck McKnight and Don Beike. Probably before this afternoon's meet is over, West will be hearing a lot of the aforementioned boys, most all being stars last season, and back again for services in 1950.

Here is the remainder of the West track schedule:

Mar. 31—East.
Apr. 8—At Linden.
Apr. 11—South.
Apr. 18—At Central.
Apr. 22—Huntington, W. Va. Relays.
Apr. 28—Marion Harding.
Apr. 29—Ohio Wesleyan Relays (Delaware).
May 2—Chillicothe.
May 6—Newark Relays (Newark).
May 12—North.
May 16-17—City Meet (OSU).
May 20—District Meet (Delaware).
May 27—State Meet (OSU).

Robert Burnett On Active Duty In San Diego

Robert E. Burnett

Robert E. Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Burnett, 441 Helen-st, is on active duty with the navy at San Diego, Cal. He recently informed his parents that he has completed his basic training and soon expects to be assigned to a service school.

Robert, a graduate of West High School in 1949, enlisted in the regular navy on Jan. 27, 1950. Prior to his enlistment he was a seaman in the naval reserve. While in high school Robert was a Sea Scout for two years.

His parents received word last week that Robert expects to be assigned to one of four navy schools. The schools are electricians; inter-communications; radar electricians or submarine. He has passed his qualifying test for submarine duty.

Robert's parents were proud to hear that he had been made a battalion chief and that he had qualified in rifle marksmanship with the highest score of any man in the training group.

Lt. Comdr. Bernard C. Miller, 575 Whitethorne-av, of the Veterans Training Division of the State Department of Education, was Robert's division commander when he was in the Naval Reserve.

Kiwanians To See Gardening Movie

The first few days of springlike weather in March or April usually start most people to thinking about a back yard garden.

Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club will get some first-hand information on how to make that garden a success, whether they want flowers for beauty or vegetables for the family larder. A color film on the proper care of plants will be shown at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting Thursday by the Ferry Morse Seed Co.

West High Girls To Aid In Annual Easter Lily Sale

By Myron T. Seifert

Saturday morning more than 100 West Senior High Y-Teen girls along with others in the city will arise at the "crack of dawn", and go to the Variety Club downtown before 5 a. m., eat an early breakfast there, and receive an appointment at some downtown location, where the girls will take part in the annual Lily Parade sale of flowers for the Charter Brace of the Franklin Co. Society for Crippled Children.

The Charter Brace sponsors the street sale of lilies as a feature of the society's annual drive for funds.

All proceeds of the sale are given to the Society for Crippled Children whose aim is the support and maintenance of the Cerebral Palsy Center for Handicapped Children at 620 E. Town-st.

On the day of the sale each year, Charter Brace members arrive at the Variety Club at 5 a. m. to cook and serve breakfast and later, luncheon for the young saleswomen. By 7 a. m., with identification arm bands, the high school girls will be stationed on all corners downtown and in near residential areas with Easter baskets full of paper lilies and with coin boxes for contributions.

After the volunteer sales ladies have been served luncheon, door prizes, given by philanthropic persons and organizations will be distributed to them by Charter Brace members.

Wesley Fesler, head football coach of Ohio State University, is chairman of the entire 1950 campaign of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children, all proceeds of which are used to carry on the society's work among the handicapped youngsters of our community.

THE RED CROSS DRIVE for the Valley-Hilltop-Westgate area ended last week with the section passing its goal. Mrs. Harold Kay (right, above) is shown reporting for the Valley area. Mrs. Kay, 91 Schultz-av, was vice chairman of this district. Also shown are Mrs. James Carlile, Jr., of the North Mideast territory, and Norman E. Gatsch, campaign chairman. 'Teach Christianity' Sensenbrenner Tells Hilltop Ministers At Banquet

As the speaker at the first Hilltop Ministerial-Kiwanis-Laymen banquet Thursday evening at the Hillcrest Baptist Church, M. E. Sensenbrenner said that "No group rises higher than its leadership," in urging Hilltop ministers to teach forcefully the tenets of Christianity.

In expressing the idea that all men of the community, clergy, and laity alike, had the responsibility of bettering the community he said, "If you don't lift the level of the age you live in, you are worth nothing." The theme of Sensenbrenner's speech was "We Are Laborers Together With God."

Sensenbrenner told the more than 200 men present that the most effective way to combat the current wave of juvenile delinquency is to get the mothers and fathers into churches.

Representatives of various Hilltop civic organizations attended the banquet with the following being seated at the speaker's table: George Schaaf, president Hilltop Lions Club; Russell Carter, president Hilltop Community Council; Ed Witherspoon, president Hilltop Business Association; Rev. Norman Schreiber, president Hilltop Ministerial Association and toastmaster; Rev. C. A. Lutz, pastor Burgess Avenue EUB Church, delivered the invocation; Phillip Stout, president Hilltop Kiwanis Club; Bob Cramer, Hilltop Kiwanis Club, introduced speaker; Robert Nash, pianist; W. Hayden Jones lead singing.

The entertainment for the program was furnished by the Columbus Girlchoir under the direction of Richard Johnston. The choir sang a number of religious songs and some lighter pieces ending the program with the Waring arrangement of "Comin' Through The Rye" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The final prayer, ending the meeting, was given by Rev. A. L. Roth, pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Burgess Edges Hoge For Junior 'Y' Hoop Crown

In what has been called one of the most thrilling and action packed games played in the Hilltop YMCA Junior Basketball League this past season, Burgess EUB nosed out Hoge Memorial in the final playoffs by the score of 34 to 33. With fans and teammates alike standing and yelling for their respective teams, the two teams fought desperately to maintain the lead until the final whistle blew.

The first quarter was a good indication of things to come as both teams fought to a first quarter score of 11 to 11. Smith, of Burgess, kept his team in the game by scoring four quick buckets to keep pace with the boys from Hoge. Bolg added the other three points.

The first quarter scoring for Hoge was pretty well divided among the first string boys, with J. Delph and Johns getting four each, Proper 2, and Ruffner adding a free throw.

The second quarter was an entirely different story as the boys from Hoge again applied their team scoring talents to score 15 points while holding the Burgess team to 6. The half ended with Hoge on the long end of a 26-17 score. At the time it seemed that the tension was beginning to tell on the play of the Burgess boys. But a half time rest and a pep talk from their coach pulled them together and they came roaring back in the third quarter to score ten points while Hoge was held to four. In the third quarter, Burgess took over Hoge's way of scoring points with the ten points being evenly divided among the starting five. Burgess' fighting surge to get back into the ball game seemed to throw Hoge off stride, as the boys in gold lost the ball time after time because of near misses at the basket and through bad passes and infractions of the rules.

Both teams showed up in the scoring department during the fourth quarter with Hoge scoring three points on Johns' basket and Proper's free throw. Burgess scored seven points in that final and hectic quarter, but it was enough to win out by a one-point margin. Smith, Bolg, Vincent, and J. Thomas again combined their scoring talents to mesh the final seven points.

A quick look at the box score will show that the game was possibly won and lost from the foul line. Hoge had 19 chances at the free throw line and made good on seven of them. Burgess had 12 chances and made good on six.

The starting five of both teams entered the scoring column with Smith of Burgess being high for the game with 13 points. Following closely with 12 points was Harrison of Hoge.

Box score:

Hoge	B	FT	MF	T
J. Delph	3	1	2	8
Ruffner	1	3	2	4
Johns	6	1	0	12
Proper	3	5	2	8
S. Chappelear	0	4	1	1
Total	13	14	7	33

Burgess	B	FT	MF	T
Smith	6	1	1	13
Bolg	4	1	1	9
Harrison	1	1	0	2
Vincent	2	1	3	7
J. Thomas	1	1	1	3
Totals	14	10	6	34

Hoge Beats Highland 50-23 For 'Y' Intermediate Title

In the final playoff game in the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Basketball League held at the John Burroughs School, Hoge Memorial had a seemingly easy time in downing Highland Friends to the tune of 50-23.

The first few minutes of the first quarter saw the game played on even terms, but after Highland had tied the score at 5-5, Hoge scored two quick baskets to take the lead and win the game going away. The first quarter ended with Hoge leading 13 to 7.

With Wolfe leading in the attack, the boys from Hoge continued their scoring ways in the second quarter by adding 14 more points while holding Highland to a single basket. Wolfe garnered nine of his total 14 points during this quarter.

The third quarter was more of the same as Hoge scored another 14 points while holding Highland to one basket and one free throw. This time it was Sensenbrenner who led the scoring attack, swishing the nets for four two-pointers.

Only in the fourth quarter did the boys from Highland start to hit with any regularity, but by then it was too late. They outscored Hoge 11 to 9 with Grable leading his teammates in a futile comeback.

As Hoge was playing one of its best all around games of the season, the boys from Highland just couldn't get started. The proverbial "invisible lid" seemed to be on the basket as time after time the ball rolled in and then out again to be chalked up as only near misses for the lads from Highland Friends. Those continual in-and-out-again shots seemed to shake the confidence of the boys and they never did really get started in playing the brand of ball that carried them into the final playoff game.

Hoge's industrious coach, Ben Lewis, cleared the bench of his reserves early in the second half and eight of the ten players entered the scoring column with two or more points. Wolfe and Sensenbrenner were the high scorers for the evening with 14 and 13 points respectively.

The scoring for Highland was done by the first stringers, with Bond being high with 10 points.

Box score:

Hoge	B	FT	MF	T
Wolfe	4	6	6	14
Cassell	3	0	0	6
Wahrer	3	0	0	6
Sensenbrenner	6	2	1	13
Emrich	2	0	0	4
Lemkuhl	1	1	0	2
Wilson	1	0	0	2
Ringer	1	1	1	3
Total	21	10	8	50

Looking Ahead

with J. W. WORREL

"Look," said an acquaintance of mine the other day, "I'm a firm believer in insurance. I think it's a wonderful idea for people who have their future plans cut and dried and who know just how they are going to be situated this time next year. But how can I choose the type of insurance that I should carry when my plans are all so indefinite? Why should I saddle myself with a policy that may be entirely unsuited to my needs in a year or so?"

"No reason in the world," I retorted, "But how would you feel about a policy which is really four policies in one, with five years allowed for deciding which one suits you best?"

"You can lead me to it," he said. "If there is such a plan I'd like to get in on it while I'm still young and healthy."

The Adjustable Policy IS such a plan. For the first five years the assured is covered for the full face amount of the policy. At the end of this period he can choose a Limited Life Policy, an Endowment Policy, or a Whole Life Policy for a considerably increased amount. He can, if he prefers it, continue the policy on the Whole Life basis for the original face amount but at a much reduced premium. Thus, at no additional cost, and without evidence of health, the assured can limit his period for paying premiums or have the policy mature to his own benefit, increase the amount of insurance or decrease the amount of his premiums.

Could anything be more adaptable? Why not obtain further details of this plan-of-many-purposes? Call me today. You will incur no obligation, and I shall be glad to be of service to you.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

"Hello, Ardith. Where are you headin'?"

"Lo, RED," said MRS. PRINDLE. "Just walking to the bus line. Going downtown."

"Well, hop in. I'm going that way myself," said RED CALLIF as he opened his car door.

Ardith stepped in, slammed the door and off they sped.

"What's new, Ardith?"

"I don't know much. How about yourself? I hear you're finishing your upstairs. Going to be something like SHEA'S. Theirs is pretty snazzy."

"Yep, on that order. I sort of like the way FRANK'S is."

"By the way, I saw a nifty fence over on your street, Ardith. A green one with white top decorations. Whose is that?"

"Oh, you mean SALLER'S? Same kind as EARL COSGROVE'S. That was put up in just a few hours and it certainly looks pretty. They have new neighbors, did you know?"

"No, whom do you mean?"

"DILDINES. CLARK DILDINE and his wife moved in a couple of weeks ago. Soon as we have time, we should drop in on them."

"Whoops! Red light. Almost went through it—which reminds me that you're going to have street lights on Butler-av before summer. I hear they are going to tie city lights wired somehow through the alley. Bet they'll all be glad that the neighborhood won't be so dark any more."

"Goodness yes, Red! It'll be a relief. And speaking of relief, I'll be glad when I get downtown and buy some scuffies for my feet. My shoes are killing me. I want to try to get some like the kind RITA ANDERSON on our street makes.

"She crochets straw soles and silky tops. They're darling. So comfortable looking."

"Say, Ardith, I heard through the grapevine that PAUL MURNANE bought a television set. Is that right?"

"I hadn't heard. What kind?"

"A 12½-inch Philharmonic."

"Good. I'll have to go down to see it. Speaking of new things—did you see PAUL CAMPBELL'S car?"

"No, did he get a new one?"

"Well, almost. It's a '49 Hudson. It's a sharp maroon. Looks brand new."

"I'm going to roll this window down. Kinda warm in here. Like spring today. Gives me the fever to work in the garden. GRACE SPEERS was gathering rocks for her rock garden yesterday. She hopes to have a small fish pond too in her back yard in a couple of months."

"See if a train is coming, Ardith."

"All's clear."

"Seems funny to have Diesels. No more whistles and bells along here. Speaking of bells, the HERB RUMFIELDS telephone rings only for THEM now. They just had their four-party line changed to a two-party last week. That's what we'll all have eventually, I imagine. Much nicer."

"How was MARIE SEELEY'S wedding last week?"

"Very pretty. She wore white satin. All her attendants wore red taffeta dresses."

"Fred's a nice guy. Always liked him."

"RED, where do you get all this news? Are you the instigator of that Hi-Ridge column?"

"Ho. You're not the first person who's accused me of that. Being an insurance man that's not my kind of policy. I'm only interested in INSURANCE POLICY. On the other hand, how about yourself? Your husband BILL, being an air pilot, covers more ground than I do. He could get loads of news for that column."

"Aw, now RED. I wouldn't say we DO or I wouldn't say we DON'T. You know we don't have time for that."

"Anyhow, here's where I get out. Into the store for me. Thanks for the ride."

"So long, Ardith. See you in the Record."

(P.S. Got downtown mighty quick didn't they?)

STALKING

THREE CIRCUS ELEPHANTS that escaped from the Mills Brothers circus in Circleville recently will appear in Columbus Apr. 22 at the W. Mound-st circus grounds.

The elephants run from the building where they were kept during a hay fire in an adjoining structure. They are pictured above soon after they were recaptured. Trainer Frank Noel inspects a cut on the head of "Big Burma," believed to have been caused by a barbed wire fence.

The two elephants on the left, "Jenny" and "Trilby" were with the Ringling Bros. Circus at the time of the tragic fire in Sarasota, Fla.

William H. Olinger Dies Friday

Funeral services for William H. Olinger, 76, of 126 N. Powell-av., who died Friday in his home, were at 10:30 a. m. Monday in the Jerry Spears funeral home.

A retired carpenter and a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. LaVonne Woodruff and Mrs. Jewell Johnson, both of the residence; a son, Hugh Olinger of Akron; three brothers; a sister; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Union Cemetery.

William A. Allen Buys Barok's Floral Shop On Broad St.

William A. Allen, 364 S. Chase-av, head instructor of the Ohio Floral Academy, announced today that he has purchased Barok's Floral Shop, 3220 W. Broad-st, from George Barok, 70 S. Algonquin-av. The transaction was completed last week.

Allen said that the new floral store, to be known as the Blossom Shop, will have its grand opening next Sunday, Apr. 2, from 12 noon to 9 p. m. Flowers will be given to the ladies. Samples of all Easter plants will be on display.

40 Years Experience

The shop will be operated by Allen's wife, Geneve, and Mrs. Fern Green, 625 Salisbury-rd, under the supervision of Allen. Both ladies are graduates of the academy.

Allen has had 40 years' experience in the floral trade. For nine years he worked in the country's largest florist shop in San Francisco. Eleven years were spent in New York City in the business, and Allen spent three years in Hollywood in the flower trade.

The Blossom Shop will specialize in bridal work. The shop will also feature out-of-the-ordinary varieties of orchids. The orchids will come from a private estate off plants imported from England.

The store will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day except Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Laird Succumbs Sunday

Mrs. Margaret Livingston Laird, 81, of 31 S. Warren-av, died Sunday in her home.

Widow of Oscar Laird, she is survived by a son, John C. Livingston, with whom she made her home; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 1 p. m. Tuesday in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home, Rev. George Chambers officiating. Burial will be at York Center, O.

SAVES BEERS HE DOESN'T DRINK

DR. LOUIS CATTALIER exhibits an old bottle of brew no longer made, for which he has refused $800 and will not drink. One of a collection including 295 bottles and 57 cans stored in his office basement, the beer's formula is believed to have been lost many years ago. The Cheyenne, Wyo., physician, who doesn't like the taste of the bubbly brew, explains chemical analysis may reveal his collection to be worth a fortune in formulas. (International)

Gasper Militello Rites Wednesday

Requiem mass will be sung at 9 a. m. Wednesday in Holy Family Catholic Church, Detroit, Mich., for Gasper Militello, 58, who died Sunday at his home, 32 N. Burgess-av.

Mr. Militello, owner of the Militello Macaroni Co., 19 E. Naghten-st, had been ill 18 months. For many years a wholesale grocer in Detroit, he came to Columbus 12 years ago.

Surviving are three sons, Vincent, Peter and Dominic Militello, all of Columbus; a daughter, Nina Militello, Columbus; two grandchildren and two brothers, Salvatore and Sebastiano Militello, both of Detroit.

Mrs. May Ferguson Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. May Elizabeth Ferguson, 78, of 3019 Parkside-rd, who died Saturday in her home, will be at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Trettlinger funeral home at Quaker Town, Pa. Burial will be there.

A member of Glenwood Methodist church, she is survived by a son, Ralph C. Ferguson, with whom she lived.

Arrangements were completed by the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Home Contract To Westgate Electric

The electrical contract for the new Franklin County Children's Home at Frank and Gantz-rds was awarded Monday to the Westgate Electrical Co., 3060 W. Broad-st, on a low bid of $40,395.

Building commissioners for the new home took the action after the Westgate Co. twice was the low bidder, once Dec. 12 and again Mar. 13, with the same bid. The first bids were discarded after a controversy within the building commission.

We Are Seeking Converts

Any Hilltop parent, any Hilltop citizen, could have been proud of the fact that this community has a YMCA, could they have witnessed the program on the occasion of the 96th annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Columbus and Franklin County last Thursday evening at the metropolitan Y auditorium.

It was not a meeting for the purpose of showing the statistical growth of the organization or of how much money had been raised and spent or even an appeal for funds. It was instead a program showing a wide cross section of many of the various activities of the Y throughout the many branches in the city and county.

There was the scene around the campfire and the youngsters relating their experiences at Camp Alfred Willson. There was the "pals forever" spirit between fathers and sons as depicted by the work of the Y Indian Guides presented by fathers and sons of the Spring Street Y.

The Hilltop could well be proud of the meeting of a typical Gra-Y Club and the report of its activities ranging from the sale of soap to a report on the standings of their basketball teams.

M. D. Hartsook, superintendent of schools at Hilliards, was inducted as an honorary member of the Tri-Hi-Y girls at Hilliards, an activity of the Town and Country Branch in a beautiful candlelight ceremony.

Athletics and the importance of the development of youthful bodies came in for its part in the program in an exhibition by the Boys' Work Branch.

The important place the Y Law School of Franklin University has attained was brought out with the presentation of a certificate of recognition from the American Bar Association, highest attainable recognition such a school can receive.

And a fitting climax to an inspirational evening was by way of the choral numbers by the Boys' Glee Club sponsored by the Optimist Club through the South Side Y. One couldn't help but be proud of being associated with such an organization as this group of 35 boys under their capable lay leadership sang out "That's What America Means To Me."

For two years now the Hilltop has had a branch YMCA. The movement has been growing. More and more young people have become associated with it through various activities that are wholesome and clean, activities that teach responsibility and good citizenship.

Because there is no Y building in the community, because the program is being carried on in loaned facilities through the courtesy of local schools and churches and parks there are many who do not realize the breadth of the Y's influence and the good work that is being carried on. Nevertheless it is growing and it is here to stay and here to provide a worthy needed service in the community to all good citizens.

Those who have the foresight, those who are willing to give of their time, energies and finances, can see ahead to a time when this Y program can be one of the finest influences for good that any community might seek. There is indeed a great opportunity for service to all people and all groups of this community through a strong Hilltop YMCA.

A concerted effort on the part of people who believe in youth can provide the community with a fine community center—not some old building that would suffice in name only, but a fine building specifically planned for this purpose.

In the two year period the Hilltop YMCA has been organized it has received gifts and support for its building fund to the extent of over $4500. This is a mere drop in the bucket but is indeed a start in the right direction. It should be nurtured and should grow, and grow and grow.

In a few weeks the annual membership drive of the Hilltop Y will get under way with a house to house solicitation. The small membership fee being asked goes to supplement the amount received from the Community Chest for operating funds over the 12 month period.

Those who can and care to do so, those who are interested in seeing a fine Hilltop YMCA building available for all groups and organizations should support the drive to the extent of a much larger contribution, a gift to the building fund.

Certainly there are individuals in the community who have acquired far more material wealth than will be needed to support themselves comfortably for the rest of their lives. There are many who have no near relatives who might need to be remembered. In most instances the government will come in for the largest slice of such worldly estates in the form of inheritance taxes. What greater good could they do, what finer gesture could they make to a community that has been good to them, what greater satisfaction could they have than to come forth now while they are still living and say proudly, "I want to share in making the Hilltop a better place in which to live . . . I want to make my life complete by sharing in this worthy project."

This is the third year for the Hilltop YMCA. It can be made the big year. This thing can be like an old time revival. It merely needs the first converts. There are surely many who want this good thing. We must have a great faith in our abilities to make it a realization.

The doors are open. We are asking your support. We are seeking converts. Who will be the first to come forth and allow the community to bestow its flowers on the living?

HBA Takes A Step Ahead In Right Direction

Announcement this week that the Hilltop Business Association has decided to employ a full-time paid secretary is welcome news to most members of the association.

Activities of this group in recent years and the very large membership has entailed a considerable amount of detailed work on individuals who accepted positions on committees, the type of work that should be done by a full-time secretary.

C. H. Campbell as part-time secretary for many years has served the HBA well. But it was too much to expect him to devote more time to the job and continue to operate his own business. He deserves the appreciation of the organization for a fine job.

The association has taken a step in the right direction which will of necessity make this group an even more effective one for good on the Hilltop.

Full-Time Secretary and Permanent Office Approved By HBA Committee

Asks 3-Man Committee To Direct, Coordinate Secretary's Office

A recommendation that a full-time secretary be hired by the Hilltop Business Association and that a permanent HBA office be opened on the Hilltop was approved Tuesday by the executive committee of the HBA.

The committee also proposed that an appointed committee of management be established to direct and coordinate the work of the secretary.

The report issued by the committee stated, "Your committee feels that the Hilltop Business Association has reached a crossroad, and can either go forward or backward. It is the belief of the committee that a well coordinated program is lacking, and that the full services of such an organization due its membership are not being provided, due to the fact that too much detail work is being required, or would be required, of individual members. Therefore it is the recommendation of the committee that a full-time secretary be employed and an office for the association be opened in some convenient location in the community."

The committee making the recommendations was composed of C. C. Hartley, chairman, John Nippert, Sam Alford, Moss Williams and Joe Briggs.

The committee submitted the belief that the following services of the association would be rendered or improved with the hiring of a full-time secretary.

1. Better attendance at meetings.
2. Greatly increased membership.
3. All committees would function.
4. There would be increased interest in all activities.
5. The association would have a greater influence in civic affairs.
6. The burden of committee work would be taken off business people.
7. There could be a stricter enforcement of the advertising code.
8. There could be a wider dissemination of information to the members on what the association is doing, and more members could be influenced to participate in the activities of the association.
9. A well coordinated merchandising program could be carried on.
10. The association office could be used as a clearing house for credit and other information.
11. It would be possible to secure the sales tax agency on the Hilltop, and provide delivery service to all members, in addition to securing revenue from this service.

A plan was also submitted by the committee to raise the revenue to meet the added expense of the secretary and rental of office space. Members of the committee also agreed to take on the responsibility of directing the work of the secretary for the year, or until the recommended committee of management could be appointed.

W. Mound PTA Submits Plan To Combat Crowding

3-Point Plan Presented To School Supt.

The Parent-Teachers Association at the West Mound Street Elementary School has a three-point program that, if enacted, would help alleviate the critical problem that now exists in the Hilltonia and High Ridge areas.

The High Ridge Civic Association also spoke out this week in the person of its president, H. T. Van Ness. The association wants a new school building that would solve the overcrowded conditions in the 20-year-old wooden portable buildings.

In January the improvements committee of the West Mound Street School's PTA took its program to Superintendent of Schools Fawcett, according to Mrs. R. W. Self, 612 Hilltonia-av, president of the group. The three points, presented by Paul Langdon, 545 Nashoba-av, chairman of the committee, are: 1) a new building; 2) if no new building, then an additional portable building; and 3) adequate teachers for the present school.

PTA Made Survey

A survey made by the committee for the PTA showed that births in the school's district had doubled from 1945 to 1947. There were 38 children born in the Hilltonia section in 1945; 50 born in 1946; 70 in 1947, and 60 in 1948. The survey was completed Apr. 1, 1949.

Mrs. Harold Beard, 636 Woodbury-av, president of the PTA when the survey was made, points out that several streets of new homes have been built and occupied by young families with children since the census was taken by her committee.

These facts indicated that enrollment in the West Mound Street School will be 50% greater by 1953, when the youngsters

Advance Sale Of ABC Tickets Opens On Hilltop

American Bowling Congress advance tickets are on sale on the Hilltop. A big drive is being made by the members of the Columbus Bowling Association to promote the advance sale of tickets for the 47th national tournament, in which 30,000 of the country's finest bowlers will participate between Apr. 15 and June 13, for $500,000 in prize money, at the Ohio State Fairground Coliseum.

Since the Columbus Bowling Association shares in the profit from the sale of the tickets everyone who expects to attend this event is urged to secure his tickets at Seiler's Department Store or the Hilltop Recreation at the special price of $6 for 10 general admission tickets that can be used at any time during the tournament.

Paul Leighninger of the CBA executive board pointed out that season tickets are good for any day or night of the tournament until its conclusion June 13, and that the general admission tickets can be exchanged for box seats for an additional 70 cents.

This advance sale "bargain" will be discontinued after Apr. 14 and the regular admission of 80 cents will prevail.

Sexton Wrestles In European Cities

Word came from Paris this week that Frank Sexton, 3251 Parkside-rd, world's wrestling champion, has wrestled in Paris, London, and Bordeau and was scheduled next to appear in Zurich, Switzerland.

Sexton is making a tour of the large cities of Europe.

NAMED TO DEAN'S LIST

Ruth Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Platt, 223 S. Roys-av, has been named to the dean's list at Ohio Wesleyan University for maintaining a cumulative point average of 3.3 or better.

Mentorwood K of P Host To County Deputy Meeting

Mentorwood Lodge No. 770, Knights of Pythias, will be host to members of Franklin and Madison Counties on Apr. 4 at 7:30 p. m. at their hall, corner W. Broad-st and Burgess-av.

As this is the last of the county deputy meetings a large crowd is anticipated.

J. R. Smith is county deputy for Franklin County.

4 Added To Minstrel Cast; 'Good Seats' Still Available

Four more have been added to the Hilltop Minstrel show cast to make a total of 70 in this, the 31st annual production sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association.

The two-hour long variety show will be presented Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday night, Apr. 12, 13 and 14, in the West High School auditorium.

Two old-timers in minstrel performances, George Hardy and his daughter, Jackie, have been added to the show's cast. Making their debut in a Hilltop Minstrel will be Jim Lee, and Dick Briggs. The Hardys are a dance team.

Tickets for reserved seats went on sale yesterday, Wednesday, Mar. 29, at the Thrift Finance Co., 7 S. Wayne-av. General admission tickets already purchased may be turned in for reserved seat tickets.

Approximately 500 seats at each price have been allotted for each of the three nights' performances. John Nippert, chairman of the ticket committee, reported today that "plenty of good tickets at all prices are still available for all three shows."

Mrs. Carrie Snyder Services Friday

Mrs. Carrie Snyder, 37, of 487 N. Highland-av, died Tuesday in Community Hospital.

A charter member of Valleyview Church of Christ in Christian Union, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Downey, 456 Highland-av; three sons, Lewis Snyder, 1552 Safford-av, Howard Snyder, with whom she made her home, and Fred Snyder, 2344 Lenora-av; 16 grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the residence until time of services at 2:30 p. m. Friday in the Valleyview Church of Christ in Christian Union. Interment will be in Sunset Cemetery by the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

INJURED IN COLLISION

Tony Polisaro, 27, of 606 S. [illegible] was treated for cuts and possible chest injuries early Tuesday following a collision with a parked car in the 300 block of Warren-av.

Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Allen Buy Shop

The Record Tuesday incorrectly stated that the Blossom Shop, 3220 W. Broad-st, was purchased by William A. Allen, 364 S. Chase-av. The Record should have said that Mrs. William A. Allen of the same address, and Mrs. Ferne Green, 625 Salisbury-rd, are the owners. Mr. Allen will supervise the work.

The shop will have its grand opening Sunday, Apr. 2, from 12 noon to 9 p.m.

New Record Deadlines Set

With the return to weekly publication of the Hilltop Record new deadlines will go into effect next week. Classified advertising and news items must be in by 5 p. m. Tuesday. Society items must be in by 4 p. m. each Tuesday. The deadline for church announcements remains the same, 10 a. m. Tuesday.

Beginning with today's issue the Record will be delivered by mail. The paper should be delivered with the Thursday morning mail delivery.

Regular subscribers who do not receive their Record in the morning mail will have the paper delivered the same day if they notify the Record office before noon. Customers who are missed are asked to phone Ra. 1125 and ask for "circulation."

80-Year-Old Hilltopper Still Works Every Day

Jessie M. Chilcote, 130 Powhatan-av, celebrated her 80th birthday last Thursday, Mar. 23. She lives with her nephew, H. S. Chilcote, at the Powhatan-av address.

Miss Chilcote's birthday also marked the beginning of 39 years with the same company, the Central Tablet Co. Still very active, Miss Chilcote is a clerk at the company and in charge of eight other ladies.

A former school teacher, Miss Chilcote's hobbies are baking pies and votes on Saturdays, and listening to the radio in the mornings and evenings. She rises every morning at 5:30, and works until 3:30 p. m.

Gibbon To Have Own TV Show

Bill Gibbon, 2525 Westwooddr, reporter-photographer for the Record, will begin with his own television show, "Your Living Newspaper," next Thursday, Apr. 6, over Station WTVN, Channel 6, from 6 to 6:30 p. m., Colin Male, program director for the station, announced today.

The half-hour weekly program will bring to the TV screen, in person, the people who have made the latest news in Columbus. In addition to spot-news personalities, Gibbon will have as his guests the people who figure in human interest stories, sports, entertainment and art.

Gibbon served in the public relations division of the Marine Corps for three years during the war. Among the few Marines in Europe, he photographed the invasion of Normandy and Southern France. During his 16 months overseas, Gibbon sent back the first pictures of American wounded to be evacuated from the French coast.

A graduate of West High School in 1941, Gibbon began his newspaper career 11 years ago. At the age of 15 Gibbon edited and published The Hill Tribune. Later he worked for the Columbus Citizen and edited The Buckeye Veteran.

C. C. Hartley, publisher of the Record, will be one of Gibbon's first guests.

Traffic Engineer To Address HBA

City traffic engineer Harry Turner will be the principal speaker at the Hilltop Business Association meeting Tuesday evening at the Westgate Methodist Church.

Members of the Columbus Traffic and Transportation commission will also be on hand to answer questions from the floor. Charles M. Underhill is the chairman of the commission, assisted by E. O. Melvin, Harold G. Eckhardt and C. D. Zibbets.

IN THE FAMILY

Father-Daughter Teams In Show News

The unusual combination of a father and daughter appearing in the same play as father and daughter occurs in "Star Crazy," a three-act comedy by Don Elser, now in rehearsal by members of the Hilltop Little Theater. Wilbur Hatch is cast as Prof. Andrews, an absent-minded astronomy professor who has just discovered a new star, and Melva Lee, his daughter in real life, plays the stage daughter who would like to marry a star, but not the heavenly variety. "Star Crazy" is the second major production of the current season by the Hilltop Little Theater, and will be presented the evening of Friday, Apr. 21, in Motter Hall, the social center of the Glenwood Methodist Church.

GEORGE AND JACKIE HARDY, a father-daughter dance team, will appear in the Hilltop Minstrel Show this year. The team has been dancing together in Hilltop shows for a number of years and appeared most recently in the West High Alumni Variety show.

From Start In 1923 Greer Orr Has Built Hundreds of Residences On The Hilltop

By Myron T. Seifert

Greer Orr, residential building contractor, with offices at 16 S. Westgate-av, has contributed much to the lives of home-loving Hilltoppers, and especially to hundreds living west of Hague-av where the Orr "touch" in building was given its greatest impetus among the almost 400 homes in the Broadview, Westgate and Westgate Park additions.

Many of this section's homes were built and designed by Orr and his partner, Robert Day, with whom he was associated in business from 1921 down to the period of the beginning of World War II when Day was engaged in building operations for Uncle Sam at Pearl Harbor.

Since his return to the States, following the termination of the war, Day has carried on his construction activities; one of his most recent contracts included a huge commercial venture of remodeling the Canton, Ohio, Onesto Hotel annex, formerly the Courtland Hotel of that city. The Days reside near here, at their Big Darby home. Bob commutes by plane between Columbus and Canton, and each Friday night finds Mrs. Day greeting her husband at a local airport.

Greer vividly recalls the extent of his building operations (west of Hague-av in the Broadview addition, south of Broad-st to Sullivant-av, from Roys-av extending west through Westmoor-av), developed by the Heed and Holton Co. and formerly known as the David Binns farm which opened more than a quarter of a century ago. The old Binns farm home, Orr recalls, stood near the southeast corner of Huron-av, and Broad-st on which is now situated the Miller residence.

Willis Heed, one of the developers of the Broadview addition, who opened the Broadview addition Nov. 1, 1923, personally came to the Orr home, then on N. Burgess-av early in the morning before Orr had gotten out of bed, and insisted that he hasten over to see the well-plotted Binns Farm lots about to be placed on the market; whereupon Orr advised Heed that he didn't want any real estate on the Binns farm, and preferred to confine his construction largely to the Hilltop proper.

Heed persisted that he come "out West just to see the new development that would one day be inhabited by thousands of substantial citizens,"—and finally Orr yielded.

Yielding largely out of courtesy to Heed, Orr joined Heed to survey Hilltop's newest development—and so captivated was Orr by the suburban territory that he decided to stake his construction chances "out West" and then and there signed a purchase contract for 17 lots from the Heed and Holton Co.

Ten of these were located on Binns-blvd in the first square, from the numbers 37 to 57, and here the Orr & Day combine built the first five houses in Broadview. This was followed by construction of 14 houses in the second square on the same street where Orr now resides. Approximately two-thirds of the homes on beautiful Crescent-dr were built by the partners.

At first they were dubious as to whether they started their work too far "out West." Lumber for the new homes was carried from W. Broad-st as the mud roads would not permit a truck or wagon to gain access to the addition.

During the excavating and foundation work many relics of old Camp Chase were found. Swords, bayonets and bullets were included in the effects unearthed. Once while excavating a petrified body was discovered but deteriorated upon exposure to the moisture and elements.

Hilltop Couple Married Feb. 17

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Busch

Miss Amelia Anna Shumate, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Shumate of 223 Belvidere-av, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Edwin E. Busch, son of Mr. Robert E. Busch, 164 Whitethorne-av, on Feb. 17 at 8:30 p. m.

Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas performed the double ring ceremony in the Glenwood Methodist Church.

The altar was banked with ferns and palms with gleaming candlelight from tapers in seven-branch candelabra. The center of the altar was decorated with white gladiolas.

Escorted down the aisle by her uncle, Mr. David W. Reese, the bride was attired in a gown previously worn by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Fenn of Mansfield. The traditional white satin gown was styled with fitted bodice, a wide yoke of tulle and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The only piece of jewelry worn was an heirloom gold locket from Wales. The very full skirt ended in a wide circular train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a small white Bible with a single orchid and streamers.

Mrs. Melvin J. Foor of Pataskala, who was matron of honor for her sister, was attired in a full skirted gown of orchid taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and rose shattered carnations and wore a halo of matching flowers. A cousin of the bride, Judy Miss Cheryl Reese, age four years, of Dayton, sang "I Love You Truly." She was attired in a full-skirted pink dimity dress and wore a small corsage of lavender carnations.

The best man was Mr. Edward Dotson. Guests were seated by Mr. Richard Fenn of Mansfield, and Mr. Charles Muehleisen.

Hostesses at the reception were Mrs. William E. Reese, Mrs. Ronald Hines, Mrs. Charles Muehleisen and Mrs. David R. Davies.

RUMMAGE SALE PLANNED

Mary E. Cassell, Div. 52, GIA of the B of LE will hold a rummage sale Saturday, Apr. 15, at 340 S. Fourth-st.

Engagement Is Announced

An announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Dolores Colleen Crum to Mr. Patrick Joseph Berry, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Crum, 315 Columbian-av. Mr. Berry is the son of Mr. Richard G. Berry, Sr., 324 E. North Broadway, and the late Mrs. Berry.

Miss Crum was graduated from St. Mary of the Springs Academy and is employed at Mt. Carmel. Mr. School of Nursing, and is now employed at Mt. Carmel. Mr. Berry is a graduate of St. Charles Borromeo Preparatory School and is associated with the Berry Bolt Works.

The wedding will be an event of June 17.

The business man who depends on luck usually finds that when he needs it most he hasn't got much of it.

The human body is worth 97 cents, if sold as "material" but not less than $10,000 if killed in a wreck.

Any Independence Fighters On Your Family Tree? Treasury Department Asks

Do any of Ohio's patriotic descendants live on the Hilltop?

The treasury department is trying to find out. But despite the proximity of America's noted datemark—March 15—it isn't the Internal Revenue on the search this time—it's the Savings Bonds Division.

It seems that this year's bond drive will be called the Independence Drive and will have as its symbol the Liberty Bell. And despite exhaustive efforts of state historical experts, the right descendants of certain of our patriotic forbears haven't been discovered.

It isn't that there aren't plenty of descendants of famous personages in the nation's early history who live in Ohio, but they just don't seem to be the right ones. For instance, queries to the Daughters of the American Revolution and to the Colonial Dames failed to shed light on any descendants in Ohio of Betsy Ross, flag maker. This despite the fact that Betsy married three times and had seven children.

According to a "Savings Bonds for OHIO" official, they're looking for Ohio descendants of just about anyone who was closely associated with the independence of the colonies, but particularly descendants of those who were active in getting the Liberty Bell to this country or in protecting it from the enemy in time of war.

If you're proud of your lineage and it goes back to Liberty Bell patriots or perhaps to signers of the Declaration, the Savings Bonds Division would like to hear from you. You can write the Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Religious Film To Be Shown Here

The famous "King of Kings" religious film of the life of Christ will be shown Sunday at 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. at the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, 61 S. Powell-av. The latter showing, at 9:30, will accommodate the church people who have services in their own church at the early hour.

This film is being sponsored by the Franklin County Council of Churches and will be shown on the Hilltop only once during Holy Week. All are invited to see this unusual religious film.

MARCH TO CHURCH IN MARCH

Hope Lutheran Downs Hoge Memorial 39-29 In City Church League Semi-Finals

By Dave Miller

Hope Lutheran's superior offensive attack in the final three minutes paid off for the Lutherans as they defeated Hoge Memorial, 39 to 29, last Monday night in Glenwood gym in the semi-finals of the City Church eliminations.

Hoge, one of the toughest church teams around the city, coached by Ben Lewis, hopped off to an early lead in the opening moments of the game, with Ward Cassell and Barry Emerich paving the way for the Hilltoppers, but they had to fight off a bitter Hope uprising all through the opening half, in which things were pretty even throughout.

Big Jack Chambers, Hope's tall and lanky pivotman, began to hit, and after the firing had ceased through, a Hoge time-out, the ultimate winners had increased their margin to six points early in the second half, and from there onward, the Westsiders never led.

Hope consisted mostly of men, while Hoge was mainly boys just out of high school, and thus, the Hope cagers, who have been playing together for quite some time, were much superior throughout the game.

Dick Wolfe, Hoge's stellar forward, started off the evening with a long set, and Cassel sank a free toss, but Hope's Dick Speth sank two gratis tosses while Eddie Sensenbrenner of Hoge duplicated the feat to make the count 4-2. Wolfe sank another foul shot, but Speth of the winners followed with a bunny and a tip-in in quick fashion to give Hope a 6-5 margin.

After Dick Howell sank a free throw for Hope, Wolfe of the ultimate losers sank a fast break shot to knot the score at 7-all, which Hoge's Jack Chambers quickly increased on two free throws. After Ed Sensenbrenner cashed in on a free throw, Wolfe sank a drive-in under-handed shot which was matched by Jack Bates' free throw that tied the score at 10-all.

Wolfe sank a free throw, but Jack Bernlohr of the winners sank three straight points, only to have all three of the markers matched by Hoge's pint-sized guard, Barry Emerich, who again played a great game for the local church team. Jack Standard's free throw tied the count at 14-all, But Ed Sensenbrenner's hook shoe just before halftime provided the locals with a 16-14 intermission lead.

Of the second half, there's not much to tell. Center Jack Chambers of Hope scored eight consecutive points at the start of the second period, and before Hoge knew it, they were six points behind (22-16).

Consecutive long shots by Emerich and Wolfe cut Hope's lead to 24-23. That was the closest that Hoge could ever get to the winners.

Throughout the rest of the game, Hoge managed to get within four points of Hope on seven occasions, and once at three points (32-29). The latter occasion coming with only 2:11 left in the game, Hope really opened up, with a seven straight point barrage, while Hoge was constantly taking desperation shots instead of trying to work the ball in.

Another factor that was aiding Hope's cause was the loss by Hoge of three boys via the personal foul route, Guards Bob Ochs and Bob Wilson and Center Ed Sensenbrenner. Hoge played the latter stages of the fray without the services of their Not 1 rebounder in Sensenbrenner.

Chambers of the winners was high point man with 16 markers while Dick Wolfe paced Hoge with 10 points. Barry Emerich played a great game with seven points, while Sensenbranner, who only got six points, again played a brilliant game under both boards.

The box score:

Hope Lutheran	B	FT	TP
Speth, f	2	3	7

Hilltop Loses To Grace 55-35 In Lutheran Church League

By Dave Miller

Hilltop Lutheran, the West Side representative to the City Church Eliminations in the Lutheran division, was defeated Monday evening, 55 to 35, by Grace Lutheran in the Capital University gym.

Hilltop, who defeated St. John last week, 28-24, to pave the way into the finals for last Monday, was pretty much out of the ball game from the start, although Forward Eddie Alford of the locals played his usual brilliant offensive game.

Missing out on a chance to go to Cleveland next week for the state Lutheran title, the Hilltop squad put up a brilliant and hard fought battle all the way, but Grace's much smoother offense paid off.

In fact, Grace actually won the game in the art of merely bringing the ball up court. Hilltop's guards were slow in bringing the ball downcourt, and thus, on numerous occasions, the ultimate winners would cut into the locals' offensive setup and intercept stray passes.

It was Grace's all-around alertness and ball-hawkness that paid off in the trip to Cleveland for the South Side team. Big Center Jack Cherington played his usual great offensive game in leading the way for the Lutherans.

Hilltop started out in good style in the first quarter, hopping to an 11-10 first quarter margin, but in the second period Grace outscored the Hilltoppers 13-2, as the winners jumped to an intermission margin of 23-13. From there on they were never seriously threatened.

Cherington was high scorer with 20 points while Alford, who was recently crowned as high scorer of the Lutheran League, was tops for Hilltop with 12 tallies.

Hilltop Alleys Mixed Doubles Scheduled For April 8-23

This year will bring about the fifth annual mixed doubles bowling tournament at the Hilltop Recreation Center. It will be held from Apr. 8 to Apr. 23 on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings. The bowling on Saturdays will start at 1 p. m. On Sunday afternoon the shifts will start at noon. There will be shifts hourly from starting time until midnight.

The handicap will be 75 per cent and it will be taken from the highest average. The handicap will be based on 200 scratch for men and 180 for women. Bowlers must have to have at least 21 games bowled in any one league as of Mar. 1, 1960. To become a participant they must also be a sanctioned league bowler. Bowlers may bowl as many times as they like providing they don't bowl with any partner more than once.

Hilltop Recreation is now accepting entries for the tournament. The entry fee, including prize money and bowling, is $2. Last year's winners were Bessie McCoy and Jim Martin, a junior at West High School.

BUT,
Who'll pay the bill?

Crash! It may never happen to you. It may happen tomorrow. Are you financially able to assume the risks of lawsuits, damages? One accident can ruin you. INSURE.

Greer Orr Builds Large Number Of Hilltop Homes

When the addition was extended from Palmetto south to Sullivant-av, Orr and Day purchased 18 lots in the present St. Mary Magdalene parish where they erected homes.

The tract purchased for the Broadview development excluded the plot now occupied by the West Gate Masonic Temple. The owner of that property asked what Heed and Holton termed "an outlandish price" for it.

The West Gate Temple body formerly had title to land on the present Standard Oil site, which the latter acquired from the Temple Association in 1924.

The Temple then negotiated with the owner of the five acres, not included in the original Broadview plat, for a consideration of $25,000. Since which time the land has been improved with one of the most imposing edifices in the city.

The Heed and Holton partners also developed the Hillcrest addition on the Hilltop, running from Steele-av to the railroad on the north, east of Hague-av.

Westgate and Brinker-ave were next developed by the Pavey-Johnson Co. and became known as Westgate. Here the Orr "touch" was again in evidence.

The company then purchased a vast acreage which was designated by the promoters as Westgate Park addition.

The Orr and Day firm bought here originally 14 lots and constructed the first home in the Westgate Park section at 88 S. Algonquin-av, now occupied by George Levisay, worshipful master of West Gate Masonic lodge.

The city of Columbus procured from the Pavey-Johnson 47 acres for the purposes of developing a park, since which time it has become one of the city's most attractive improvements, and second only to Franklin Park in size.

Orr was formerly with the telephone company, migrating to the Hilltop 41 years ago. He came to Columbus in 1904 from Greensburgh, Pa., and married Lulu Miles, originally from Athens, who aided Mr. Orr immeasurably until the time of her passing away in the fall of 1948.

In 1926 Orr and Day established building and real estate office at 2975 W. Broad-st address and last year removed his office to 16 S. Westgate-av. In 1930 he added insurance to his real estate and construction business.

Thousands of Hilltoppers have sought the advice of Orr, preparatory to building, and he has given unstintingly of his time to assist them. In 1924, he remembers that he and Day built gratis a two-room home for a widowed mother and children, along Big Darby, and made possible a happy Christmas for the family by donating their time and labor.

The "Long Gables" home, at 235 Guernsey-av, owned by the Don Thatchers, was visited by 50,000 people, following its construction by Orr & Day. It was built in 1923-24. Reputedly "The House Beautiful", the project was sponsored by the Ohio State Journal and furnished by The Thomas Furniture Co.

In addition to the building operations involving 400 Hilltop and Westgate homes, the Orr & Day firm has been active in other parts of the city.

Building box score for the partners includes the construction of 75 homes in Bexley and Berwick, 45 in Upper Arlington, 28 in the north end, 4 in the south end, and a number of dwellings outside the city.

Orr and Day's best monuments to the Hilltop are substantially built homes, artistically designed, and occupied by a citizenry a credit to any community.

born in 1947 start to school. The enrollment at that school now is 141 and it is over-crowded. It could not possibly absorb another 70 students. Neither can any other elementary school on the Hilltop withstand an increase of one-third to one-half more pupils.

Shows 30% Increase

The PTA's survey also showed that in 1948 70 youngsters who reside in the West Mound Street School district are attending classes at John Burroughs Elementary School or the Dana Avenue Elementary School. In both cases the students must ride this bus, or walk a long distance. This is because their parents feel the facilities are not adequate at the W. Mound-st building to teach their children.

If those 70 children were attending school where they are supposed to the old, wooden, "temporary" buildings with four small classrooms would have to hold 211 students. That would be more than 50 pupils each.

At present two teachers at the school are teaching three sections of students. One is teaching grades 2B, 3A and 3B; another is teaching grades 3A, 4B and 4A. This condition is the reason the PTA has requested an adequate number of teachers.

The PTA approves the idea of sending the children to John Burroughs by a board of education sponsored bus, providing there is room at that school.

Need Two Schools

However, the group believes it would be cheaper to build a small, permanent structure rather than maintain, year after year, a school bus.

"Hilltop people want two new schools as soon as possible," declared Mr. Van Ness. He said the High Ridge group will support other civic groups seeking a school on a site purchased 27 years ago in Westgate.

"We have both a traffic and an overcrowding problem," Mr. Van Ness declared. "Now a total of 141 children from kindergarten through the fourth grade attend the old temporary portables at 2151 W. Mound-st. By next fall there will be a 99 per cent increase. And 30 new homes are going up a block and one-half away on Suncrest-dr.

"These little children simply can't walk the 14 blocks to John Burroughs School, the only other school they could attend."

Mr. Van Ness said this group approves the city-wide survey of school needs now under way, by the Ohio State University education research staff for the school board.

Albert Price Elected Pres. Of Hilliards Young Farmers

The Hilliards Young Farmers' Association elected officers for the coming year at their regular meeting last week. Those elected are Albert Price, president; Alva Sampson, vice-president; Edward Fladt, secretary; Kermit Walker, treasurer; and Wayne Becker, reporter.

The members are planning a square dance in April with Alva Sampson, Kermit Walker and Wayne Becker serving on the committee to make arrangements. Albert Price was appointed to arrange for a bowling party to be held in late April or early May.

The Hilliards chapter of Future Farmers of America were guests at the meeting and gave a parliamentary procedure demonstration.

"Farm Safety" was the topic for discussion, led by A. E. Ritchie, adviser of the two groups.

Following the program refreshments were served by the Young Farmers and then two basketball games were played, both of which were won by the Young Farmers.

Veteran of 11 Pacific Naval Battles Commands Division At Naval Reserve Base

The responsibility of commanding a division of the Naval Reserves lies in the hands of a comparatively young Hilltopper, Lieutenant Commander Bernard C. Miller of 575 Whitethorne-av. His war record and his education highly qualify him for this job.

Commander Miller, now in charge of the Veterans Training and Education program for the State Department of Education, was in 11 Pacific battles during the war. As a member of the staff of two carrier division commanders, Miller covered the Pacific area from New Guinea to Iwo Jima and the Philippines.

On one night a week, and on Saturday morning, Miller directs the training and duties of 180 Naval Reservists, members of Division 9-184, at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 240 N. Sandusky-st. During the day his job is to inspect the facilities of schools under the G. I. Bill of Rights to see if they are qualified to teach veterans.

Lt. Comdr. Bernard C. Miller

Pupil Causes Enlistment

Miller was teaching in high school at Delaware when the war broke out. Soon afterwards he heard about one of his former students, Bob Zimmer, who had joined the navy in 1939. Bob had been taken prisoner by the Japs in their infamous sneak attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

When this young teacher heard about what had happened to Bob, he decided that he'd better join up in the navy and get over there to do what he could to get the war over with and get Bob's release.

It didn't take Miller long to get in the thick of things. After training at the Naval Communications School at Harvard University, Miller went to Pearl Harbor where he was assigned to the Pacific Fleet Air Force command staff.

Before long Miller was assigned to the staff of Admiral Montgomery, commander of carrier division 12, as assistant communications officer. Miller began his tour of duty on the carrier Essex, the first of six he was to serve on.

Hit At Truk

Immediately the ship went into action. The carrier's planes struck the island of Truk. The Japs returned the attack and hit the carrier. From there Miller went on through the Pacific under Admirals Radford and Sprague, commanders of Fast Carrier Task Forces 38 and 38. Miller served on the Yorktown, the Wasp, the Hancock, the Randolph and the Bennington.

The ships' planes hit the Marshalls, the Carolines, the Gilberts, the Solomons and New Guinea. After 13 months of continuous battle, the Admiral's staff, including Miller, flew back to Eniwetok to Pearl Harbor and on to California. Following a brief rest, the staff boarded the Yorktown and off to battle again.

This time the carriers went to Formosa, Iwo Jima, Guam, Saipan, Tinian, Indo-China and Manila and Leyte in the Philippines. Besides the Essex, three other carriers, on which Miller was serving, were hit "pretty bad." The Hancock and the Yorktown were hit. But the Wasp—the second wasp—was "hit the worst."

Pearl Bone Flames

"I was below decks," Miller said, "when the Wasp was hit. After 28 months of this fighting, and with the smoke I got in my lungs from the flames that burned the Wasp, I was through for a while. I was sent to a rest camp."

Midst all those battles, Miller and his companions were able to find some pleasures. "After the Marines had secured the island," Miller stated, "the officers from the carrier went swimming on the Eniwetok beach. A friend was in water up to his neck diving for sea shells. He came up with a young octopus around his neck. I went after him to help and the thing started strangling me. We were able to get it to shore and smothered it in the sand."

G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, present governor of Michigan, who was intelligence officer on the staff with Miller, was Miller's roommate. Miller tells about a time in the Pacific when he and Williams were trying to sleep in the terrific heat of their cabin. Williams, a strapping young man, had the lower bunk. A ventilator was letting in some fresh air in the top of the cabin, but it wasn't hitting their bunks. So Miller tied his pajama bottoms around the ventilator with one leg going to Williams' bed and one to his.

Reports Hanging

When the sentry came to wake Miller in the middle of the night for his watch, the sailor saw the pajamas hanging in the dimmed cabin. Tense with battle nerves, the seaman ran to the bridge to report that one of the officers had hung himself.

Miller got some rough treatment that didn't come from the enemy when he became a member of the Order of the Golden Dragon. The ship crossed the Equator and the 180th meridian at the same time. This called for a special initiation.

After the extended tour of duty on the carriers, Miller was assigned to the cruiser Miami. Later he was stationed at the Naval Air Station in Atlantic City. That is where he was separated from service in November, 1945, as a lieutenant commander. Miller began his active service as a lieutenant, junior grade.

Miller then resumed work on his education. He completed work on his master's degree in June, 1946. His studies specialized in veterans' problems, which fitted into the job with the state which began in August, 1946.

Enthusiastic About Reserves

Miller is very enthusiastic about the Naval Reserve program. He has a crack division of volunteer seamen who are paid for their weekly one-night training. Reserve seamen are also paid for their two-week cruise during the summer.

Lt. (jg) George E. Thompson, 138 Whitethorne-av, is the disbursing officer for Miller's division. Miller and Thompson are anxious to have young men in high school, and those just out, and navy veterans visit the training center. The million-dollar Naval Reserve station simulates a ship to a great extent.

Miller's division meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30, at the center at 240 S. Sandusky-st.

Measured For Caps and Gowns

The seniors of Hilliards High School, who are reported getting a little restless waiting for graduation, were measured for their caps and gowns Thursday and Friday, Mar. 3 and 24.

Hilltop Parents Assn. Meets At Franklin Home

The Hilltop Parents' Association met at the home of Mrs. Estella Franklin, 382 S. Highland-av, Mar. 21.

The recreation committee reported that no formal answer had been received from the City's Recreation Commission on the proposal submitted Jan. 11. The need was disclosed and stressed for a Hilltop Center, a building where year around activities could be promoted. It was felt that the established playgrounds could be used for the one season out-door-needs.

The following reports were received: The Hilltop Community Council meeting by Mrs. Ora Benton; The FEPC Womans' Council Voters Registration Committee by Mrs. Estella Franklin and Mrs. Vivian Bynum; the girls' club. To write a letter to Senator Taft urging him to withdraw his FEPC Bill in favor of that of Senator McGrath, as was proposed by a letter from the National Headquarters of the NAACP.

Clenzo Fox had been appointed to work in the NAACP recent membership drive. The next meeting will be held Apr. 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, 342 S. Highland-av. The election of officers will be conducted by the nominating committee.

"We have both a traffic and an overcrowding problem," Mr. Van Ness declared. "Now a total of 141 children from kindergarten through the fourth grade attend the old temporary portables at 2151 W. Mound-st. By next fall there will be a 69 per cent increase. And 30 new homes are going up a block and one-half away on Suncrest-dr.

"These little children simply can't walk the 14 blocks to John Burroughs School, the only other school they could attend."

Mr. Van Ness said this group approves the city-wide survey of school needs now under way, by the Ohio State University education research staff for the school board.

Albert Price Elected Pres. Of Hilliards Young Farmers

The Hilliards Young Farmers' Association elected officers for the coming year at their regular meeting last week. Those elected are Albert Price, president; Alva Sampson, vice-president; Edward Fladt, secretary; Kermit Walker, treasurer; and Wayne Becker, reporter.

The members are planning a square dance in April with Alva Sampson, Kermit Walker and Wayne Becker serving on the committee to make arrangements. Albert Price was appointed to arrange for a bowling party to be held in late April or early May.

The Hilliards chapter of Future Farmers of America were guests at the meeting and gave a parliamentary procedure demonstration.

"Farm Safety" was the topic for discussion, led by A. E. Ritchie, adviser of the two groups.

Following the program refreshments were served by the Young Farmers and then two basketball games were played, both of which were won by the Young Farmers.

Veteran of 11 Pacific Naval Battles Commands Division At Naval Reserve Base

The responsibility of commanding a division of the Naval Reserves lies in the hands of a comparatively young Hilltopper, Lieutenant Commander Bernard C. Miller of 576 Whitethorne-av. His war record and his education highly qualify him for this job.

Commander Miller, now in charge of the Veterans Training and Education program for the State Department of Education, was in 11 Pacific battles during the war. As a member of the staff of two carrier division commanders, Miller covered the Pacific area from New Guinea to Iwo Jima and the Philippines.

On one night a week, and on Saturday morning, Miller directs the training and duties of 180 Naval Reservists, members of Division 9-184, at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, 240 N. Sandusky-st. During the day his job is to inspect the facilities of schools under the G. I. Bill of Rights to see if they are qualified to teach veterans.

Lt. Comdr. Bernard C. Miller

Pupil Causes Enlistment

Miller was teaching in high school at Delaware when the war broke out. Soon afterwards he heard about one of his former students, Bob Zimmer, who had joined the navy in 1939. Bob had been taken prisoner by the Japs in their infamous sneak attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

When this young teacher heard about what had happened to Bob, he decided that he'd better join up in the navy and get over there to do what he could to get the war over with and get Bob's release.

It didn't take Miller long to get in the thick of things. After training at the Naval Communications School at Harvard University, Miller went to Pearl Harbor where he was assigned to the Pacific Fleet Air Force command staff.

Before long Miller was assigned to the staff of Admiral Montgomery, commander of carrier division 12, as assistant communications officer. Miller began his tour of duty on the carrier Essex, the first of six he was to serve on.

Hit At Truk

Immediately the ship went into action. The carrier's planes struck the island of Truk. The Japs returned the attack and hit the carrier. From there Miller went on through the Pacific under Admirals Radford and Sprague, commanders of Fast Carrier Task Forces 58 and 38. Miller served on the Yorktown, the Wasp, the Hancock, the Randolph and the Bennington.

The ships' planes hit the Marshalls, the Carolines, the Gilberts, the Solomons and New Guinea. After 13 months of continuous battle, the Admiral's staff, including Miller, flew back to Eniwetok to Pearl Harbor and on to California. Following a brief rest, the staff boarded the Yorktown and off to battle again.

This time the carriers went to Formosa, Iwo Jima, Guam, Saipan, Tinian, Indo-China and Manila and Leyte in the Philippines. Besides the Essex, three other carriers, on which Miller was serving, were hit "pretty bad." The Hancock and the Yorktown were hit. But the Wasp—the second wasp—was "hit the worst."

Found Some Pleasures

"I was below decks," Miller said, "when the Wasp was hit. After 26 months of this fighting, and with the smoke I got in my lungs from the flames that burned the Wasp, I was through for a while. I was sent to a rest camp."

Midst all these battles, Miller and his companions were able to find some pleasures. "After the Marines had secured the island," Miller stated, "the officers from the carrier went swimming on the Eniwetok beach. A friend was in water up to his neck diving for sea shells. He came up with a young octopus around his neck. I went after him to help and the thing started strangling me. We were able to get it to shore and smothered it in the sand."

G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, present governor of Michigan, who was intelligence officer on the staff with Miller, was Miller's roommate. Miller tells about a time in the Pacific when he and Williams were trying to sleep in the terrific heat of their cabin. Williams, a strapping young man, had the lower bunk. A ventilator was letting in some fresh air in the top of the cabin, but it wasn't hitting their bunks. So Miller tied his pajama bottoms around the ventilator with one leg going to Williams' bed and one to his.

Reports Hanging

When the sentry came to wake Miller in the middle of the night for his watch, the sailor saw the pajamas hanging in the dimmed cabin. Tense with battle nerves, the seaman ran to the bridge to report that one of the officers had hung himself.

Miller got some rough treatment that didn't come from the enemy when he became a member of the Order of the Golden Dragon. The ship crossed the Equator and the 180th meridian at the same time. This called for a special initiation.

After the extended tour of duty on the carriers, Miller was assigned to the cruiser Miami. Later he was stationed at the Naval Air Station in Atlantic City. That is where he was separated from service in November, 1945, as a lieutenant commander. Miller began his active service as a lieutenant, junior grade.

Miller then resumed work on his education. He completed work on his master's degree in June, 1946. His studies specialized in veterans' problems, which fitted into the job with the state which began in August, 1946.

Enthusiastic About Reserves

Miller is very enthusiastic about the Naval Reserve program. He has a crack division of volunteer seamen who are paid for their weekly one-night training. Reserve seamen are also paid for their two-week cruise during the summer.

Lt. (jg) George E. Thompson, 138 Whitethorne-av, is the disbursing officer for Miller's division. Miller and Thompson are anxious to have young men in high school, and those just out, and navy veterans visit the training center. The million-dollar Naval Reserve station simulates a ship to a great extent.

Miller's division meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30, at the center at 240 S. Sandusky-st.

The seniors of Hilliards High School, who are reported getting a little restless waiting for graduation, were measured for their caps and gowns Thursday and Friday, Mar. 3 and 24.

Hilltop Parents Assn. Meets At Franklin Home

The Hilltop Parents' Association met at the home of Mrs. Estella Franklin, 382 S. Highland-av, Mar. 21.

The recreation committee reported that no formal answer had been received from the City's Recreation Commission on the proposal submitted Jan. 11. The need was disclosed and stressed for a Hilltop Center, a building where year around activities could be promoted. It was felt that the established playgrounds could be used for the one season out-door-needs.

The following reports were received: The Hilltop Community Council meeting by Mrs. Ora Benton; The FEPC Women's Council Voters Registration Committee by Mrs. Estella Franklin and Mrs. Vivian Bynum; the girls' club. The Hilltop GAA who are making plans to observe their [illegible] Worshiping in church together on the fourth and fifth Sunday in April; a skating party, and other social events. The Boys' Intermediate Basket Ball team which was sponsored in the Hilltop YMCA League, finished in third place. The members of the team were Robert Todd, Donald Anderson, Stanley Brown, John Jackson, Shirrel Singer, Ralph McGinnis, Earl Redman, James Ealy, Russell Rickinson, Jay Sams, George Griffins, and William Smith.

The association agreed and voted on the following; 1. To observe the fourth birthday and National Family Week, with a musical program and tea in May. 2. To write a letter to Senator Taft urging him to withdraw his FEPC Bill in favor of that of Senator McGrath, as was proposed by a letter from the National Headquarters of the NAACP.

Clenzo Fox had been appointed to work in the NAACP recent membership drive. The next meeting will be held Apr. 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, 342 S. Highland-av. The election of officers will be conducted by the nominating committee.

Life is impeded by people who want the benefits without the accompanying obligations.

How's Your Health?

Just as a great business takes an inventory to ascertain its condition, every individual at least once a year should seek to find out the true status of his or her physical condition.

We hear much talk about regular examinations to discover the existence of dread diseases in order that proper treatment may safeguard the body and restore it to health. Certainly, this is sound advice for all readers of the Record to follow.

If you haven't had a physical checkup lately, go to your family doctor and persuade him to look you over. See if your heart and other vital organs have been impaired. If there is anything wrong, follow the advice that you get and see if you can't repair the damage that has already been done.

Parents of the Hilltop might well start the habit in their children. Take them to the doctor and have them carefully examined. Not only should they be tested for bodily ills but eyes, noses, throats and teeth should receive critical examination. Tests for sound hearing often reveal unsuspected defects.

Glenwood WSCS To Meet Apr. 6

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Glenwood Methodist Church will meet in the church parlor Thursday, Apr. 6. The study period opens at 10 a. m. and chapters three and six of the study book, "We the Peoples of Ecumenical Church" will be presented by Mrs. A. R. Fox and Mrs. Charles Heffron, respectively.

All attending are asked to bring their text books. Luncheon will be served at noon by Circle 8 with Mrs. H. C. Weller, chairman. The afternoon program will begin at 12:45 and the topic "Youth — Our Partners in Kingdom Building" will be discussed by Mrs. Daniel Joseph, Gloria Brockington and Gay Wade. Mrs. L. E. Gatten will give devotions.

The business meeting will follow the program and will be in charge of Mrs. P. C. Edwards.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Three Major Battlegrounds in Congressional Election | Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania Results of High Importance

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—President Truman and the Democratic high command are concentrating on three senatorial campaigns, the results of which may have an all-important bearing on the 1952 White House campaign.

These battlegrounds are Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Politicos believe that the results in these three states may have a bearing on the President's eventual decision on whether to seek a third term, in the Roosevelt tradition.

President Truman

In Ohio, the Democrats privately are conceding that Senate GOP policy leader Robert A. Taft probably will retain his seat and again become a front contender for the 1952 Presidential nomination on the GOP ticket.

Nevertheless, the President is determined to try to defeat Taft on his home grounds this year.

In Illinois, Senate Democratic leader Scott Lucas is fighting for his political life. Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, a powerful speaker and vote getter, is expected to give Lucas a terrific race. The administration feels, however, that it can beat Dirksen with Mr. Truman's help.

In Pennsylvania, Senator Francis J. Myers faces tough sledding from whomever the GOP nominates. Myers was elected in the 1944 Roosevelt landslide. The Keystone State went for Dewey in 1948.

• • • •

● SOCIAL SECURITY EXPANSION—Congressional sources say an expansion of the present Social Security program is certain to be voted in another three or four months. This would extend social security to an additional eleven million persons.

The Senate finance committee is expected to finish its hearings on an extension bill in about a month. A check of committee members indicates that the committee-approved bill will follow the measure approved by the house last year.

The bill would expand social security coverage by extending such benefits to self-employed persons, local government workers, employes of many non-profit groups, more food-industry workers and more salesmen.

Changes in the program are expected to become effective by next Jan. 1. That means a payroll tax increase for employers, and for employes making more than $3,000 a year. The tax now stops at that level.

• • • •

● IT'S GETTING LATE—Reports that Russia began working on a hydrogen "hell" bomb last September fell with a sickening thud in Washington. President Truman did not order work on the H-bomb to get underway until Jan. 31.

That means, if the reports are true, that Russia has a four-month start on construction of the world's dead-liest weapon. Further, these reports say that Russia expects to test its first H-bomb this summer.

Russia May Test H-Bomb This Summer

United States H-bomb production plans are so much in the theoretical stage that it seems doubtful that a test bomb can be exploded in America in this short space of time.

The Russians, who are said to be building their "hell" bomb in vast underground laboratories, anticipate that by next fall they'll be stockpiling these lethal weapons—reported to be up to 1,000 times stronger than the original atomic bombs.

Hilliards Takes Part In Parliamentary Procedure Contest

A parliamentary procedure contest was held at Summit Station High School Mar. 23. Twenty-five Ohio schools were represented. Those who participated from Hilliards were David and Larry Hetrick, Charles Williams, Bernard Geyer, Dick Fisher, Fred Barrett, Bill Miller, Paul Slyh, Gene Nunnamaker and Dick Hansen.

Paul Raines, adviser at Summit Station, was in charge of the contest. The three quizzers were: Gene Nunnamaker, Fred Barrett and Dick Hanson.

The contest results were announced Friday morning, with Canal Winchester first, and Hilliards second.

Thrilling statistics: There are about fifteen applicants for every post-office job.

THE BAND VARIETY SHOW

A Critic's View

In a game of baseball, one batter would never do . . . . there must be several to win, so let us adapt this simile to the criticism of a grand game . . . High school activities, music and dramatics, at that.

The talented, young editor of the Hilltop Record, Harry Franken in his editorial column gave the West High show a real understanding "applause", yet he insists that I (as another batter) write in more detail in my column, so here 'tis. . . . I went Thursday night and found a capacity audience and a delightful night in and out, too. The audience, this time, was not apathetic as on a former occasion when hearing the beautiful "Bitter Sweet" operetta . . . in fact, when the curtain opened on the first number, a lovely picture was seen of youthful Junior High lads and lassies in dazzling white trousers and intense vermillion red sweaters. They received a wonderful "hand" even before performing, and how they did play, under the most competent directing of Clair Barnard. The Tschaikowski number was a delightful rendition of "The Waltz of the Flowers" from the "Nut Cracker Suite." After the orchestra's parts were over, came the Senior High Band, great players in a splendid offering. I must say, here, however, that the buff and brown uniforms did not appear so fine as on the gridiron, because the colors are "too quiet" and close in contrast, in fact I could hardly see the players' faces. Mr. Magly, West High's first principal, years ago (1929) wanted to change the colors, I believe, to brilliant red and gold . . . but the alumni for sentimental reasons chose to keep the buff and brown. This is where they made a blunder . . . for a band, even in concert form ought to "thrill" with a dazzling effect. Take Aquinas' emerald green and white for instance, so startling even at basketball . . . so compelling, etc. . . After a few years, why not change our buff and brown to other dashing colors. The high school building is only 20 years old, and will be there a hundred years or so. Coming generations will welcome this dynamic effect of brilliant "CONTRAST."

But to go on with the Variety Show. It certainly is a far cry from the days of no school orchestras or bands, to the splendid organizations in modern high schools. The P.T.A. and affiliated associations "loan back" to make them grand . . . and they are.

Well, the show of 1950 is over and what memories ! ! Several thrilled me. I could mention many . . . but the TEACHERS' MUSICAL HILARITY was a "knock-out" and it is good to see them "MIX" with youth. The Senior Band and Dance Band were tremendous! I tingle yet with their vigorous and glorious numbers. The great "piece de resistance" of the evening, in my notion, was the CINDERELLA FANTASY created and staged by Mrs. Evelyn Hall, that tireless dynamic little woman of West's stag. The lighting effects, truly, were stunning! . . . I mean, so changeable as to hold everyone's attention. Two that fascinated . . . the SHADOWS on the back drop (the drop sewed and made in school) by the Dance Band's instruments (remember Tom Heyl's head gyrations) were movable fantasies! The delectable toe dancing in Waltz time of Carol Cristee—rhythm and charm . . . like beautiful ballet dancing . . . such was the Cinderella affair . . . a lovely conction of sweetness, clever effects and delicious musical numbers.

The Variety Show was one of great balance and brought out the efforts of teachers AND pupils to put on entertainment that will linger long in many minds.

What I fear, sometimes, is that people in general, do not realize WHAT their children are acquiring in all of these EXTRAS to "definite basic education." A foundation must be built . . . yes "definitely yes" . . . but the "superstructure" is the DELIGHT OF THE SOUL, now isn't it?

THINK THIS OVER.

He Is Risen—Easter Lesson — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Corinthians 15; Luke 24:1-12.

On the first day of the week, very early in the morning, women came to the sepulchre bringing spices which they had prepared, and they found the stone rolled away from the opening.

The women found the body of Jesus gone, and as they stood, much perplexed, two men in shining garments stood near them. The women prostrated themselves and heard the men say, "He is risen."

The women ran to tell the apostles, but they refused to believe them, their story seeming "as idle tales." Peter ran quickly to the tomb, however, found Jesus gone, and went away wondering.

Writing to the Corinthians, Paul reveals that he was not one who saw Christ in person after His resurrection, but he, too, saw Him—on the road to Damascus. MEMORY VERSE—I Corinthians 15:57.

cover his sacred responsibility for his work; let any person consecrate his best efforts to doing ordinary tasks well done; and the conditions of the Kingdom of Heaven will have been met in a large way.

Included in the program are Bible study, choir work and program planning. The active membership of the junior choir is 46.

Dr. White To Conduct Pre-Easter Revival At Church

Dr. Stephen S. White is beginning an eight-day revival at the Bellows Avenue Church of the Nazarene, corner of Bellows and Cypress, Apr. 2-9.

Dr. White is editor of the Herald of Holiness, official organ of the Church of the Nazarene. He also is professor of Systematic Theology in the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Mo. Before coming to the seminary, Dr. White was dean of theology at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., and was formerly president of Bethany Peniel College, Bethany, Okla. He has been closely associated with five Nazarene colleges over a period of 30 years.

Dr. White is known throughout the church as a preacher and convention speaker.

Dr. White begins this revival on Palm Sunday. Services will be held each evening at 7:30. Special music will be furnished by the church. On Easter Sunday morning a cantata, "The First Easter", will be presented, directed by Mrs. Gordon Kecler.

Dr. Stephen White

Rev. J. E. Everett, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to all to attend these services.

CHURCH CHOIR ORGANIZED

In the Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church a youth choir has been organized with Jim Hill as director and Mrs. Paul Freshour, pianist. They will make their first public appearance in the morning worship service next Sunday.

To Present Play At Church Palm Sunday Evening

On Palm Sunday evening at 7:30 the young people of Glenwood Methodist Church will present a religious drama, "He Came Seeing."

The play, written by Mary P. Hamlin, tells the story of a blind boy who was cured by the Christ, only to be disowned by his parents and friends. George Brown will play the part of the blind boy. Others in the cast are Jim Gardner, Don Manson, Virginia Herbert, Madonna Wurster, Harry Postlethwait, Betty Manson and David Ely.

Betsy Ann and Mary Jane Earnest will have charge of the devotions.

Glenwood Methodist Church will have services each evening during Holy Week at 7:30. The pastor, Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas, will preach on the following topics:

Monday—"Why Atonement?"
Tuesday—"The Lamb of God."
Wednesday — "The Body of Christ."
Thursday—Holy Communion.
Friday — "The Victory Over Death."

St. John Lutheran Church To Hold Good Friday Meditation

A three-hour Good Friday service will be held at St. John Lutheran Church, W. Broad-st and Hague-av, Rev. C. T. Langholz, pastor, announced today.

The service, beginning at noon and closing at 3 p. m., will be divided into six devotional periods of one half hour each.

The following ministers will deliver the meditations:

Rev. C. T. Langholz, pastor, St. John Lutheran Church; Rev. Albert H. Schnake, chaplain, Lutheran Welfare League; Rev. Elmer J. Klamfoth, pastor, Bethlehem Lutheran Church; Rev. H. N. Brobst, pastor, St. Matthew Lutheran Church; Rev. James Keyser, director Christian Education Synod of Ohio, ULCA; Rev. A. P. Rismiller, pastor, St. Paul of Rome Lutheran Church.

Special musical numbers will be furnished by the participating churches.

An invitation is extended to all to attend this service.

Overtones

Music would be little more than flat sound without "overtones." Ask your church organist about them sometime.

He'll tell you that the basic notes of the scale are music's "fundamentals"—true to pitch, but with little characteristic beauty. Good musicians add overtones to these notes. The violinist vibrates his hand slightly to make the instrument sing. Likewise, as a trained organist pulls the stops of the instrument, fundamental songs of faith receive overtones of compelling beauty and meaning.

If you have time, read this over again. For in understanding the overtone's contribution to music, you understand why the church is so important in our lives. The fundamental truths of the Bible are available to even the casual reader. But when the overtones of the church service—the music, the light, the friendships, the little faces in the Sunday School—are added to these fundamentals, the religious experience deepens and grows.

Overtones . . . we need them so much in life to help us bring happiness out of routine; meaning from trifles; joy from the seemingly humdrum.

Your church service—the overtone to truth—stands ready to add overtones to your life as well.

I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High.
Psalms 9:2.

Plans Completed For West High Triangle Club Dance

By Myron T. Seifert

The public is invited to frolic at the 22nd annual West High Triangle Club dance to be held at the West High gymnasium Friday, Mar. 31, Advisor C. S. Kennedy said today. Chuck Christopher's band will furnish the music. Tickets are 65 cents.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 and appropriate ceremonies in selecting a queen and her court will be staged at 10 o'clock.

Twelve candidates for queen, nominated by members of the club will be determined by a drawing to be held at this time.

The bevy of beauties and numbers ascribed to each candidate follow: Sharon Clarkin, 135 N. Chase-av, 000-039; Jerry Cline, 33 S. Powhatan-av, 040-079; Clara James, 728 Chestershire-rd, 080-119; Carol Luckshaw, 217 Wheatland-av; 120-159; Ruth Ogle, 587 Highland-av, 160-199; Alice Reed, 62 S. Ogden-av, 200-239; Jayne Rice, 901 Wiltshire-rd, 240-279; Shirley Shroyer, 2553 W. Broad-st, 280-319; Delores Sparks, 1058 Fairwood-av, 320-359; Marilyn Valentine, 476 S. Richardson-av, 360-399; Elaine Vandenvender, 233 S. Eureka-av, 400-439, and Betty Walker, 99 N. Huron-av, 440-479.

Kennedy said, "When your ticket is presented at the door, the ticket taker will return half of your ticket. The stubs will be placed in a sealed box for the drawing. From this box the lucky number will be drawing.

The drawing will be at 10 the night of the dance. The girl listed for this number will be crowned Triangle Queen. A time limit of one minute will be given before a new number is drawn."

President Jack Apel appointed the following committees for the affair: ticket committee, Bill Goodburn, chairman, and Ed Alford; refreshment committee, Jim Mallon, chairman, Bert Heyder, Ron Sunkwiller and Stan Nippert; checkroom committee, Harry Hubbard, chairman, Bene Burch, Bob Seeds, Larry Morgan and Terry Hitt; decorations committee, Dick Merriman, chairman, and Jim Murray; publicity committee, Larry Hoover, chairman, and Dick Lehmkuhl.

ALL-OHIO SAFETY CONGRESS HIGHLIGHTS SAFETY MONTH

Having signed a proclamation calling for the observance of April as Industrial Safety Mobilization Month, Governor Frank J. Lausche congratulates Richard W. Morse, Chairman, Industrial Commission of Ohio (Left) and James H. Fluker, Superintendent, Division of Safety and Hygiene on plans for the All-Ohio Safety Congress and Exhibits. Representatives of industry and labor from all parts of Ohio will take part in the Congress, with headquarters at the Neil House in Columbus, April 11, 12, 13. In addition to Mr. Morse other members of the Commission, sponsoring the event, are J. Maynard Dickerson and Will T. Blake.

Hilliards Tri-Hi-Y Puts On Exhibit At YMCA Meet

Members of Hilliards Tri-Hi-Y Club were invited to put on an exhibition of the initiation service before guests at the 95th annual banquets and meeting of the YMCA held at the Central YMCA Mar. 23.

Girls from Hilliards High School who presented this work for the guests were Clarice Scheiderer, local president; Frances Hart, vice-president; Shirley Bolender, secretary; Sally Sicho, treasurer; and the following committee chairmen: Donna White, Reva Nichols, Marjorie Knick, Carole Burns and Carol Walker. Eleven junior class members also assisted: Vivian Van Houten, incoming president; Georgann Terry, incoming vice-president; Sue Hamilton, incoming secretary; and Jean Krohn, incoming treasurer. Other juniors who assisted were Marilyn Murphy, Ruby Chawner, Foramy Fassig, Betty Stormont, Nancy Murray, Barbara Schirtzinger and Winona Evans. Mildred Mitchell and Gretchen Roberts are co-advisers of the Hilliards group.

About 200 persons attended the banquet, including officials from the general YMCA board and branch representatives.

M. D. Hartsook, Hilliards School superintendent, who has been an active member of the Town and Country Branch board for many years, was presented with a handsome walnut and bronze plaque in grateful acknowledgement of his services. Mr. Hartsook was also initiated as an honorary member of Tri-Hi-Y during the services.

John Winkler will serve as chairman in Mr. Hartsook's place on the Town and Country board. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rader, former residents of Hilliards, also were present. Mr. Rader serves on this board.

HHS Seniors Sell Wildcat Scarves

The seniors of Hilliards High School have been busy the past week selling white scarves with blue "wildcat' emblems on them. The scarves come in two sizes, $1.50 for the large size and $1.15 for the small size.

Those on the committee to sell the scarves are: Delores Baum, Connie Cowgill, Herb Leach, Jack Winkler, and Margie Knick. The money received from this sale will be used to help pay for the annual.

Every author things, in his heart, that he has written a great volume.

Nearly every business man thinks he has to work very, very hard.

It is better to sell something for less than it is worth than to keep it when you have no use for it.

Candidates, who are elected retain theirfaith in the ability of the people to rule themselves.

DEPENDENCY
CHARACTER
Dependency DESTROYS HUMAN CHARACTER!

THE CHARACTER OF OUR PEOPLE is the strongest asset of our nation, and making sickness and idleness too easy places a premium on the destruction of character.

Foisting Compulsory Health Insurance on us, through deductions, assessments and taxes would result in billions of dollars spent in administrative bureaus, inferior medical service . . . and INCREASED volume of sickness.

Loss of time through sickness trebled in some countries, under such systems. America averaged about 6½ days, in sickness per person per year, before the war —England averaged 12½ days, and was on the increase.

If you want less sickness, keep Doctors free of political domination. Kill plans that create neurotics, and weaken the "will to stay well and get well."
